MILITARY MANUFACTURER IS MURDERED

Thomas R. Morgan of Oshkosh Is Shot by an Employee Who Hangs Himself in the City Lockup—The Murder Was Without Provocation.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 18.—Thomas R. Morgan, alterman of the Seventh ward and millionaire president of the Morgan company, sash, door and blind manufacturers, was fatally shot today by one of the employees of the company, Fred Hampel, a laborer in the lumber yard, from the result of which Mr. Morgan died in half an hour. His murderer committed suicide by hanging himself with his suspenders in the city lockup. The shooting was without provocation. The wounded man walked unassisted from the scene of the shooting on Fifth street to his office, at Oregon and Sixth streets, and the ambulance was called. He was taken at once to St. Mary's hospital, but died just before the ambulance reached the hospital. Employees of the company are frenzied with anger. The police were notified that a lynching was contemplated and they took extra precautions to prevent such a tragedy.

The shooting was witnessed by several people. John Rowlands, a slasher in the employ of the Morgan company, who was with Mr. Morgan at the time, said: "I was walking down Fifth street along the railroad track in the yard when I met Mr. Morgan. He and I stopped to talk a minute or two about some lumber when Hampel came up where we were. He seemed to be frenzied with liquor judging from his appearance. He said nothing but looked at us steadily. Mr. Morgan knew that he had been away from work and was drunk, and without saying a word to Hampel to speak he said to him: 'Fred, I have no time to talk to you this morning.'"

"He turned toward Sixth street and Hampel replied: 'Well, I will talk to you later.'"

"Then the first thing I knew, there was a shot which seemed to be right in my ear. Just at that moment Mr. Morgan cried out with pain. He stumbled and I turned around and there was Hampel blazing away at him with his gun, my left hand grasping his hand with the gun and my right at his throat."

"I think two more shots were fired that went wild, but whether they were before or after I took hold of him I cannot say. While we were grappling we fell and I was under. I released my hold on his throat and with both hands grabbed his hand with the gun. Then John Morgan, another employe, came up and rolled Hampel off me. I had hold of the gun and jerked it away from Hampel."

"In the meantime Mr. Morgan, though mutually wounded, had run to the office several hundred feet away. Then others came to our assistance and Officer Meyer came up and placed Hampel under arrest. There was no occasion for the shooting so far as I know. Hampel was one of the employes of the company and had not been discharged. So far as I know he never had any quarrel with Mr. Morgan before then and I cannot say what caused him to do such a thing."

PROBABLE WORK OF MANIAC.

Mutilated Body of Little Boy Is Found in Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 18.—The mutilated body of four-year-old Althea Wilmes was found today in the rear of the Michigan Store, wedged between two molding boxes. The hands were cut and the body was covered with blood. The body was wrapped in a handkerchief had been stuffed down the boy's throat. The abdomen was stripped open, the right leg was nearly severed, and the left leg had long cuts in them. Althea had been missing from her home since yesterday noon. It is evident that the murder was not committed near where the body was found, for although there is scarcely a drop of blood left in the body, there was practically no blood on the boards where it was found. There were only a few small stains on the body and clothing of the boy, despite the horrible character of his wounds. It looks as though the murderer after committing the deed, washed the blood from the body and then carried it to the lot where it was found.

The police are satisfied that the body was murdered by a maniac, and are working for its identification.

Minneapolis

BOYS TORTURE POOR BOSSIE TO DEATH

John Norland and Gus Olson Stick Firebrands Down a Cow's Throat. The burning of negroes at the stake has not been without its effect on the juvenile element in the population of Minneapolis. Recent lynchings and barbecues have been the topic of conversation, and accounts in the newspapers have been read by boys, whose imaginations have been carried away by fervid descriptions. John Norland and Gus Olson, of Minneapolis, were arrested yesterday for torturing a cow to death with hot cinders and firebrands. Detectives Sinclair and Sullivan made the arrests. Norland, after he was locked up, admitted that he was concerned in the killing of the cow, but declared that he had not committed the worst of the atrocities perpetrated on the occasion. The cow was tethered in a South side lot when the lads saw her and decided to emulate a Delaware mob in their treatment of poor bossie. Accordingly they stuck firebrands down the throat of the cow and otherwise so maltreated her that she died as a result. The boys will have a hearing in the police court tomorrow and the Humane society will watch the prosecution.

SODINI MUST STAND TRIAL.

Columbia Theater's Proprietor Accused of Bribing Mayor Ames. J. C. Sodini will have to stand trial on the charge of giving a bribe of $1,000 to Dr. A. A. Ames, who is now on trial for the Columbia "theater" was to have no competition in the "variety" field. Judge Elliott yesterday overruled the demurrer to the indictments, and held them to be good in every particular contrary to the contention of the attorney for Sodini who claimed that more than one crime was charged. The trial probably will be held at the next term of the court, but there is some doubt as to whether a conviction can be secured in view of the fact that John A. Fitchette, whose statements before the grand jury resulted in the indictment, is now dead, and much of the evidence available at the time the indictment was found is not available.

PHYSICIAN DELAYS TOO LONG.

Man Whose Death Certificate He Was to Sign Forbids the Act. Fred Wilson, 2212 Twenty-sixth avenue south, enjoys the unique distinction of having had an opportunity to forbid the signing of his death certificate. Wilson is the man who struck on the head with a baseball bat taken home in what was at first thought to be a fatal condition. During the night he awoke and found that his family all thought he was dead, and a physician was called in to prepare the death certificate. For some reason, however, the physician put off the matter until the next day, but when he got around to it the supposed dead man walked into his office and postponed the signing of the certificate indefinitely.

