BRITISH WOOLEN MILLS COMPANY OPENS HERE
 Will Locate Its Tailoring Establishment at Seventh and Cedar Streets.

St. Paul will welcome a new industry Saturday when the British Woollen Mills company will open its tailoring establishment in the corner store room now being prepared for it at Seventh and Cedar streets. Here will be shown the latest products of the loom for men's wear and over the Yerxa grocery store, which is opposite, will be located the work shops.

The British Woollen Mills company has been established for fifty years and enjoys a national reputation. One of the largest stocks in the Northwest will be shown and its workshop will be a model of its kind. A corps of cutters and tailors has been engaged and will enter upon its duties at once. The British Woollen Mills company is known throughout the East for fair dealing and it is its intention to make the local establishment synonymous with that reputation. Nothing was overdone in the goods will be shown, the prices will be reasonable and prompt service will be the rule.

The store which the company will occupy is one of the most prominently located on Seventh street and its interior has been undergoing a thorough renovation for the past week in anticipation of its new tenants. The opening will be Saturday and the public generally is invited to be present and inspect the goods that will be displayed.

NAVAL RECRUITERS
CLOSE OFFICE TODAY

Have Gathered About 75 Boys in the Twin Cities.

Lieut. J. P. J. Ryan, in charge of the naval recruiting force which has been operating here since Feb. 23, will close the office in the federal building today and that at Minneapolis on Saturday afternoon. They will go to Grand Forks, N. D.

The number of enlistments from St. Paul and Minneapolis is not yet announced nor will an accurate statement be possible until tomorrow, but the total from both cities is likely to be about seventy-five. This is considered a very fair showing. Several hundred applicants have been examined and an astonishing number of them proved unable to pass the physical examination.

The recruiting staff will remain in Grand Forks until March 14, going from there to Fargo, St. Cloud, Bemidji, Yankton, and remaining in each place a week. The next point to be visited will be Omaha, where the party will remain from April 8 to 18. Des Moines, April 20 to 25, and Kansas City, April 27 to May 3.

ELKS' SHOW CROWDS METROPOLITAN THEATER

Brilliant and Fashionable Audience Thoroughly Enjoys an Exceedingly Clever Entertainment Given Under the Auspices of the Local Lodge of Elks.

St. Paul society was out in force to witness the initial presentation of the minstrel, vaudeville and burlesque entertainment given by the St. Paul Elks at the Metropolitan theater last night. A larger or more fashionable audience has not been seen at the theater this winter, and if applause and enthusiasm count for anything, the Metropolitan has not housed a better pleased audience in years.

Every number on the well-balanced programme was cheered, and the artists who contributed to the success of the entertainment, were compelled to respond to numerous encores. That the entertainment is a success was demonstrated last night in more ways than one. It was more than a mere success; it was a decided hit. There wasn't a dead one on the programme, not even a cripple, and the people who witnessed the performance could have been held there much longer without tiring. There was just enough of everything, nothing was overdone—something remarkable for an amateur performance.

Not a Dull Moment.
 From the time the curtain went up spend to an encore.

The finale of the first part was participated in by the entire company, who assisted Hazel Runge in singing a catchy song entitled "Daffy Down Billy."

"Some Cute Kids in Nursery Rhyme," in which Master Herbert Whitmore and eight little girls did some clever dancing.

One of the most pleasant features of the whole entertainment was a violin solo by Miss Lella A. Stanton, who showed remarkable talent. She responded to an encore and was the recipient of many flowers.

A vaudeville turn by Ida Levison and Charles Marks was highly pleasing; the singing of Miss Levison being especially so. "A Man's Prerogative," a monologue written for and given by Mrs. Frank M. Smith, was well done and gave Mrs. Smith an opportunity to display her remarkable talent in this line.

Mrs. Nash Makes a Hit.

It is only fair to say that the hit of the evening was made by Mrs. Louis Nash, as "Bonnie Lottie," in her original singing and dancing act. Mrs. Nash was formerly a professional, and she has lost none of her cleverness since leaving the stage. Her songs were catchy and her dancing remarkable.

The grand finale, arranged to represent "The City of St. Paul," served as a vehicle for the introduction of a number of local takeoffs. Gov. Van Sant, Mayor Smith, Dr. Ohage, Billy Carling, H. P. Hall, "Big Andy" Call and a number of other familiar characters were represented. Summit avenue, Rice street, Dayton's bluff, Swede Hollow, the Eighth ward and other sections of the city were represented by characters familiar in the different sections.

Charles Laird and company sang "Down Where the Budweiser Flows," and Miss Marie Polhamus, who has a remarkably rich contralto voice, sang "Lenore" in a manner which won her much applause.

