

Best New Mat Beer

A great success. You will like it if you try it.

City News.

Temperance Sunday—The Ninth Ward Prohibition club requests all the churches to observe Sunday, Nov. 23, which has been set aside by the National W. C. T. U. as Temperance day.

Mill Company Incorporates—The New Elm Feed & Cereal Mill company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The incorporators are J. L. Schoch, A. Fritschel, E. St. Martin, and New Duluth. The capital stock is $15,000.

Hog Cholera—An end—Dr. J. G. Anderson, who has been investigating cases of hog cholera in the southern part of the state for the state board of health, reports the disease as practically stamped out in that section.

Will Ask for Bids—Bids will be asked for by the board of public works in a few weeks for the paving of Nines, Engle and Ninth streets. Two of the streets, Ninth and Nine are to be paved with asphalt and the other, sandstone. The three will cost the property benefited about $75,000.

Addition to Iron Works—The Herzog Iron works yesterday obtained a permit from the building inspector for a $15,000 addition to the plant on East Seventh street. The new building will be of brick and 60x160 feet in size.

Louis Hill Will Build—A permit was yesterday granted Louis W. Hill by the city building department for his new residence now in course of construction on Summit avenue. It represents the home of his father, J. J. Hill. The residence, when completed, will add an expenditure of $40,000.

Willows Gets a Verdict—Judge Lewis yesterday directed a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the suit brought by Gustav Willows as receiver for the defunct Germania bank against Marion Furness, to recover money on a note given by her to cover stock liability. The verdict was for $5,150.

Corporation Changes Name—Amended articles of incorporation of the Belfield Coal company, of Duluth, were filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The name of the corporation has been changed to the Zenith Coal company. The capital stock is $25,000 and the incorporators are Henry Truesen, Hansen Smith and William O. Pealer.

A wedding invitation—Got a cut glass piece," Della's, 23 East Seventh street.

CAN'T FIND COMPETENT MEN TO WORK AT $3 PER

Judges Decline to Take Bail Offered for Services on Canvassing Board.

Secretary of State Hanson is having some difficulty in securing members of the state canvassing board who will make the official canvass of the vote cast at the recent election for state, congressional and legislative officers.

The law requires that two judges of the supreme court, two district judges and the secretary of state shall compose the canvassing board.

The trouble is in securing the two district judges to act on the board. None of the members of the district judicial bench appear to want the job, even though it pays $3 per day and mileage.

FASTIDIO.

It is Genuine Havana Tobacco.

Oberlin Has a New President.

At the annual meeting of the Oberlin college today Dr. Harry Churchill Kings was elected to the presidency of that institution to succeed Dr. John Henry Barrows, deceased.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. H. H.

WERYX.

We give Automobile Tickets with every 50c purchase.

APPLE BARGAINS!

- Pine Spys, Greenings, Seek no Further, and Midwins, mixed.
- Per full peck ..... 25c
- Per bushel basket ..... 95c
- Per barrel ..... $2.75
- The above apples are nice for families that do not want to buy several barrels to get an assortment—they are good stock, mixed as above.
- Fancy Greening Apples, per bbl. .... $2.95
- Fancy Northern Spys, per bbl. .... $2.95
- Fancy Russets, per bbl. .... $2.95
- Fancy Baldwins, per bbl. .... $2.95
- Seek No Further, per bbl. .... $2.95
- Fancy Sweet Pippins, per bbl. .... $2.50
- Fancy Pound Sweets, per bbl. .... $2.50
- Good Wine Spys, per bbl. .... $2.25
- Good Ben Davys, per bbl. .... $1.95
- Good Genions, per bbl. .... $2.00
- APPLES—This is the place for you to get good apples of any kind at the right price. Fancy Crabbies—Have the very best that are in this city; they are beauties, per quart ..... 14c
- Choice Cranberries, per quart ..... 10c
- Hubbard Squashes—Each according to size ..... 8c to 12c

PEERLESS MEAT MARKET.

