X-RAY MAKES CURE IN CASE OF CANCER

Value of the New Discovery Is No Longer Problematical.

The cure of cancer by means of the X-ray is no longer problematical. It is a fact accomplished. A well known Minneapolis physician who has devoted years of study to the treatment of cancer, and has been especially active in his effort to discover a certain remedy for the dread disease, has just turned out a patient who has been under treatment since March last for a cancer behind the ear. The wound is healed completely and the disease to all appearances eradicated.

The name of the patient is A. S. Whitten. He is the proprietor of a dry goods store on Bloomington avenue and a man of advanced years. The cancerous growth first made its appearance about a year ago and it increased in size with such rapidity that Whitten, who has been in the medical matter a serious one at first, consulted physicians. After careful examinations by several well known practitioners in consultation, the disease was diagnosed as cancer. A bacteriological examination made subsequently confirmed the original decision.

As the growth refused to yield, but became only aggravated by orthodox methods of treatment, Mr. Whitten was advised by his family physician to submit to X-ray treatment as the only probable method of cure. The use of the X-ray was begun in March, and for a month or more there was no palpable improvement in the condition of the diseased tissue, but during the following month there was a marked change for the better, and it became evident that the cancer was being slowly dried up.

The doctor in charge of the case, recognizing its importance as an illustration of the power of X-ray treatment in diseases of this character, gave it his closest attention, and after persistent subjection of the patient to the rays was enabled to assure him of a cure.

Yesterday Whitten was released from further treatment and it is absolutely certain that the cancer has been eradicated by a method of the efficiency of which innumerable scientific articles pro and con have appeared in the medical journals. Moreover, it is not considered probable that there will be a recurrence of the trouble.

The physician who administered the X-ray, while refusing last night to have his name mentioned in connection with the case, has expressed his conviction that the X-ray could be depended on to cure cancer, and that his own practice had demonstrated this to his complete satisfaction.

It appears that in the early stages of cancer, before the growth has permeated any large area, the X-ray may be considered a method of the efficiency of which is intelligently governed and the treatment is persisted in despite apparent slowness of results.

The penetrating rays destroy cancer germs with unerring certainty if used with deliberation. The power of the ray applied is limited according to whether the growth is deep-seated or superficial, and there appears to be little doubt in the minds of the best medical practitioners that cures can be effected even where the disease has progressed so far as to afford no possible hope of recovery through a surgical operation.

There is no doubt that the cure effected in Mr. Whitten's case will cause widespread interest in and out of the medical profession, for the reason that surgical operations for cancer are in the nature of forcible hope treatment, while the hope that was originally created through belief in the efficacy of X-ray application had been much shaken because of opposition from well known authorities that the ray could not be depended on to operate beneficially in severe cases.

FEAR SHE SOUGHT RIVER.

Friends Ask Police to Trace Missing Mary Kosik.

The East side police were notified yesterday that Mary Kosik, forty-five years of age, has been missing from her home, at 205 Twelfth avenue north-east, since Thursday evening. When last seen the woman had on a black dress and a light straw hat. She is described as of medium size and dark complexion. At times she is slightly demented, and inasmuch as she is reported to have been seen in the neighborhood of the river, her family are greatly worried over her absence.

A BUYERS' HARVEST

The continuous crowds of pleased people who have attended the great auction sale has swamped us with business. The people are never wrong. They recognize that when they give up their money they give up what has cost life to get, and when they save money they save life. To catch up on deliveries, give the over-worked help a breathing spell and to place the balance of the stock from the warehouse in our salesroom,

He never fully regained consciousness, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that the hospital authorities were able to learn his name. Melton was a man about forty years of age.

AMES APPEAL GOES OVER.

Hearing on Motion for New Trial in Mayor's Case Will Be Delayed.

The hearing of the motion for a new trial made by attorneys for former Mayor A. A. Ames, who has been sentenced to six years in the penitentiary for accepting a bribe of $500 from women of the town in return for a promise of protection, will not be heard until next month. It was to have come up yesterday afternoon, but a continuance was asked. It is believed that the decision of the supreme court in the case of his brother, Col. Fred Ames, former chief of police, who is now serving a six and a half-year sentence in the penitentiary for the part he played in the game of municipal graft, has caused the former mayor's attorneys to consider a new line of argument. The prosecution is ready for a hearing at any time.

DIES IN HIS CARRIAGE.

Somers C. Robinson, a Prominent Manufacturer, is Suddenly Stricken.

