SEES THE WATERS SWIRL AROUND HER FATHER

Dramatic Fate of the Railroad Agent Who Died at Heppner--His Little Daughter Sees Him Engulfed While at Telegraph Key--Number of Dead Remains at About 300.

HEPPNER, Or., June 16.—Estimates of the loss of life by Sunday night's cloudburst differ, but it is certain to reach 300 and may swell when all are accounted for. One hundred and fifty bodies have been buried and it is known that fifty are missing. Still others were strangers in the town who supposed to be among the lost.

burying the dead is proceeding as fast as possible. THE DALLES, Or., June 16.—A message from Ione states that the latest find in the ruins at Heppner indicate that the loss of life will foot up to 500 and many of the bodies will never be recovered. BRIDGE GIVES WAY WITH SIGHTSEERS Approach to Structure at Eau Claire Goes Down With Two Hundred People, Injuring Thirty or More, Six Fatally.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., June 16.—A long section of the Madison street bridge approach went down under the weight of between 150 and 200 people tonight. Six persons were seriously, probably fatally, injured. Twenty-five or thirty others were seriously hurt. The accident occurred during an illumination of the street carnival booths along the main streets of the city. Hundreds of people had gone to the bridge to watch the illumination from the vantage point. Suddenly, without a moment's warning, a section of approach forty feet in length sank. Instantly all was confusion. Calls were sent for doctors and policemen to carry away the injured. It was thought for a time that the entire bridge, with its load of humanity, had gone down, carrying hundreds to death in the waters of the Chippewa river.

city hospital. The section of the bridge which collapsed had dropped its 200 sightseers twenty-five feet into a bank of sand and debris on the river bank. For a half hour the bank was a confused heap of women, children and men. Some were moaning, with their arms or legs fractured, or suffering with the pain of serious or possibly fatal injuries. Those who were less seriously hurt and those who escaped uninjured helped the police carry away their unlucky friends. Those badly injured were: Mrs. Adams, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, Miss Cora Mar, Hazel Rockoff, of Altoona; Mrs. G. P. Childs, Nell Rasmussen, a boy of twelve seriously hurt internally, John Jacobson and Miss Frank Hansen; Emil Rasmussen, internally injured; Jennie Kramer, face badly cut and several ribs broken; Mrs. J. R. Wilson, badly bruised and cut; John Jacobson, bruised, internally injured; Hazel Rock, of Altoona, cut and bruised; Mrs. Frank Howker, internally injured; A.

P. Childs, badly bruised; Mrs. W. H. Wallace and two children, internally hurt and bruised; Miss Grace Smith, right wrist broken; John Emerson, left arm broken; Mrs. D. R. Brooks, elbow broken and hips and eyes bruised; Miss Mattie Brooks, knee fractured.

BRITISH CABINET IS IN SERIOUS PERIL

Significance of Deadlock Between Wyndham and Redmond.

LONDON, June 16.—The deadlock which has arisen between Irish Secretary Wyndham and the Irish leader, John Redmond, as a result of today's debate in the house of commons, in which Redmond's amendment to the land bill, abolishing the minimum price at which the landlord may sell, was opposed by Mr. Wyndham and rejected by the house, threatens to imperil not only the Irish land bill, but the existence of the government.

SOCIALISTS ASTONISHINGLY SUCCESSFUL IN GERMANY

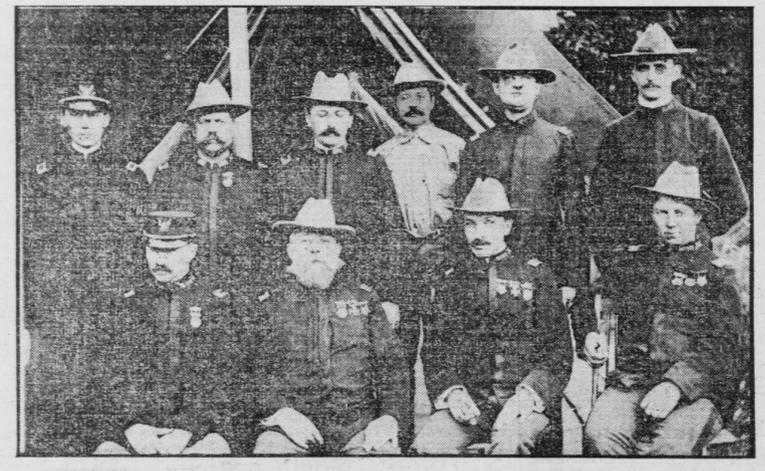

They Gain Fifteen Seats in the Elections for the Reichstag--Their Greatest Gains Are in Saxony, Which Is Dubbed "The Red Kingdom"--Socialist Women Help.

