THE DEFEAT OF THE IOWA IDEA.

Gov. Cummins has been renominated for the governorship of Iowa, but he has been compelled to accept a platform which overthrows the ideas he has stood for regarding the revision of the protective tariff.

"Protection is the fundamental economic doctrine of the Republican party," says Gov. Cummins, in his speech of acceptance.

But there is nothing in the platform upon which Gov. Cummins stands to indicate that the Republican party has any idea of changing the application of the tariff schedules.

The Iowa platform accurately forecasts the action of the Republican party in the nation.

It will be interesting to watch President Roosevelt in his campaign for the nomination.

It is argued that if the city can afford to pay $250,000 for a jail, the city can afford to give up $50,000 for a detention hospital.

FACT AND FICTION.

A publisher complained the other day in a magazine that there was a dearth of short stories; that the field of fiction seemed to be overworked and that what was offered nowadays was stale and unpalatable.

Yesterday there was printed in the columns of this paper the story of a poverty-stricken and bed-ridden old man, who, after separation of twenty-five years, had been discovered by his daughters who were able and professed themselves willing to care for him for the remainder of his life.

The great book, "Pere Goriot," was doubtless fashioned out of less material. But this is only an instance.

The other day a train from the East brought into St. Paul and left at the union station an emigrant girl who had come all the way from Ireland to marry the man she loved.

realized that by putting the Bible in reach of everybody he was enriching himself, he did not overlook the fact that he was doing the heathen a good turn.

The department of commerce is an accomplished fact and official routine in Washington will be resumed just as soon as it is determined whether the secretary of commerce walks before or behind the White house janitor at state functions.

CITY MONEY AND COUNTY BILLS.

If the Ramsey county fathers carry out what appears to be their ideas of adjusting the accounts of the city and county, by charging all accounts as they should be, Ramsey county will be bankrupt in no time.

As a matter of fact, St. Paul is pretty good to Ramsey county. The city practically pays all the bills of the county, which is in the main the proper thing to do, considering the benefits the city derives from the partnership.

But there is a disposition on the part of some of the county officials—and particularly the members of the board of county commissioners—to shift all the burdens of government on to the city.

The other day a man was practically turned loose on the streets because of a contention as to whether the city or county should be chargeable with maintaining him during a period of imprisonment.

The county asks pay for boarding city prisoners in the county jail, but the county pays no part of the cost of maintaining the municipal court, which is used alike for the trial of city and county prisoners.

The city has not complained about paying the bills, but there must be a limit placed upon the expenditure incurred by the county authority and paid for by the city.

It is absurd to go on doing business with a double set of officers when the one set would do the work much better and at a very largely reduced expenditure.

One Smith is receiver of the ship yards trust, and if the Smith family trade can be held by the receiver the ship trust ought to become solvent in no time.

THE CARNIVAL QUEEN.

The names of the nine young women who aspire to be Queen of the Carnival have been announced. They have from now until July 25 to work in their own behalf and to enlist the services of their friends.

Who are these nine young women? They are, in order of their names, as they appear in the program: Miss Mary, Miss Jane, Miss Elizabeth, Miss Sarah, Miss Ann, Miss Margaret, Miss Helen, Miss Mary, and Miss Jane.

Of course, it is possible to hold carnivals without queens, but they've usually proven to be tame affairs; something like the great play, "Hamlet" would be if, by mistake, the melancholy Dane were left out.

Indeed, the carnival is not a modern invention. It has a very interesting history of its own, one that can be traced back to the time before the middle ages.

With fine weather and a queen, there's no reason why St. Paul's midsummer carnival should not be a success. That little nonsense which is relished by the wisest of men, it will provide. It will give even the most dignified an opportunity to unbend a little and that's what the dignified need.

The Iowa idea is about to be given absent treatment by the Iowans.

EDITORIAL EXPRESSIONS.

Be Considerate on the Fourth.

Well people can endure the nerve-distracting noise of the Fourth of July, although some of these, by nightfall, are ready to be put in the invalid class; but considerate citizens in every neighborhood will think of the sick and will seek to protect them.

In such instances the cannon cracker and the firearm and other sources of racket ought to be prevented. A humane impulse will dictate such a course, but boys do not always know that there are cases of sickness in the vicinity.

It would be a kindness to them, and to the afflicted, to inform them of the conditions and urge the selection of other localities for their patriotic demonstrations.

No Union Scale for Monarchs.

The highest wage in the world—$78.30 a minute for a six-hour day—is received by the czar of Russia. The next highest—$33.62—is less than half as much and is collected by the emperor of Austria-Hungary.

