HOFFMEISTER LEADS NORTHERN LEAGUE

Crookston Outfielder Is the Dougherty of the Laxdal Organization.

Hoffmeister, of the Crookston team, finishes the Northern league season as the leading batsman. But two men in the league—Hoffmeister and McCoy, of Duluth—end the season with a batting record above the 300 mark.

In holding Rogers, of Winnipeg, leads the catchers who have worked through the season, although Chandler, of Grand Forks, heads the list with a perfect record for eleven games. Kennedy, of Duluth, leads the first basemen, with a mark of .880 and W. W. Kelley, the player who is now recovering from a blow in the head received during the Winnipeg-Algona game, tops the second sackmen, with a fielding record of .948.

Scharnweber, of Grand Forks, is a player who might be tried out in faster company with success, as, aside from batting up with the leading ones of the league, he leads the regular shortstops in fielding, with a mark of .901. Quigley, of Crookston, who is third in the list of fielding third basemen, deserves first place, as he holds an average of .921 for 84 games, while Bradley and Quillin, who head him with but two and three points, were not played in half as many games.

Spike Anderson, the crack little University of Minnesota player who has been with the Winnipeg team, leads the fielders of the Laxdal league. Anderson holds a record of .948 for 80 games. Lynch, Wilkes and Lambert top the Winnipeg players, but Lynch's record is for 12 games, Wilkes performed in 34 and Lambert in 49.

Winnipeg's capture of the pennant is explained in the record for team work. The Canadians lead the league for the season in team batting and also in team fielding. The official standing of the clubs at the close of the season follows:
