KRAMMER ATTEMPTS MORE SENSATION

Accuses Conley of Accepting Figures of Jobbers—Accusation Boldly Denied.

Auditor Kramer, yesterday in the meeting of the board of equalizers, made a statement accusing Assessor Conley of having received a list of assessments from the jobbers' control and having distributed them at their own figures. Mr. Conley hotly resented this accusation. The board of equalizers was busy yesterday making changes in assessments as scheduled by the assessor. An increase of $400 was put upon the City Telephone company, making the total $9,050. The company is to furnish a list of saloons which they control and having the following company was raised to $13,050 from $10,600. Gladaday & Caser secure a reduction from $10,135 to $6,050. William McMurray & Co. were assessed $12,500, but get off with $5,000.

FEW CHANGES MADE IN OFFICIAL STAFF AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Annual Election of Officers Results in Old Officers Being Retained With Exception of Quartermaster and Surgeon—Home Is Prospering.

The annual election of officers for the Soldiers' Home was held yesterday at the home, and two changes were made. Mr. Williams succeeding Fred Straub as quartermaster, and Dr. Charles H. Norred, of Minneapolis, succeeding Dr. F. E. Bissel as surgeon.

The trustees had nothing but commendation for the outgoing officers, but both of them had served two years and it was felt that a change occasionally was natural and beneficial to the institution. In the case of Mr. Straub it was the general feeling that as he was a young man there were other positions which he could occupy, and that it was good policy to give the place to Civil war veterans as long as they were in the field.

The other officers re-elected were as follows: president, S. H. Towler; vice president, George A. Whitney; commandant, Capt. James Compton; adjutant, F. L. McKusick; chaplain, Leland P. Smith; secretary, George N. Lamphere.

The report of finances showed that $25,463.34 had been paid the past year for the support of the home against $27,292.46 for 1902. In spite of the fact that fuel cost $1,400 more this year than last a decrease of about $1,800 other made in the yearly expense over last year.

Relief paid to soldiers and their families outside of the home amounted to $65,708. The average number of families receiving aid was 1,029 monthly, and the average number of persons about 4,000 monthly. The total amount paid in relief work since the inception of the relief fund in 1887 was $709,146.82.

The mortality rate increased slightly over last year, but last year it showed an unusual decrease over the year before so that the present increase was looked for. Besides the advancing age of the soldiers tends to increase the death rate every year.

Thirty deaths occurred during the year. The average number in the hospital was sixty-nine daily.

ATTORNEYS ASK FOR THEIR FEES

Famous Shanahan Will Case Bobs Up Again in District Court. Judge Bunn heard a motion for attorneys' fees yesterday in the famous Shanahan will case.

W. H. Harries and James O'Brien, the attorneys for the garnishee in the litigation, now come into court and ask that they be allowed attorneys' fees of $500 and the expense of the garnishee, both to be paid from the estate.

The Duxbury attorneys for Bridget Shanahan, who succeeded in breaking the will, oppose the application.

Judge Bunn took the case under advisement.

ATTACKS VALIDITY OF SMOKE ORDINANCE

Question of Its Validity Is Argued Before Judge Bunn. Judge Bunn yesterday afternoon listened to arguments of counsel in the Jay Tweed case, in which the validity of the smoke ordinance of the city of St. Paul is attacked.

Decision was reserved. Tweed, chairman of the Manhattan building, was arrested two weeks ago and found guilty of violating the ordinance. He refused to pay his fine and was ordered by Judge Hine sent to the workhouse. When the sheriff took him in charge he sued out a writ of habeas corpus.

STICKNEY SEES CITY ON VERGE OF GREAT PROSPERITY

the benefit of the latest disturbance in the East. Money in the West was easy then and it is so now.

Mr. Stickney's speech, brief as it was because of his desire to catch an early train for the East, was one of the features of the West Side Improvement association banquet last night, and at the close he was accorded a standing toast by the 125 or more manufacturers present.

West Siders Banquet. The banquet of the West Side Improvement association held last night at Paul Martin's hall, Colorado and bank clearings were $18,000,000. Last year they amounted to over $20,000,000.

West Side to Care for Freight. The West Side, Gen. Flower prophesied, would in time be the principal freight terminal of every road entering St. Paul. Where the union of the roads of the passenger business of the capital city and the West Side would care for the freight.

Ten-minute talks were contributed by Oliver Crosby, Paul Martin, F. B. Doran and D. H. Michaud, the last named gentleman furnishing a statistical sketch in which the manufacturing interests of the West Side was followed almost from their beginning down to the present time. The annual sales of each manufactory were given and the territory supplied by it named. Perhaps the largest manufactory on the West Side, according to Mr. Michaud's figures, is the American Hoist and Derrick works, which Mr. Michaud declares does over $3,000,000 worth of business annually.

Speeches were scheduled to be given by Thomas Wilson, of the Omaha, and representatives of the Rock Island and other roads, but letters of regret invited were received. James J. Hill, of the Great Northern, was also invited to be present, but a sudden call from the city prevented his attendance. Talks laudatory of the West Side and its growth were made by Thomas Cochran, A. K. Pruden, E. G. Rogers, Congressman F. C. Stevens and others. The address of welcome was made by E. P. Wilde, the president of the association.

