BANK CHIEFLY FOR THE WOMEN

Only Woman Bank Cashier in the United States Is Offered the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Dick, who for twenty years was cashier of the First National bank, resigns when the bank changed hands a few weeks ago, has been offered the position of president of a new banking institution organizing in New York for the purpose of catering especially to the patronage of women.

A number of capitalists are interested in the enterprise and it is the desire to have the concern officered exclusively by women. It is said that the bank will have $7,000,000 in deposits by the close of the first year.

Mrs. Dick was the only woman cashier of a national bank in the United States and this caused the New Yorkers to take up negotiations with her. Owing to ill health Mrs. Dick was forced to decline the office, although the salary was attractive.

SULTAN'S REAL GOOD

HE OF BACOLOD DISCLAIMS INTENTION TO MAKE WAR UPON AMERICANS

BUT HE IS SLY AND WILL BE WATCHED

Expedition to Bacoled Will Probably Be Abandoned—Gen. Hughes Denies a Statement That the Eighteenth Regulars Laid a Large Strip of Territory in Aseid.

MANILA, Nov. 8.—The sultan of Bacoled has sent a letter to Capt. Pershing, commanding the American troops at Camp Vicars, island of Mindanao, disclaiming any intention to make war on Americans. He denies molesting Americans and says he is not in possession of stolen American property.

Brig. Gen. Sumner, commander of the department of Mindanao, has been preparing to send a column to Bacoled, but the expedition will probably be abandoned, although the military will watch the sultan and determine if his friendly assurances are genuine. It is expected that the completion of the Hizon road, and the occupation of the north shore of the lake will finally show the attitude of the Moros. They continue to show as great friendliness as possible.

The United States commission has repealed the Spanish law which imposed an income tax on salaries. The law which had been operative since 1890 proved unsatisfactory.

They Didn't Burn.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The war department made public today a statement by Gen. R. P. Hughes, in reply to charges contained in a letter written by Henry Loomis Nelson, a Boston newspaper, Aug. 25, 1902, and which letter is embraced in a pamphlet signed by Charles Francis Adams, Carl Schurz, Edward Barrett Smith and Herbert Wash. Committee on the title of "Marked Severities, Secretary Root's Record in the Philippines Warfare." Gen. Hughes quotes the following extract from the letter:

"The Eighteenth regulars marched from Iloilo, by the order of Gen. Hughes, in the north of Panay, under orders to burn every town from which they were attacked. The result was they left a strip of land sixty miles wide, from one end of the island to the other, over which the traditional crow could not have flown without provisions. That is, what burning means and no more. It is not done for the fun of the thing, but out of stern necessity."

Gen. Hughes, who commanded in Panay at the time of the burning of Iloilo was shown by the official records of the insurgents' council to have been the work of the insurgents. He says the troops, by "some work, some fighting and much exposure to fire were able to wrench a portion of Iloilo from the flames."

After reviewing the work of the Eighteenth Infantry in the province of Panay, Gen. Hughes says:

"It has thus been shown that the Eighteenth regulars, under the order to burn all towns from which they were attacked, and that they did not leave a strip of land sixty miles wide, but, as a matter of fact, they left the country uninjured, the town and villages intact, the roads improved, bridges rebuilt and the 500,000 natives of the section covered were left in the full enjoyment of their property and rights."

They Are Out of Reach.

An investigation that has been made by the war department into the allegations of the anti-imperialistic committee, delivered at the Lake George conference, to the effect that Father Augustine, a Catholic priest, was killed by the water cure in the Philippines has apparently confirmed the main fact that the man died as the result of the administration of the cure.

It also has been found that the persons who administered the cure to secure insurgent funds of which he was the custodian were sent to Vermont, and are now beyond the reach of military justice, having been murdered out of the service.

OFFERS TO FURNISH A NEWSPAPER SCOOP

Willing to Kill Himself in the Presence of a Reporter for a Consideration of $300.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 8.—"Say, will you give $300 for the biggest scoop any paper ever had, a story without an equal, the story of my death witnessed by one of your reporters?"