- Good Boiling Beef, per lb ..... 5c
  - Corned Beef, per lb ..... 5c to 8c
  - Hot Roasts, per lb ..... 8c
  - Shoulder Roasts, per lb ..... 9c
  - Boneless Rolled Roasts, per lb ..... 12c
  - Legs of Lamb, per lb ..... 12c
- MATCH BARGAIN!—We have a large stock of Parlor Matches, containing 1 dozen boxes of Parlor Matches, each, only ..... 5c

F. R. VERXA & CO.

SEVENTH AND CEDAR STS.

FIXES BUDGET AT $2,858,005

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE RAISES CONTROLLER BETZ'S ESTIMATE $19,000

SCHOOLS BENEFIT MOST BY THE CHANGE MADE

School Board Gets $45,000 More Than Allowed Originally—St. Anthony Park and Dayton's Bluff Suffer in the Necessary Pruning—Public Bath Fund Is Cut.

As the conference committee views it, $2,858,005 will be ample for the needs of St. Paul next year. This amount, just $19,000 in excess of the total figured by Comptroller Betz, was decided upon yesterday afternoon, and now awaits confirmation by the council. The amounts agreed to in detail are as follows:

Interest fund	$422,445
Fire department	215,000
Police department	185,000
Water supply fund	4,000
Board of control	24,000
School fund	750,000
Court house and city hall maintenance	23,010
Work house fund	25,000
Commissioner of public work	30,000
Board of public works	15,000
Salary fund	50,000
Street, sewers and garbage fund	175,000
Bridge building and repair fund	175,000
Judgment fund	15,000
Printing and stationery fund	30,000
Municipal court	15,000
Library fund	49,800
Park fund	75,000

HENRY JOHNS DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

Henry Johns, former member of the legislature, and prominent in the state Republican party, died at 10 o'clock last night at the city hospital. Bright's disease was the cause of his demise.

Death came suddenly, although it was not unlooked for. Since his entrance into the hospital, two weeks ago, little hope for Mr. Johns' recovery was entertained. Dr. Ancker, who took personal charge of the case, declared the disease incurable. For several days the patient laid in a comatose state, but Saturday he rallied. The physician said that he might live for several months, but that ultimate recovery was impossible.

Mr. Johns' mother was summoned from Washington, D. C., and since he was constantly at her son's bedside. So favorable was the man's condition last night that she left the hospital at 8 o'clock.

Two hours later there was a reaction. Weak from days of constant suffering Mr. Johns sank rapidly. His relatives were notified of the report just before they arrived he had expired.

Mr. Johns was forty-four years of age. He was born in New York and came to St. Paul in 1870, after establishing a law office. In 1887 he became prominent in politics as a leader of the younger element in the Republican party. He served as a member of the lower house of the legislature during the session of 1895 and 1897 and was a candidate for re-election in 1900.

Two weeks ago Wednesday, the day following election, Mr. Johns, who had been ailing for some months, was taken to the hospital.

At the request of President Young, the library board, that department was given $49,800 in place of $35,000 proposed by Comptroller Betz. Mr. Young informed the committee that many improvements were to be made and on his representations the increase was given. Of this amount $18,500 is to be invested in books and the balance, $31,300, is to go for an addition to the reading room.

Demands for money for the payment of street intersections on streets to be paved this year were numerous, but only $26,500 of the entire amount asked for was granted. East Seventh street was given $10,000. University avenue $10,000 and West Seventh street, which is to be macadamized, $6,500. For the paving of streets in the city a sum for the paving of Third street where it fronts railroad property, near Broadway, but it was refused. The committee figured that the railroad company might be induced to pay for the improvement.

Turns Down Suburbanites.

