

IOWA REPUBLICANS HAVE PUT A GRIMP IN THE "IOWA IDEA"

STEWART SAYS CLOUDBURST IS COMING IN THINGS FINANCIAL

No Matter Whether Cannon's Idea or Aldrich's Plan Is Adopted, the Nevada Senator Sees Portents of Danger—Stringency in Money Is Squeezing the Stock Market and Water From Overissued Stock Will Precipitate a Deluge, He Declares.

Special to The Globe.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—A financial cloudburst is imminent, according to Senator Stewart, of Nevada, who says:

"If the 'no financial legislation idea' of Representative Cannon prevails this cloudburst will come soon, whereas, if the 'Aldrich idea' should be carried out and relief granted to tide over present stringencies, the cloudburst will be postponed for a time, but will gather more force and be more disastrous to financial life when it does come."

Speaking for The Globe, on the recent disclosure of the deadlock in congress over financial legislation, Senator Stewart said tonight:

"Between 1896 and 1900 $12,000,000 of new gold money revolutionized the financial systems of the world. Money being plentiful, the American people undertook to supply sufficient property to keep pace with it. They organized the trusts and put the stock on the market. The result is thousands of millions of what Mr. Morgan calls 'undigested bond issues.' There has come a terrible stringency in money which is squeezing the stock market and the water from overissued stock threatens a financial cloudburst in Wall street.

"The question is, can this condition be checked without building a Johnstown dam, which, when it breaks, will destroy all the financial institutions of the country? Aldrich's remedy is more circulation. This remedy would be complete if it did not encourage more water in stocks which would bring a universal collapse. Cannon's remedy is stop now and let the dam burst, then re-establish business on a lower and firmer basis. If this is the only help and the cancer must be cut out, then Cannon is right."

ENGLISH LABOR IN PARTY AGITATION

Hostility to Chamberlain's Protectionism May Change Political Balance.

Special Cable to The Globe.

LONDON, July 1.—Labor's intense uneasiness with regard to Chamberlain's protectionist proposals is illustrated by the decision of the legislative committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants to ask the members of that organization to pay a levy of 6 cents a quarter for parliamentary purposes. If the request should be granted the society would realize a large annual campaign fund, which would be devoted to the election of men pledged to cheap food and liberal social legislation.

In the event of the success of the railway men's movement an attempt will be made to induce other great labor organizations to follow suit in order that the working classes may contest every constituency in the country containing a strong labor vote. It is estimated that the assessment proposed by the railway men, if applied by the whole body of trades unionists, would give the workers a fund equal to the funds of the regular parties and greatly increase the labor vote in the house of commons.

Leaders of the Amalgamated society declare that Chamberlain, intoxicated with the new wine of fiscal imperialism, is hustling the nation against the will of its wisest men in the din of perils he himself does not pretend to be able to accurately gauge.

FLAMES ENCOMPASS ENTOMBED MINERS

Second Catastrophe Is Imminent at Hanna, Where Two Hundred Men Have Already Been Killed.

HANNA, Wyo., July 1.—Information was received tonight from an experienced miner, who penetrated the Union Pacific mine to the sixteenth level, that the workings below the seventeenth level are a mass of flames, and where a few hours ago it was believed the rescuers would reach the bodies of the entombed not later than tomorrow noon, the efforts of those working below the surface are now confined to the work of walling up the entries and the slope and putting up fire-proof barriers which will prevent the flames from reaching the seventeenth and other levels above. This is taken as an indication that the rescuers realize the fruitlessness of attempting to rescue the entombed miners below the seventeenth level.

Added to the horrors of the fire which will doubtless destroy the underground workings is the danger of another explosion which may occur at any time. The situation is decidedly grave and the citizens are becoming alarmed for the safety of those who are working below the surface and also those hauling away the debris from the mouth of the slope. If the entries in which the fire is burning can be successfully walled and the fire confined to a few entries there will be little to fear, but there is great danger of the flames breaking through into the entries from which the rescuers are moving rock and consuming two scores of more bodies known to be in No. 17 level. Heretofore debris has accumulated in such large quantities that the rescuers cannot remain long at a time and the gas if once ignited will cause the second catastrophe.

