THE ST. PAUL GLOBE

THE GLOBE CO., PUBLISHERS

Northwestern-Business, 1065 Main. Editorial, 78 Main.

CITY SUBSCRIPTION	5.
By Carrier 1	1 mo	6 mos	12 mos
Defly only. Defly and Sunday. Sunday	.40 .50 .15	$2.25 2.75 .75	$4.00 5.00 1.00
	ON3.
COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTION
By Mall	1 mo	6 mos	12 mos

BRANCH OFFICES.

New York, 10 Spruce Street, Chas. H. Eddy in Charge. Chicago, No. 27 Washington St., The F. S. Webb Company in City.

SUNDAY, MARCH 15, 1903.

THE REGENERATION OF RUSSIA.

The white czar has proclaimed by ukase religious freedom throughout the Russias. The imperial proclamation would be more impressive but that it reminds us of the fact that the present empress of Russia, who was she was brought up in before she was permitted to mar-Ty the descendant of that delectable monarch, Catherine the Great, who now sits upon the throne of the Romanoffs.

But the attitude of Nicholas, which has been generally reactionary compared with the position of his grandfather, indicates some hope for the future Russia. He is essentially a weak ruler, given to spasmodic outbreaks of liberality, inspired, it is not to be doubted, by the gentle German princess who shares his throne. It is unfortunate for him and his empire that he has little of that fortunate for him and his empire that he has little of that dogged determination that characterized so many of his ancestors. If he were a man capable of such a deed something good for Russia come out of the present ukase. But Nicholas is not the autocrat that Peter was pensed with, according to the evidence furnished by the nor does he possess the spirit of Alexander II. He has experience of other states. issued an ukase, the bureaucracy that rules him and Rus-

in fact, of the soil to which the people were bound, found

The progress of civilization is slow in Russia and the policy. In the few years of his reign the father of the fatal. present czar undid all the work of his predecessor and

It cannot be brought about by imperial proclamation.

An act of justice was done in making the salary of the attorney general $4,800 a year. There are some other instances of injustice and inequality in salaries that might be remedied.

TO COMPLETE THE CAPITOL.

After a very thorough and complete investigation of the work and records of the state capitol commission, a committee of the house of representatives reports the work well done, all moneys honestly expended, commendable zeal and watchfulness on the part of the capitol commission and the supervising architect. With this showing The Globe anticipates prompt action upon the request for an appropriation for such additional money as is needed to finish the work and get the magnificent structure ready for occupancy.

The taxpayers of the state will not begrudge the sum required to complete the beautiful capitol now that they are assured the money is being honestly expended and that the commission and architect are guarding the state's interests faithfully. By reason of her population, wealth and the grander future opening out, Minnesota is entitled to a capitol such as is being built. It will be a source of state pride and a joy for generations.

Every consideration of business judgment and economy require that prompt action be taken by the legislature. Delay in providing the money will handicap the commission in its effort to hurry up the work as fast as possible consistent with securing the best results. Spring contracts are being made; builders and decorators in all lines are planning their work for the season; orders are being placed for material, and unless the capitol contracts are soon ready they will be filled after all the private work undertaken has been done. This will, reduce the number of men who will be in position to bid, thus rendering it probable that bids will be higher.

There is no good reason for delay; there is every reason for prompt action in passing the capitol appropriation bill.

The acclaim with which the British people received the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain on his return from South Africa goes to show that the British public knows how to make the best of a gold brick after it has in-

PHILIPPINE INVESTIGATION.

There is a widespread opinion that the half was not revealed by the investigation into conditions in the Philippine islands, when the "water cure" and other atrocities were brought to light. The matter was dropped too suddenly when the revelations bid fair to be harmful to the political interests of the Republican party.

Occasional items of news get into the public press going to show that the usual conditions prevailing in European colonies prevail in our Oriental possessionsthat is, that brutality, even the killing of persons for petty offenses, the infliction of such torture as the commander may order or wink at, pillaging, looting and depredations, are practiced.