The greatest disappointment was suffered by delegations from St. Anthony Park and Dayton's bluff, the latter perhaps more than the other. St. Anthony Park's request for $75,000 for a main sewer was reduced to $50,000, while Dayton's bluff saw its claim for $15,000 for the extension of the Third street bridge cut until only $35,000 was left. Last year $65,000 was set aside for this purpose, and the disappointment of the delegation was all the more keen when they even saw that taken from them. They had expected the use of this money in order to have more added to it. The $35,000 will be used in renewing the present dilapidated approach, which the engineers say is unsafe.

For the betterment and maintenance of the baths Comptroller Betz made an estimate of $20,000, but on the representations of Dr. Ohage, was cut to $15,000 for maintenance only. Of the amount Dr. Ohage proposed using $10,000 for bettering the institution, but he informed the committee yesterday that as he intended severing his connection with the institution it would not be needed.

"I am only a taxpayer now," he said, "and as such I could not countenance any waste of money with the bath approach in its present condition." While on his feet Dr. Ohage took occasion to reprove several who, he said, had commented unfavorably on his scheme, the city selling sandwiches and soda water.

Pruning Was Necessary.

To permit all these increases some pruning was necessary, and this was finally effected by reducing the fund of $50,000 set aside for general sewer construction to $30,000, the miscellaneous fund from $50,000 to $20,000, and the bridge repairing fund from $44,000 to $25,000. The sum of $3,000 was set aside for the maintenance of the police ambulance.

The sum total of all these amounts is $2,858,005, and to meet them a tax levy of $2,858,005 will be required. The difference will be met through the medium of receipts from various sources.

The conference committee, which was organized by the city, will hold a public meeting Dec. 2, at which interested persons will be permitted to give their views on the amounts decided upon. After that the two branches of the council will take charge of the budget and proceed to revise it. It is expected that these two bodies will make a number of corrections.

MILTON'S BIG BUTTER STORE

BULK OYSTERS

We deal direct with the oystermen at Baltimore, and all our oysters come to us in their original packages. We are agents for Langral's "Chief Brand" of oysters which are considered the stock shipped out of Baltimore. They come to us by express every day and are the freshest to be had in the city. By buying direct we not only get the freshest stock, but also the retailer's profit and can retail them cheaper than any one else in town. Extra Standards, 35c Quart.

Milton Dairy Co.

Cor. Ninth and Wabasha Sts.

neous fund from $50,000 to $20,000, and the bridge repairing fund from $44,000 to $25,000. The sum of $3,000 was set aside for the maintenance of the police ambulance.

HOUSE FOR MERE WHO DON'T FIGHT

UNION VETERANS' UNION PROTESTS AGAINST ADMITTING THEM TO MEMBERSHIP

MIGHT CLOSE SCHOOLS

LITERAL TRANSLATION OF LAW ALLOWS $360,000 TAX LEVY

Mr. Markham Questions Validity of Law Permitting Imposition of More Than 4 Mills Tax for School Purposes—Will Appeal to the Legislature.

If St. Paul was to strictly observe the law that the state has enacted for its guidance it could not raise a cent beyond $360,000 for the maintenance of the schools next year.

This is the view taken by Corporation Attorney Markham, who, after an examination of the numerous and conflicting school revenue laws now in existence, is almost positive that the greatest tax it can impose for school purposes is 4 mills.

This information Mr. Markham imparted to the conference committee yesterday when it had under consideration the levying of a 7-mill tax, but in deference to the knowledge that the schools could not be conducted for the amount of money that a 4-mill tax would bring, he refused to interfere.

Last year, on the advice of Frank L. Griggs, assistant attorney, a 6-mill tax was agreed upon, but this time President Holman of the school board took the view that the laws permitted a 7-mill tax and asked for an appropriation on that basis.

