

NOVEL BOOKLET. Our new fall and winter Catalogue, printed in colors; contains some novel features of interest to you and your children; these in addition to information about the best Clothing made. Perhaps your boy can win one of the prizes that go with it.

A COPY FOR THE ASKING.

Browning King & Co.

C. E. HASSON, Manager.

NEWS OF THE CITY

BOY IS KILLED UNDER FREIGHT CAR

Gale Chaffee Is Run Over and Both Legs Severed—Dies at Hospital.

While on his way home from a football game in which he had received an injury, Gale Chaffee, thirteen-year-old son of Gibson A. Chaffee, of Merriam Park, attempted to board a moving box car on a Milwaukee spur track, and losing his hold upon the handles, fell with both legs across the track. The car ran over him above the knees and the boy died last night.

Gale Chaffee left the game with a bloody nose, having received a blow accidentally in a rush after the ball, and in crossing the railroad track, near the Minnesota Transfer ball grounds, made an effort to rest a foot on a string of Milwaukee box cars being hauled by a switch engine. The cars were moving rapidly and the boy, after seizing the hand-hold between two of the cars, lost his grip and fell to the ground, both legs being crushed above the knees by the wheels.

The boy was picked up by a number of his companions who ran to him on seeing the accident, and he was carried to Cobb's hospital, three blocks distant. Both legs were amputated at the hospital last night, but the boy, suffering from the great shock and loss of blood, was unable to survive. He died at 10:45. The boys of the Park it is said, have been in the habit of stealing rides on the freight trains that run to and from the Minnesota Transfer, and Gale had been warned by his father to keep off the cars. The fatal accident was a great shock to his parents and his companions.

SKIPPER SCHIFFMANN SAVES STRANDED CURE

Rushes to the Rescue of the Launch St. Paul.

Fred C. Schiffmann, acting as judge of the kangaroo court at Shakopee, was yesterday suddenly called from the bench where he presided with becoming dignity, to go to the rescue of a stranded boat, in his steamer the Admiral Cervena.

The launch St. Paul ran aground and sank a mile below Shakopee on account of the high water. The distress of the launch was reported in Shakopee and "Judge" Schiffmann was called upon to lay aside his robe of ermine to don the jacket of the mariner, which he did with becoming heroism. The crew of the St. Paul was saved after getting a ducking.

Advertisement for 'FRAYER'S' Asthma and Hay Fever Cure. The ad features a large illustration of a man in a suit and a woman, and text describing the medicine's effectiveness. It includes the name 'FRAYER CHEMICAL CO.' and 'H. C. Frayer'.

HITS GAME WARDEN WITH BRASS KNUCKLES

Deputy Boyd Is Assaulted at Union Depot by Irate Chicago Lawyer.

Deputy Game Warden Walter B. Boyd was assaulted with brass knuckles in the union depot here early yesterday before 7 o'clock by a man whose name he had confiscated. Boyd was struck in the face and upon the head several times with the knuckles and received a severe bruise on the left cheek, a cut in the lip and a deep gash upon the head. Boyd was standing near the tracks in the depot shed talking with Baggageman Butler when his assailant rushed up behind him and struck him a blow in the face, exclaiming: "I've got you now, you—"

Blow followed blow and Boyd struck back at his assailant till both were covered with blood. Boyd knocked his assailant with a powerful blow against a box containing a corpse. The fight was then interrupted by Dan Shanahan, a patrolman of the Milwaukee Gatekeeper Chaffigan, Butler, C. T. Rouleau, and a crowd which gathered. Boyd, however, subdued his opponent and marched him off through the depot to the patrol box where he turned him over to a policeman who sent him to the station.

Boyd first met his assailant yesterday morning at the depot and the man then gave him the name E. J. Walton, of Chicago. To the police last night, the man gave his name as A. F. Jones. Walton was at the depot yesterday morning inquiring about two telephones which the game warden had seized Sept. 19, and the baggage-master referred Walton to Boyd.

Walton accused Boyd of seizing the telephones without authority, but Boyd informed him that they were contraband and that the game had been placed in cold storage. "He said I had no right to take the game," said Boyd when last night. "He said that the birds had been shot in Minnesota, and he declared that he had a license, but on my asking him to show it, he said it was in his trunk. I then told him that he should have the license where it could be seen. He demanded that I restore to him the game, and I informed him that it had already been disposed of."

