TRIBUNAL SIGNS BOUNDARY DECREE

Canadian Commissioners Insist That the Just Rights of Canada Have Been Ignored and Almost Openly Accuse Lord Alverstone of Partisanship—Declare Treatment by England Marks Parting of Ways.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 20.—The engrossed copy of the Alaskan boundary decision was signed at 2:10 p. m. The Canadians declined to sign the award. They submitted their contrary opinions to the tribunal so as to go officially on record and, while they declined to sign the award, they signed the maps agreed on by the majority.

agents of the American and Canadian governments. The Canadian commissioners not only declined to sign the award, but said they would publicly withdraw from the commission. They, as well as the Canadians connected with the case, are very bitter. Telegrams from Premier Laurier and other prominent persons in Canada show that this sentiment is shared generally throughout the Dominion.

Canadians feel very sore over the outcome. They almost openly accuse Lord Alverstone of partisanship. When Messrs. Foster and Sifton, respective

GOLD FIND IN MONTANA ALMOST STAGGERS BELIEF

Chunks of Ore of Vast Size That Would Run a Thousand Stamps a Hundred Years.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 20.—Almost fabulous finds of gold ore have been made on Owl creek, according to reports received in Butte tonight from Hamilton, Mont. The greatest excitement prevails over the discovery, which is said to eclipse the Klondike finds, and a stampede is on.

fairly tale. Ten massive ledges uncovered on the side of the mountain blaze in innumerable spots from the glint of gold, dazzling the eye. A towering cliff overhangs the leads, and far below the gulch is choked with boulders sloughed from the heights.

These chunks of ore, Romney declares, range in size from hazel nuts to chunks as large as four-story blocks. Enough ore is in sight, he says, lying on the ground, to run a thousand stamps a hundred years. W. D. Cross, a Denver mining expert, made the first discovery on Aug. 1.

CAN'T PAY ALIMONY

Minnesotan Finds Trouble Through Matrimonial Bureau.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Oct. 20.—In less than eighteen months after a matrimonial bureau had supplied him with a Williamstown woman for a wife, F. S. Stanchfield, of Hibbing, Minn., is seeking, through the aid of Byron F. Hall, to avoid the decree of the court awarding the woman alimony. He writes that he will never be able to pay the alimony; that the woman claims to be the divorced wife of Hall, and that she says he had Hall placed in jail because he would not pay alimony. He asks for information on this point, and also as to his former wife, of whom he knew nothing except the matrimonial recommendation. Hall was compelled to spend some time in jail when the woman divorced him several years ago, being unable to meet the alimony.

NEW TREATY WITH CANADA IS URGED

Detroit Board of Commerce Adopts Resolution Favoring Canadian Reciprocity.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—The Detroit board of commerce, at a meeting tonight, adopted a resolution favoring Canadian reciprocity and urging the immediate reconvening of the joint high commission for the purpose of negotiating a new reciprocity treaty with Canada. The resolution points out the geographical and commercial reasons which, it is declared, make it clear that the most immediate trade relations would be mutually advantageous and says:

"The disappointment of the Canadian people at the failure of the British government to grant reciprocal advantages corresponding with their own preferential tariff and the purpose of the Canadian government to take the initiative in reconvening the joint high commission, combine to make this an opportune time for entering anew upon the negotiations looking to reciprocal trade agreements; while the growing independence of Canadian industries, the possible adoption of a system of preferential tariffs, applicable to all British colonies and dependencies, and the movement for raising the Dominion tariffs, especially upon our manufactured goods, in case a reciprocity treaty is not negotiated, all give warning of the danger of delay."

AWAITING NORTHERN SECURITIES DECISION

Until This Comes Stock Market Will Not Rise, Declares a Banker.

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Wall Street Journal tomorrow will quote a banker who is closely associated with large railroad interests, as follows: "There will be no great upward movement in this market until the Northern Securities decision has been rendered. If the case is decided against the company, every road in this country will be fighting a law suit. This market will not be allowed to advance until it is known what the supreme court decides."

