BANK OUT OF BUSINESS.

Loses Occasioned by Cashier Buck Will Be Made Good. Special to The Globe. Oct. 20.—State Bank Examiner Johnson passed through Mankato this afternoon on his way to Mapleton to examine the accounts of the Mapleton state bank, which lost nearly $20,000 through its missing assistant cashier, Alfred A. Buck. Johnson said all efforts would be made to bring Buck to justice. Buck's whereabouts are still unknown. The directors of the bank have decided to discontinue business, turning over their affairs to the only other bank at Mapleton, the First National. Deposits must be paid up to $75,000. The assets amount to $60,000. The remaining $15,000 will be made up by the stockholders. Judge Buck, president of the bank and father of the missing cashier, will contribute $5,000. The directors of the First National accepted the transfer and will assume the liabilities and assets. The state bank today began a civil suit against Alfred A. Buck for $25,000, with interest. A writ of attachment was served this afternoon on Buck's property at Mapleton, a house and two lots, a business building and an electric lighting plant, all valued at $7,000.

The season's shipment will fall short of last year's world record of 6,947,700 gross tons, but will be well over the 5,000,000 figure. The grand jury will investigate the case of Stanley Wishhart, a young man who formerly resided at St. Paul, where his folks are said to be prominent. He is charged with having robbed the postoffice at Flandreau a short time ago. The defendant wishes to plead guilty, which will be as soon as the grand jury returns an indictment against him. Owing to his youth and other extenuating circumstances an effort will be made to have him let off upon payment of a fine. The law permits it. Practically all of the stolen stamps were recovered.

Exaggerated, Says Leimer.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 20.—Cashier J. E. Leimer, of the Princeton State bank, said today that the story of his irregularities has been grossly exaggerated, and that facts which will place him in a less unenviable light will soon become known. Company Must Meet Demands Half Way or There Will Be Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The motormen employed by the Interborough Rapid Transit company, operating the Manhattan 'L' road, are awaiting the arrival of the grand chiefs of the brotherhoods of engineers and firemen, and in the meantime making no move in the strained situation, resulting from a failure of the officers and employees to agree upon a method of conducting examination of motormen by physicians. Chief J. W. Jenks, of the local union of motormen, said today that the reports of the physical condition of the men made to the company by physicians last week are incomplete, but Mr. Jenks declared the reports of the examination received by the men were complete. "It will not greatly matter what the grand chief of the national brotherhood says to do," said Mr. Jenks, "but the company does not meet the men half way there will be trouble."

Convention at Detroit Closes With Two Enthusiastic Meetings.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—The American Christian Missionary society, which is taking part in the International Missionary convention of the Church of Christ, now in session, closed its business by holding two meetings tonight. At the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, W. S. Richardson, of Kansas City, in an address urged greater fervor in home mission work, and James Small, a well known evangelist, spoke on "Evangelicalism, or How to Preach Jesus Christ in This Age." He declared there was too much stress laid on the financial features of the gospel, and not enough said about an ever present Savior, to whom man may draw in close communion. At the Central Methodist church a similar meeting was held, at which an address was made by George W. Muckley, of Kansas City, on "Church Extension."

FINES DELIVERY TOOLS IN CELLS

Hennepin County Jail Prisoners Plan for a General Escape of Tough Gang.

A jail delivery which might have freed six desperate criminals has been narrowly averted. Jailer Nels Clausen yesterday made the interesting discovery that in the cells of the gang of highway men from Wright county, and also in the cell of Fred Brown, charged with forgery, were found a number of fine steel saws in the crevices, so cleverly concealed that they were only discovered by the use of a strong magnet that drew them out of their hiding places. Brown is said also to have had a revolver, while in a room of the fourth story were found clothing and provisions, evidently stored there for use if an escape was made. The discovery recalls a recent episode in which a jail delivery was attempted. A jail cook and an electrician owned up to having been on the fifth floor one night and a noise which alarmed a watchman so, he turned in an emergency alarm. They explained afterwards that this was done as a joke, but now it is thought that there might have been something more to the incident.

FRED INGRAM IS WANTED.

Police Are Looking for a Bartender Who Proves a Good Collector.