Walton became abusive, and said he would have a warrant for a warrant. I told him to look up the law and see what rights he had under it, and he replied that he was a lawyer. I tested the trunk and found that it contained yesterday which was billed from Detroit, N. D., to Chicago. He told me to seize it, for he said it contained game. I tested the trunk and found that it had no game in it. We then had a dispute over my right to seize his game and I referred him to an attorney. He said he would consult a lawyer and would have me prosecuted, and I told him that he was stopping at the Ryan hotel, and that he would stay to see me punished if he cost him $400 to do it. "When you are arrested I will go on your bonds. How will that suit you?" he said, and I replied that there was no danger of my being arrested. We then had another dispute, and he then called at our office at 11 o'clock, and he agreed to do so, but did not show up. He then asked me to go out to take a drink and I went to the Ryan hotel, and after shaking hands, the next I saw of him was when he pounded me with brass knuckles in the depot."

ARMY NEWS.

Major Gen. Henry C. Corbin, of the regular army, visited Port Lawton, near Seattle, yesterday in the course of his tour of inspection of the military posts of the Western army. He arrived at 1 p. m. in a special car over the Northern Pacific and left for the city at 10:30 a. m. and will proceed direct to Washington without stop.

The first squadron of the First cavalry, which arrived from Manila by the last transport, left the city yesterday on the new steamer to Fort Houston, Texas, where they will join the third squadron which arrived in May. The second squadron, which is now on the way from Manila, will proceed to the same post upon its arrival.

Prof. R. F. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific school, announced yesterday that through the cooperation of the Root and Surgeon General O'Reilly, of the army, the war department will cooperate with the Sheffield laboratory in a physiological study of the minimal amount of protein or albuminous food required for the maintenance of health and strength under ordinary conditions of life. In carrying out this purpose twenty men have been detailed from the hospital corps of the army. The scientific school has fitted up a hospital on Vanderbilt square, where the men will be cared for during the period of investigation, doubtless for about nine months. In this study there are no special theories involved, but the object especially aimed at is to obtain experimentally whether physiological economy in diet cannot be practiced with distinct detriment to the health and without loss of strength and vigor. The investigation is a continuous one, but on a larger scale than former observations in the Sheffield laboratory last year.

Did You Ever

Stop to compare the efficient telephone service of today with the telephone service furnished before the Twin City Telephone Company entered the field? It is much better now, and We Did It.

Advertisement for 'Nasal CATARRH' medicine. The ad features a small illustration of a person and text describing the medicine's effectiveness for nasal issues. It includes the name 'Ely's Cream Balm' and 'B. Y. BROTHERS, 53 Warren Street, New York.'

SOZODONT Tooth Powder

New Patent Top Can, Compare quantity and quality with others. Sozodont is economy.

Minneapolis

SEEKS TO RECLAIM ABANDONED WOMAN

Chicago Man Searches for Former Sweetheart in Minneapolis Resorts.

With her photograph in his inside pocket, a man giving his name as C. Harry Cantwell, of Chicago, has been in Minneapolis seeking to reclaim from a life of shame the young woman who was to become his bride three years ago. He was accompanied by two detectives and a fruitless search was made of the tendorin district, so he departed for St. Louis last night, having been informed that a woman who had been an inmate of a South Eleventh street resort answering to her description had gone to that city two weeks ago.

Tells a Sad Story. It was a sad story—a romance in real life that would furnish the plot of a melodrama for the "Stain of Guilt" variety theater in Washington. Four years ago he was engaged to wed a young girl who was a belle in an exclusive society circle of Chicago. Then came the villain, a young physician, polished and debonair. He seemed to exercise a strange influence over the girl, and, to top the story short, and I then told him that he should have the license where it could be seen. He demanded that I restore to him the game, and I informed him that it had already been disposed of."

They Go to Ruin. Two months ago, however, he heard of the girl again. Retribution had come—they were living in Eau Claire, Wis. The handsome physician had become a dope fiend, the slave to mad-making drugs, while his lost love, still under the influence of which he had entered a life of shame.