PULL WILL NOT HELP GETS OUT OF JAIL

Pension Office Promotions Will Be Made on Merit.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—About forty clerks employed in the pension office today received promotions. After the announcements were made, Commissioner Ware told them that they had been promoted on their respective records and upon the recommendation of their superiors in office only. He advised the clerks to seek the recommendations of only their chiefs and added that any recommendation for the advancement of an employe put in by an outsider and with the knowledge of the employe would have the effect of disbarring the employe from advancement, and a repetition of the offense would have the effect of securing his removal. He stated that he had recently been compelled to tell a clerk that if he did not stop steering statesmen up against him he would be compelled to dismiss him. "I am determined," he said, "that promotions shall be on merit only and not because this person may be the brother-in-law of a governor or the nephew of a senator. No man can be loaded on to the office because he cannot make a living on the outside."

PARKHURST READS DOWIE A ROAST

New York Minister Tells "Restorer" He is a Juggler and a Mountebank.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst today sent the following open letter to Mr. Dowie: "I do not want to be presuming, but doubt if it is any more presumptuous in me to come and try to clarify you than it is for you to come and try to clarify New York; and I don't know which of us has taken the heavier contract."

"I attended your service at Madison Square garden last evening and I went determined to enjoy it if I could and to be benefited by it and to go away and refute some of the charges that I had heard alleged against you."

"But it was of no use; your behavior on the platform crushed every throb of sympathy I had with you. I never heard from a public speaker such a discharge of effervescent wrath and coarse invective."

"I went to hear you preach the gospel, and you preached Dowie, Zion City, 'stink pot,' I was ashamed of you and almost ashamed to be in your audience. It was a long way below the standard even of the circuses that I have attended in the same garden."

"The only consolation I could derive was that it was so abominable and so far beyond the bounds of the respectable that even those in your congregation who did not know what Christianity is would have no idea that it had anything to do with what you were saying."

"Of course, the ridiculousness of the performance was only enhanced by the immensity of your pretensions. If you claimed to be only an ordinary man there might be some hope for you, even with what you call the 'rabble,' but the rabble is discriminating and can discriminate as keenly as the keenest between a prophet and a juggler, between an Elijah and a mountebank."

"I say this in no spirit of anger, but either your head is twisted or your heart infected, or you have blundered badly in your method. You cannot bully people into Zionism, nor blackguard them into the kingdom of heaven. I hope you will take this in the kindly spirit in which it is offered, and that it will be blessed to you."

Dr. Dowie, arrayed in evening clothes, talked for two hours tonight

GROWTH OF N. DAKOTA TRAFFIC

Vast Importance of Irrigation to the Northwestern States Is Dwelt Upon.

Special to The Globe.

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 20.—The first state irrigation congress got away at a record-breaking clip today, and from the enthusiasm of the delegates the congress will be productive of much benefit to the state. Temporary organization was effected with E. A. Williams, of Bismarck, as chairman, and M. H. Jewell, of Bismarck, as secretary. Committees are at work to-night on credentials and platform and those matters, with the subject of permanent organization, will come before the convention tomorrow.

The event of today was the address of James J. Hill, who, with Louis Hill, M. D. Grover, W. B. Dean, Peter Sims and party of eighteen business and commercial men of St. Paul, headed by J. W. Cooper, Congressman F. C. Stevens and others, arrived this afternoon. They were given a typical North Dakota welcome, and Mr. Hill's reception was cordial in the extreme. He was introduced to his audience at the Athenaeum by Gov. White, and held its close attention throughout his address. Following his address he and the members of his party were dined at an old-fashioned barbecue, where hot roast beef sandwiches and cider were served by a corps of young ladies. Afterward the party were given a drive about the city and this evening were entertained at a game dinner at the Northwest hotel.

The city is full of prominent men of the state, including congressmen, legislators and county and state officers. The work of the convention tomorrow will be the adoption of resolutions and the effecting of permanent organization, besides discussion of the best means of irrigation in the state.

Words of Mr. Hill.

Mr. Hill's address was as follows: "Gentlemen of the convention—and I won't omit the ladies, who have been good enough to come—it is always a pleasant duty with me to do anything within my power, on every opportunity that offers itself, that will advance the interests of the country, and particularly of the Northwest. But it is a particular pleasure, and I must confess to a soft spot in my heart for North Dakota, to do anything towards furthering the interests of this state. The best years of my life have been given to the development of the Northwest, and the few years that may be left to me I hope will see a continuance of the growth that you have had since we

DES MOINES MEN ARE FINED FOR TRYING TO INFLUENCE JURORS

Man Convicted of Arson Locks the Jailer in.

