"If the visitor asks about the future, we will tell him more money, much more money, is needed. The gift of $1,000 a year, received for years from J. D. Rocke-feller, ceases with this year, since he no longer has 'special business interests in Minnesota,' as the letter from his offica informs us. This donation has been of great help and unless the amount is made up in other ways its loss means a curtailment of the work."

Rev. S. C. Davis spoke of the needs of the board and made a strong plea for Northern Minnesota.

BANKER'S ADMISSIONS.

tional Disclosures.

Leland, cf Detroit, Makes Some Sensational Disclosures.

DULUTH, Minn... Oct. 15.—Today before the referee in bankruptcy some startling disclosures were made in the examination of Charles F. Leland, proprietor of the Commercial Banking company, which failed in August, allegedly through the defalcation of Ernst Johnson, bookkeeper, in the sum of $48,000.

Statements for three years prior to 1902 were produced which showed that the bank had lost money, without any allowances for losses in the way of bad paper. It was also admitted by Mr. Leland that since March, of this year, and up to the time the bank closed, he drew out money enough to wipe out a credit balance of $22,000 and create an overdraft of more than $20,000. He admitted that a note of $8,000 made out by one McIntyre was in reality money loaned to himself, no such person as McIntyre existing. It was shown that he drew out $2,000 on the day the bank closed and returned the money to the United States marshal when he was in charge of the bank.

In answer to a question from an attorney as to how many aliases he had, Leland said "McIntire" was the only one. He admitted "playing a little poker," and that he had done business in local commission houses. At a former hearing Leland refused to answer a question as to why he took a trip East prior to the closing of his bank on the ground that it might incriminate him. Today he said he went East for the purpose; of securing some money from Charles A. Towne, with whom he had had a business deal, but that he had been unsuccessful.

Mr. Leland's bookkeeper, E. E. Johnson, who was indicted on the charge of embezzling $48,500 from the beank, is now serving an indeterminate term in the state reformatory.

Harmless This Time.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 15.—Six sticks of dynamite were found on the Northern Pacific track near Birdseye, eight miles west of Helena, this morning. An extra freight eastbound passed over the powder during the night without exploding it. The dynamite had been placed under the rail. Chief of Detectives McEldridge, of St. Paul, in charge of the Northern Pacific divisions and officers, left with bloodhounds soon after the finding of the powder was reported.

George Hammond, suspected of being implicated in the dynamite explosions on the Northern Pacific, was arrested today half a mile from where the explosive was found on the track and brought to Helena and put in jail. When arrested Hammond was armed with a revolver and had a belt full of cartridges. Two other arrests have been made in the same vicinity, but the names of the men are not known.

STRIKERS ADMIT DEFEAT.

Mills Are All Running and Dictating Terms of Employment.

While the mill strike will be continued indefinitely, the prospects of its accomplishing results are very dismal. The conclusion is being gradually forced even upon the most obstinate that the mill operators have won; also that the concessions that have gradually been won from year to year are lost.

The hours of work will be lengthened from eight to ten for the nailers and packers.

E. A. Edelen, a distiller, who lives near Raywick, took him in. After giving the tramp a lunch he took him to a vacant room in a building a short distance from his residence, where a comfortable bed was provided. Under his arm the tramp carried a bundle, which to all appearances was nothing more than a greasy pillowslip filled which to all appearances was nothing more than a greasy pillowslip filled with a few necessaries. Just before retiring the man threw his bundle on a chair. Bidding the tramp good night Mr. Edelen extinguished the light, and, suspecting his guest might be a "professional tramp," yielded to the impulse to investigate the contents of the bundle. ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP A BRITISH MAGAZINE

Military Ball at Pekin Has an Unexpected Element of Excitement.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A Pekin dispatch to the Times describes a mysterious attempt to blow up the magazine of the British legation Tuesday night during a military ball. Wires were laid, but were not connected with the battery. At the same time the breech blocks and sights of a 4.7 gun were stolen, but have since been discovered in the native city.

The Times, after mentioning that such an outrage at the moment the officers were giving a ball might have had disastrous effects, points out the coincidence of this attempt with the British legation's recent refusal to attend the empress dowager's entertainment at the summer palace, and thinks the coincidence suggestive.

Mr. Edelen extinguished the light, and, suspecting his guest might be a "professional tramp," yielded to the impulse to investigate the contents of the bundle. Carrying the greasy bag downstairs he made an examination, and to his surprise found that the tramp was a man who possibly owned thousands of dollars.

State Library Association Meets and Hears an Address From Warren Upham.

Special to The Globe.

