MOTHER OBJECTS TO THE BURYING OF HER BOY ALIVE

Minneapolis Woman Protests to Governor Against Alleged Hypnotist Who Interred Her Boy Under 6 Feet of Ground.

That there are "gentlemen" training through the states, who through the claim they lay to the possession of hypnotic powers, are wrenching the hearts of fond mothers, is evidenced by a letter received yesterday by Gov. Van Sant.

These fakirs are aided in their work by the complicity of thoughtless boys, who allow the hypnotists to place them in a so-called comatose condition and then bury them beneath six feet of earth for three days and three nights...

The young man who goes out into the world today and does not succeed has no one to blame but himself.

Before one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the Grand opera house, twenty-eight young men and six young women knelt before the bishop and were awarded diplomas as graduates of the Cathedral school.

The annual commencement of the two schools was one of the most successful in the long history of Catholic education in this city.

In presenting the diplomas to the graduates, Archbishop Ireland made a short address, in which he told the young people before him that the world today contains much for them, if they would strive for it.

"As I watched this entertainment this evening," said the archbishop, "and noticed the splendid manner in which the children had been drilled and how perfectly they did their parts, I could not help but feel that I was growing old. Thirty-five or forty years ago, over in the old Cathedral school, I assisted in drilling many of their mothers and fathers in the same drill."

Value of Catholic Education. "That the value of our great Catholic education is growing is evidenced here tonight. It is evidenced everywhere. When the priests and more recently their respective schools, as they frequently do of late, I do not feel worried or benighted, as they are over-crowded; I feel proud to know that the great value of the Catholic education is fast becoming more appreciated."

Archbishop Ireland was assisted in awarding the diplomas by Rev. J. J. Lawrence, in which the students stepped forward to receive the reward of their efforts, they were heartily applauded.

Programme Was Entertaining. A splendid programme of some length preceded the final awarding of the diplomas, including a well-presented drama by the students, "The Nightingale and the Rose," by thirty little girls in white, and an action song, "Don't Waste Doggie," by a number of little girls, each with a rag doll in her arms...

The audience not only filled the house to its utmost capacity, but many unable to secure seats or standing room within the theater, sought places of vantage in the foyer, and amidst the entertainment throughout.

Following is a list of the graduates of the Cretin high school: John Aherm, Harold Beech, William Byrne, Thomas Barrett, Louis Bernier, James Cain, William Conlin, Frank Gehan, David Kemp, Joseph Knapp, Leonard Lilly, John McGuire, Thomas McGrath, Philip McCauley, Martin McDonough, John Murrane, Joseph Mueller, Joseph Muzynski, Sebastian O'Connor, Harry O'Connor, William Ryan, Alexander Robert, Michael Sperl, Martin Spitolsek, William Stuchlik, Joseph Swenson, Lawrence Willwerscheid and John White.

The members of the graduating class of the girls' school: Lillian Kennedy, Anna Shields, Catherine Quirk, Mary O'Connor, Mary Lyons and Mary Hanlon.