ST. PETER, Minn., Oct. 20.—John Loffelmacher was convicted here today on two charges, one of these being arson. He escaped from jail tonight by striking the jailer over the head with a poker and then locking him in the jail while he made his escape. Loffelmacher served a term in the state's prison and was due to go back for seven more. He is still at large.

MAYOR OF KANSAS CITY, KANSAS, GETS BUSY

Saloons and Gambling Houses Are Ordered Closed Tight.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—All saloons and gambling houses in Kansas City, Kan., were closed tight today by Chief of Police Murray on an order from Mayor T. E. Gilbert. A week ago a citizens' committee threatened to oust the mayor and other city officials from office for failure to enforce the prohibition law and to close gambling houses.

DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE ADOPTS RESOLUTION FAVORING CANADIAN RECIPROcity.

Address to North Dakota Irrigation Convention.

Special to The Globe.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 20.—Five prominent Des Moines men were today found guilty of contempt of court by trying to influence jurors. Three were fined to the fullest extent of the law. They were W. L. White, E. H. Hunter, J. O. Wells, Michael Drady and F. A. Marvin. Those against whom the severest punishment was directed are the first three. It was admitted that no juror had been influenced, but there was evidence that attempts had been made.

An appeal has been taken to the supreme court on two grounds—that the cases should have been dismissed upon the presentation of the defendants' sworn statement of their innocence, making action for perjury possible, and that the court had no right to direct the introduction of testimony not wished by either side.

DETECTIVES LOOK FOR GHOSTS AND FIND "SWAG"

Dark Room of Abandoned Photograph Gallery Proves to Be a Plant of Stolen Goods.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The dark room in an abandoned photograph gallery on West Madison street, near Ashland avenue, proved an ideal place for the concealment of stolen booty until Detectives Tischart and Bowler, of the West Lake street station, entered the building on a trip of exploration.

Rumors had reached the police that the rooms formerly occupied by the photographer were haunted and that strange noises were heard there at night. Detectives Tischart and Bowler were detailed to search for the ghosts. In the dark room they found cloth, trousers, coats and other wearing apparel valued at $500. The property was identified by a nearby tailor.

DREW TWO SALARIES

Castle Resigned Largely on Account of Beavers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—It developed today that George W. Beavers during the administration of Postmaster General Smith drew for some time two salaries from the government in violation of law. This fact will be brought out in the forthcoming report of Fourth Assistant Bristow, and in all probability it will be made to appear that the discovery of this irregularity was one of the things that caused Auditor Castle to resign.

Beavers received two salaries from the postoffice department for almost a year. It occurred in 1898 when Charles Emory Smith and Perry S. Heath were running postal affairs. It is declared that both of these officials knew of the second salary that the Brooklyn man was receiving, and that at least one of them signed an order by which the extra money was paid. The order was on Postmaster Cornelius Vancott, of New York, and the money came out of the fund for the city delivery service. Beavers was getting $2,500 yearly as chief of the division of salaries and allowances. He suggested that he do special work investigating overtime claims of carriers and draw $100 a month. This was agreed to, and from July, 1898 to 1899, Beavers received the two salaries.

CONGRESS IS CALLED

President Issues Proclamation for Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—The president today issued the following proclamation: "By the President of the United States of America: A Proclamation. 'Whereas, By a resolution of the senate of March 19, 1903, the approval by congress of the reciprocal commercial convention between the United States and the republic of Cuba, signed at Havana on Dec. 11, 1902, is necessary before the said convention shall take effect; and 'Whereas, It is important to the public interests of the United States that the said convention shall become operative as early as may be: 'Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, by virtue of the power vested in me by the constitution, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of the congress of the United States at their respective chambers in the city of Washington on the ninth day of November next at 12 o'clock noon; to the end that they may consider and determine whether the approval of the congress shall be given to the said convention. 'All persons entitled to act as members of the Fifty-eighth congress are required to take notice of this proclamation. 'Given under my hand and the seal of the United States at Washington, the 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-eighth.' Theodore Roosevelt. 'By the president: John Hay, Secretary of State."