It is folly to imagine we can control tropical colonies in any other way than European nations with centuries of experience control theirs. The life of the native is held in contempt by the soldier. Native women have cheer up. no protection from his passion. Native property is his for the taking. Lawlessness of soldiers in a colony is greater or less according to the character of the officer in command and the distance from the home government. The United States has had experience of the kind in dealing with the Indians.

Philippine condition were known to the people of the United States they would with practical manimity demand a change of national policy.

For the sake of a few dollars this great republic cannot afford to be party to such crimes as are committed in the name of "trade."

One disadvantage that confronts the proponents of the movement to send the militia to St. Louis lies in the fact that the governor's staff would have to go along and the state would be left absolutely at the mercy of any invading army that might come along.

SENATOR LAYBOURN'S BILL.

It is evident that the measure introduced by Senator Laybourn having for its object the amendment of the constitutional provision regarding the grand jury is not going to pass without a considerable amount of opposition. Yet it is worthy the closest attention of the legislature.

If the measure is passed and made effective by a constitutional amendment it will change the present system of a periodical grand jury and permit the procedure in criminal cases to be initiated by the laying of information by the county attorney. The grand jury will not be abolished, it may be called together at any time by petition or at the direction of the district court.

The grand jury is a survival that is not altogether desirable. It is a relic of the past that might be dispensed with in the interest of economy and it does not be adopted. They was unimportant appear that any of the rights of the individual will be bills to take th' money away fr'm th' appear that any of the rights of the individual will be lost by its suppression. It has been complained, and sometimes with justice, that the grand jury is a pry- th' leaders iv congress demanded more ing institution working in the dark and not always to the Princess Alix of Hesse, was compelled to abjure the faith | best interests of the public. An indictment does not imply the probability of a conviction, but there is a certain odium attaching to it that cannot be escaped, yet too frethe Great, who now sits upon the throne of the Roman- quently the grand jury finds indictments when there is

It is not to be doubted that in Wisconsin and other states where the grand jury meets only at the instance idee is to attack them at their weakof the people or the court the ends of justice are quite as that whereby Peter the Great fortified himself against as well subserved as they are in Minnesota where the the liberal tendencies of his foredoomed son, there might grand jury is a periodical institution. It is a cumbersome piece of legal machinery and might readily be dis-

the verge of bankruptcy so often nothing could possi-Romanoffs are not to be depended on to carry out a bly affect him, else would his present good fortune be the present heir presumptive is even more reactionary than was his brother Alexander III.

The present heir presumptive is even more reactionary than was his brother Alexander III.

The present heir presumptive is even more reactionary the inclined to quarrel with the administration for giving the inclined to quarrel with the administration for giving or imprisonmint in a loonytic asylum or both. As I said, I offer this bill with raison why he shuden't talk fr iver. Liberty for Russia must come up out of the people. his good fortune and his enemies will be pleased to get a sad an' achin' heart, he says. 'But I hope he will. I don't care whether he rid of him. Incidentally, his location the other side of I have done me jooty an' with them I sink. As fr th' Pannyma canal, 'tis rid of him. Incidentally, his location the other side of the line, will make for the development of the annexation sentiment. The Canadians will be glad to come up New York an' get twinty-two, what's to be done about it?" asked into the Union in order to get rid of a consul whose twinty Broad,' he says. Americanism is a standing reproach to all things British

> "Doc" Ames' declaration that he would make the fur fly on his return to Minneapolis is probably merely a tobacco, th' flask, th' time iv day, th' it," said Mr. Dooley. promise to shave off the whiskers that now disguise him.

GROWTH OF LIFE INSURANCE.

A table recently prepared by the Spectator reveals the magnitude of the life insurance business of the United States, and gives an idea of the immense profits of the regular companies. The table mentioned does not include the fraternal insurance business. There was a large increase in every item in the reports for 1902.

On the 1st of January, 1903, the companies had as sets amounting to over $2,100,000,000; surplus over liabilities, $295,000,000; received in premiums in 1902, $407,000,000; total income in 1902, $504,000,000; total payments to policyholders in 1902, $195,000,000; total disoursements in 1902, $320,000,000; whole amount of insurance in force, $8,719,009,000.