This proposition was made today to the editor of the Columbus Dispatch and for a short time business at that office was suspended. The man was Thomas B. Lawrence, who says he is employed by the United States recruiting service at Atlanta, Ga., has lost all his money and is ready to die.

"If you will agree to give me $300 that I can send to my old father and mother, I will allow a representative of your paper to see me die. I will not tell anyone else and the scoop is yours if you want it. I have plenty of stuff to go it with," and he displayed a number of boxes full of morphine pills.

He was detained while the editor discussed the details of the proposed suicide and in the meantime detectives were summoned and placed him under arrest. With the exception of the weirdness of his proposition there is nothing about the man to suggest an unbalanced mind.

He declined to explain his enmity toward Senator Kean or why he had intended to shoot him."

CORNING, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Fred H. Robinson is the son of Orlando J. Robinson, a prominent book seller in this city. Robinson is a graduate of Yale and was an unusually bright student. He has not been heard from in this city for several years.

LARGE AND NOVEL INSURANCE SWINDLE

Two Men on Trial in Texas—Healthy Man Impersonated a Consumptive.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 8.—T. C. Richardson and W. Mason, charged with one of the biggest and most unique insurance swindles of recent years, are on trial here. It is alleged that they planned to defraud the New York Life insurance company out of hundreds of thousands of dollars. The general plan of whoever perpetrated the swindles was to secure the assistance of a healthy man who impersonated a consumptive, whose name appeared on the application, the strong man being made the beneficiary. In two instances involving policies of $10,000 and $15,000, the person insured mysteriously disappeared.

An examining physician at Dallas today identified Mason as the man who represented himself as one Evans for a policy for $10,000. Another application for $10,000 is claimed to have been fraudulent. In both instances the man was a body of people who died at Chihuahua will be examined.

ROSE IS IN MEXICO

STATE AUTHORITIES ISSUE REQUISITION AND EXTRADITION WILL BE ASKED

PAPERS HAVE BEEN SENT TO WASHINGTON

Man Sentenced to Ten Years for Forgery, and Who Served Five and Then Broke His Parole, Is Located in Sister Republic—Authorities Maintain Much Secrecy.

F. R. Rose, fugitive from justice, wanted for having broken his parole, is said to have been located in Mexico, and requisitions papers have been issued by the state authorities. His extradition will be sought.

The state authorities have preserved the utmost secrecy about the proceedings, but it is known that the papers have been forwarded to Washington and the federal officials will be asked to request the Mexican authorities to arrest the man and give him up.

It is not known in what part of Mexico Rose is located. He left Minnesota a month ago, and his absence was discovered when he was due to report to the state board of pardons, Oct. 15.

Rose was sent up for forgery in the second degree from St. Paul for ten years. He served five years and was paroled three months before he disappeared.

FORMATION OF MINNIE HARVESTING COMPANY

Output to Be Increased—The Machines Are Manufactured in St. Paul.

Special to The Globe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A man identified with the American Grass Twine company explains the formation of the Minnie Harvester company as follows:

"When the American Grass Twine company was formed it took over the Walter A. Wood harvester plant at St. Paul, which covers upward of twenty-eight acres. This plant turns out the Minnie harvester, using the binder twine manufactured by the Grass Twine company. It is intended to enlarge the works and increase the output. The harvester combination formed last summer took in practically all the leading manufacturers of harvesters with the exception of our plant, and we estimate that on the basis on which those plants were absorbed ours is worth fully $5,000,000. We have made this the basis of capitalization of the Minnie company, all of whose stock is owned by the Grass Twine company."

"The new company will enter into active competition with the International company and some of the stock may later be sold to the public. If at any time there should be a plan to merge the property in the International company it could be more easily done when the plant is in the hands of a separate company than being merely a part of the Grass Twine company."

