Special to The Globe. CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The Michigan

Wisconsin and Michigan Elevens Compared.

Following are the official figures of the Michigan and Wisconsin football elevens given out by football authorities in charge at the universities, giving the names, positions, place, age, weights and height of the individual members of the teams:

PURPLE PLAYERS NERVOUS.

Costly Fumbling Gives Purdue Game With Northwestern.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Inexcusable fumbling on the part of the Northwestern purple football team was responsible for their defeat here today by the eleven from Purdue University. Purdue won 5 to 0. The game was slow throughout, and full of mistakes on both sides.

Will Be a Real Game.

All that can be asserted with any degree of certainty is that, win who may, the game will be a fine exhibition of football. The rivalry between the two institutions, which was increased by the disputed claims to pre-eminence which each had to offer last year, has

BAR MECHANIC ARTS

TEAM NOT RECOGNIZED IN INTERSCHOLASTIC FIGHT

Players Having Failed to Make Up Studies Are Refused Permission to Represent Their Institution—Central at Duluth This Afternoon—Minneapolis Teams Busy.

In the list of football games scheduled today the Mechanic Arts team is not. The football eleven that started in the season representing this St. Paul high school has quietly passed out of existence.

Both Teams are Exponents of the same style of play—straight, hard football, devoid of tricks save as incidentals.

The difference between the respective coaches lies in methods more than in the results obtained. Resound, architect King or Frank, outspoken Yost, they have both been striving to develop the same sort of a team, and which has succeeded the better will be determined tomorrow. It is only in minor details as the starting position of the back field that the elevens differ greatly.

Michigan was a slight favorite in the bet.

Michigan was a slight favorite in the bet, although the wagers came a bit slow because the more conservative of the Michigan followers were waiting for the evening game. The Wisconsin backers wanted odds. At the Chicago Athletic association and at the Victoria, several good bets were made at 100 to 70 with Michigan the favorite, and a large bunch of Michigan money was reported to be in the stadium to be placed at even and unshaken.

Mr. O'Donnell states that in his opinion serious trouble may arise with the Indians, as they have never been controlled in any way before and they do not take kindly to the government. They are especially hostile to the Cross-sacks, and do everything in their power to annoy them, although no open break has yet occurred. The Cross-sacks will leave the country in the winter. The American miners and storekeepers will try to become friendly with the natives, for at the present time the Indians are in a quandary and consider that it is an invasion on the ground by the white people. Mr. O'Donnell was personally threatened by some of the Indians, but he is one of the first prospectors in the field.

WOMAN MURDERED FOR HER MONEY

Mystery Upon Which Light Is Thrown by the Fragments of a Torn Letter.

READING, Mass., Oct. 31.—Bloodhounds have been called into service in connection with the murder mystery which has absorbed the attention of the authorities and the townspeople here for the last two days. Having established the identity of the murdered woman as Mary Myers, the divorced wife of a peddler of Boston, and the fact that she was seen with a man near where her body was found not long before the crime was discovered, the police decided to try bloodhounds in the hope that the animals might discover a trail which would lead to the whereabouts of the murderer.

The theory that robbery was the motive for the murder is greatly strengthened by developments. Although the victim's maiden name was Mary Myers, Mrs. Jane Wineberg is the name by which she was best known in Boston. On Oct. 22 a registered letter was received at Station A in this city addressed to Mary Jane Wineberg. This letter Mary J. Wineberg received and received for the receipt was returned to Philadelphia in this city on Oct. 29, 1902, for $225.01, and it was for that money, it is believed, the murder was committed.

The murderer in his flight scattered pieces of the letter, which were put together, resolved themselves into a notification from a Philadelphia bank to Mary J. Wineberg that she would find in the letter $225.01, the balance of her account.

FIRST TO FIND GOLD IN LEDGES OF SIBERIA

American Miner From Nome Returning There From Russian Company's Concession, Reports Strike.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Increasing pressure is being brought to bear on the government with the object of opening the frontiers for the importation of foreign animals and a relaxation of the regulations created to restrict meat exports, or for something which will afford relief from the excessive prices of meat, which have now risen to levels which are prohibitive for the laboring people, and which are seriously affecting the resources of middle class families.

The magistracy of Berlin, for instance, in a petition to the government, says that if the prices of meat continue as high as they are now, the salaries of the city employees must be raised, because their present salaries were based on times when the cost of food was much less than at present. The petitioners also say that the expenses of the municipal institutions have already increased $750,000 during the current year, which is attributed wholly to the higher price of meat.

The best beef retails at 44 cents a pound and other meats are proportionately high. The wholesale prices in the German markets are from 15 to 25 per cent higher than in those of neighboring countries, hence the people who advocate government action assert that the scarcity of animals is due to the closed frontiers and the exclusion of many kinds of foreign dressed meats. The German farmers being seemingly unable to raise enough animals for their country's requirements.

GERMANS ARE PAYING THIS FANCY PRICE AND CLAMOR FOR THE IMPORTATION OF FOREIGN ANIMALS.

MONTEREAL, Oct. 31.—The Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Navigation company, known as the Wolvin syndicate, of Detroit, has bought from King Bros., Quebec, the entire seigniorship of the entire territory of the province of Quebec, for the purpose of entering into the lumber business in connection with its grain transportation interests.

Modern Mrs. Malaprop. "Talking about the brands that make the country famous," said a young woman, "I was coming in on the C. E. & Q. the other day and saw a veritable host of the country's brands. They had almost convinced me by the time we reached Canal and Sixteenth streets with their funny sayings, and then the lady of the house, who was the wife of a merchant, said to the two women who were with her: "Oh, have you seen the new opera at the St. Hubert?" "No," said the other, "we don't go to the theater very much any more. What's on down there?" "Somebody's just laughed and laughed. It's an opera and they call it 'The Prince of Pilsener.'"—Chicago Chronicle.

SHUTTING OFF TROUBLE

"Sing America and talk about the war," the Secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers said in a political meeting in New Haven to shut off boisterous cheering from the anti-imperialists, who were then the audience about the tariff and the trusts. It was effectual, of course, and is likely to have many imitators, who will shut off their own cheering, and then developed earlier in the campaign. "Why should the trusts have tariff protection?" "Sing America and talk about the war," the Secretary of the Manufacturers said more here than abroad? "Everybody sing 'My country, 'tis of thee.' Why should we not have free coal, free hides and free wool?" "All together, now—'Sweet land of liberty.'"—New York Evening Post.