These figures show that life insurance is one of the great industries of the country. The table shows that no other business can boast corresponding gains in every material respect equal to those of the life insurance com-

The amount distributed to policyholders, almost $200,000,000, without doubt brought material relief to nearly half a million people. Estimating the policies at $2,000 each, there would be more than 99,000 direct beneficiaries, a large proportion of whom had others dependent upon them.

Add to these disbursements of the regular companies the sums annually paid by the fraternal companies, and the magnitude of the life insurance business can be ap-

Since coal was put on the free list there has been no evidence that that "infant" industry is in danger of being crushed by the pauper coal of Europe. There has been no cut in miners' wages. Why not try the experiment of putting some of the other necessaries of life on the free list? It is suspected the beef trust and the steel trust would survive, just as the coal combine has kept on at the old stand.

The latest theory in the Burdick case is so simple that it is odd it was not thought of before by the Buffalo police. Of course he committed suicide. Beating oneself to death with a hammer is essentially a Buffalo method for getting rid of trouble, but it must be easy enough if one is used to using the hammer.

King Edward has been restricted to five cigars a day by order of his physician. He is not allowed to smoke those given by applicants for jobs.

Kentucky will soon be free from debt, but the world can never repay the obligations it owes the Blue Grass state for the unique nectar given mankind.

Minneapolis laments the fact that her streets are the worst ever. Let her come over and look at ours, and If the Republican senate doesn't confirm Dr. Crum's appointment, will the colored vote crumble and fall

One must pity Reed Smoot when he thinks of the awful job of explaining the intricacies of parliamentary

MR DOOLEY Mr. Deoley on the Achievements of Congress

Copyright, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.

"I see," said Mr. Hennessy, "that congress has knocked off wurruk.'
"It has," said Mr. Dooley, "or, to speak more acc'rately, th' house iv riprisintatives has gone back to wurruk. Th' sinit is still there with its feat up on th' desk an' its vinrable buck an' th' lie direct. It nas sung Or a good record fr the house.
"Th' sinit with ith thraditions grim with age is still goin' on, Hinnissy. Me frind Tiddy Rosenfelt wrote thim a letther sayin' that they had done well. They were a credit to th' country an' body else can.

"What has it done, says ye? Well, thrusts, to burn thim in ile, to murdher thim, to lock thim up f'r life. But Aldrich, who riprisints a constituency that's almost as big as my back yard, was detarmined that no pains shud be spared to bring th' thrusts to their knees in fear or gratichood. 'Gintlemen,' says he with a chekir' result of the spared to bring an' th' best annywan can do is to pick off a little at a time,' he says. 'My idee is to attack them at their weakest point. An' what is their weak point, gintlemen? It surely is their binivolence. I propose to assail thim there. I do it with pain, fr. as ye know, howiver brutal me feelin' to'rd thrusts may be as a pathrite, as a citizen I have a rale affection fr wan iv thim. Th' bill I am goin's to offer in th' name iv me frind Sipitor Elkins, who is poundin' his ear in th' cloak the results of a little at a time,' he says. 'My idee is to attack them at their weak presidin' officer. Undher sinitoryal courtesy it is proper an' even affable courtesy it is proper an' even affable courtesy it is proper an' cliar.' It is th' hith iv courtesy to rush over an' push his clgar down his throat, to take him be th' hair and dhrag him around the room, or to slap him in th' eye on account iv a diffrence iv opinyon about to use a small case knife in a conthrough the room of the is seved an ulsae, the bereaueracy that rules him and Russia, through the church, will see to it that it is made operative only so far as comports with the aims of orthodoxy.

It might be in the interest of economy for Impression of the court though the church, will see to it that it is made operative only so far as comports with the aims of orthodoxy.

The imperial mandate would not be worth the attention it has attracted but for its possible bearing on the illift any burden from the Jew. He is the victim of civil rather than religious persecution. He is segregated and taxed to within an inch of his life, but he is not denied the practice of his religion by the local tax collectors generally.