BERLIN, June 17.—The leading feature in the reichstag elections which were held today was the success of the Social Democrats, who have probably increased their representation in the reichstag by fifteen seats and their total vote to upward of 2,500,000, or 400,000 more than in 1898. All the parties concede the success of the Socialists, which has been at the expense of them all. The Socialists gained one seat in Berlin and 63,000 votes, seats in Dresden, Soligen, Pirna, Plauen, Zittau, Doebeln, Altenburg, Darmstadt, Limbach, Schwartzberg, Bielefeld, Beyreuth and Bremen. They lost seats in Sorau and Bernburg. The Socialists gains in Saxony caused Herr Ebel to night to call Saxony "the Red Kingdom." The most pronounced Socialist success was in Essen, Kruppstown, where the Socialists increased their vote

DUBUQUE RIOTERS STONE STREET CARS

They Also Break Windows and Are Dispersed by Militia.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 16.—A small crowd stoned the street cars, which resumed running today after a week's illness with non-union men. The sheriff called out the soldiers, and they were on guard with a Gatling gun. The lines were closed after dark. There was no trouble. The soldiers then marched to the camp of the non-union employes. A mob of 2,000 paraded the streets, shouting at the non-union men, but no further outbreaks occurred. Sheriff Stone has explained the situation to Adj. Gen. Bowers, and asked for more troops. The mob got beyond control late this afternoon, surrounded the company's power plant and broke every window in the building. A squad of police and militia finally dispersed the rioters. Several bricks were thrown from the rear of the crowds over the heads of the soldiers. Capt. Thryft ordered the soldiers to load and get ready to fire. This order awed the mob, which then dispersed.

MILITARY MEN WILL RULE SERBIA

King Peter Will Be Only a Puppet--Editor Saves His Head.

BELGRADE, June 16.—The position of King Peter I. promises to be little more than that of a royal captive. The real government of the country will be a military dictatorship under the leadership of the revolution, Col. Maschin and Col. Mitschich. The new king is almost without any personal adherents, and the rallies in Belgrade that night, it is thought probable, would just as readily murder him as they did his predecessor should he oppose their aims. The whole country is under military rule, and in the country districts each prefect is accompanied by an army officer, who attends him wherever he goes, even to the telephone. This policy has led to one good result—not a single case of disorder anywhere has been reported. Extremely forcible arguments were found necessary to suppress the radical aspirations of a republic. The foremost advocate of the creation of a republican form of government was Ljubomir Schickovics, the editor of the Belgrade Odjek. Finding him imperious to arguments, the conspirators invited him to a dinner at the Officers' club last Saturday. During the dinner his host told him that unless he agreed to support Prince Peter Kara Georgevitch there would be one head less in Belgrade that night. Schickovics yielded to the force of this reasoning and accepted the situation. He is now minister of justice in the new government. The deliberations of the members of the senate and skupstina on the republican question were materially hastened by the attendance of one of the leaders of the revolution, Col. Mitschich. The colonel took no part in the proceedings, but his presence was significant enough to induce the members to accept the army's choice. Premier Avakumovics told the deputies that it was useless to talk of a republic, as neither Russia nor Austria would permit it. He further would give King Peter far less power than that enjoyed by the president of the United States. In spite of the semi-official statements made this morning that the delegation of twenty-four of the national assembly elected to submit the crown to the newly chosen king, had already started, it is still here. The reason of the delay in his departure is that the government found some of its members to be adverse to King Peter. These sought the opportunity to become reconciled to him at the expense of the country. Now that the ministry has cut off their traveling expenses their desire to make the journey will be greatly diminished, and the delegation will probably consist of a dozen members at the most. Inquiries in official circles everywhere elicit the assurance that the people are delighted with the action of the government, but conversations overheard in public places indicate that the people, especially those living outside the capital, know little and care little about the trend of national politics. One of the features in all the shop windows is the display of large

ANOTHER BUILDING HITCH IN NEW YORK

Hoisting Engineers Are Ordered Not to Resume Work. NEW YORK, June 16.—The Building Trades Employers' association has ordered all hoisting engineers in the employ of association members not to resume work tomorrow. If followed out to the letter this action would mean that all building operations in the city will have to stop abruptly, as without the hoisting engines no material can be handled. The board of governors, however, had already given permission to the hoisting association to employ its men on three jobs known as "emergency cases," such as is necessary to prevent catastrophes and to make buildings safe.

