Find Defective Steel in Jail

Test of Bars Reveals One Not Proof From Saw and File.

The work of testing the quality of the steel used in the construction of the cells in the new Ramsey county jail by expert George C. Garrows was completed yesterday afternoon. The tests yesterday were made in the presence of Commissioners Wright, Nash, Powers, Mayor Smith, Sheriff Justus and a number of other interested persons.

ARRANGE FOR ISSUING COUNTY FUNDING BONDS

Plan for Having Portion in Denominations of $100 is Disapproved.

At a meeting of the ways and means committee of the board of county commissioners, together with the treasurer, auditor and county attorney, held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of completing arrangements for the issuance of the $120,000 of new funding bonds for the purpose of taking up the floating indebtedness of Ramsey county, it was decided to have the bonds issued in denominations of $500 each instead of having a portion of them made in denominations of $100, that investors of small means might be able to invest in them. The issuance of at least $10,000 of the amount in the smaller denominations was favored by Commissioner Pottgesser, but the plan was turned down at yesterday's conference.

When the matter was discussed yesterday afternoon it became clear to the committee that, inasmuch as the certificates must be sold to the lowest bidder, the small denominations could not be issued without some change in the law, and it was not considered expedient to recommend any such change. The action of the committee will be reported to the commissioners at a special meeting to be held tomorrow morning, and bids for the certificates will be advertised for at once.

SECRETARY HEALY'S EXONERATED BY COMMITTEE

Board of School Inspectors at Special Meeting Receives Report on Charges Without Comment and Healy's Re-Election is Regarded as Very Likely.

After carefully weighing all the evidence in both cases, your committee is of the opinion that the charges against the secretary are in the main well substantiated, especially that of unfair discrimination against the complainants, but that the secretary should not be held entirely responsible for the delay in the adjustment of certain accounts of the St. Paul Book and Stationery company.

This is the committee's findings on the charges preferred against Secretary James Healy at a board of school inspectors by the St. Paul Book and Stationery company and Melady & Casey, and they were formally presented before the board at a meeting of the board held yesterday afternoon.

No comment whatever was offered. Inspector Fischer, the chairman of the committee, read the findings; the board received them and discharged the committee, and, following this action, adjourned.

Ordinarily, the report of the committee, veiled as it is in as far as refutation or substantiation of the charges are concerned, is not given in the light of a "whitewash," but Mr. Healy did not accept it as such.

Healy is Satisfied. "I told them I did not want any 'whitewash,' he said at the close of the meeting, "and I am entirely satisfied. It is fair in every respect."

The charges of unfairness and discrimination date back two weeks ago, when, at the annual meeting, representatives of the St. Paul Book and Stationery company and Melady & Casey, Messrs. Paper dealers, entered a formal protest against the re-election of James Healy as secretary.

The grievance of the St. Paul Book and Stationery company was based principally on the alleged holding up of a lot of their bills for several months, and as further evidence of discrimination by Mr. Healy, attempted to show where Mr. Healy had erased their name from a requisition calling for some physical apparatus goods, and substituted that of the Kerwin company.

Charges Indignantly Denied. How far these charges were substantiated, or what refutation Mr. Healy offered, will probably never be known outside the investigating committee, as the public was carefully excluded from all meetings. Not even a stenographic account was taken.

Mr. Healy admits that some of the business formerly given the St. Paul Book and Stationery company was diverted to the Kerwin Paper company, but he told to do so by members of the board. This angered the book company, so Mr. Healy's friends said, and his scalp was sought for, as the book company and Melady & Casey were at one time professionally connected and the dissolution which followed made them rivals.

Fight Between Rivals. Indirectly the city purchasing committee, which consists of Mayor Smith, City Treasurer Bremer and the president of the common council, were connected with this transaction, for it was by their action that the Kerwin Paper company captured the contract for toilet paper. Melady & Casey, however, accused the secretary of making an unfair tabulation, and later adding to the indignity by approving a bill for $8 cents a pound when they say it should have been 6.