SENT UP FOR 25 YEARS. Penalty Imposed on James Hayes, Who Abducted Ruby Steele. James Hayes, the colored man who was indicted on three counts for entering a house at midnight and attempting to forcibly abduct Ruby Steele, thirteen years old, was yesterday sentenced to the State Penitentiary for twenty-five years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Hayes was tried upon the charge of abduction, which, however, admitted the evidence showing how he had entered the girl's room by means of a ladder, dragged her out of a window and carried her to a corn field at the rear of the house. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty-five years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Hayes had nothing to say in his defense, and seemed entirely unconcerned. Judge Pond remarked that he considered the crime Hayes had attempted to commit worse than if he had murdered the girl and that he deserved a life sentence.

The eighth other cows were from a dairy herd, and two of them had been condemned by the health department, but were ordered released by the state board of health. The owner, who was present, was convinced that their slaughter was more than justified.

FALLS 30 FEET WITHOUT HARM. Drunken Man Precipitated to Bottom of Elevator Shaft. A drunken man fell from the second story of the Washburn "A" mill yesterday afternoon, and although he crept to the bottom of the elevator shaft, a distance of thirty feet, he escaped uninjured.

PAINTER SWALLOWS POISON. Ludwig Samuelson Becomes Despondent and Ends His Life. Ludwig Samuelson, a painter, twenty-six years of age, was found dead at Loring park yesterday morning. He had drunk the contents of a bottle marked carbolic acid which was found by his side, and indications pointed conclusively to his death as suicidal. Samuelson came to Minneapolis five weeks ago from Chicago and boarded at 99 Thirteenth avenue south. His landlady says he was despondent because he had been docked $11 by an East side firm for not finishing a job, having quit without notice. He subsequently found work with E. H. Drisko, 120 Fourth street south, but did not show up in time to begin work. He had been at his boarding house since Friday morning. His parents live at Flint, Mich., and the coroner will notify them.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC IN FLATS.

Forest Court Apartments Badly Damaged by Morning Blaze.

The Forest Court flats, a three-story structure at Lyndale and Eighth avenues north, was badly damaged by fire at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire started at the roof, probably from the burning out of a chimney, and the elevator shaft was filled with fire. The building were wild with fright. A section of the building, about thirty feet wide, was practically destroyed, and the loss of household goods in six flats badly damaged by fire and water. Three children, Eddie and Sammy Bokman and Carrie Banks, who slept on the third floor, were immediately under the burning roof, but were rescued uninjured. The loss all told is about $2,000.

GOOD REPUTATION HELPS.

Two Young Men Receive Light Sentence in Consequence Thereof.

The value of a good reputation was shown in the sentencing of prisoners in Judge Pond's court yesterday. William Francis, a young man of good family, guilty of forgery, attributed his downfall to liquor, and his sentence was commuted to sixty days in jail. George W. Woodward, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny for embezzling $54 from Regan Bros., was given the lightest possible sentence under the law, ninety days in jail, because of his previous good life.

Patents Issued. List of patents issued this week to Northwestern inventors, reported by Lathrop & Johnson, patent lawyers, 912 and 914 Pioneer Press building, St. Paul, Minn., and D. C.

Charles Abbe, White Rock, S. D., portable and revolving whiplast. Charles Gresson, Minneapolis, Minn., oil cake forming apparatus. Jared Burton, Wheaton, Minn., blanket holding attachment for vehicles. Arthur Carlo, Minneapolis, Minn., storm hood and cover for lunches. Thomas Forster, New Ulm, Minn., snap hook. James Gresson, Minneapolis, Minn., wagon stake standard. Louis Meyer, Mankato, Minn., friction clutch. William McComb, Windom, Minn., folding umbrella. Michael McDonald, Benson, Minn., harrow. Charles Mumm, Minneapolis, Minn., book file.

Octogenarian Survives Ducking. Capt. W. W. Smith, eighty years old, while looking after his furnace in the basement of his residence at 1720 Eighth avenue north, by the breaking of a plank, was precipitated into a tank containing 300 gallons of water. He was in an unconscious condition when rescued, but aside from a few bruises seems to have suffered no bad effects from his fall.

E. E. Webster Resigns. Edward E. Webster has resigned as general manager of the Twin City Telephone company, and Oct. 1 is to become general manager of the Independent Telephone Company of Seattle.