Those present at the banquet were: A. B. Stickney, J. M. Hawthorne, B. Doran, Gen. M. D. Flower, Thomas

South Wabasha streets, was a distinguished representative gathering. Over 500 of the leading manufacturing and mercantile interests of the West Side were represented at the banquet table and they were supplemented by a number of the leading business men from the other side of the river. The hall was tastefully decorated in bunting and flags, and the guests of the association were seated before a menu that was excellent in its service and variety. J. M. Hawthorne acted as toastmaster. Marlow's orchestra, stationed behind a bank of ferns on the big stage, contributed music during the serving of the meal.

Next to President Stickney, of the Great Western railway, perhaps the most interesting speaker was Gen. M. D. Flower, of the South St. Paul Stock yards. His talk was of a statistical nature, but it was so replete with figures indicative of the marked growth of the West Side of the river that his remarks were frequently interrupted by applause.

The aggregate business of the West Side, including South St. Paul, Gen. Flower declared, was not less than $24,000,000 during 1902, and as to South St. Paul the sale of live stock and its products last year exceeded the gross profits of all the manufacturing interests included in the corporate limits of the capital city.

South St. Paul, according to the figures furnished by Gen. Flower, employs annually an average of 12,022 people, and their combined annual salaries is $8,430,000. Last year the total sales in $84,300. Last year the total sales in the town were over $13,000,000. Showing the marked growth of the live stock and packing interests of South St. Paul, Gen. Flower read voluminous reports from the annual reports of the Swift Packing company. In 1888, the year in which this industry was established, receipts of animals amounted to $68,535. Last year the total receipts of animals were 1,584,928. In 1901 the

FALLING TIMBERS CRUSH LIFE OUT OF BRIDGE CARPENTER

James Prendergast, of 160 Starkey Street, Is Instantly Killed by the Collapse of a Section of the Old Third Street Bridge—Other Men Escape.

James Prendergast, a carpenter employed by the bridge engineer, was instantly killed yesterday morning while at work tearing down the wooden portion of the Third street bridge at the east end of that structure.

The flooring had been removed and the men were lowering the supports. Prendergast and two other men were thirty feet above the ground when suddenly, without warning, the supports crashed together and fell in a heap. Prendergast was attempting to jump clear of the wreckage, was caught in its midst. He fell upon a beam, striking upon his chest, crushing his body. The ribs over the heart were fractured and penetrated the heart, causing instant death.

John Afozer, 377 Summit place, and George Steiner, 403 South Wabasha street, who were also upon the supports when they gave way, escaped with severe bruises received by falling to the ground.

Clarence Prendergast, son of the man killed, was present shortly after the time of the fatal accident, and when his father's mangled body was taken from the heap of fallen timber he was completely prostrated.

Coroner Miller, after making an examination of the body, turned it over to J. J. Hurley, undertaker. Coroner Miller is making an investigation into the accident which resulted in the man's death.

City Bridge Engineer Edmondstone and City Engineer Rundlett made an examination of the collapsed structure yesterday after the accident, and found that the work, as it had progressed, had been properly performed under the usual conditions which exist in taking down work of this kind. Foreman Ambrose Young is fully justified by them and was instructed to carry on his work in the dismantling of the bridge under the same conditions. They see no reason why any change should be made in the method of dismantling or of reconstruction.

James Prendergast, who resided at 160 Starkey street, leaves a wife and seven children, six of whom are girls, the eldest being eighteen years old. Prendergast would have been forty-five years old today.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning from the residence with services at St. Michael's church conducted by Rev. T. Neill. The funeral will be in charge of Division No. 7, A. O. H., of which Mr. Prendergast was a member.

WILL DIVIDE STAPLES' STILLWATER ESTATE

Judge Williston Appoints Three Men to Conduct the Work.

Judge Williston yesterday appointed Austin Jenks, J. J. Eichten and R. S. Parker to appraise and divide the real estate of the late Isaac Staples. An order was filed in the action brought by Col. W. G. Bronson against the Matt Clark children, of St. Paul, in which the court finds that Bronson was promised that amount of the estate the Matt Clark children are to receive from the estate of Mr. Staples. Judge Williston finds that Mr. Bronson was promised that amount from the Matt Clark children as compensation for having found the probate of the purported last will and testament of Staples, which was set aside in the district court.

The C. W. Cowles departed yesterday with a tow of logs for the Standard Lumber company, Dubuque; the Isaac Staples and how boat left with logs for S. & J. C. Atlee, Fort Madison, and the Kit Carson arrived after a tow of lumber for various down river cities.

The police had an interesting time yesterday rounding up a gang of eyesores who came here and scattered about the city to tell fortunes. They were routed across the bridge into Wisconsin and while going over the bridge roundly upbraided the officers.

"THE" ALLEN IS RAIDED EIGHTY-EIGHTH TIME

Detectives Catch Lookouts Off Their Guard and Break Into Poolroom.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The alleged poolroom conducted by "The" Allen in Sixth avenue was raided tonight for the eighty-eighth time. Four hundred men were caught in the place, but only four were placed under arrest. The place was heavily fortified with iron bars at all the doors and windows, but a squad of detectives caught the "lookouts" of their guard and dashed through the front door when it was left a trifle open.

A Record Breaker. It is the greatest and quickest permanent advertising success on record in that of Casarets, Candy Cartilage, which have been persistently advertised in every way, but chiefly in newspapers, for about six years. In that time the sale of Casarets has grown from nothing to over one million boxes a month. This wonderful record is the result of great success in advertising. Those who tried Casarets as a direct result of advertising, were pleased and recommended the article to their friends, until its fame was spread to become universal.