PULLS TWO OFFICERS INTO THE LAKE

It attempting to take Barber from a houseboat on which he was living the officers were pulled into Lake Winnebago, and it was only after a desperate struggle that they were able to overcome and place him in a naphtha launch. Barber was wanted in Oshkosh on a charge of larceny.

MONTANA INDIANS DON WAR PAINT

Flatheads Refuse to Pay Cattle Tax and a Fight Is Likely. Special to The Globe. MISSOULA, Mont., June 16.—Trouble of a serious nature is imminent on the Flathead Indian reservation. The reds have donned their war paint, and, as they are well armed, it is possible that United States troops will be called on. On the Flathead Indian reservation are a large number of Indian cattlemen, whose herds are large and constantly growing. The government has decreed that each animal shall be taxed $1, and this has aroused the anger of the red men. Maj. Smead, Indian agent, called the wards of the government together a few days ago and told them of the tax. There were deep murmurs of discontent, and the Indians declined to pay, saying the government had already robbed them of nearly all they had. Accompanied by deputies, the agent went to the grazing grounds and attempted to seize a large number of cattle, just to show that he meant business. He was met by a party of the red men, each armed with a rifle, who told him they would resist the taking of the cattle to the death, if need be. Several conferences have been held without result. The Indians are determined not to pay, while the agent declares they must. The Indians have been for several days preparing for a limited number of rifles and are determined to resist the authority of the government, a battle is feared before the end of the week, when the time set for the payment of the $1 tax expires.

TRY TO TIE UP DOWN-TOWN PARK

Objectors Ask for Injunction Against Completion of Ball Grounds.

As a last resort the objectors to the proposed new down-town baseball park have applied to the courts for an injunction, restraining George E. Lennor from proceeding with the construction of the park and the playing of baseball and other games there. A dozen or more property owners in the vicinity of the new park, through an attorney, appeared before Judge Orr, of the district court, yesterday, and secured an order citing Mr. Lennor and his colleagues to appear in court Saturday and show cause why a temporary injunction should not issue, restraining them from continuing with the construction of the park. At the same time suit was commenced for the purpose of securing a temporary injunction against the proposed park. The objectors to the new park are James D. Humphrey, John Kirwin, John Klein, A. A. Ballard, Anna D. Sabin, the William Lindsko Land company, William C. Pope, Charles Butts, Warren Upham, Ella G. Hardenbergh, Clara G. Blood, Elizabeth Troy, Katrina Bantle and Emma A. Miller. The complainants allege that they own property in the immediate vicinity of the proposed new ball park, which they say is to be located in a quiet and secluded residence district of the city, which is thickly inhabited by persons of refinement and culture. They contend that the establishment of a public baseball park on the site selected will cause the residence property in that vicinity to decrease in value, and that it will be a nuisance in the neighborhood in which it is located. They charge that the players and spectators will, at frequent intervals, indulge in loud and deafening shouts, cheering, ringing of bells, blowing of horns, whistling, cat-calls and other noises, which will disturb the plaintiffs and their families and seriously injure their health. The plaintiffs impart to Mr. Lennor the following information that Lexington park is a permanent injunction, restraining the construction of a baseball park on the down-town site, and also that he be permanently restrained from having any baseball, football or other games played there. On account of this being the last term of court before the summer vacation, the action for a permanent injunction cannot be heard before the September term, and for this reason the plaintiffs seek to secure a temporary injunction, restraining the defendants from completing the park and playing ball there this summer. The hearing on the application for a temporary injunction will come up before Judge Orr at a special term of the district court Saturday morning, at which time the plaintiffs will argue for an injunction restraining the plaintiffs from farther action until the suit for a temporary injunction can be heard. The plaintiffs to the suit are the