POLICEMAN PUTS A STOP TO BURGLARY

Captures One of Two Men in the Act of Breaking Into West Side Building.

Patrolman Suddith put a clever stop to a daring attempt at burglary at 1 o'clock this morning.

Suddith was patrolling his beat, and when near the corner of Eva street and Fairfield avenue observed two men in front of the building occupied by the Silver Star Candy company, a wholesale confectionery house.

Suddith drew his gun and descended on the men. Before he reached them one of the twain was already inside the building; the other stood without whirling. Holding the man on watch up with his pistol, Suddith demanded the surrender of the one in the darkened store room.

His prisoner made a feint as though to get away, and the man on the inside took advantage of the diversion to spring through the door into the street and disappear while the policeman was engaged with his pal.

The man captured gave the name of Harry Cary, and his address as 277 East Seventh street. He said that the man with him was Roy Kusie, and that they had no burglarious intention; they were simply going into the place to sleep.

The doors were forced. Cary was held on a charge of burglary.

LITTLEFIELD YEARNS FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Sacrificed His Interests in the East to Help Out the California Republicans.

Special to The Globe.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 8.—Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine, today announced his candidacy for speaker of the house to succeed Gen. Henderson. He started today for Maine, after concluding a campaign tour of the coast. On reaching home he will commence an energetic canvass for the speakership. Littlefield was entertained here today by Senator Foster and Representatives Cushman and Jones. Regarding his candidacy he says:

"Had I consulted my own interests entirely I should have abandoned my California trip on learning that Gen. Henderson would not be a candidate for re-election. I understand several other gentlemen who are to be candidates for that honor have been making an active canvass during the present campaign. On starting to California I was asked to make speeches in the Middle Western states. My own interests as a candidate for the speakership would probably have been improved with compliance, but the situation in California decided me to remain here until the campaign closed."

SOLD THE DEAD BODY OF HIS WIFE

Indianapolis Grave Robber Said He Divided the Paltry Reward With the Husband.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8.—Rudus Cantrell and John McEndree, leaders of the gangs of ghouls, pointed out between thirty and forty graves which they said were robbed by them, to Detectives Assuch and Manning this afternoon. The ghouls were taken to the Ebenezer and Anderson cemeteries for the purpose. The detectives wanted the names of other bodies stolen in order that other warrants might be sworn out. At the Anderson cemetery the sexton told the detectives that about forty graves in the place were empty.

At the Anderson cemetery Cantrell pointed out the graves of a woman and her daughter as among those he had robbed. Cantrell said he stole the body of the woman by agreement with her husband and paid him half the $30 which a prominent local physician wanted for the body. The daughter died a short time afterward and Cantrell said he was at the grave the night after the funeral and stole the body.

BEARS HARMLESS WHEN IN WILD STATE

Superintendent of Yellowstone Park Recommends the Introduction of European Game Birds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—The annual report of the acting superintendent of the Yellowstone National Park predicts that there will be a considerable increase in every species of large game throughout the reservation. It says the bears are harmless while left alone and kept in a perfectly wild state, but when fed and petted they lose all fear of human beings, cause damage to property and are dangerous to tourists who trifle with them.

It is suggested that the black cock and capercaillie, game birds of Northern Europe, be introduced into the park. Only two forest fires of any size occurred during the year and neither caused great damage. It is recommended that Fort Yellowstone be enlarged to a four-troop or squadron post and be garrisoned by the troops of two different regiments. The total of all visitors to the park during the season was 13,433.

INFANT TRAVELS AS BAGGAGE

Dressed in Expensive Clothing and Found in a Telescope Bag Among Trunks.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Carefully tucked into a new "telescope" bag and dressed in expensive clothing, a baby only a few days old was found today at the Dearborn station in a pile of baggage taken from a Monon train.

No claimant appearing for the baggage it was opened and a handsome baby, sound asleep, was discovered by the astonished depot master. The infant was taken to St. Vincent's orphanage.

