

THE ST. PAUL GLOBE

THE GLOBE CO., PUBLISHERS. CITY OF ST. PAUL. TELEPHONE CALLS. COUNTRY SUBSCRIPTIONS. BRANCH OFFICES.

that every mosquito exterminator brought forward so far, necessitates the catching of the mosquito first.

With the Christian Endeavorers at Denver and the Epworth Leaguers in Detroit righteousness is pretty evenly distributed just now in this country.

EDUCATED DAY LABORERS.

Those twelve Harvard men who formed the vanguard of a small army of college men whose object has been an assault upon the wheat fields of the West excited in the columns of the press mirth rather than respectful consideration.

It is the college man who will gain the most by this experiment. To be sure the average college man, unless he is a hopeless ditz, is not in any great need of the physical exercise that his summer work will provide.

A Western ranchman interviewed by a New York paper thus comments on the exodus of Eastern college men to the West: "This movement of college boys to the West to aid the farmers in gathering their grain, I believe, is going to mark an era in the history of the country."

A large percentage of the men attending Harvard, Yale and Princeton are Eastern men and when for these college days are over the majority of them settle in the East.

It is said that Secretary Cortelyou has discovered a scandal in his department. This will make him feel quite at home in the cabinet.

THE PROFITS OF PROPHECY.

A law suit has forced from John Alexander Dowie, of Zion City fame, the acknowledgment that in his work of snatching brands from the burning he has amassed something like several millions or so of dollars.

Among the black tribes in darkest Africa, the man who can make the other tribesmen believe that he is endowed with supernatural qualifications finds no difficulty in ruling them.

Compared with these modern prophets, the prophets of earlier times had a distinctly hard time of it. They denied themselves and suffered untold hardships to carry their message of comfort to the people.

"A woman's valuation depends on women," says a woman writer. The fact that a number of women are rated above thirty cents proves this statement false, however.

DR. STYLES' EXTERMINATOR

"Sing a song of sixpence, pockets full of hair worms," is apt to become the favorite song of the summer boarder for the remainder of the season.

It will be argued, perhaps, that it is a much simpler process to kill the mosquito off hand, as it were. But this process is not a scientific one. It is a regrettable fact

At St. Paul Theaters

Charles C. Burnham, Emily Batlo, Lillian Allen and Frederick Montague are acquitting themselves creditably in the Ferris company's production of "All the Comforts of Home" this week at the Metropolitan.

What the Editors Say

The discussion as to the schools of Minnesota started by Congressman Tawney waxes hotter and possibly some good will be melted out of it.

The New York Press says that Ellis Island is the actual "open door" that is open to the south of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Pope Leo's long and brilliant life has been a remarkable one, but nothing in it has been so remarkable as the brave fight which he is waging against death.

Before the next campaign really opens there will be a number of state papers so badly tangled up on the governorship question that their editors will need a good deal of the best antidote for foolishness.

That's a mean trick to work on Carrie Nation. Beer is now being made in table form and can be carried around with the ease of a little discrimination.

It seems not long ago when I was young and life was at its grandest and its sweetest.

When, lingering underneath the maple's shade, I saw a young Nature pass in grand review.

And men's turns with outstretched arms as recollections into view are thronging.

The meadow with its fragrance-laden breeze—The pool, set in a gorgeous crown of lilies.

The grapevine, swinging from two stately trees—The brilliant love-calls of the singing thrushes.

The billing and the cooling of the doves—That old, old story of their loves.

The wheat that bowed submission to the wind—That rose and fell, in laughter or in weeping.

The shouting of the farm hands, and the kind promise of the sowing, to the reaping.

The lolling of the cattle in the twilight—The clatter of the raindrops on the sky-light.

Time flies apace, but memory's swift—To sing the soul the sweet, sad song of sorrow.

That roses shine of the Yester-day—To drown the surging torrent of To-morrow.

And Nature's mood we play among—Life's purest flowers, that died when we were young.

—Henry Edwards Warner in Baltimore News

She's gone away. Where sweet winds blow And where clear mountain streamlets flow.

She's gone away. Where the middle aged woman has come and she's giddy young thing with her hair pulled down over her left eye.

It may be very cheering for some spinsters to learn that the day of the middle aged woman has come and she's giddy young thing with her hair pulled down over her left eye.

It is said that Pietro Mascagni has stopped writing grand opera for a time and is engaged upon a comedy in three acts.

