Evidence in the Peavey Case Shows Discrimination.
CHICAGO, June 27.—Harry Gower, assistant freight traffic manager of the Rock Island, before the interstate commerce commission today, declared the Union Pacific arrangement with F. H. Peavey & Co. involved no discrimination to the latter concern for service which is not for the benefit of the railroad and which puts other roads at a disadvantage because the grain generally are beginning to demand similar payments.
Other officials, whose testimony was damaging to the case of the Union Pacific, were Vice President Miller, of the Burlington; G. H. Crosby, assistant freight traffic manager of the railroad, and Chairman Tucker, of the Central Freight association.

RAILROAD NOTES.
The state railroad and warehouse commission has issued a circular providing that after Sept. 1, 1903, all freight tariffs issued in Minnesota must bear a serial number for file with the Minnesota commission, the same as with the interstate commerce commission. Under the old practice, the commission has been able to publish and maintain rates that were for some time at least unknown to the commission.
C. S. Fee, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, has returned from the meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger association at Chicago.
The Northern Pacific will run thirteen trains from St. Paul and five trains from Minneapolis to White Bear lake July 4.
The time limit for subscription to the Pennsylvania's issue of $7,000,000 of new stock expired yesterday. Virtually all of the stock has been subscribed, and Speyer, Kuhn & Loeb, the underwriting syndicate, will be little more to do than collect about $2,000,000 commissions.
All the freight handlers employed by the various railroads entering St. Joseph, with the exception of the Burlington, went out on a strike yesterday because an advance in wages of 25 percent was refused. The Burlington employees said they were satisfied and voted not to strike. Non-union men are employed as rapidly as they apply for work.

PAVING SEARCH OF ADOLPH BRUN AT LAST REWARDED

Body of His Son Is Recovered From the River Close to the Spot Where the Drowning Occurred, June 12.

The body of Oscar Le Brun, the student of St. Thomas college who was drowned in the Mississippi river June 12, was found yesterday.
The body was discovered by the father, who came to St. Paul immediately after the drowning, and searched up and down the stream for the body of his boy, it was lying under the view of the dark water close to the spot where the drowning occurred, caught beneath a log. As the high water was gone, the log, with the body underneath, has become exposed to view on a reef in the middle of the river.
The body offered by the father to induce search for the body of his son attracted a large number of divers to hunt for the body, but after the first few days following the drowning, they carried on their search further down the stream.
The body was discovered yesterday afternoon by two brothers, who were fishing on the bank at the foot of Summit avenue. The boys were William Craig and David Craig. They were with their parents at 1736 Vincent street.
They had been fishing for several hours before William noticed a white object on the reef which resembled a body. After reconnoitering, David responded to the object and pulled it further. He accordingly removed his clothing and swam to the reef, where he found the body of the drowned student.
William then ran for a boat, and after a short time secured one down the river. The body was taken to the bank. Coroner Miller was notified, and the body was removed to the county morgue.
Adolph Le Brun, father of the dead boy, who had well nigh despaired of ever finding the body of his son, was overjoyed to have recovered it. It was a dismal consolation, however, for the father, when he visited the morgue, found a badly decomposed corpse as he expected to find, and he was disappointed to find that it was the body of his son, whom he had sent off to college and whom he expected to return home for vacation the week that he met his death.
The body was prepared for shipment at the morgue last night, and it will be taken to the home of the boy, where it will be buried.

CARNIVAL BOOTHS ARE QUICKLY SOLD

Fifty Already Spoken for by Progressive St. Paul Firms.