Somers C. Robinson, an old and widely known Minneapolisian, member of the firm of Bardwell, Robinson & Co., sash and door manufacturers, died suddenly in a buggy on Park avenue yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Robinson was on his way home when seized with an attack of heart failure. He collapsed and was seen by a neighbor, who called a physician. Mr. Warnock stopped the buggy and secured medical assistance, but before aid could reach him Mr. Robinson was dead.

The deceased came to Minneapolis in 1858. He has been associated with the firm of Bardwell, Robinson & Co. since 1876. In 1852 he married Miss Mary Dare, who survives him. There are two children, Charles N. Robinson and Mrs. W. L. Wolford.

SODINI RETURNS TO CITY.

'Tis Said He Hankers to Get Into "Business" Again.

J. C. Sodini, one time proprietor of the Columbia theater in Minneapolis, who is under indictment under a charge of misdemeanor by the famous "municipal housecleaning" grand jury, has returned to Minneapolis.

Sodini is believed to be in town now at his brother's house, but if so he is keeping under cover. It is understood that he will be on hand when called upon to defend himself against the charges.

Deputy Sheriff Wants Reinforcements to Evict Phelps Island Squatters.

Phelps Island, near Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, is the scene of an insurrection. The inhabitants refuse to leave the land, which the court now says belongs to the Western Realty company.

Deputy sheriffs are on the scene, and there is a spirit of belligerency in the air. Owing to the fact that there are no direct communications with the island the situation at midnight was not known.

Sheriff Dreger considers it so serious that, together with two deputies, he will start for the front early this morning. The sheriff decided upon taking this step after receiving three communications, which came via Spring Park. These telegrams would indicate that the situation is a serious one, and that the deputies are preparing for a long campaign. These messages are as follows:

"Send me two of your men in the morning; important. And some money.—John P. Wall."

"Send a tent, two coats, two pillows, four blankets, two boxes of matches, socks, shirts, collars and some mosquito netting.—Arthur L. Jones."

"Send me a memorandum book and a little dog.—Ueland."

Sheriff Dreger immediately complied with these requests, and it is believed he will be able to hold out until reinforcements arrive.

The trouble is understood to have grown out of the recent litigation over the island. About 400 acres belonged to the Carrington Phelps, but he lost the property under a mortgage to the Western Realty company. The case was carried to the supreme court.

CHRISTIANITY AND DEMOCRACY ARE MOVING TOGETHER

Henry D. Lloyd Presents His Views on the Labor and Industrial Problem at the Epworth League Conference.

DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—Ten thousand Epworth leaguers gathered on the Campus Martius in front of the city hall this afternoon in the short opera song service that was the feature of the sixth international convention of the league and one of the most unique episodes in the history of the league's conventions. The service was short, merely the singing of the old "Coronation" hymn and "America," led by two cornetists. Between songs they gave three cheers for the United States, for King Edward and for the league.

Tonight's three meetings in Tent Ontario, Auditorium Epworth and the Detroit opera house were devoted to addresses on "The Church," and "Civic Righteousness," "The Church and the Industrial Masses" and "The Church and the Liquor Problem."

Henry D. Lloyd, of New York, was the first speaker on "The Church and the Industrial Masses" at the Auditorium meeting. He made a strong plea for municipal ownership for co-operation in business for direct vote of the people and for old-age pensions. He then said:

"The very heart of democracy is love of God and neighbor. The republic, equality, citizenship, doing as you would be done by in government, is the political side of Christianity. Democracy and Christianity are now moving forward to civilize and sanctify the largest of all, the fields of human association—the common toll. This is the religion of labor."

Bring Masses to the Church. D. D. Woodmansee, of Cincinnati, said on the same subject.

"Let us not bring the church down to the masses, but bring the masses up to the church. Let the ten commandments and the golden rule be the basis of all settlements, and then this momentous problem of strikes and strikers would cease to disturb the business world."

In Tent Ontario, where the subject was "Civic Righteousness," he three speakers devoted their time to a condemnation of the liquor traffic. They were Dr. E. A. Baker, of Columbus, Ohio; Bishop Salloway, of Tennessee, and Dr. Albert Carman, of Canada.

John G. Woolley, of Chicago, former prohibition candidate for the presidency, was the speaker of the evening at the opera house meeting, where "The Church and the Liquor Problem" was the subject. Rev. J. S. Oliver, of Listowel, Canada, also spoke on the same subject.

The morning watch meeting in the Central M. E. church was led by Dr. Joseph P. Berry, the general secretary of the league. The Methodist Episcopal church met in the Auditorium Epworth, with Bishop Joyce as chairman of the conference; the Methodist church, South, in the Central M. E. church, with Bishop Joyce presiding, and the Methodist church, of Canada, in the Detroit opera house, with Rev. A. C. Crews as chairman. This afternoon there were no general meetings and several of the state delegations held rallies.