As one of the members has insisted on stating ever since the charges were made, the whole thing has been between rival firms and a possible slight discrimination in favor of one, with the result that the other was angered. Some goods of the Kerwin company were market without the formality of bids, and this aided in bringing about the bad feeling. The committee that made the investigation stated that no money loss had been suffered.

The election of a secretary will not be held until April 1. Mr. Healy's re-election is probable, but the firms who have preferred charges against him are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to head it off.

George F. Jones, better known as "Jones of Rock," resident of Rock county, but of late a student at Hamline college, is understood to be a candidate for the job if his rise was very rapid. It is known that he has been trying to interest Mayor Smith and some of the members of the board in his candidacy.

FAIR WEATHER MAY BE EXPECTED TODAY

Observer Oliver, However, Looks for Cooler Temperature.

"Fair, with every prospect of a slight drop in the temperature for Sunday," said Observer Oliver last night. Little was to be said owing to the fact that the state forecast was not received yesterday; the rise in the temperature was general all over the country with the sole exception of the lake region, where it was snowing yesterday morning. In some places the rise was very rapid; at Williston, N. D., during the twenty-four hours of Friday the rise was from 18 below to 20 above zero.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The legislature during the past week passed a bill which gives the governor power to send the national guard of the state to St. Louis next year. It has now been definitely settled that the summer encampment will only be for eight days, and the camp order is now being prepared, which is different than had been figured on. Col. Van Duzer of the Third regiment, wants to take his regiment to camp on Monday, June 15. This will leave a lapse of about fifteen days between the regiments, as Col. Reeve, of the First, wants his regiment to go on Monday, July 6, to be followed by the Second regiment, Col. Joseph Boleter.

Adj. Gen. Libbey does not contemplate many changes on the grounds in the line of buildings before the encampment, and if any are made this year it will be afterwards.

No troops will be sent to St. Louis to the dedication ceremonies on April 30, but it is possible that Gov. Van Sant and members of his staff will be present on the occasion.

The bill providing for the issuance of army bonds in Minneapolis and Duluth has passed both houses of the legislature.

Co. D, of the Second regiment, at Northfield, for some reason or other has fallen below the standard, and Col. Boleter notified Capt. Glascoe that unless it was recruited up it would be mustered out.

Co. C-1, of St. Paul, will initiate its new room in the Turner block by giving a smoke social.

Co. E-3 received its regular quarterly inspection last Wednesday evening.

at the hands of Maj. H. V. Eva, of Duluth. The company made an excellent showing.

Co. C and E held battalion drill on Monday evening under Maj. C. T. Spear.

On Monday evening the ladies of the Co. D homes served a supper for the boys in the armory, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Private S. G. Curtis, Co. E-3, has had quite an interesting national guard experience. He served for four years in the Forty-seventh New York and was discharged as first sergeant. He also served in the Porto Rican campaign. He has many medals won on the range and in company competitions.

Many of the men whose terms of enlistment expired recently are again taking on. A little over three years ago the First regiment was reorganized after the volunteer service in the Philippines, and the time of most of the men is now up, but nearly all are re-enlisting. The recent passage of the federal law authorizing the government to hold out many inducements to keep the men and little trouble is now anticipated in keeping the companies up to a high standard.

Co. C-1 will hold the annual drill tomorrow evening in the armory for the Bullard Bros' medal.

Co. E-3, of this city, is the first company in the state to take up the United States calisthenics drill, which takes the place of the soldier's exercises. Corporal Agnelly, late of the Twenty-first U. S. Infantry, instructs the company in this exercise, and it is worth a while of any one to visit the armory on a Wednesday night and watch this drill. In fact, it is almost comical at first to watch the contortions the men go through.

Operations are becoming a fact; every student of medicine who is graduated from a medical college, considers himself capable of undertaking the most serious and complicated surgical work, and hundreds of lives are sacrificed annually to this mad frenzy of incompetent men, to rush into work which should only be undertaken as a last resort, and then only by the most experienced and careful surgeon.

Test for Yourself the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root