With less than three days of solicitation the St. Paul carnival association has disposed of nearly 50 booths for the coming summer carnival.
This exhibit will be one of the most interesting features of the carnival, and space for displays has been taken by many representative firms of St. Paul, prominent among which are the Palace Clothing company, George E. Lennon, the Plymouth, Browning & King, Kuhles & Stock, North Star Furniture company, Green Trading Stamp company, and the following: J. P. Wallace & Murphy, Natural Food company, Minneapolis; Charles Kartack, Nicollet; The Railway and Foley Bros. & Kelly.
Some of these firms, among them George E. Lennon, have taken as many as five booths each, and none of them less than two. What they think of them as drawing features is evidenced by the fact that all are willing to put up the figure, $50 a booth.
The chairman of the carnival, Edward J. Helmback, as postmaster of that department, and Mr. Helmback in turn has named H. P. Keller assistant postmaster; Ed Good, superintendent of mail; Frank Obst, superintendent of delivery; and Misses Ella and Marian Hatch, carriers. The latter employees will be added to, and the feature promises to be one of the most profitable and interesting of the entire program.
Mr. Helmback has some surprises in store for the recipients of his goods.
President H. C. Schurmeier, of the association, leaves Monday night for Milwaukee and other points in the interest of the carnival, and some new features are promised on his return.
Plans for the main entrance and the buildings generally required for the conduct of the carnival were completed yesterday by City Engineer Rundlett and Clarence Johnson, architect, and bids on the several structures will be asked for at once.
The committee of the executive committee of the association has been called for Monday night.

WANTED TO AMEND WRONGS HE HAD DONE

So the Doctors Declare John Chindvall Crazy and He Will Be Deported.
Searching in vain for persons whom he imagined he had wronged, John Chindvall, a stranger in the city, yesterday morning appealed to Patrolman Moran for assistance in locating them so that he "might make it all right."
He told the officer that he had looked all over town for the persons but was unable to find them. In despair over his failure he wanted the officer to help him.
Taking the Moran to the patrol box, Chindvall said that the persons would be found. Soon the wagon was rumbling along and Chindvall was placed within. At the station he was put in a cell and when in solitude began to pray most fervently for forgiveness.
He told the police that he was a sheep herder and that his home was in Canada, Neb. He had been up in Canada looking for land. He was on his way back home and in his pocket was found a ticket to Sioux City.
The man was examined by a physician and pronounced insane. He was sent to the county jail to await the action of the state board of control, which will forward him to his home.

HOIST AND DERRICK EMPLOYEES GO TO LAKE

Enjoy the Day at Spring Park With Usual Events.

The eighth annual picnic of the American Hoist and Derrick company's employees was held yesterday at Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, and about 500 persons were present.
A programme of eight events was pulled off with a flourish.
The ball game was between the Brown-Bigelow team and that of the Hoist and Derrick company. It was won after a hard fight by the Brown-Bigelow team, and the interest then centered about the races and jumping tests. Of the former there were six, all rewarded with first, second and third prizes. Three prizes were also given to those who participated in the jumping contest. The eighth event was a waltz, first, second and third prizes being awarded in that case also.
The trains left the union depot at 8:50 a. m., and returning, arrived in the city at 9 o'clock in the evening.

WANT CITY TO HAVE ITS LIGHTING PLANT

Franchise Commission Favors Municipal Ownership for Economy.
Municipal ownership is favored by the city franchise commission, now engaged in investigating the future of public lighting in St. Paul.
To absorb the present lighting plants in St. Paul, the chairman of the commission, intimates as much, and says, as far as he is concerned, a report to that effect will eventually be made by the commission.
While apparently dormant, Mr. Wheeler says himself and the committee have been diligently pursuing an investigation of the situation and hope to be able shortly to make a comprehensive report, together with recommendations to the council. He says that he is questioning in favor of municipal ownership of St. Paul's lighting plants, and thinks the other members are so inclined.
To absorb the present lighting plants in St. Paul, Mr. Wheeler thinks it would be no bigger task than the taking in of the present water department, of the present water department. That feature of municipal ownership has almost been decided upon, and the cost of a lighting plant for the city would soon be met through the profits that would accrue.
Toronto parties have been contemplating entering the contest for a gas franchise, but it is hardly likely that anything will come of it. A meeting of the commission is being arranged for next week.

ROME, June 27.—The pope, acting on a proposition by the congregation of studies, presided over by Cardinal Satolli, has conferred the degree of doctor of divinity on Rev. Father James L. Meagher, president of the Christian Press Association Publishing company, of New York.

FARMER EDITORS RETURN FROM TRIP

Were Guests of Government in Visiting Canadian Northwest.

