INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 6.—The St. Paul team trekked out of town tonight and there are no regrets that it has gone. They carried with them four as sweet victories as ever a team took from another and left behind them four as bitter defeats as ever a team was forced to take.

and when it was over the Saints had two more victories in their game bag making it seven straight, counting the three victories in St. Paul, and a lead for the pennant that certainty looks commanding at this distance.

looks commanding at this distance.

Three of the four games the Saints won here by one run and accomplished in the closing inning of the game, marking Kelley's men as the greatest crowd of finishers in the American association. It is this fighting quality of the Saints that makes them look like the season's champions.

A crowd of over 3,000 saw today's games, which, though great contests, were marred by the worst exhibition of umpiring ever seen in Indianapolis. In the first two games Foreman's work was criticised as being against the home team, but today his raw work was as hard on one team as another, was as hard on one team as another, and there was wrangling from both sides from beginning to end.

In the first game Kellum was stacked up against Allemang, and the swarthy little hoosier had all the better of it until the nint limits when ter of it until the ninth inning, when he was tapped for three runs and the game went glimmering.

The Saints had only two hits off Kellum until the final round, when, with two down, Huggins and Flournoy both drove safe ones down the left line. Wheeler then hit to the right fence for two bases and scored the tying run. Sullivan slammed one over second which sent Wheeler in with the tally that proved the winner. In the second game Gene Ford started the twirling for Indianapolis and he was meat for the Saints in the third, fourth and fifth innings, when most of the visitors' batting was done. He was succeeded by Volz, the ex-Saint, who put up a good game. Harvey Bailey, the ex-Columbus itcher, made his first appearance pitcher, made his first appearance with the Saints and he was very good and very bad in spots. For five innings he was invincible, but the dumptings he was invincible, but the dumpting the sixth continued in the ing began in the sixth continued in the eighth, to the end that blonde Mr. Bailey was forced to put on his coat and give way to Chech, who, with one run needed to tie the score, settled down and retired the side without fur-For Foreman's work in calling Fox out at the plate in this inning almost precipitated a riot. Fox was put out of the game for jerking the mask from Foreman's head. The score:

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 6:—Duluth won two games from Fargo today, the first by a score of 5 to 2, and the second 11 to 8. The opening contest was marked by some remarkable fielding on both sides, although the locals outshone their opponents in this particular. Laggar, former remager of the Superior team, appeared for the first time in a Duluth uniform and did some sensational fielding. McCoy's home run drive in the first game was the longest hit of the season. The second contest was a slugging match in which the Duluth drives were bunched. The scores:

CHIPPEWA FALLS TO PLAY FARGO SUNDAY

Champions of Wisconsin Will Meet Northern League Team at Lexington Park.

Sunday afternoon at Lexington park the champion independent ball team of Chippewa Falls will clash with the crack Fargo team, of the Northern league, in an attempt to prove that Chippewa Falls has a team as fast as any minor league team in the country.

The citizens of Chippewa Falls having watched their team win thirty of the thirty-two games played this season, are now willing to stake their all on the outcome of the game, and if Fargo is defeated an attempt to arrange a game with the Saints will be made.

The Chippewa Falls team already holds the championship of Wisconsin, and the growing interest throughout that state in this coming game has influenced the railroads into arranging an excirsion into St. Paul for Sunday.

Billy Williams, the well known local player, is covering the first hag for the Wisconsin team, and Hastings, who according to Williams, is fast enough for the American association, will do the twirting. Hastings will be closely watched by Kelley's agents during the game, and if he makes good will without doubt their season.

GOLF CHAMPION JAMES LOSES TO EDDIE BROWN

mi-Finals Now Reached in the Ama-Championship Tournament.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 6.—The fourth round of the amateur golf championship is over and four cities are represented in the semi-finals that will be played tomorrow. H. Chandler Egan, of Exmoor, Chicago, his cousin, Waiter Egan, of the same club; R. H. Russell, of Detroit, and Eddie Brown, of Cleveland, are the men who will battle in the semi-finals. Each of the men won his match handily this morning. The afternoon's play under a blue sky brought out a large gallery. Western Champlon Chandler Egan played E. W. Byers, of Alleghenny, in the finest match the tournament has yet seen. Chandler Egan has had hard matches all week, but today he had to fight his best to win. Every hole was hotly contested, and in the first round they were even up with a medal score of 37 apiece. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes were halved, but Egan won the thirteenth hole, the fourteenth was halved and Chandler Egan won the fifteenth by one stroke. On the sixteenth hole Byers won out by one stroke, leaving Egan 1 up. The seventeenth hole was halved and the big gallery came up to the eighteenth hole to see if Egan could hold his own. He had only to halve it to win the match, but a bad shot to the bunker seemed to put him out. He got out nicely, however, while Byers over-approached and lost the match. Egan plays in the seim-finals tomorrow with R. H. Russell, of Detroit, who easily defeated Dr. Frederick, of Oil City.