It would look as though Miss Emily Brown, once of Wisconsin, had seen all the American girls in high position in Europe.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

Men, Women and Things

The very top notch of expertness in crime has been reached by a man lately arrested in St. Louis and who has been going under the name of an English lord.

A more important result than filling the hospitals with wounded pedestrians and giving the surgeons a job, is the fact that the use of automobiles, and that is the curing of the drink habit.

The surgeon of King Edward who performed a serious and successful operation upon his royal patient, has decided to give up practice and enter politics.

Now that the Newport season is by way of beginning and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and Mr. Harry Lehr have each opened their houses, the world waits with impatience to know what can be done by the two of them.

It is said that Lieut. Gov. W. A. Northcott, of Illinois, authorized his friends to announce him as a candidate for Republican nomination to the vice presidency.

"A census of the proposed candidates for governor would reveal about all the available in the state. If there is anyone who has not as yet received 'honorable mention,' will he please stand up and be counted."

It may be very cheering for some spinsters to learn that the day of the middle aged woman has come and she's giddy young thing with her hair pulled down over her left eye.

It is said that Pietro Mascagni has stopped writing grand opera for a time and is engaged upon a comedy in three acts.

It would look as though Miss Emily Brown, once of Wisconsin, had seen all the American girls in high position in Europe.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

Grist of the Political Mill

Republican politicians generally are taking as much interest in the promised fight for state treasurer's nomination as is the windy gubernatorial war waged for five or six months.

The rumor that Ed Young had decided not to try for nomination for attorney general gave Schmahl's stock a slight boom, but to date Young is as much a candidate as he has at any time been and until the Seventh district situation clears up a bit, none of his candidates, save Justice Brown of the supreme court, will look very strong to the average politician.

Block is by no means asleep though he seems still to be working the original plan—considering himself the original and only logical candidate by virtue of a third term precedent.

Because of the Seventh district complications Schmahl's strength will come to the surface slowly. In the meantime Schmahl is forging to the front in a rasher calculated to make him dangerous.

The Grand Rapids Magnet, under the department head of Magnetographs, proposes to present to its readers the photographic presentiments of the Republicans who may be nominated for governor next year.

It is said that Lieut. Gov. W. A. Northcott, of Illinois, authorized his friends to announce him as a candidate for Republican nomination to the vice presidency.

"A census of the proposed candidates for governor would reveal about all the available in the state. If there is anyone who has not as yet received 'honorable mention,' will he please stand up and be counted."

It may be very cheering for some spinsters to learn that the day of the middle aged woman has come and she's giddy young thing with her hair pulled down over her left eye.

It is said that Pietro Mascagni has stopped writing grand opera for a time and is engaged upon a comedy in three acts.

It would look as though Miss Emily Brown, once of Wisconsin, had seen all the American girls in high position in Europe.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

It is now known that the Wisconsin girl was the daughter of a missionary who went over there and, probably with the intention of converting the emperor, she went and lived right in his palace.

KEARSARGE IS TO HAVE SPEED TRIAL

Official Visit of the American Squadron to England Comes to an End.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., July 14.—With the reception given on board Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship departed this afternoon the official visit of the American squadron to England terminated.

Admiral Cotton will transfer his flag to the Chicago and proceed with the San Francisco and Machias to Lisbon, while the Kearsarge will begin her speed trial across the Atlantic.

"Our reception in England has been most cordial and enthusiastic," said Rear Admiral Cotton. "Nothing could exceed the courtesy extended to us on all sides, from the king and Prince of Wales, the officials of the government and officers of the army and navy to the people of London and Portsmouth."

Admiral Cotton and the other American officers gave Capt. Hemphill all the honor for the part played by the Kearsarge, whose presence contributed in so remarkable a degree to the success of the visit.

"We have been killed with kindness," said Capt. Hemphill. "Our reception could not have been better in any ship."

In order to provide a satisfactory buoy for the Kearsarge the royal yacht moved this afternoon to another position, her place being occupied by Admiral Cotton's flagship, another honor, which was commented on by the English visitors, was the action of Admiral Rothman in permitting the use of the royal gangway to the other ship at the reception, which was attended by 2,000 persons.

Capt. Hemphill received instructions today to clean the Kearsarge's propeller, fill its bunkers, and make a run and go at the highest speed, with natural draft, to Frenchman's Bay, Maine. This is the first occasion in the time of peace that an American battleship has been subject to so severe a test.

Capt. Hemphill will follow the general circle route, leaving Portsmouth at 10 o'clock Friday morning. It is expected he will beat the record of battleships across the Atlantic. The Kearsarge left the jetty today and anchored in midstream, preparatory to coaling tomorrow.