St. Paul entertained a distinguished lot of visitors yesterday, when eighteen editors, molders of public opinion for eighteen of the leading agricultural papers of the United States, disbanded, after being for two weeks the guests of the Canadian government and the Canadian Pacific railway.
The party is the same that left St. Paul, June 15, on a special train to the border, where they were taken in charge by Canadian officials and shown the agricultural resources of King Edward's domain in North America. At the border the editors, who were in direct charge of A. B. Brightman, of St. Paul, had a special train assigned to their use and in this way the Saskatchewan valley and other leading agricultural sections of Western Canada were visited and their resources made a subject of inquiry. Where the train would not avail, carriages were provided and in this way the remotest sections of the country were seen.
In recognition of their visit to St. Paul and the great Northwest the editors were tendered a banquet at the Minnesota club last night, Jared How acting as host for the occasion. The members all spoke in high praise of Minnesota's resources and liberally toasted the capital city for its hospitality and kind treatment while they were guests within its gates.
The happy day of the gathering was the presentation to A. B. Bright-

POOR LITTLE ONES WILL HAVE FOURTH

Public Is Asked to Subscribe Means to Entertain Them at Harriet Island.

St. Paul's business men, through the agency of the Commercial club, will entertain the city's poor children on the Fourth of July. Plans have already been formulated to care for between 3,000 and 3,500 youngsters.
The committee in charge of the work will at once begin soliciting funds to meet the expenses incidental to the giving of a variety of programs of sports for the little guests. There will be running races and swimming contests, and athletic exhibitions of the feats of strength and skill. Every thing on the Fourth will be for the children, and Dr. Ohage has promised to see that the youngsters are given the run of the island on that day.
But the day's outing will be more than for amusement. The children will gather at Rice park, where an hour will be devoted to a patriotic programme of songs and speeches. They will march to the island, headed by a band and the living flag. Former Attorney General Childs will deliver an oration, and Dr. Ohage will give a short address on the history of American independence and the struggle that preceded the granting to America of her freedom and liberty.
The children will join in the patriotic programme, and one evening during the present week, to be announced later, will be held at the Grand opera house, to teach the children patriotic songs. The management of the opera house has kindly allowed the committee of the Commercial club to use the auditorium.
The money to pay the expenses of the entertainment will be raised by subscription. Checks may be forwarded to any member of the Commercial club, or to the daily papers.
The committee in charge of the entertainment is composed of the following members: E. H. Scriber, chairman; C. P. Stine, secretary; M. E. Nichols, publicity; R. H. Seng, programme; Rufus Hoyt, provisions; J. J. Metzford, finance; Dr. Ohage, of the Commercial club; F. Parwell, W. H. Galbraith, T. S. White, Prof. Kenney, F. G. Bradbury, J. Paul, J. C. THE NATIONAL GUARD

One of the most successful national guard encampments ever held in Minnesota was the Third regiment and battalion of artillery which camped at Lake City last Monday after an eight days' tour. An excellent record was made by the organizations. The First battalion of the Twenty-first United States Infantry of Fort Snelling is now occupying the grounds and will continue to do so until July 5, when the First regiment, Col. C. McC. Reeve, commanding, will go to camp. Much credit is due to Lieut. R. D. O'Brien for the great improvement made in range work by the Third regiment. He was a hard worker, and was to be found on duty at all times when the men were firing. Last year the regiment qualified 13 sharpshooters and 47 marksmen; this year 15 sharpshooters and 67 marksmen, with a smaller percentage of men in camp this year. Every man who went to result, some of the men who had given the range little attention made good scores and have become enthusiasts.
The company which rifle teams of the Northern freight yards while unloading logs, is in a critical condition at the city hospital, as a result of the injuries he received.
The company is a puzzle to the physicians. Unable to stir a limb, and with a possible fracture of the bones of the neck, he continues to live. He is suffering from a fever, and his recovery is regarded as doubtful.

STILLWATER PRISON MENACED BY FLAME

But Danger Is Only Transient, Burning Electric Wire the Cause.
The cell room at the prison was filled with smoke and flames late Friday night as the result of the burning out of some of the electric wires and for a time prospects of a conflagration were good; but the building is largely composed of stone and iron and in a few moments the flames were out and no damage had been done, except to the electric wires. The trouble was caused by the burning out of a fuse and a consequent short circuit.