It is said that six years ago he was a barefooted peon working in a mine for 30 cents a day. He discovered the Palmillo mine and his wealth is now estimated at $85,000,000. He had no faith in banks, and it is said that silver bars worth a great sum are locked in a steel cage in his palatial home near Parral, constantly guarded by a strong force of men. A year ago Alvarado made his first trip over a railroad, chartering a special train for this city, and bringing with him a body guard of 200 men. He was very charitable, disbursing his wealth freely among the poor of Parral and surrounding country.

A report was circulated to the effect that McCarthy had jumped from the high bridge, and considerable excitement prevailed about the bridge when the man was rescued. GIVES HIS SALARY TO PUBLIC BATHS

Assemblyman Schiffmann Thus Disposes of Accumulated Wealth. Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann has found a new way of getting rid of the mountain sum of $33,000 which the taxpayers each month present him in return for his services as assemblyman. Since his departure for the Orient and return some weeks ago five of these monthly amounts had accumulated. Yesterday he gave over ten minutes of his time affixing his name to the checks which City Clerk Bangton countersigned, which the taxpayers each month present him to Health Commissioner Obage as a contribution to the baths. "You can get more good out of that than I can," was his comment as Dr. Obage thanked him. "They don't pay very big salaries here, but it will help some," he added. In addition to the five checks for $3,300 each received from Dr. Schiffmann, Dr. Obage yesterday received from Floan & Leveros a check for $50, to also be applied to the improvement and maintenance of the baths.

SHOOT IN THE MOUTH AS HE BOWS A GUN

Two Boys and a Loaded Revolver Explain Accident Before Mike Delles. Mike Delles, ten years old, living with his parents at 3 1/2 Phalen creek, was shot in the mouth yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by his cousin, Helmer Bennett, aged eleven years. The shooting is said to have been entirely accidental, and is said to have occurred while the Bennett boy was examining a .32-caliber revolver as he was standing facing his cousin. The bullet struck Mike Delles in the lower lip, tore out two lower front teeth, and the tip of the tongue, plowing two inches and lodging in its root. Owing to the peculiar position of the bullet, Dr. Charles H. Ball, who attended the boy, says that it will be extremely difficult to extract it, and that if no inflammation sets in it might be possible to allow it to remain. The injured boy suffered considerable pain when the bullet struck, but he is in no danger unless complications set in. The police made an investigation of the shooting, and the parents of the boy were a pure accident, and that they do not want the Bennett boy prosecuted.

OMAHA TESTS A NEW KIND OF FUEL

Proved Very Successful and May Work a Revolution in This Line. The Omaha road yesterday tested on its Pipestone branch a new fuel, made automatically while manufacturing tow, from the refuse, which is mixed with crude oil. Reports say that the test was most satisfactory, and that the new fuel proved 50 per cent better than coal. The new fuel, it is claimed, may revolutionize the fuel question, as thousands of tons can be made annually at any tow manufacturing plant at little expense. The fuel is manufactured by a process covered by patents held by J. F. Smith.

BADLY BURNED BY POWDER EXPLOSION

Wabasha Street Home the Scene of a Peculiar Accident. Mrs. Lena Stevens, 139 South Wabasha street, was badly burned today by the explosion of a quantity of gunpowder which she accidentally ignited in a box in another room. The explosion shook the building, upsetting the furniture of the kitchen and inflicting severe burns upon Mrs. Stevens. The smoke from the explosion quickly filled the building, which is occupied by several other families, and believing that the building was afire the department was summoned. No damage was caused, however, beyond that suffered by Mrs. Stevens. Mrs. Stevens was entirely ignorant of the presence of the powder in a box in the kitchen. She was about to light a lamp standing upon the chest when a spark from the match fell upon the powder. Dr. J. C. Whiting, who attended Mrs. Stevens, says that she will not be permanently disabled.

STATE WILL LOSE ON FARMERS' LOAN

Advanced $3,700 in Hard Times, Which Can't Be Collected. Minnesota now stands to lose $3,700, which was loaned from the state funds to Stevens county ten years ago for the purchase of seed wheat for farmers who were in need of help because of crop failure. The county declines to pay, taking the ground that the law authorizing the loan was unconstitutional. In 1893, and from that to 1895, the legislature authorized the state government to loan money to farmers for the purchase of seed grain; the crops of the preceding years having been so poor as to make such action a necessity. Under the provisions of this law the money was loaned to the counties and by them to the individual farmers and bonds were furnished by the counties to the state for the payment of the money. The amounts have been taxed against the farmers who secured the loans, but Stevens county still owes $3,700 and the state auditor has repeatedly asked the county auditor to tax the farmers to take up the bonds, but without success, which the county attorney Eicknell says collection cannot be made.

Coff, from all accounts, has been a thorn in the side of the master plumbers, and since the strike the department has been burdened with protests against his methods of inspection. Every piece of plumbing work done in the city came under his inspection, and if the master plumbers are to be believed, Coff was not backward in making them toe the line. Some of the master plumbers contend that he overstepped his authority.

WE ARE EXTREMISTS in the matter of making beer

We have no limit and go to any length, sparing neither time nor money to have Hamm's Beer absolutely pure and perfectly aged. We make our beer in a brewery where sanitary conditions are perfect. Every drop is filtered and sterilized. We age our beer for months in ENAMELED CASKS, not in dark underground cellars with foul, damp walls, but in spacious rooms above ground, where the air is sweet and pure and the temperature never varies. These are some of the extremes we go to, but extremes which we consider necessary to insure an absolutely pure and perfectly aged beer.