Fire fighters and volunteers are arriving on every train. The force is well organized and the work is progressing as fast as possible. The watch carried by Deacon Jones, one of the dead men brought out tonight, was stopped at 10:27 and this is probably the exact time the accident occurred. Schill, whose body was recovered today, was granted a leave of absence and went into the mine yesterday to get his tools. He was on his way out and had reached the ninth level when the explosion occurred. He was probably killed outright by a heavy timber that was found lying across his body. An improvised hospital has been located near the mouth of the slope and the morgue is close at hand, but there will probably be no use for the former, unless it is to care for those who may be injured in removing the debris. Of the 200 miners believed to have been killed by the explosion, 175 were men and the rest boys from thirteen to twenty years of age. One hundred and sixty-five were married and many leave large families.

The nationalities of the dead were represented as follows: Finns 102 Colored 12 Americans 15 Irish 6 Swedes 6 Prussians 1 Two bodies were taken out tonight. Arrangements have been perfected to care for the bodies as fast as they are removed from the mine.

LINEMAN PLUNGED HEAD FOREMOST

By Somersault in Mid Air He Escapes With Only a Badly Fractured Leg.

Archibald Morrison, a lineman of the fire alarm system, fell from a telegraph pole last evening on St. Anthony avenue, near Rice, and narrowly escaped instant death by striking upon his left foot instead of upon his head, as spectators of the accident, who saw him turn a somersault in the air, expected.

Morrison, with several other linemen, was at work upon a lead of poles about 6:30 o'clock, and in reaching for a wire lost his balance. Losing his footing he was hurled into the air head foremost. In falling he turned around completely and struck upon the ground with his left foot.

As a result of the fall he received a compound fracture of the left leg, the broken bones protruding through the flesh and skin. He also received a severe shock to the spine, which, it is feared, may complicate his condition.

When Morrison fell Dr. J. Cummings happened to be passing along Rice street with his instrument case. Dr. Cummings at once went to the assistance of the injured man and attended him before an ambulance arrived. A hospital ambulance was summoned, but as it failed to arrive the police ambulance was summoned and Morrison was taken in at St. Joseph's hospital.

An operation was necessary before the bones could be set. Dr. Whitcomb took charge of the man at the hospital. Archibald Morrison is twenty-eight years old and single. He boarded at Exchange and Wabasha streets. He has been connected with the fire alarm system for two years, previous to which he was lineman of the Northwestern Telephone company for six years.

HERMAN REFUSED TO BE BOUGHT OFF

And Now He Gets Valuable Contract to Furnish Money Order Blanks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—Postmaster General Payne today awarded the contract for printing the money order blanks of the government to Paul Herman, of Rutherford, N. J. Mr. Herman was the lowest of fourteen bidders, and the award of the contract involves the payment of between $300,000 and $350,000 the next fiscal year, will effect a saving of nearly $45,000 in four years.

Herman's bid was opposed by the present contractors, the Wynkoop-Hallenbeck-Crawford company, of New York, and by the United Typothetae of America, Supt. Metcalf, of the money order bureau, was dismissed some days ago on the charge of indiscretion in seeking the withdrawal of Herman as a bidder in favor of the present contractor. At a final hearing before the postmaster general today Herman furnished an affidavit that he had been employed by the present contractors for nearly two years and had no idea of competing with them.

When he left their employ, which, he said, was before specifications were taken up, he made search for work and says that he concluded he had been practically blacklisted in the trades. Thereupon he decided to start out for himself on a financial backing of an intimate friend. He submitted other evidence to show that he was not a straw bidder, as alleged, and swore that he had not directly or indirectly assigned any interest whatever in the contract.

He testified that the firm which objected to his securing the contract offered, after the bids had been opened, to employ him at an increased salary provided he would withdraw his bid.

PRINCETON MEN FIND A STONE-AGE CITY

Montana Earth Likewise Yields Relics of Giants of Long Ago.

Special to The Globe.