The trainman think the child was put aboard at a nearby Indiana station, as it had not been crying and showed no evidence of having been drugged. A small hole had been cut in the bag to admit air.

FANATICS CORALLED

Canadian Mounted Police Put an End to the Doukhobor Pilgrimage

ENFORCED HOME GOING

Frenzied Russians Are Entrained Only With the Utmost Difficulty

HUNDREDS OF CITIZENS ASSIST THE OFFICERS

Doukhobors Are Loaded in Cars Like Unruly Cattle for Transportation to Yorkton, Whence They Will Be Driven to Their Northern Villages—Twenty Who Escape Will Probably Freeze.

Special to The Globe.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 8.—The latest dispatch from Minnedosa reads as follows:

After one of the most exciting incidents in the history of the Northwest, handling of the Doukhobors, the fanatics have been forcibly entrained, loaded in cars like unruly cattle, and are now guarded by a large detachment of mounted police, who are kept busy preventing the guarded Russians from throwing themselves through the car windows. A military special of ten coaches will leave here with the army at 10 p. m. and unload it early tomorrow at Yorkton, whence mounted police will drive the Doukhobors to their northern villages, ending perhaps the most remarkable experience in Canadian history.

The Doukhobors arrived here last night en route to Winnipeg. This morning they attempted to resume their journey with the mercury standing 10 below. Government officials held them with difficulty by the road until the military special train arrived this evening at 4:30 with 500 mounted police. The fanatics were addressed by the officials and told they would have to go home. They cried, "No, we go to seek Jesus."

Instructs Followers to Resist.

Zelbroff, the leader, harangued his followers, instructing them to resist. Two hundred farmers, who had gathered to see them and 500 other citizens surrounded them. Fifty of the fanatics go out and made a rush on the road east. Surrounded by a crowd, they resisted desperately and the police grappled with the leaders and carried them bodily to the cars. Zelbroff, the chief fanatic, had to be taken 500 yards from the rink to the cars in a wagon, and when the rink vomited forth the fanatics an indescribable scene followed.

Farmers, townspeople and police threw themselves on the Doukhobors and dragged or carried them to the station. The latter encircled one another with their arms and seemed as though linked together by bands of steel, while they struggled to give color to the word of God. Some struggled so hard that the clothing was torn off their backs.

Like a Hundred Football Games.

For over an hour the ground to the station was filled with seething crowds and the excitement great, as though a hundred fierce football scrimmages were going on at one time. The Doukhobors refused to strike, but struggled blindly for freedom. Their coaches, with blood warmed by the strange struggle, shouted and cursed as the bloodless battle became more exciting, and when the cars were reached another struggle ensued. Stalwart police handed up the kicking Russians, who were thrust into the dark, cold coaches like cattle, and threw themselves against the windows and doors to escape.

The confusion that followed was indescribable. During the enforced entraining of the men a small blizzard sprang up and the weather became intensely cold. All day the Doukhobors have been living on wheat and raw oatmeal. Tonight small quantities of bread were thrown in to them. Many seem to be very weak and all protest that they will leave Yorkton for their homes when the train reaches there.

Twenty May Die of Freezing.

Only about twenty out of the 500 escaped on training and they are now on the prairie in a temperature that means death to them. The action tonight was taken on instructions from the federal government, which said the pilgrims must be sent home, even if they had to be carried. At the time of writing the Doukhobors are locked in the coaches struggling vainly for freedom so to look for the Messiah. They sing and pray incessantly, asking divine assistance to turn the hearts of their captors and release them.

Zelbroff exhorted them tonight to resist again at Yorkton, and serious trouble is feared before the military special reached that point, as the Russians seem to be very defiant. All are bruised and mad from their struggle, and one had a leg broken. Their fanaticism is as strong as ever.

DEATH OF AN ACTOR THAT USED TO PLAY IN ST. PAUL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 8.—Harry Mainhall, once a well known actor, is dead at St. Agnes' hospital. Mainhall came to Los Angeles six months ago from