The proclamation of religious freedom is not likely to be supeh more effective than was the act-of Alexander plished little for the masses of the people. The owners, in fact, of the soil to which the people were bound, found means to render the act of Alexander abortive, the bureaucrats will evolve a method to interpret the ukase of Nicholas in such a manner as will best serve their own was lated. But through it all he was picturesque and but fragaral taw-entities and advance wages, to build churches an' on'y got down to th' sixteenth cinchry, orphan asylums, or to create a fund where th' question broadens out. No y affect him, else would his present good fortune be tal.

Newspapermen throughout the Northwest will not in any iv these neefaryous intherprises anny officer iv a thrust will be lible to a fine ty four millyon dollars.

The description of t plains iv th' West, an' a bill to relieve th' Filipinos iv th' necessity iv' askin' f'r relief. It has passed th' chewin' "An' tha

"I see," said Mr. Hennessy, "that buck an' th' lie direct. It has sung 'Ol' ruk. Th' sinit is still there with its feet up on th' desk an' its vinrable nose burrid in its chest. It's been a gr-reat session iv congress. It will live long in th' mim'ry iv th' American people if they don't frget. Ivry time I think iv it, it makes me proud Tm I think iv it, it makes me proud I'm an almost native iv this country where th' meanest citizen can go to Wash'nton an' get his rights but noobligin', industhrees, honest, yes, in-deed. I have niver known ye to fail to begin with, it has smashed the thrusts—well, almost smashed thim—well, give thim a good hearty pat, annyhow. In the beginnin' it looked as though on'y half-way measures with be adopted. They was unimportant lastin' disgrace to the country' has lastin' disgrace to th' counthry,' he says. "An there ye ar-re. What's th' throuble, says ye? They ain't anny throu-ble. It's a question iv sinitoryal cour-tesy. What's that? Well, Hinnissy,

Mr. Henness "What do I do whin ye an' ye'er aged ye? Well, th' house iv riprisintatives has passed a bill irritatin' th' arid home?" asked Mr. Dooley. "What do I do whin ye an' ye'er aged "Ye tur'rn out th' gas," said Mr. "An' that's what I'd do with th' sinthropist. He is endowed with a kind Men, Women heart, but fearing that it might run away with him and induce him to do many things that would not be for the public good, he has taken a course in sociology, and now understands why the reckless giving away of money is a very bad thing for the givee. The realiand Things

zation by students of sociology and young Mr. Rockefeller is be

Two Brains Too Many.

A discovery which cannot but be of practical value in every-day life has lately been made by one Prof. Farring-ton, who announces that our old friend, the dinosaur, had two brains, one in the place usually reserved for brains and the other in the "extraordinary en-will assist somewhat. The professor further argues that the dinosaur must have been of remarkable intelligence; though it by no means follows. Not being up in dinosaurs, but reasoning by largement of the spinal column."

there is something more needed by the poor than money has been of inestimable benefit to the submerged tenth. So when Mr. Rockefeller finished his course he saw the mistakes of his Mackerel with a Bunch of Kevs. a Barlow Knife, a Plug of good eating more.

Tobacco and about 35 cents in Currency secreted in his Jeans, and he in at father in presenting cash donations to the poor, and decided that when he began his operations he would give could tell the Treasury Department them kind words, which is what they just how to manage the next $100,000,-000 Issue of Bonds. One thing that worried Mr. Quinsy

ity. Scientific charity is the latest cry of modernity. It educates the minds of he poor before filling their stomachs. would make some serious Mistake. He felt more or less responsible for Teddy inasmuch as he had formally nominate him in front of Pilkins' Hardware Store as far back as 1889. If he could have been at Teddy's Elbow all the time to whisper Advice, there would have been no Chance for the Administration to get balled up. But the Trouble was that Mr. Quinsy was out at Peewee Junction and Teddy was up at Washington, and they could not the Gospel of Relaxation. one of its chief exponents. He is full of love for his fellowmen, but he does not desire to love them too much, for that is bad for them. Kind words are what they want, and Mr. Rockefeller is disposed to act generously. The fact that his assessment has recently been reduced from $500,000 to $30,000 shows not only the effect of kind words, but evidences the reward up at Washington, and they could not the Gospel of Relaxation.

Copyright, 1903, by Robert Howard Russell.

After Breakfast he put on his Over-

Bay Way.