WILL LESSEN STRIKES.

Convention of Longshoremen Finishes Up Its Work.

BAY CITY, July 18.—President D. J. Keefe, Chicago, and Secretary H. C. Barber, Detroit, of the International Longshoremen, Stevedores and Transport Workers' association, today were elected at the close of the twelfth annual convention of the association. Milwaukee was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The declaration of First Vice President Joyce, in favor of discrimination against all vessel owners who are not members of the Lake Carriers' association, is generally regarded as the beginning of a fight against the steel trust and Gilchrist fleets and general lines of vessels owned by railroads. The matter was referred to the executive council today.

The conservative element rallied today to President Keefe's anti-sympathetic strike ideas. Delegate Casey, of Buffalo, secured the passage of a resolution which provides for a majority assent of all delegates to a wage conference before a sympathetic strike can be declared. President Keefe and the locals directly interested shall, in every case, determine whether conditions call for a sympathetic strike, and no locals demanding exorbitant wages will be upheld, to the detriment of other unions.

The convention decided to have a conference of grain handlers in Detroit one week prior to the Lake Carriers' association meeting, next January.

INTO AN OPEN SWITCH.

Trainmen and a Boy Are Injured in South Dakota.

WATERTOWN, S. D., July 18.—Train No. 58, of the Great Northern, Conductor Rodenburg and Engineer Miller in charge, ran into an open switch here today and a wage conference before a sympathetic strike can be declared.

The rear end of a freight engine which was sidetracked. The cab of the freight engine was occupied by the engineer and fireman and two small boys named Crogan. Three of them jumped, but one of the boys was caught and received perhaps fatal injuries.

The engineer of the passenger attempted to jump, was thrown on the ground, his head striking the rails and received several bad gashes. The conductor of the same train got a hand cut and legs hurt, and the brakeman had an arm nearly severed below the elbow. The passengers, beyond getting badly shaken up, were not hurt. Both engines are a total wreck.

HAD AN OLD GRUDGE.

WALKER, Minn., July 18.—Ole Moen, of Gould, and Martin E. Enavold, of Cass Lake, got into a row in Gus Rivard's saloon in Cass Lake, which terminated in the shooting of Moen and the attempted suicide of Enavold. It is said there was an old grudge between the two men. Moen was removed and surgical aid summoned, while Enavold was taken into custody to await the outcome of his shooting. Moen may recover.

WILL GIVE GEORGE BEAVERS A CHANCE

District Attorney Will Grant Him Time to Surrender Himself.

NEW YORK, July 18.—United States District Attorney Young, of Brooklyn, today officially announced that an indictment had been found by the federal grand jury against George W. Beavers, former chief of the division of salaries and allowances of the postoffice department. The charge is completely in violation of a government contract.

The district attorney announced that he would refrain at present from requesting the service of a bench warrant upon Mr. Beavers, deeming it right that he should have the opportunity to surrender himself if he sees fit, and has advised his counsel to that effect. The crime for which Beavers has been indicted is technically a misdemeanor, punishable by two years' imprisonment or $1,000 fine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—It developed today that the total number of the machines supplied to the postoffice department by the Brandt Automatic Cashier company, of Watertown, Wis., was 527. The inspectors have evidence of this, although the present action of the grand jury in Brooklyn in indicting George W. Beavers is based on the contract under which 250 of the machines were supplied. The information in the possession of the government is that of the amount paid by the government for each machine, the contracting company received $150 a year, or $125, while the government paid $150 each. There was a slight change in the construction of the machines sold in the open market and those sold to the postoffice, but the inspectors say this change was trivial and the cost insignificant. The supply of the machines date back to the latter part of 1897, when the first machines were furnished the department for a trial. The contract for 250 machines at $150 was entered into May 3, 1898.

RABIES LURKING IN MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—Information was received from State Bacteriologist Russell, of Madison, today that a dog which attacked and bit children on the North side recently was suffering from rabies. The health department is endeavoring to ascertain the names of the children and have them sent to the Pasteur institute at Chicago for treatment.

PAPER MILL LEVELLED.

MAYVILLE, N. D., July 18.—The mill of the By-Products Paper company has been burned. The loss is $50,000 to $60,000. The $5,000 worth of straw is a total loss, as are eighteen cars of the finished product. The company owns a finishing mill at Niagara Falls, and the plant here was about to begin shipping there.

FIRES AND CABLES BOTH PROGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—The chief signal officer has received a dispatch from Alaska saying that the forest fires continue in the Tanana country and that the construction of telegraph lines is in a satisfactory condition.
