GAMES TODAY.

Minneapolis at St. Paul, Milwaukee at Kansas City, Toledo at Louisville, Indianapolis at Columbus.

BY BILLY MAC.

After two days of fever and chills, compelled by the report that anything labeled Minneapolis can make a St. Paul ball team look like a young orphan, the Saints came out of it yesterday afternoon and whaled the Orphans from up river to a far-the-well. Score 10 to 2, and we are more than ever convinced, even at this early date, that we are at last within clutching distance of the right to be identified with the champions.

The once esteemed Mr. Cunningham and his assistant, Mr. Moran, returned to work, but, apparently by mutual consent, the little affair of the day previous was overlooked and everything passed off in a manner befitting a Ladies' day. Wild rumors telling of the pickling of M. Kelley and Spike Shannon for three days by order of the league president spread about the stands, but this proved a false alarm. Busy trying to find out who got the hit in the Clingan case, T. Silent Hickey cannot be expected to knock off work long enough to hang up a few players.

The absence of G. Spooner from the Orphans' batting list does excite the suspicion that Mr. Hickey has been heard from. G. Spooner performed several laps about the city yesterday, but the Orphans in the first base line during his one day stand, and the only explanation of his absence is that Haverhill has once more made an announcement that G. Spooner must play with St. Paul or come home. If this is true, it looks like a trip to the depot for G. Spooner. He is considerably able pumpkins as a first sacker, but he is in the Willie Clingan class—we do not need him here.

The defeat of the Orphans proved a crushing setback to the more conservative members of the much managed collection. After long argument these conservative ones succeeded in convincing Manager Yeager that he was not destined to butt to the front as a base runner, and drew from the manager a promise to discontinue his popular human-barrel stunt. The manager generously refrained from attempting to roll himself across the rubber yesterday afternoon, and his bunch failed to make good. If G. Yeager gets the chance this afternoon he will give an imitation of a Russian thistle all the way from the third corner to the plate. James St. Vrain furnished four acts of amusement for the 2,753 and one baby present. The baby went real to when James was given the blanket sign by his manager. The 2,753 were disappointed in not seeing more of the southpaw, he having won his first last season by breaking up the Southern league without any cuffs or outsiders to assist him. After seeing James work one has a poor opinion of the Southern league magates. The clubs barring Charlie Frank from the grounds because he brought St. Vrain to fling his team might have opened the gates and had a better chance at the bunting.

J. Stewart worked for the Saints straight through to the finish. Stewart started in a game several days ago, but moved his foot suddenly from under his ankle and rode a rubber from the field. He was still wearing a grip in his walk yesterday, but by using knee judgment in distributing his raise ball, he was able to waver along without unnecessary assistance.

Young Mr. Thomas succeeded the chased James St. Vrain. Mr. Thomas hails from Old Kaintuck and is no relation to Tom Thomas, the pitcher who once mingled with the ball teams at the circuit. He was then associated with Tom Thomas, when not throwing balls, breaks lumps of high-priced coal for Divine-Right Baer, while young Mr. Thomas, between feuds, guides the youth of the club in the blue grass toward the roof of knowledge. The Kentucky rooter is greatly annoyed by the numerous communications received from the sympathizers, and it is hoped this explanation will cut down the reckless waste of postage.

The Saints opened in the commencing round. Shannon hit for a base, and St. Vrain walked Jackson. This free gift greatly annoyed the St. Paul young man, who believes the fanatics will mistake him for a stranger in our midst by his rooting for the visitors. Some day this young man may get as far as Minneapolis, and then he will cheer for the Saints.

With Shannon and Jackson on, Geler singled, and Shannon came in. Marcan flew out, and Wheeler went out. Martin, on Washington, but Huggins walked and three were on. One swat would have broken up the affair early, but Kelley hit to St. Vrain, and Jackson was forced at the plate.

In the third the Saints took up their interrupted thread. Four singles and a bungle by Boots McIntyre chased in two runs. In the fourth Shannon opened with a single, Geler singled, and here St. Vrain was directed to the bench. With Thomas in, Marcan flew out to McCreey, and Jackson scored. Wheeler got first on a fielder's choice, McIntyre stopping Geler at third. Huggins started one between first and second, but it caught Wheeler on the foot, and he made the third out.

More bumps for Thomas gave the Saints two more in the middle round. Kelley hit for two bases, and Sullivan beat a punt. Sullivan stole second, and Kelley got in on Yeager's heave. Shannon's single scored Sullivan.

Oyler's error gave Marcan a life in the next, and he scored when McCreey dropped Wheeler's drive to center. Huggins flew out, but Kelley scored. Wheeler in with a single. Kelley stole second and scored on Sullivan's six-to-five throw. The Orphans moved away from the mortar box in the sixth. McCreey walked, and Yeager singled. McIntyre fanned and Oyler flew out, but with two gone, Martin hit for a base and McCreey got in.

Thomas opened the seventh with a double. Smith and Lilly went out. McCreey singled and the pitcher scored the Orphan's second and last run. The score: AB. R. H. P. O. A. E.