Mr. Quinsy knew a Druggist who took a Daily Paper and so, the first thing every Morning, he went to the Drug Store to find out what Foul Break had been made by Congress. After reading the Paper he sat by the Stove and laid out some Work for the Ways and Means Committee.

Stove and laid out some Work for the Ways and Means Committee.

After which he went down to the Station to see Number Six go through. After which he went to the Post-Office to wait until the Mail had been distributed. One day in 1889 Mordecal received a Seed Catalogue and after that he was encouraged. While waiting for his Mail Mr. Quinsy said a few plain Words about the Kaiser and stood up for the Monroe Doctrine.

About 11 o'clock every day Mr. Quinsy acted as Referee in a Pool Game and then went over to the Barber Shop to look at the Illustrated Papers containing the Pictures of Footlight Favorites and Noted Criminals. Mr. Quinsy being possessed of an Analytical Mind, was deeply interested in all Murder Mysteries and for every Case he had a few Theories of his own that would have been a great help to the

would have been a great help to the

Just at 12 o'clock Mr. Quinsy went come and ate a hearty Dinner, after Wanted a Little Rest.

which he returned to Main Street smoking a Farm Hand Regalia and gazing thoughtfully at the Ground trying to straighten out the Panama Canal Business.

In the Afternoon he hung around the Court House more or less because he played a good Game of Checkers, and besides he liked to be on hand in case the State needed the Services of an unprejudiced Juror.

Mr. Quinsy had a Weak Back which prevented him from splitting Wood, but he loved some kinds of Work and the Honest Toli that suited him best was to sit on a Jury in a Case involving Assault and Battery.

If there was nothing doing at the Court House, Mr. Quinsy usually went to a Real Estate Office and grappled with the Trust Problems. He had given much Thought to the Matter of legislating against Infamous Combines legislating against intamous combines and he was one of the first to discover that the Trusts were trying to whipsaw the Working Classes.

About the time that he had solved the Trust Problem, he had to go ovar and see the Afternoon Train go through and walt for his Mail once through and wait for his Mail once

Late in the Day he usually dropped in at an Undertaker's Shop, where a Veterinary Surgeon and a retired Truck Farmer were collaborating on a Foreign Policy for the State Depart-

Once there lived in a Jim Crow Town | get together to frame up a Policy once there lived in a Jim Crow Town a glowing Intellect who was Posted on all the Issues of the Day.

Some one had to keep Cases on the Government and prevent the whole Outfit from getting out of Kelter, and so the Job fell to Mordecai F. Quinsy.

Mr. Quinsy found that he could give his Time to regulating the Washington Game, because his Wife did Sewing and his Daughter was an Expert Stenographer. Between them they kept him supplied with good 5-cent Segars and relieved his Mind of all Business and relieved his Mind of all Business coat and wrapped himself up in a Com-forter so as not to catch Cold and lose the Use of his Voice. If Mordecai F. Quinsy had lost the use of his Voice this Country would have been in a

He had nothing to worry him except When he tackled a large International Problem he could do so with a keen, active Brain that had not been fagged out by any cheap exertion, such as trying to locate the Winter's Sup-ply of Coal.

How to Manage a Bond Issue.

Mr. Quinsy had the solemn Phiz of a professional Pall-Bearer, and much meditation had corrugated the Front of the Dome. Those who merely caught one Flash of him and never looked up his Record and checked off his Pedigree thought he was about due to break into the senate. To tell the cold and icy Truth, Mordecai could not have been elected Constable, but just the same he knew all about John Hay's next Move and sometimes he fretted a good deal for Fear that John would make a Miscue and permit himself to be Hornswaggied by them foreign Dip-

