WARD IS GIVEN ONLY WORKHOUSE SENTENCE

Three Months at Como for Embezzlement of $200.

Clarence Ward, a well dressed young man, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to petty larceny, and was sentenced to the workhouse for three months. Ward is charged with having embezzled $200 from the Pioneer Press, in whose employ he has been for some months. He collected the money from carrier boys and failed to turn it over to the office. He was arrested on a warrant charged with larceny, and his employers had no desire to prosecute the young man to the penitentiary, in whose employ he has been for some months. He pleaded a charge of petty larceny, with the understanding that he would be given the full limit.

Ward formerly worked for the Tribune in Minneapolis, and was discharged from that paper because he was suspected of knowing something about the robbery of the Tribune safe. He was arrested to the extent of several hundred dollars. Twice while Ward was in their employ he was robbed, and while suspicion fell upon him, evidence sufficient to cause his arrest could not be secured, and he was finally dismissed from the service of the paper.

NO CARDS ISSUED TO HIS WEDDING

Hamline Young Couple Quietly Seek the Tie That Binds.

Henry Mensing and Miss Clara Diers, two young people living in Hamline, without announcing their intentions to their friends, made a quiet trip downtown yesterday afternoon, secured a marriage license and were married by court commissioner Gallick. Both of the young people are quiet, well known and popular in Hamline, and their sudden wedding will come as a surprise.

After securing their license the couple had considerable trouble in finding someone to marry them. Instead of making inquiries, they made several trips through the court house, looking for a court commissioner. The commissioner has no sign, and the young lovers waited from one floor to another for almost an hour, during which time they attracted much attention. They finally made known their wants, and were escorted to the court commissioner's office, where Judge Gallick married them, using his most impressive and touching service.

FRESH MILK AS OFFSET FOR DAMAGE TO GARDEN

White Bear Farmer Must Pay a Cash Difference of 25 Cents.

In the case of Arthur Foussard against Gustave A. Danberg, Judge Lewis yesterday directed judgment in favor of the defendant for 25 cents.

The litigants live on adjoining farms on the White Bear road, and Foussard complained that Danberg's cows came into his garden and destroyed it. He brought suit to recover for trespass, and Danberg put in a counter claim, alleging that the plaintiff had made a practice of milking the cows, for which he wanted damages. Judge Lewis heard the evidence, and after some figuring directed a judgment for 25 cents in favor of Danberg.

CROSSES THE OCEAN SIX TIMES FOR A BRIDE

Andrew Peterson Returns From Sweden With the Girl of His Choice to Wed in St. Paul—Happy Ending of a Sixteen-Year Courtship.

"It's a long ways to go after a bride, but she's worth it," said Andrew Gustaf Peterson, a section foreman on the Milwaukee, who returned to St. Paul yesterday from Sweden, where he went after Miss Maria Greta Magnuson, a girl to whom he has been engaged for sixteen years. Peterson and his prospective bride, unable to get married in Sweden because Peterson had taken out citizen papers in the United States, traveled all the way to St. Paul that they might be married in the town where Peterson has lived for the past two years. Three hours after their arrival in St. Paul they were at the court house after a marriage license. Peterson was proud of his fiancée and made no attempt to disguise his happiness when applying for a license.

Crossed the Sea Six Times.

During the twelve years Peterson has lived in this country he has made three trips to Sweden, each time with the intention of marrying the girl with him. The first time the objections of her father prevented, for the girl was yet very young. Three years ago he went for her again, but just before they were to start on the long journey the girl became ill, and it was some six months before she was able to leave her bed. She returned alone, disappointed, but not discouraged.

He returned to his work on the section and waited. Two months ago he made the third trip. Yesterday he returned to St. Paul with the girl, who promised to be his wife when she was fourteen years old. Peterson had to have to remain in Sweden a year before he could marry in his home country.

During the dozen years he has been in this country he has worked hard and saved his money. A cozy home at 316 Colborne street is being furnished and will soon be in readiness. These faithful lovers, Peterson exhibited the lease for his new home to the deputy judge who presided in the court house. After the license had been secured and Peterson had started to leave the building, he returned to the clerk's office to inquire how long the license was good for.

"Will it be good if I don't use it until next week?" he inquired. "I am pretty busy and may not have the time to get married this week?"

The assurance that the license was good until it was used satisfied him, and he left the court house with an air of pride.

BARTOL MUST SELL LAND FOR MARKET SITE

District Court Confirms Award of Commissioners.

In the matter of the proposed condemnation by the city of lands for the Jackson street market site, in which Henry W. Bartol appealed from the award of the commissioners, Judge Kelly yesterday affirmed the award, confirming the report of the commissioners, and the land will soon pass into the hands of the city, as the report is said to now be satisfactory to both sides.

