

TEACHERS DUE TODAY

SAINTLY CITY WILL BELONG TO THE SCHOOLMA'AMS

They Will Come to Town Prepared to Enjoy Social Functions as Well as to Discuss Educational Problems—Convention of Association Will Be in Session Three Days.

Beginning tomorrow the school teachers of Minnesota will take possession of the city and hold it for three days at least. Though, of course, the schoolma'ams will be in town, it is the schoolma'ams who receive the most attention for the former are very serious individuals but the latter have learned to mix a little frivolity with their knowledge, and it is because of this that the visiting schoolma'am always receives a cordial welcome.

For a great change has come over the schoolma'am in the past few years. The sharp-featured, excessively lean and hopelessly serious young woman of a few years past survives now only in the comic supplements. A sensible and attractive creature has taken her place, a creature who realizes that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." So, though she works while she works, when that work is over she plays.

And it is not the city schoolma'am alone who has learned this wisdom. Her sister from the towns and villages are just as up to date. If there is not room in the trunk for the latest dresses and the text books—well, it is not the evening dresses that are left out. And so this week her socially inclined sisters in Paul will gladly welcome her, as they welcomed her last year and the year before, and she will enjoy a taste of the gayeties of the capital city.

THE GLOBE'S DAILY SHORT STORY

THE REAL, TRUE SANTA CLAUS

The Lovely Legends That Have Made St. Nicholas Beloved of All Men.

Though the actual facts known about St. Nicholas, whose commemoration falls on Dec. 6, would go into a nutshell, there is no other saint in the calendar who has enjoyed so wide and long-sustained a popularity. The mass of legendary accretions that have grown around his memory and have given rise to a vast amount of popular customs, folk tales and observances might fill a respectable volume.
