

DELAWARE MOB GOES OVER TO BLACK BELT IDEA OF JUSTICE

"NEXT COLLECTION" POSTAL DEVICE SUBJECT OF SCANDAL

Ex-Congressman Loud, of California, Said to Have Unwanted Zeal for Constituents Who Had Claims Against the Government -- Ten Thousand Devices Ordered at Enormous Profit While Seven Thousand Were Unused -- Did Loud Have Rolls Padded?

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—It is said that among the matters which Fourth Postmaster General Bristow is investigating is the purchase from a California company, the Postal Device and Improvement company, of 17,000 devices for indicating the hours of collection of mail.

The matter was under investigation. The complaint might have been reactionary and intended to check investigation. Complaints had also been made. It was also said, that at the instance of Mr. Loud, the rolls at the Presidio had been padded with postal employees, but at the postoffice department they were without any knowledge of such a thing one way or the other.

It is also said that 7,000 of these devices originally were ordered at a cost of $4 or more each, or a profit of 100 per cent on the cost, and the allegation is made that a further order for 10,000 was placed notwithstanding the original 7,000 devices were not used, but were reposing in a storeroom.

Thought of Constituents Only. After the company had difficulty in securing its money for the device, Mr. Loud appeared at the department in its behalf, but specifically disclaimed any interest in the company other than that it was composed of his constituents.

After paying his respects to Henry VIII, he spoke in a very uncomplimentary and blunt manner of Queen Elizabeth, whose relations with the Duke of Buckingham he declared were extremely compromising, even for that time.

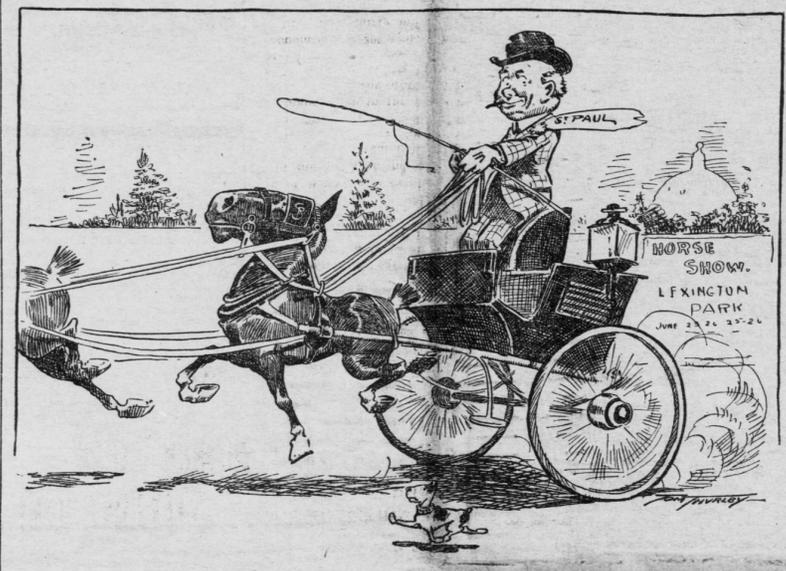

MINISTERS SCRAP IN A BALL GAME

Winona-La Crosse Contest Ends in Row and Ecclesiasts Shun Cuss Words Only With Violent Effort.

Special to The Globe. LA CROSSE, Wis., June 22.—A quarrel, a misunderstanding and hot words ended the baseball game at Trempealeau today between the ministers of La Crosse and Winona, Minn. Though the words perhaps were not a deviation from the clerical category, the wiser counsel of the more staid, it is said, was all that prevented a very serious row.

Salem, took his place. For four innings the scores came fast and furious. While Winona was playing the last half of the last inning, with two men out, the umpire called Rev. E. S. Van Ness, of Winona, out between first and second. The Winona pastors protested vehemently and Conrad Lottridge, of West Salem, made a remark not altogether complimentary to Van Ness.

of their congregations perhaps prevented the use of a more effective word than "sneak" and "baby." Against the advice of the umpire he reversed his decision at the suggestion of the La Crosse team and before the close of the inning the unofficial score was made. The batteries were: Winona, S. F. Kerfoot, Percy Meyers; La Crosse, W. W. Moore, Rev. Brown.

YES, INDEED! TODAY'S THE DAY.

NEGRO IS BURNED AT STAKE AND MEMBERS OF MOB ARE SHOT

Delaware Men, Led by an Unknown Virginian, Take George White From Workhouse and Execute Him for the Murder of Helen Bishop, a Young Girl-- Doors Battered Down and Mob Is Not Deterred by Shots From Defenders--White Filled With Lead.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22.—A Northern mob, led by a Virginian, burned a negro at the stake tonight within a few miles of Mason and Dixon's line. The victim was George F. White, a negro just out of the workhouse, who was accused of having feloniously assaulted and stabbed to death Miss Helen Bishop, daughter of the Rev. E. A. Bishop.

were pressed forward by those in the rear. More shooting was heard and there was a scramble to get out, but the braver ones in the attacking party stood their ground. In the fusillade that followed four persons fell, all members of the mob. They were quickly carried to the rear and attended to by those who were not brave enough to be at the front. Three of the wounded were men and the other was a boy. None of them could be identified except the boy, who is said to be Peter Smith, aged seventeen years.

Fire Hose Turned On.

It was evident that the warden did not wish to slaughter the mob in the prison corridor, so he directed that the fire hose be turned on the crowd. This also held the mob for a time, but not for long. The general rush was made, the guards were brushed aside and a man-hunt of the jail was made for the negro.

March to the Workhouse.

It was after 10 o'clock when the march to the workhouse, a mile away, was taken up. The chief warden of the workhouse and his guards, who have been on almost constant duty since the negro was landed in the prison, had been warned of the coming of the mob and prepared to defend the man at all costs.

Armed with Pistols, Shotguns and other weapons, the mob reached the jail.

A battery of railway ties soon carried away the great outer door of the workshop. What was going on in the shop was not known to the mob. The second, third and fourth doors were battered down by the forward leaders in the attacking party amid the yells and cheers of those who were pressing forward from the rear.

It then became evident that a plan of execution had previously been arranged, but who the planners were is not known.

With torches to show the way, the negro was led to the road and to almost the very spot where the assault took place. White was given a last chance to speak, and he confessed to the murder of the girl. A stake was quickly chained to the post and the dry underbrush, soaked with oil, was ignited, and the horrible execution was on. White, suffering intense agony, fainted and his body hung limp. Shots were fired into his