To See No. 6 Go Through, truly want, or would want, if they thoroughly understood scientific char-One thing that worried Mr. Quinsy ment. Mr. Quinsy was always able to a lot was the possibility that Teddy would make some serious Mistake. He dead set against the Anglo-Saxon Al-mined to forget himself and live solely for the good he can do to others, he finds his path strewn with tacks instead of roses. Such was the case with an altruist in New York, who stead of roses. Such was the case with an altruist in New York, who started the "International Finance Operating company," and who describ-ed himself as a "High Grade Investment Broker, Expert Finance Operator and Speculation Scientist." So self-effacing was this scientist that it is reported he was dressed in a red cardigan jacket and his other articles apparel were sadly frayed at the edges. In order to keep down his expenses, his office was a letter box in a cigar store, and his residence a cot in a Bowery lodging house. He promised his customers 1,000 per cent a year on their investments, and when questioned by the police, remarked that his idea was all right, only "I did not have the capital to work the scheme like those Wall street expert finance operators do." Mr. Danesbury—for such was his name—received letters from all over the United States, inclosing coin of the realm for investment, and among those who contributed to his board and lodging we find the name of one fair financier from St. Paul, who sent $5, expect-ing a stipend each month from its investment. If Mr. Danesbury had been let alone and the police had minded their own affairs, he might now be occupying a spacious Wall street office, with the other operators, but this is no longer a free country for those who would benefit their fellow men. All Mr.

his customers. boat Carrie Nation, he might have known it would not keep out of the St. Paul, March 14, 1908.

Danesbury needed was time, more money and the continued confidence of Indians Visit Longfellow's Daughter,

CHARGES OF POLYGAMY TO BE INVESTIGATED

Special Grand Jury Will Be Called at Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 14 .- At the request of County Attorney Westervelt, three judges of the district court today decided to call a special grand jury for the April term to investigate "sundry public offenses" alleged to have been ommitted, referring to the charges recently made of the practice of polygamy in this city and county. Statements in the press that a member of the local judiciary was charged with having recently centracted plural marriages is believed to have been instrumental in bringing about the proposed investigation.

NOT "BEAUTIFUL SNOW."

O the soot! The beautiful soot! Soft as a kiss and as black as a boot. Drifting and falling on alley and street, Falling also on the people you meet; As dark and as deep is this beautiful soot As the Democrats painted Apostle Reed Smoot.

onger a free country for those who would benefit their fellow men. All Mr. Clothing in mantle of sable the town; Solling the features of matrons and maid, Dyeting all skins with an African shade, Slowly evolving a city of brunes (A century more will find us all coons). Pomper's fate warns to constantly root of we will be buried in beautiful soot.

Once I was black as the beautiful soot; Now no one knows but the beautiful soot; Now no one knows but what I'm a beaut;
For, thanks to Smoke Jones and his little film-flam.
The fairest of blondes is as dark as I am, why should we fear to embezzle and loot?

BOSTON, Mass., March 14.—A delegation of Ojibway Indians in all their tribal glory of raiment, paid a visit to Miss Alice Longfellow, daughter of the poet, at

It is reliably reported that the ameer of Afghanistan is coming this way. Sooner or later we get all the celebri-ties and see all the sights of the world, not meaning to imply, however, that the ameer is a sight. It seems that the ameer, like all the truly great, though born in another clime, is an American at heart, and desires to see the country which he yearns for and which yearns for him, since learning what a truly wise and good potentate is he. For some time he has been preparing for this visit, and recently called all his wives about him and issued a release for all but four. He picked out four of the most pleasing of his large family and to the others he promised a pension, especially to those who did not enter into another matrimonial entan-glement. This shows that the ameer, though living far from us, and never having enjoyed the benefits of assimi-lation and benevolence, is nevertheless not entirely uncivilized. Some may cavil that he retained four wives in stead of only one, but it may be urged that comes to a man when he earnestthat as he is soon coming over here to ly works for the uplifting of humanity. visit us, he wanted to have some standing in Chicago.

Young Rockefeller's Philanthropy. Young Rockefeller is a philan-

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Minnesota—Fair Sunday except snow near Lake Superior; Monday fair; fresh northeast to east winds.

Upper Michigan—Generally fair Sunday and Monday; fresh north to east winds.

Iowa—Cloudy Sunday; Monday fair.

Wisconsin—Generally fair Monday; fresh northwest winds.

anoth to east winds.

anothwest winds.

anothwest winds.

Montana and North Dakota—Generally fair Sunday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh fair Sunday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh day for the fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh day for the fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh day for the fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh day for the fair Monday and Monday.

South Dakota—Generally fair Monday; fresh day for the fair Monday and Monday and