Mr. Reed! Mr. Reed! A Washington friend of Mr. Reed named her favorite cat for him. One morning, when the speaker was calling on her, he noticed a mouse in the kitchen. She hastily invented a name, not liking to tell him that it was "Mr. Reed." A minute later a stern voice sounded on the stairway. "Mr. Reed! Mr. Reed! Are you in the parlor? Come out of there, you rascal! What are you doing in there?" Before any explanation could be made, a white-capped maid put her head in the door, evidently unaware of visitors, and cried: "Come out of that parlor now, I tell you, Mr. Reed!" Philadelphia Inquirer.

His Classification. "Is that man a statesman or a politician?" asked the man who tries to discriminate. "He's neither," answered Senator Sorghum, wearily. "He's a reformer." Washington Star.

Advertisement for 'The Gorton Hats' from 'Palace Clothing House'. The ad features a portrait of a man in a hat and text describing the quality and price of the hats. It includes the address 'ST. PAUL: 7th and Robert Street' and 'MINNEAPOLIS: 315-325 Nicollet Ave.' and the price '$3'.

NEW OPERA HOUSE FOR STILLWATER

Modern Woodmen of the City Give the Matter Serious Consideration.

The question of building an opera house in this city is receiving serious consideration on the part of the Modern Woodmen of this city. Nearly all of the members of the order in this city favor the plan that has been put forward, and for the purpose of receiving a more thorough knowledge of what the building will cost, etc., a committee has been appointed to look into the matter and report. The committee is composed of Mayor J. G. Armon, R. W. McGarry, A. E. Doe, Paul Hanson, Robert Seibert, Frank Liner, Oscar Ostrom, C. A. Lammers and Roy G. Staples.

A wreck of a freight train occurred on the Omaha line near Oakdale early yesterday morning. The train broke in two and the two parts came together, resulting in the derailing of several cars. No one was seriously injured.

The water in Lake St. Croix continues to fall and the lake now registers twelve feet above low water mark.

Court Commissioner A. E. Doe has issued a temporary injunction restraining the Stillwater Water company from excavating under a stone wall at the McKusick spring, west of Fourth street. The injunction was granted at the request of Horace Volkmay, who owns property adjoining property owned by the water company.

Frank Ratican, formerly of Stillwater, who conducts a saloon at Gordon, Wis., came near losing his life while hunting near Spooner, Wis., a few days ago. The gun was accidentally discharged while he was removing it from the boat and some of the shot entered the top of his head. He is not in a serious condition.

Stillwater sportsmen are getting ready to go to Whistons and other points in the state on hunting trips early in October. Quite a number of farms are changing hands in Washington county west of the city and lands are bringing from $60 to $70 an acre. Several farmers have sold their lands here and will go to Canada.

Courts Stillwater and Acme of the Independent Order of Foresters are preparing to give a dance in Sons of Hermann hall early in October. Mrs. H. M. Torinus pleasantly entertained a number of friends at cards Wednesday afternoon and Thursday evening.

M. A. Torinus, who has been at Winton, Minn., for several days, has returned home. A number of Stillwater people went to St. Paul Thursday evening and surprised Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McCann. They returned home on the late interurban car.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Otis, of St. Paul, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Saunty on Thursday. Mrs. T. W. Welch entertained a number of her lady friends Friday afternoon. Mrs. H. H. Taylor spent a part of the week with friends in St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Malisch have returned from a visit in Minneapolis. A musical will be given at the home of Mrs. Helen A. McCluer tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. F. G. Wheeler and children, of Redfield, S. D., who have been visiting here, have returned home.

A sacred concert will be given in the German Catholic church tomorrow night as a testimonial for Miss Eva Thefan, of Large advertisement for 'Workingmen! STAY AWAY FROM THE Minneapolis Flour Mills EMPLOYEES ON STRIKE'. The ad features a large illustration of a man and text describing the strike and the refusal of mill owners to arbitrate. It includes the name 'JOHN M. FINLEY, President International Union of Flour and Cereal Mill Employes.'

Advertisement for 'EXPERT Truss Fitting'. The ad features a logo and text describing the service. It includes the name 'BRAND & VALENTINE' and the address '65 E. Fifth St.'