But what's the use to go on. Every one made good and all who made the success of the entertainment possible are entitled to praise. Better judgment could not have been exercised in the selection of talent for such an entertainment.

The performance will be repeated to night and tomorrow night, with a Saturday matinee.

In the boxes were: Dr. Justus Ohage and party, C. J. McConnell and party, Col. F. Welz and wife, and Dr. Christian Fry and wife and party, John Flannigan and wife and party.

OWL CARS ON ALL LINES MAY RUN TONIGHT

Vice President Goodrich Says That Complete Service Will Be Installed, Probably Tonight, and That Large Force Will Be Employed to Operate Extra Cars.

C. G. Goodrich, vice president of the Twin City Rapid Transit company, announces that "owl" cars will be put on every street car line in the two cities. The new service may go into effect tonight, though Mr. Goodrich refuses to be exact in this respect.

Six lines in St. Paul now have an all-night car service, but under the new arrangement, the Selby avenue and Merriam Park, Hamline and Jackson, Rondo and Maria, Grand avenue, Mississippi and Stryker lines will be added.

In Minneapolis the new lines that will be furnished "owl" cars will be the Cedar and Emerson, Fourth avenue, Lyndale, Plymouth and Camden Place lines.

Will Hire 300 More Men.

Mr. Goodrich says that the new arrangement will call for the employment of nearly 300 extra men. He says the receipts just now are not any too large, but expresses the hope that there may be a gain.

According to those who say they are in a position to know, the night car service as now operated is not costing the company an extra dollar, all expenses of fourteen or fifteen Barrett & Zimmerman's livery drivers not misarranged, that firm might now be badly inconvenienced.

About three or four days ago three colored men were engaged to work for the firm in the capacity of drivers, and the white drivers objected to this arrangement.

But no definite action was taken by the men until the evening of the day upon which they made their complaint, when it is alleged, they became partially intoxicated and waited upon Moses Zimmerman.

Corporation Attorney-elect Michael yesterday announced his official family in the persons of Thomas McDermott, first assistant for the present; Louis Frankel, second assistant; Emil W. Helms, chief clerk; Charles E. Collet, clerk, and Miss Maude Ulz stenographer. All of these appointees will enter upon their new duties next Tuesday.

LEADING SPIRITS IN ELKS SHOW

One of the novel features of the Elks' Minstrel's performances at the Metropolitan Opera house this week will be the exhibition each evening and at the matinee on Saturday of the new drop curtain which has just been completed by the eminent artist, Herr Clausen. The picture shown on this curtain is a genuine work of art and one of the finest specimens of scenic excellence ever produced in this country. It fills up the entire space of the proscenium opening, thirty-six feet square, the entire surface being utilized for the picture, frame and draperies.

The scene to add a flavor of local interest, shows the Mississippi river between St. Paul and Minneapolis at the point where the new $500,000 steel bridge of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway joins the Twin Cities; the bridge occupies the foreground of the picture, and on it is seen the famous train of the Milwaukee road, "The Pioneer Limited," rushing across at full speed.

for the first time until it descended on a grand finale participated in by the entire company, there was something doing. Everybody made good and it is to be regretted that each one cannot be given a "boost."

That a large share of the credit for the success of the entertainment is due to Al G. Flournoy can be said without injustice to any of the others. Not only was the entertainment under the personal direction of Mr. Flournoy, but that gentleman did a number of stunts which won much praise—and a head of cabbage. His stunt with Frank Tenny made a hit which was equalled only by his rendition of an indescribable melody entitled "A Few Gargles," in which a number of local hits were introduced.

Artie White and James Silk, in black face, did a clever turn as "The Two Senators," and had to respond to a number of encores. Their songs and dances didn't win them any flowers, but they are said to have received a flattering offer to travel as a team on the Star circuit. Percy Churchill sang a number of rag-time songs with credit to himself.

"Under the Shade of the Palms" was sung by request by Charles Laird, the well-known basso cantante, and so well was it done that Mr. Laird had to repenses being met by reducing the cost of the day service. All extra men are employed by the hour and the time is reduced by the elimination of sufficient extra and regular cars during the day to more than make up for the night service.

Supt. Burdick stated last night that he had not been informed of the company's intention to put "owl" cars on all the St. Paul lines. "I may receive the order tomorrow, though," he added. "Nothing was said about the new service today."

Alert Policeman Saves Children.

Quick thought and action on the part of Policeman John Smith saved the lives of several children at the corner of Sixth and Seventh streets Wednesday night. A heavy team belonging to J. B. Carter, an expressman, had become frightened at a passing automobile, and ran up Sixth street, children, who did not notice the coming horses. Officer Smith sprang into the street and pulled the little beasts and undoubtedly saved their lives. The brave officer was knocked down and severely bruised, but no serious injuries resulted.