By the route that Capt. Hemphill has selected for the speed trial the Kearsarge must steam 2,852 miles. On her way to Southampton she will cover 3,245 miles. She is thus expected to make less time on her impending voyage. Capt. Hemphill commanded the Buffalo, in which he established the record of thirty-nine days on the run from New York to Manila, and the officers of the Kearsarge are satisfied that with the excellent coal supplied and the vessel's machinery in the best of order the record for a battleship will be broken.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SAVES A NEGRO ASSAILANT

New York State Farmers Were Bent Upon Lynching Little.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—The quick wit of a deputy sheriff at Cocksick this afternoon saved the lynching of James Little, a 19-year-old negro, falling from Summerhurst, N. J., who early this morning, near New Baltimore, assaulted Emma Cole, aged 11 years, daughter of Joseph Cole, a farmer living one mile back of New Baltimore. The negro escaped after threatening the child with death. Two other children had given the alarm and Mr. Cole and neighbors met the child coming home, and at once organized a party to scour the woods.

A description of the negro was sent to nearby towns and an hour later he was captured on the railroad track near Cocksick by Roy Cutler. He confessed the assault and was locked up. Meanwhile news of the capture reached New Baltimore and one hundred and fifty enraged farmers started for Cocksick, armed with clubs, whips and other makeshift striking molders and river mud, all vowing their intention to lynch the negro.

Deputy Sheriff Sumner Van Loon, realizing that the coming of darkness would mean the breaking of the timely local lock-up and the violent death of his prisoner, smuggled the negro out and took him down the river on the boat to Catskill, where there is a well built jail. The Cole child is seriously injured but may recover. Little says he has been living in Albany until yesterday, when he started to walk to his home in New Jersey. His confession fully corroborates the story told by the child.

RUSSIANS MAY BRING A CONFLICT ABOUT Japan Will Regard Continuation of Encroachment a Casus Belli.

PEKIN, July 14.—United States Minister Conger arrived at New Chwang today, where he started to walk to his investigation of the situation. Mr. Lessar, the Russian minister to China, returned here late today.

Dispatches from Japan on the situation are optimistic, but on account of the continuing reports of Russian activity on the Yalu river and also the statement made by the Korean legation here that China will not consent and the Koreans themselves are unable to open Aitani to trade because of Russian objections, the opinion here is gloomy. Unless the evacuation of Manchuria occurs soon the belief obtains here that the act of precipitating the Russians on the Yalu will precipitate a conflict, as it is understood that Japan will regard the continuation of Russian encroachment on the territory bordering the Yalu as a casus belli.

GEN. CLAY IS DEPRIVED OF ALL HIS WEAPONS Committee in Charge of His Affairs Would Rather Not Be Shot At.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 14.—The room occupied by Gen. Cassius M. Clay, at Whitehall, has been stripped of weapons by an order of the committee appointed by the Richmond court to take charge of his affairs. The revolver and bowie knife were taken from the room by the servants. They reported to him that they had been removed by the nurse, after which he could not let her render him the least service.

MURDERER OF HIS FIVE WIVES IS EXECUTED Samuel H. Dougal Adorns a Rope's End in England.

LONDON, July 14.—Samuel Herbert Dougal, the perpetrator of the Moat house murder, who was convicted at the Chelmsford assizes June 23 of killing Miss Camille Cecile Holland, Safon-Walden, Essex, and sentenced to death, was hanged at the Chelmsford jail today, after making a full confession of his crime.

The murder was committed over four years ago, and hope of solving the mystery had almost been given up when the body of the victim, Miss Holland, was found last April buried in the Moat house grounds.

Miss Holland was the owner of the Moat house. Four years ago Dougal, who was supposed to be her husband, but who had never been married to her, made his appearance there, and Miss Dougal, supposed to be his sister, took up her residence on the place. Miss Holland then disappeared suddenly, and Dougal sued the woman supposed to be his sister, but she really was his wife, for divorce. This aroused suspicion and led to an investigation. Dougal was suspected of having made away with at least five wives.

INSURANCE AGAINST STRIKES. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 14.—The Strike Insurance company, growing out of the discussion at the recent meeting of the Manufacturers' association, in New Orleans, is now a fact, having been put on a permanent footing by the establishment of an underwriting bureau here. W. C. Jones, of this city, is attorney and general manager.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Table with columns for location and weather conditions. Includes entries for Minnesota, Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, and various cities like Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Chicago.