OWATONNA, Minn., Oct. 15 .- The anconvention of the Minnesota State Library association is in session here. The first session opened in the public library this evening. There was large number of delegates present, and, smaller than was expected, citizens and residents interested in library questions filled the library building. An unusual amount of enthusiasm is shown, and the convention is a success. The public li-brary had been prettily decorated for the occasion and presented a very attractive appearance. The decorations were made under the direction of Mesdames R. G. Nelson, L. F. Hammel, J. M. Schaffer and

There are several exhibits of general nterest at the library. The trustees' room s given over to a display of picture bulletins from the Owatonna free public li-brary and other libraries. The art room is made very attractive by an exhibit from the Beard studio, Minneapolis, and the St. Nicholas league pictures on behalf of the city and the Owatonna public library board. L. L. Wheelock delivered an address of welcome. He dwelt on the benefits of a public library. It not only elevates the citizens, he said, but the ommunity at large. It is an educational community at large. It is an educational force.

An address was made by Warren Upham, librarian of the State Historical society. St. Paul. He spoke on "The History and Literature of Minnesota in the Library of the Minnesota Historical Society." Mr. Upham said:

"In its great work for the people of our state the Minnesota Historical aims to gather into its library whatever is published concerning our state history, and also all publications of Minnesota authors. The scope of this library is not restricted to Minnesota history, but comprises also very fully the history of each of the other states of the Union, Canada, Mexico and all our American continent. North and South, and also, though with less fullness, all countries of Europe and of every part of the world. For the statesman or student in Minnesota needs to know somewhat of the history of the whole United States and of all foreign countries, seas and islands, around the globe. Therefore, our historical society diligently gathers information from all the earth, as stored in historical, descriptive, biographical, statistical and scientific books, pamphlets, newspapers, atlase, and maps.

"But a line is drawn in this library

tific books, pamphlets, newspapers, atlases and maps.

"But a line is drawn in this library against certain classes of publications which form a large part of our city and town libraries, as also of all colleges and university libraries, namely, novels, poetry, the drama, art, ethics and so forth, including the whole range of fiction and imagination, and literary essays and criticisms, excepting so far as these great fields of literature become subjects of history.

criticisms, excepting so far as these great fields of literature become subjects of history.

"Further we must except whatever is produced and published by Minnesota writers in any department of literature, although otherwise, if many of these works were produced by authors outside of this state they would not be desired. Thus novels and poetry, essays and sermons, school text-books, and everything literary that Minnesota people publish are sought and treasured on shelves assigned in this library for preservation of our state literature. Let all Minnesota authors remember accordingly to donate their works to the historical society, assured that they will be well catalogued and placed in cases where they will be seen together, as the contributions of Minnesota to the world's literary industries."

BAPTIST ACADEMY.

State Convention Gets Cheering Reports From Pillsbury.

ANOKA, Minn., Oct. 15.—Today's session of the Baptist state convention was opened by devotionals led by Rev. R. M. West. The report of the board of visitors to Pillsbury academy showed that two days in April were spent attending the classes and examining the general equipment of the institution. One of the new features is the boys' dormitory, which is nearing completion. To the curriculum have been added annual courses in Biblical literature and history. The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are doing good work, As this is a Baptist academy it is interesting to know that 70 per cent of the students in 1902-1903 were Eaptists.

From the treasurer's report it was From the treasurer's report it was shown that $500 had been expended for aid of students; $250 for prizes and $250 for library and scientic instruments, a total of $1,000, received from the Margaret Pillsbury fund. During the year there was received from the executors of the estate of George A. Pillsbury $246,000; premiums of $650; from the estate of Margaret Pillsbury, $20,000; a total of $266,650.

Acting Principal W. A. Shedd made a glowing address on Pillsbury, showing its good facilities and its bright outlook. The academy is twenty-seven years old and has graduated 490 students.

In a general discussion on the academy, the following spoke: E. S. Stucker, pastor of the Owatonna church; E. Fagenstrom, a graduate; Rev. R. M. West, St. Paul; Rev. J. F. Hill, Northfield; John Day Smith, Minneapolis, and A. T. Fowler, of Minneapolis.

Steelman, brought out several pleas received and a conference, led by Rev. H. B. Steelman, brought out several pleas for a better ministerial education.

An address was made by Rev. G. E. Merrill on "The Power of Christian Education." He said that Colgate university, of Hamilton, N. Y., sent more men to the foreign missionary field than any Baptist school. The soul is an enigma; God is the solution. God's hand is seen in mathematics and chemistry. The athelst should not teach philosophy. President Angell, of the University of Michigan, and Cyrus Northrop, of the University of Minnesota, were pointed to as grand examples of the Christian educator. The sible has its own place in education and should not be relegated to the Y. M. C. A. and Sunday school, Christian force is best in small universities.

"The Coming Year, What Shall It Bring?" was the subject of an address by Rev. W. W. Dawley, D. D., of Minneapolis. He presented it in three points—persons, purposes, purses.