The property is on Jackson street, and the city already owns the property on each side of it. It is occupied by the Cook barn, but as soon as the city secures possession of it, it will be converted into a market site, additional room for the market being badly needed.

The money with which to pay for the property was appropriated a year ago. The commissioners are to be paid $25 each for their services, but the appellant's claim for expenses resulting from the appeal is disallowed.

SWEDISH GRATITUDE OFFICIALLY EXPRESSED

Minnesota Contributions Bring a Letter of Thanks.

Gov. Van Sant yesterday received a letter from Karl Engstrom, governor of the Swedish province of Westmanland, expressing, on behalf of the people of his province, the sincerest of thanks to the Minnesota people for their generous contributions to the relief of the famine-stricken people of that province. The letter says:

"For the magnificent contributions to the sufferers in Northern Sweden which were sent me on Feb. 25 and March 6 bringing you and all kind and generous gifts heartiest and warmest thanks from the famine-stricken people. It is not only difficult, it is impossible to express by words the sentiments which overwhelm us before such a generous deed."

"FROM MISSOURI."

But Pure Food Quickly "Showed Him."

The popular expression, "I'm from Missouri; you've got to show me," means a lot. Among the Missourians who have "been shown" the value of Grape-Nuts and is a man from St. Louis, who says:

"It was during the summer of 1900 that I was taken really ill. For some time previously I had had premonitory signs, occasional headaches, gastric disturbances and a general feeling of debility. These increased until I became alarmed and sought medical advice.

"It seemed to me I was treated for all the ills that flesh is heir to, but without avail. Finally I was frankly told by my physician that I had better put my business matters in order, as I could live but a short time. I had actually commenced to die when a friend who knew what he was talking about made me change my diet and try Grape-Nuts. It was a long time before I commenced to see any improvement, but the food would help me after so many able physicians had failed to cure me. Well, to make a long story short, I at last decided to try Grape-Nuts, and the food showed me what was the matter.

"The effect was magical. One by one the shackles of disease fell from me. My brain became clear, head aches disappeared and it seemed I could feel the improvement daily. I experienced the delicious glow of strong, rich, revivifying blood flowing through my veins. I arose in the morning with all the time vigor and life seemed worth the living.

"The first month of Grape-Nuts use I gained 20 pounds and I have been gaining steadily ever since." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NO $50 BOUNTY FOR OFFICER GROSS

Nine-Year-Old Boy Can Hardly Be Classed as Horse Thief.

"A sound spanking for the boy and the return to the owner of the property would be nearer meeting the situation with justice and mercy to all concerned," is the language used by Judge Kelly in denying the application of Police Officer Louis F. Gross to be paid a $50 bounty for the apprehension of a horse thief. The horse thief captured by Gross was nine-year-old Vincent Mitchell, who was sent to the training school after pleading guilty to petty larceny. Gross arrested the boy just as he drove across the Wabasha street bridge with a horse and wagon belonging to a neighbor. The boy had been permitted to plead to petty larceny, the reward could not have been claimed.

"Judging by the age and size of the horse thief, in controversy," says Judge Kelly, in commenting on the claim, "it is not proper to grant a bounty to meet my demands of this character. In my opinion the law does not authorize the payment of a bounty except to a person who has been convicted of a genuine horse thief in the district court. On the face of it, it is absurd to assess the taxpayers with the bounty for the apprehension of a child engaged in what might have been a mere boyish prank with somebody's wagon."

BOUND TO HAVE JAIL'S STEEL BARS RETESTED

Commissioners Powers Circulates Petitions Calling for Another Trial.

County Commissioner Powers, regardless of the fact that he was turned down by others members of the board in his attempt to have another test of the steel in the new county jail, is not yet ready to admit that he is defeated.

It was stated yesterday that Mr. Powers was circulating petitions among the commissioners to authorize another test. When a sufficient number of names have been secured the petitions will be passed to the new county board, and in this manner the Mounds View member believes he can compel them to test the steel.

The petitions, it is said, have been distributed among Commissioner Powers' friends, who are already busy securing signatures.

Commissioner Powers characterized the test of the steel made by Expert George C. Garrow as a farce and an outrage upon the taxpayers. He voted against accepting the test, and he attempted to have the board authorize another test. The board turned him down in a manner that he has now decided to try and compel the members to recognize his demands.

POOR OLD EQUINE INHUMANLY ABANDONED

Humane Officer Called in to Put Animal Out of Misery.

