

Affairs of the Northwest ARE CHARGED WITH IMPORTING BURGLARS Reputable Citizens of Clinton, Iowa, Tried on an Odd Accusation.

CLINTON, Iowa, Sept. 29.—Daniel Murphy and Michael Conroy will be placed on trial tomorrow on many charges of burglary and robbery. The indictments charge that the two men, while posing as reputable citizens, have been bringing criminals here for years to rob other residents of this city. The defense is well provided with funds, and will spare no expense in combating the charges. The prosecution has five counts against Murphy and seventeen against Conroy. According to the prosecution the defendants have planned nearly every burglary in this city for several years. However, they took no active part in the robberies, but located the places where they were to be made, and then brought their outside confederates here to do the jobs. There has been hardly a robbery here of any kind for the past three years for which either Murphy or Conroy has not been indicted. The progress of the trial will be watched with great interest in this section. The prominent residents of the town are alleged to have directed; Lance Abbott, residence, Feb. 20; Dr. J. S. Hamilton, Dr. G. Fischer, Ed. Heine, residence, Feb. 28; C. A. Fay, residence, Nov. 4, diamond robbery; Grossman, fur store, May 30, 1902, $7,600; Dr. J. K. Milburn, residence, Feb. 20, jewelry, seventh avenue club rooms, Dec. 28, 1900. Other prominent residences were burglaries which were attempted by those of La Fayette Lamb, G. E. Lamb, Dr. J. C. Langan and L. A. Allen. The method by which these crimes have been unearthed is interesting. The police for some time had under surveillance a man named George Burrier, who occupied a room on Fifth avenue, which, it is said, was rented and paid for by Murphy. When the three robberies of Feb. 28 were known to the police, they suspected Burrier, and took to his room and placed him under arrest and took possession of everything in the room. In his trunk were found letters, telegrams relating to the burglaries and robbery, and from these the police laid their foundation to ferret out the crime. Criminals in different parts of the country were mentioned, which gave the officers clues, and they have been at several cities in Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and this state, and have secured by their efforts from criminals, many of whom have what they knew of the Clinton jobs. Burrier pleaded guilty and was sentenced to prison.

MILITARY MANEUVERS IN KENTUCKY Day's Movements Not Spectacular, but Important in Results. CAMP YOUNG, WEST POINT, Ky., Sept. 29.—The preparation of an outpost, a proceeding not involving any contact between opposing forces, composed the second day's work done by the regular troops now in camp pending the arrival of the state guards for the combined maneuvers. Viewed from the standpoint of the spectator, today's maneuvers seemed tame, but it was nevertheless highly important, as it formed the connecting link between the clash of the blue and brown advance guards yesterday and the attack and defense of the outpost which comes tomorrow. Three movements form collectively the whole program given the regulars for their unaided solution.

Grand Jury to Investigate Some Land Grants. Indications are that the grand jury besides further sifting the police returns of the previous administration may extend their jurisdiction to include some other branches of suspected municipal corruption. The summonsing of ex-Ald. O. P. Sutherland, and Ald. Munn, Ryan and Adams, occasioned the suspicion that certain deals related to the acquiring of the land by the railroad company are to be looked into. This theory was further strengthened by the appearance before the grand jury of one of the attorneys for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

SAYS SHE'S TANNER'S WIDOW. Woman Who Never Saw Him After 1870 Declares He Married Her. The suit to determine who is the lawful widow of the late Col. W. A. Tanner, the head of the gambling syndicate who died two years ago, was on trial yesterday before Judge Harvey in the probate court. A woman who says she is the widow introduced evidence that she was married to Col. Tanner in Oshkosh, Wis., in 1858 by a justice of the peace. She presented letters and documents to support her claim, including Col. Tanner's discharge papers from the army, showing that he enlisted in 1862. He was discharged in 1865, but shortly afterwards went to Memphis, Tenn. The last she saw of him, she says, was in 1870 in Chicago.

The burglars, however, frightened away while they were at work. MARCH MOSTLY WITHOUT MUSIC Only a Few National Guard Bands Blare in the Chicago Procession. CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The great parade of the centennial celebration which filed for three hours tonight through the streets was a wonderful success. A crowd estimated at 1,000,000 people lined the streets through which the procession passed and cheered lustily. The parade was practically destitute of music, with the exception of the bands belonging to the regiments of the national guard. The regimental commandants, however, informed their musicians that they must march with the rest of the men or they would be court-martialed and dismissed in disgrace from the military service of the state. President Kenny, of the Musicians' union, when confronted with the situation, said the men would not be marched if they turned out, and as a consequence, the regiments marched with the usual music.

ARCHBISHOP KAIN'S CONDITION IS CRITICAL So Bad That It is Not Advisable to Perform an Operation. BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 29.—Archbishop Kain, of St. Louis, who is a patient at St. Agnes' sanitarium in this city, is reported to be in a critical condition, his heart action being weak and irregular. Physicians here are in constant attendance at his bedside, and a consultation by Drs. John D. Blake, J. W. Chambers and Charles G. Hill with Dr. J. G. Mars and Stone, house physicians of the St. Agnes sanitarium, was held late this afternoon. It was decided that an operation at this time would be inadvisable. A general breakdown, due to overwork, a healthy condition of the kidneys and a weakness of his heart action render the condition of his grace so critical that an operation is deemed impracticable. Another consultation will be held tomorrow, and as one of the physicians said tonight, if the patient is improved at that time, it may be decided to perform the operation for appendicitis, which all of the attending physicians agree the archbishop is suffering, in addition to his other troubles. The archbishop's sister, Sister Mary, who is in the religious community, is at his bedside continuously.