"I do not believe this city is entitled to exact more than 4 mills," said Mr. Markham to the conference committee yesterday, "but if it decided on 6 mills last year then it can as legally increase the amount to 7 this year. I will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

HOUSE FOR MERE WHO DON'T FIGHT

UNION VETERANS' UNION PROTESTS AGAINST ADMITTING THEM TO MEMBERSHIP

MIGHT CLOSE SCHOOLS

LITERAL TRANSLATION OF LAW ALLOWS $360,000 TAX LEVY

Mr. Markham Questions Validity of Law Permitting Imposition of More Than 4 Mills Tax for School Purposes—Will Appeal to the Legislature.

If St. Paul was to strictly observe the law that the state has enacted for its guidance it could not raise a cent beyond $360,000 for the maintenance of the schools next year.

This is the view taken by Corporation Attorney Markham, who, after an examination of the numerous and conflicting school revenue laws now in existence, is almost positive that the greatest tax it can impose for school purposes is 4 mills.

This information Mr. Markham imparted to the conference committee yesterday when it had under consideration the levying of a 7-mill tax, but in deference to the knowledge that the schools could not be conducted for the amount of money that a 4-mill tax would bring, he refused to interfere.

Last year, on the advice of Frank L. Griggs, assistant attorney, a 6-mill tax was agreed upon, but this time President Holman of the school board took the view that the laws permitted a 7-mill tax and asked for an appropriation on that basis.

"I do not believe this city is entitled to exact more than 4 mills," said Mr. Markham to the conference committee yesterday, "but if it decided on 6 mills last year then it can as legally increase the amount to 7 this year. I will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

Field, Schlick & Co.

Entrances—Wabasha, Fourth, Fifth and St. Peter Streets.

A Coat Sensation!

The Most Remarkable Cut-price Sale of Women's Coats and Jackets that St. Paul has Known this Season.

And that is not putting it any too strong—of course a few of them are carried over, but then only the very best posted women could tell—some of the carried-over ones were 20.00, 25.00 and 30.00, as handsome garments as you'd care to see! The balance of the lot are odds and ends of this season's lots, valued up to 18.50, numbers of which will not be reordered this season; one, two and three of a kind, but lucky the woman who comes early enough to find her size.....

There are long Coats and Short Jackets in Kersseys, Cheviots and Montagnacs; blacks, castors, blues, etc. Every garment in the sale is full satin lined, properly tailored, rich and handsome.

Now, One Word More: You could safely shut your eyes, and as far as quality is concerned, put your hand on a garment that is worth three to four times the sale price—seems beyond belief, yet this is the Field-Schlick method—the coats must be got rid of; and no half-hearted measures are employed.

MIGHT CLOSE SCHOOLS

LITERAL TRANSLATION OF LAW ALLOWS $360,000 TAX LEVY

Mr. Markham Questions Validity of Law Permitting Imposition of More Than 4 Mills Tax for School Purposes—Will Appeal to the Legislature.

If St. Paul was to strictly observe the law that the state has enacted for its guidance it could not raise a cent beyond $360,000 for the maintenance of the schools next year.

This is the view taken by Corporation Attorney Markham, who, after an examination of the numerous and conflicting school revenue laws now in existence, is almost positive that the greatest tax it can impose for school purposes is 4 mills.

This information Mr. Markham imparted to the conference committee yesterday when it had under consideration the levying of a 7-mill tax, but in deference to the knowledge that the schools could not be conducted for the amount of money that a 4-mill tax would bring, he refused to interfere.

Last year, on the advice of Frank L. Griggs, assistant attorney, a 6-mill tax was agreed upon, but this time President Holman of the school board took the view that the laws permitted a 7-mill tax and asked for an appropriation on that basis.

"I do not believe this city is entitled to exact more than 4 mills," said Mr. Markham to the conference committee yesterday, "but if it decided on 6 mills last year then it can as legally increase the amount to 7 this year. I will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp Sr. upon the experience with the present committee. "I thought it an easy matter to raise a family, but now when I have boys as old as you are I find it hard work," he said, "and I hope you will withdraw the complaint."

It was this homily which brought forth the retort of Mr. Lapp