John Moak, an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was called out to Hamline yesterday to shoot a horse which had been left in the vicinity of Minnehaha street and Lexington avenue during the previous night by unknown parties. The horse was suffering from a very bad case of glanders and farcy, a contagious disease which is fatal.

"The case is a familiar one," said Mr. Moak. "When persons, especially those who keep a number of horses in one stable, discover that one of their animals is affected with glanders or farcy, they nearly always try to dispose of the animal without letting anyone know of it. Were the horse to be put in a stable, all of the other animals would be quarantined and for this reason many horses are turned out in the night to die."

The horse killed yesterday was an unusually large animal, and it is believed to have been owned by some of the large firms in the city who use horses for heavy hauling.

TRIAL OF O'KEEFE TO BEGIN TODAY

Hearing of Manslaughter Case Will Take Several Days.

The O'Keefe manslaughter case will be called before Judge Lewis, in the criminal division of the district court this morning. County Attorney Kane announced yesterday that everything was in readiness for the trial, which will probably last several days.

The defendant, P. J. O'Keefe, is charged with manslaughter in the first degree. He engaged in a fight with Joseph J. Powell, and killed the latter during a result of his injuries. O'Keefe contends that the injury which caused Jacques' death was an accident. O'Keefe will be defended by Lawler & Arnold.

MASONS TO OBSERVE MAUNDY THURSDAY

Altar Light Will Be Extinguished in Every Masonic Temple Tonight.

With the approach of dusk this evening the altar lights in every Masonic temple in the world will be extinguished. It is the annual observance of Maundy Thursday and is commemorated by the death of Christ. On Sunday next the resurrection of the Redeemer will be celebrated.

The observance of the death and resurrection of the Redeemer by the Masonic world is confined more particularly to the Scottish Rite branch, a special ritualistic service being carried out. Today the habitations will be black, and on Sunday this somber-hue will give way to brighter colors. Both are symbolic of the death and resurrection of Christ.

This evening every Scottish Rite Mason in St. Paul will gather at the temple on Fifth street and at 8 o'clock the altar lights will be extinguished. Preceding it, however, a ritualistic service will be performed with the officers in full regalia.

No further service will be held until Sunday, when promptly at noon the altars will be re-erected and the services will also be of a ritualistic nature, though more in keeping with the glad news of the resurrection.

As is customary all Masonic lodges in St. Paul will attend divine service in a body Sunday morning. In the afternoon regular Easter service will be held at the temple.

LOVERS ARE DOOMED TO DISAPPOINTMENT

Minneapolis Couple Are Refused a Marriage License in St. Paul.

Lawson W. Dymond and Grace L. Mowser were a badly disappointed pair of lovers when they failed to secure a marriage license in St. Paul. They had been married in Minneapolis, and the license required by the law must be taken out in the county in which the woman lives. Dymond, who is a deputy clerk in the city, and Mowser, who is a clerk in the city, are both in the city. Dymond is a native of St. Paul and Mowser is a native of Minneapolis. They were both in the city when they were married in Minneapolis. They were both in the city when they were married in Minneapolis.

PLEASED OVER DEFEAT OF THE GREGORY BILL

Members of Board of Public Works Especially Gratified.

The defeat of the Gregory legislative bill, making certain city offices now elective, was met with a feeling of relief in the city hall yesterday, and some of the officials who have done their best to bring it about.

Perhaps the greatest relief was experienced by the members of the board of public works, as it was for their benefit primarily that the bill was drafted. For the past week the three members have been working hard to defeat the bill. They were especially pleased about the defeat of the measure, and yesterday they were unusually cheerful because of its downfall.

Instead of an additional eleven members to be added to the board, City Clerk Matt Jensen will retire to private life on the date fixed by the charter, June 1.

With his chances for another year's stay removed, those who aspire to be his successor as city clerk took new heart yesterday, and from now on will keep the members of the two council bodies busy side-stepping them.

GENUINE PRAIRIE FIRE ON THE WEST SIDE

Fire Department Called Upon to Extinguish the Blaze.

Dry grass and brush that had accumulated on several vacant lots on Ohio street, beyond King street, on the West side, created a veritable prairie fire yesterday afternoon. The flames grew so great and swept with such rapidity over the open tract as to threaten the buildings in the vicinity. The fire started early in the afternoon from a bonfire and smoldered for several hours. Towards evening, when the wind shifted, it gained the fire, it spread over the vacant lots, consuming the stubble in its way.

The fire department was summoned at 8 o'clock, and the hose men quickly worked of the spreading flames.

Claim Made There Is No Evidence for His Detention.

Gilchrist to produce members of the Gilbertson family, an inmate of the county jail in court at 10 o'clock this morning and show cause why he is being detained as a prisoner. By these means Attorney