BIG TIMBER, Mont., July 1.—Wonderful finds of fossils and bones of prehistoric animals are being made in the Fish Creek country by Prof. Marcus S. Farr and a party of students from Princeton college. The party is composed, in addition to Prof. Farr, of C. D. Thompson, Laurence Thompson, S. A. Halsey, Gordon Forbes, Walter Kimball, Charles H. Dugro and L. S. Adsit. The start was made from this place one-week ago, and on reaching the Fish Creek district a camp was made. Since then the men have been hard at work, and now word comes that they have made surprising finds.

To the north of Fish Creek the remains of a stone-age city have been found, in which were the bones of animals of great size, along with stone implements of all kinds, many of which were ornamented with gems. In a mound near the creek were found human bones of large size. The almost complete skeleton of a man was found in this mound. The bones showed that the man, when alive, measured nearly nine feet in height and was of powerful build.

Near by was the skeleton of a woman, only a trifle smaller in size, and at the foot was the skeleton of an animal that resembled the dog of today, except that the animal must have been as large as a small horse. Hundreds of bones of prehistoric animals and fish have been found.

Special to The Globe. HELENA, Mont., July 1.—In the case on appeal of Adolph Wetzstein against the Boston & Montana company, the supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the district court of Silver Bow county, which was in favor of the defendant.

BOTH REPUBLICAN FACTIONS IN IOWA CLAIM A VICTORY

Convention Adopts a Protectionist Platform That the "Iowa Idea" Men Swallow With Some Grimaces—Gov. Cummins Says He Will Continue Advocating His Tariff Convictions—Factional Leaders Wait Till Adjournment Before Making Parade of Unhappiness.

REPUBLICANS MUST BE PROTECTIONISTS.

"It (protection) is the fundamental economic doctrine of the Republican party, and every Republican must believe in it, stand for it and advocate it, else he is not a Republican."—Gov. Cummins, of Iowa, in his speech of acceptance.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 1.—Governor—A. B. Cummins, of Des Moines. Lieutenant Governor—John Herriott, of Stuart. Supreme Judge—Charles A. Bishop, of Des Moines. Railroad Commissioner—David J. Palmer, of Washington. State Superintendent of Education—F. J. Riggs, of Sigourney. The Republican state convention today nominated the foregoing ticket and adopted a platform of principles. All the candidates were renominated by acclamation, with the exception of the state superintendent. Harmony marked the proceedings of the convention, all of its actions being by unanimous vote. But after the ticket had been completed and the platform adopted, speeches were made which indicated that the Republican leaders of the state were not entirely agreed as to the details of tariff. The tariff plank adopted was one prepared by Senator Allison, after conferences with representative Republicans of Iowa. No objection was made to it in the committee on resolutions, or on its presentation to the convention. "Stands Pat" With Himself. Gov. Cummins, in his speech accepted the platform. MONTANA FINANCIER IS OUTFINANCED

"You Are Too Easy," Write "Con" Men to Senator Phillips.

Special to The Globe.

HAVRE, Mont., July 1.—With a brace of guns strapped to his waist former Senator D. B. Phillips, of Chouteau county, is seeking two men he charges with having swindled him out of $3,500. Senator Phillips is the author of several important financial measures under which Montana now operates, yet he was caught by one of the oldest confidence games in the world. He was induced to bet on a race with comparative strangers. His $3,500 he placed in a valise, along with $3,000 belonging to one of the strangers, and he was then given charge of the valise while the race was being run. After the race the strangers failed to appear, and as the senator's choice had won he believed he was entitled to the money. On opening the valise he found no money, but a nice roll of white paper, on the top sheet of which was written: "You are too easy." Then it was that the senator buckled on his weapons and went forth seeking gore.

RUSSO-AMERICAN FRICTION INCREASES

State Department Says Jewish Petition Goes and Rebukes Russia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—At the state department tonight it was stated by a high official in the absence of Secretary Hay that the delay in forwarding the petition of the American citizens of the Jewish faith as to the ill treatment of their coreligionists in Russia was solely due to a delay in furnishing the address to the state department by the petitioners. The state department would, of course, pay no heed to any statement purporting to emanate from the Russian government, unless such statement was made officially to our own government. The state department has been careful to act only in accordance with all requirements of official propriety, but within the limits thus laid down, it will most certainly not hesitate to give expression to the deep sympathy felt, not only by the administration, but by all the American people, for the unfortunate Jews who have been the vic-