Rev. Dr. A. D. Frost, of the training school in connection with the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, spoke on "A Model Day in the Church of God." Rev. C. H. Crawford presented the cause of the Antisaloon league. The report of the state convention board was made by Rev. E. R. Pope, corresponding secretary, who said that four missionary workers had left the state during the year—Rev. C. G. Cressy, of Sault Center, to Washington, Rev. E. E. Duley, of St. Paul, to Nebraska; M. A. Summers, to West Virginia, and M. Hansen, to Iowa.

At present there are 267 Baptist churches in the state, and their membership is about 21,765, divided among the nationalities as follows: American churches, 136; members, 13,553; Swedish, churches, 96; members, 6,056; Dane-Norwegian churches, 12; members, 1,416; German churches, 12; members, 740. The Twin Cities have 27 churches and 7,402 members. The country churches not on railroad lines number 85, with 5,750 members.

The newly married couple left for the South today for a winter's bridan four of the Pacific states and Europe. No woman Will Be Allowed in Prospective Utah Town.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 15 .- The "City of Celibates" is to be founded within a few miles of Provo, Utah, and the foundation will be laid within the next few days. That, at least, is the impression of attaches of the American house, who were on duty early this morning when a picturesque party of foreigners arrived and registered. These men, eight in number, are looked upon as the founders of the new city, which will allow no woman within its walls. allow no woman within its walls.

About 2 o'clock this morning a party of men, much resembling Italian brigands as portrayed in comic opera, entered the American house. They had gold rings in their ears, wore shirts of a spectacular hue, corduroy suits and wide-brimmed hats. One man, who was civilized up to the chin—that is, clad in modern American fashion—appeared to be in charge. He put the Carleton Gets Oratorical Coach.

NORTHFIELD, Minn. Oct. 15.—The trustees of Carleton college have voted funds for the employment of a coach for oratory and debate, and it is believed that this is the first college to engage a coach for this department. C. M. Holt. a professor in the Johnson School of Oratory, of Minneapolis, and an instructor in the University, has been engaged to take charge of the work. This will undoubtedly be a great improvement, and will in all probability help Carleton to add more honors to her long list of victories in the line of oratory.

peared to be in charge. He put the following names on the register, his own being first: John Bubalo, Peter Yovanovich, Luke Tomaservich, Vaso Yovaceric, Miter Luksick and another that was illegible. Bubalo did not say from whence his party came, but it was gleaned from his conversation that all had just come from Ellis island under his guidance.

The institution closed Friday, but it is The institution closed Friday, but it is understood that under the new arrangement depositors will be paid in full. The bank will now be reorganized as a state bank, local men arranging to take stock in it with the purchasers. The elevators which the Standrings recently erected have been turned over to Way, Johnson & Lee, of Minneapolis, who have reopened them. little colony that was going to locate near Provo. The sturdy sons of sunny Italy with him would form the bone and sinew of the colony, and there would be no women allowed within its purlieus. One of the Yovonovich brothers, it seems, had been deceived by a woman back in Italy and drawing a number of his friends and relatives about him decided to go to the new world and found a miscrocosm where the foot of woman would never be allowed. Nothing was said directly about naming a city of celibates, but from the conversation of the party that was the inference.

He associated with no man and went off his place, as far as is known, only twice, when he visited Charlotte to swap some skips of wild animals.

swap some skins of wild animals for clothing. He cleared an acre of ground, raising a few vegetables, and upon these and the herbs he gathered and the animals he trapped he managed to live. Capt. Lucas, soon after he found the man on his property, visited him to ascertain by what right he was there. Maxwell picked up his ax and made for the visitor. Lucas went away and was advised that if he would leave the old man alone no harm would be done. This advice was followed, and Maxwell harmed no one. People passing his place gave him a wide berth. Lately it was observed that his health was failing and that he was hardly able to move about. Then it was determined to make him a prison-er in the poorhouse. He refused at first to eat or drink, but now he partakes sparingly of food.

ROOSEVELT IS NAMED PREPARING TO STRIKE BY SECRETARY MOODY

Cabinet Member Declares Republicans Have Selected Their Candidate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The new clubhouse of the Republican club was formally opened tonight. The ceremonies were attended by Gov. Odell. Senator Depew, Secretary of the Navy Moody and other prominent guests. A letter of regret was read from Fresident Roosevelt.

Secretary Moody in a lengthy address said among other things:

"We shall soon be in the midst of another national campaign. Indeed, in a sense, it has already begun. We have selected our candidate. It is determined as certainly as anything can be which is not yet done, that as our candidate for the presidency we shall nominate Theodore Roosevelt. And the spirit and progress of our platform will be the continuance of the policies of 1896 and 1900. He who would undertake to predict either the candidate or the platform of our opponents would be a bold man."
