The News of the Sports

BURKE'S OFFER TO BE TURNED DOWN

Little Chance of Club Owner Lennan Agreeing to Transfer.

Although Club Owner Lennan still withholds the word, it is safe to predict this morning that the St. Paul baseball club will continue in the American association, at least for the season of 1903. President Lennan's time for answering the proposal of Robert E. Burke, of Chicago, expires today, and the Chicago fans will without doubt be notified that it has been decided to continue St. Paul in the association.

Since returning from Chicago the local club owner has been feeling out the baseball public and has learned what he has believed from the beginning—that St. Paul is anxious to continue in the professional baseball world. Lennan appreciates, with the other magnates of the association, the impossibility of presenting paying baseball at Lexington park, but he also knows that the St. Paul fans are not standing in the way of a down-town ball park. More than this, he has been assured that even if the team must play outside of Lexington, the effort will be made to boost the gate receipts.

The local club owner is now convinced that the fans stand ready to do all possible toward supporting a team in the association and as he has not given up the hope of securing a down-town ball park he has practically decided to turn down the offer to put his team into Chicago.

By disappointing Burke Lennan puts aside a chance to play even on his losses of the past two seasons, but rather than see his home town put out of the baseball world he is willing to take a small chance, which falls to secure a down-town park it will be the last chance, but he is confident that if he fails to hold the team here without losing money.

No Other Transfer.

Since the meeting of the association the air has been filled with rumors, Kansas City has been picked as the team to take St. Paul's place in Chicago and another story has both St. Paul and Minneapolis vacated. Minneapolis, in this case, is switched to the regular schedule of the Chicago and Grand Rapids is given the Miller team.

Many more stories will be heard before the season opens, but at this time the circuit of the American association looks St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Milwaukee in the West and Columbus, Indianapolis, Louisville and Toledo in the East. The failure to transfer the St. Paul team ends all possible chance of a change in the circuit for the season of 1903. The magnates never planned to move any team other than St. Paul, and are happy in the holding its place in the association, the plan to compromise with the Western by having the Milwaukee team transferred to St. Paul goes by the boards.

Investors in the firm of John J. Ryan & Co. received some hope from the arrival of Manager J. J. Ryan from Cincinnati, but he has practically decided to turn down the offer to put his team into Chicago.

The investors in E. J. Arnold & Co. generally stated they had given up all hopes of recovering anything. This was the first concern to suspend business.

SCOTS LOSE OR LOCAL CURLERS

Nushka Club Rinks Defeat Royal Caledonian Representatives.

Scotland's own curlers, the members of the Royal Caledonian club from the land of the heather, came to St. Paul yesterday and were royally entertained by the Nushka Curling club members. The Nushka club defeated the visitors by the local club in the game of throwing the "stones" by the score 50 to 32.

The men of the kilts reached St. Paul early in the morning, coming from Minneapolis. John McCullough escorted the visitors and they were taken to the Minnesota club where, as the guests of L. P. Ordway, C. M. Griggs, H. P. Clark and C. W. Gordon, they partook of luncheon.

Following the reception at the club sleighs were provided and the visitors were taken about the city. Members of the Nushka club accompanied them and pointed out the new capitol and the business, wholesale and resident districts.

At 4 o'clock the party reached the Nushka club rinks and immediately began the afternoon programme of play. The Scots were defeated, but there was nothing in their defeat, the visitors were now thought to be skillful players handicapped by unknown conditions.

The Scots are having a hard time accustomed themselves to the artificial ice of the United States and Canada, they playing their games on the ice of the lakes of their country.

HEARST IS GIVEN A LITTLE BOOM

Mr. Bryan Speaks at a Columbus Democratic Barbecue.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 12.—A presidential boom in behalf of William R. Hearst, of a bitter campaign on alleged deserters from the Democratic party by William J. Bryan, was the dominating notes at the barbecue given tonight by the Jefferson-Jackson-Lincoln league, organized last year by former Congressman J. J. Lentz and others. Twelve hundred people, men and women, were present. The programme of toasts was as follows: "Toastmaster's address of welcome, J. J. Lentz, Columbus, Ohio. "Address, 'The Government for Cities,' Mayor Tom L. Johnson, Cleveland. "Address, 'The Plain People and Their Champions,' ex-Gov. James H. Budd, Columbus, Ohio. "Address, 'The Test of Democracy,' Col. W. J. Bryan, Nebraska.

Mr. Hearst, who had been invited to address the banquet, sent his regrets in a telegram.

Ex-Gov. Budd gave an address in eulogy of Mr. Hearst, and suggested him for a presidential candidate.

The ovation tendered Mr. Bryan was the most enthusiastic of the evening. He asserted that if there is any one man in the country who has suffered on account of lack of democratic harmony he is that party that brought about the opposition of alleged Democrats within the party that brought about the defeat in 1896 and 1900. He said that he knew all the men who had gone astray in those years and that since that time they had suffered severe heartburning.

"If it is such a serious affair to change party allegiance," Mr. Hearst said, "I hope these men will stay out of the Democratic party. There can be no harmony between Democrats and party enemies of each other and hate each other. There is a no compromise between the Democrats and Republicans out of Palmer and Buckner Democrats."

"The party can never be in harmony with us unless they or we change our political convictions. I still believe in the duty of the party to stand by us in Kansas City in 1900. I have no thought of surrendering my convictions. On the other hand, if they are true now, I would not change them if I could. Neither would I surrender my principles to any man, however great for my party. A party, like a man, has a character and a membership that knows what is right and will do it in the advocacy of political principles."