But the kaiser, who recently "struck," gets but half that amount; and his uncle of Great Britain gets $2.42 a less, or $15.38 a minute for his laborers.

That republics are at least comparatively ungrateful is shown by the wage of the president of France, which is $1 a minute, but that seems ample compared with 40 cents paid President Roosevelt.

Pity the Poor Telephone Girl.

The Anthon Herald has a warm place in its heart for the telephone girl, as we all have, and says: "Be kind and courteous to her. She does her best to accommodate you promptly; she is always patient and pleasant, and if she fails to get the person you wish she is not to be blamed any more than the postmaster who fails to give you a letter every time you go to the postoffice.

Her hours are long and tedious, and in the course of a day she has many perplexing, annoying incidents with which to contend."

The river will fall during the next thirty-six hours in the vicinity of St. Paul.

At St. Paul Theaters

The production of "Sapho" by the Ferris company is gaining in smoothness as the days go by, and the attention of the Metropolitan has shown a material increase with each succeeding performance of the play.

At the Hotels

The Windsor hotel register said merely, "Mrs. Montague, London, England," but investigation proved the person who wrote the name to be the well-known actress, one of the most prominent psychological speakers in the world.

Yes, I am French by birth, but American by breeding, inclination and habits. I was eighteen years of age when I came to America from Paris and settled in San Francisco.

The Windsor last night were: J. T. Hughes, Duluth, Minn.; N. Whitford, Federal, Minn.; M. Morris, Minn.; T. R. Hayes, Detroit; W. J. Egbert, Wadena; E. L. Oberg, Black Duck, Minn.

Metropolitan: Mrs. Anna Hunt, Mrs. Agnes Tallmadge, Mrs. Lizzie Mathers, Austin, Minn.; S. P. Critchell, Adrian, Minn.; E. E. Kent, Barron, Wis.; W. A. Carnahan, Eau Claire, Wis.; C. Johnson and wife, Shell Lake, Wis.

Grist of the Political Mill

Congressman James A. Tawney, in the guise of a candidate for the United States senate against Senator Moses E. Clapp and several other gentlemen, is the latest bugbear created by the practical politicians.

Mr. Tawney's candidacy is, perhaps, only theory, but the theory is advanced by men whose judgment demands attention and respect.

The peculiar phase of the theories advanced by these gentlemen is that they agree perfectly on one point—that there is a community of interest between Tawney and Eddy.

Eddy is a candidate for governor and Tawney may be a candidate for the United States senate.

Page Morris is again a federal official. He began drawing salary and performing the duties of judge of the St. Louis district court in St. Paul yesterday morning.

SAVARD FACTO SECRETARY OF BOARD

Illness of Secretary McNamee Leaves Inspector in His Office.

Octave Savard, member of the board of school inspectors, is for the present officiating in the capacity of secretary of the body, as deputy for Edward McNamee, who was recently elected to the office, but by reason of ill health is at present unable to take up the work.

As the matter now stands Mr. Savard has been deputized by Mr. McNamee to fill the position of secretary for a period of the secretary's absence, and in addition there were a number of distinguished persons present, including Secretary Moody, of the navy department.

The Rev. Franklin Noble, an old friend and former pastor of Secretary Cortelyou, began the exercises by reading a few passages from Scripture and delivering an invocation.

Secretary Cortelyou, in an address, called attention to the fact that on Feb. 15 the entire personnel of his department consisted of a single official—himself.

Today, by the transfers made, the department's personnel consisted of 1,289 persons in Washington and 8,838 in the country at large, with total appropriations for the coming fiscal year of $9,796,847.

Having been a member of the board for some time, Mr. Savard is qualified to perform the duties of secretary.

POLICE GET TRUANT FROM RED WING

One of Two Who Escaped From Training School Sunday Night.

Frank Iglebaugh, whose home is in St. Paul at 733 Sherburne avenue, and Paul Richardson, who lives in Washington, made a daring escape from the State Training school at Red Wing last Sunday night.

The two boys succeeded in breaking away from the institution and their absence was not noted till Monday morning.

Tuesday evening Richardson, who is nineteen years old, had made his way as far as Merriam Park and was contemplating further flight when he was captured through his own indiscretion.

NEW GOVERNMENT BRANCH IS LAUNCHED

Department of Commerce and Labor Starts With Formal Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—The transfer of the various bureaus which are to be assembled under the new department of commerce and labor took place today.

The transfer was attended by a pleasant ceremony in the office of Secretary Cortelyou.