The surprise of the day came when National Champion Louis James met defeat at the hands of Charles E. Brown, of Cleveland. James played miserable golf all through the contest, being sadly off on his putting. This brings him down against Walter Egan in the semi-finals, as Egan defeated J. S. Sellers, of Chicago, today.

Chandler Egan is now picked to win the championship, as he is playing the finest game of the four who are left.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR SAINTS.

a Royal Welcome a Royal Welcome.

The wonderful record made by the Saints before and since leaving home has aroused the local faratics, and with a real championship pennant almost nailed to the St. Paul flag staff, the enthusiastic ones are planning a rousing welcome for the team when it returns after the Louis-ville series. No definite arrangements have been made as yet, but a number of the most prominent enthusiasts are planning to meet the team at the train with the largest band that can be secured. The reception is to be followed by a parade about the city, and the day will be rounded up with a band concert at the ball park.

AN EARLY MORNING RIDE.

HIEF Judge Alten Brooks Parker is noted for his rugged good health, his untiring energy and his ability to resist fatigue. The duties of his important office as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals impose upon him hours of labor over books, which in itself means close confinement. Born on a farm at Cortland, N. Y., raised in the country and being himself a farmer at Esopus on the Hudballs, off Sievers, 5; wild pitch. White; time, 1:40; umpire, O'Loughlin.

Champs Win Hard Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug 6.—Boston and Philadelphia fought hard today for the second game of the series and the home team won through good work at the bat. With the exception of two poor throws by Murphy the fielding of the teams was superior. The weather was very cloudy and the game was called after Boston's half of the eighth imning at which Capt. Collins protested vigorously. Attendance, 9,661. Score:

ed on a spotless and brilliant record, a generous and never falling good nature is intensified by his great personal magnetism. Last autumn he refused to allow his name to go before the Democratic State Convention at Saratoga, and since then he has been proclaimed as the next leader of the Democratic Party in the coming national campaign. The Chief Justice can not be induced to talk politics. Newspaper men find Judge Parker affable and courteous as of old, but wonderfully adroit in turning leading questions off onto discussions about weather, crops and the charms of judicial life. In fact, no man seems to be less interested in politics than this self-same Farmer and Justice.

When studying law Judge Parker was a student at the Albany Law School. Although his duties are laborious and leave him little time for recreation. Judge Parker lectures twice a week to the students. With them he is wonderfully popular. He vividly remembers how he felt when he was a student and he appeals to their heads and to their hearts. It is said that he not only aids them to master the law, but that he inspires them with hope and confidence in their profession.

WE ARE EXTREMISTS in the matter of making beer We have no limit and go to any length, sparing neither time nor money to have Hamm's Beer absolutely pure and perfectly aged. We make our beer in a brewery where sanitary conditions are perfect. Every drop is filtered and sterilized. We age our beer for months in ENAMELED CASKS, not in dark underground cellars with foul, damp walls, but in spacious rooms above ground, where the air is sweet and pure and the temperature never varies. These are some of the extremes we go to, but extremes which we consid-

CORBETT PROMISES A FURIOUS FINISH

Plans to Wear Down Jeffries and Then Knock Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 6 .-Corbett has outlined his scheme of battle for the clash with Jeffries. It is highly spectacular, for, like all Thespians, the former world's champion has a fine eye for the dramatic. The plan is not entirely new and It is the one framed for the boilermaker's undoing at Coney Island. That it failed of its purpose was due to the untimely jolt that put Corbett dut in the twenty-shall then force the fighting, and take a chance on a knockout. I meant to do this at Coney Island before he got to me with that accidental jolt.

"Until the eighteenth I shall be content to outpoint him, and wear him down by a continuous rain of hard blows, which he, in his clumsiness, will have no means of avoiding. In the last two rounds I shall cut loose and give the public a chance to see one of the most furious struggles in ring annals. the public a chance to see one of the most furious struggles in ring annals. Corbett aired his superb physique for the edification of San Francisco society today and yesterday. With Miss Nance O'Neil he appeared in an open-air performance of "As You Like It." The pugilist played Charles the Wrestler, and it is doubtful if the part has ever had an exponent of such magnificent appearance. appearance

BESSIE ANTHONY HOLDS TITLE.

Woman Golf Champion Defeats Miss Carjob. That great frame, with its coating of muscle, is not to be brought down with one blow. The only way to knock out Jeffries will be to reduce him to such a state of exhaustion that when the blows come fast he will go down just as Sullivan did, because he is too weak to stand any longer.

"Don't you think it rather incautious to tip him off in advance as to your plans? Isn't it about like telegraphing your blows?"

"Not in the least, for Jeffries already understands that I am going to wear him down, rather than attempt to slaughter him in one round. He knows, too, that his orly chance is to rush me and win out quickly. And this he cannot do, for my defense is most effectual against a man who is fighting wildly, and trying to drop me regardless of what I am doing to him.

"Depend upon it, there will be something to see in those last two rounds. Speed against strength, both of us fury inspired, and battling for a title worth a fortune to the holder, should make boxing worth the while."