The police are looking for Fred Ingram, a bartender, who was employed at Engelbrecht's, a saloonkeeper doing business at Elmore and Gaylord, Minn., who worked several smooth games on Twin City business men about state fair time. Ingram introduced himself as Engelbrecht at the Minneapolis headquarters for the National Register company and ordered a register for his business and asked to be identified at the Minneapolis Loan & Trust company, and Arthur Williamson, the manager, went with him and indorsed forged checks, upon which Ingram got $40. Ingram, through his knowledge of Engelbrecht's business, was enabled to collect money due Engelbrecht from Bent Bros and the Elmore and Gaylord company amounting to $75. He also collected money from the Schlitz Brewing company at Milwaukee by the same methods.

HACK DRIVER ACCUSED.

Is Charged With Impersonating an Officer in Wendell Case.

Warren Wamsley, the hack driver, who aided Mrs. Florence Wendell in getting possession of her children and escaping across the state line into Minnesota, has been arrested at Sioux Falls on the charge of impersonating an officer. It appears that Wamsley's mother was employed by Mr. Wendell to take charge of the children, and it was his duty to bring her to appear at court as served. While she was absent Mrs. Wendell secured her children and fled on her drive out of the city and state. The telephone in the house was also tampered with, so that Mrs. Wendell could not be communicated with for some little time. Wamsley denies that he had anything to do with the serving of the paper that summoned his mother from the house. As Mrs. Wendell acted under a lawyer's advice, it is not apprehended that there was any serious transgression of the law.

DEMURRERS ARE OVERRULED.

Indicted Aldermen and G. F. Moulton Must Go to Trial.

Judge Pond yesterday overruled demurrers in the cases of G. F. Moulton, accused of offering a bribe of $200 to the aldermen, and Ald. James Mumm and Peter Nelson and former Ald. John Sidley, accused of accepting money in consideration of voting for the vacation of an alley in the vicinity of the old city hall. Moulton, objected to the indictment on the ground that Judge Pond's action in ordering the three men indicted was a violation of the law. The court overruled the demurrers when there was a quorum present.

SPOILED CHILDREN

Usually Make Sickly Men and Women. The "spoiled" child usually makes a weak, sickly man or woman because, such a youngster has its own way about diet and eats and drinks things that are unhealthful to its stomach and sickness results. "I was always a delicate spoiled child and my parents used to let me drink coffee because I would cry for it," says a Georgia young woman. "When I entered school my nervousness increased and my parents thought it was due to my going to school, so they took me out again. But I did not get any better and my headaches got worse and weakened me so that I was unfit for any duty. Sometimes I would go a whole day without any other nourishment than a cup of coffee. "Last spring I had a bad attack of the grippe and when recovered found that coffee nauseated me so I could not drink it and even a few swallows would cause a terrible burning in my stomach. It was at this time that a friend who had been much benefited by the use of Postum suggested that I try this food drink. I found it simply delicious and have used it ever since, and the results speak for themselves. I have gained twelve pounds and my nerves are as steady as any one's. "I consider myself well and strong and I make it a point now to take a cup of Postum with my breakfast as soon as I come home from school in the afternoon. Postum with crackers or a biscuit makes my luncheon. It certainly saved my life for I know coffee would have killed me in time had I continued drinking it. "I have a young girl friend, a stenographer, who declares nothing strengthens and refreshes her like Postum and she has a little oil store in her office and makes a cup of Postum at noontime. I have recommended this wonderful beverage to many of my friends who know what it has done for me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

E. Brice, president of the company, and the other defendants are William Bramhall, W. L. McAllister, S. B. Foster, C. H. McMiller, Fred W. Browne, C. A. Richards, the Star Petroleum company, and F. J. Taylor, all of whom are said to have been in a conspiracy to defraud the thousands of stockholders who invested in oil promotion companies.

PREVENTS A SUICIDE.

Despondent Young Farmer, Vainly Attempts to Jump From Bridge. A young farmer named Eric Baldwin, whose home is near Dassel, attempted to throw himself from the bridge over the river last night, but was prevented by a pedestrian who happened to see him trying to climb upon the railing. He came to Minneapolis a few days ago with the intention of his going to buy some farm implements. He got to drinking and had a three-day's carousal, during which he went to the bridge yesterday he found himself flat broke, with even his watch gone, and became very despondent. The affair drew a large crowd of spectators and during the excitement Baldwin disappeared.

DEAD MAN CAN'T TESTIFY.

That is Why Indictment Against J. C. Sodini is Nullified. Upon the motion of County Attorney Boardman, the jury in the case of J. C. Sodini, charged with giving a bribe of $1,000 to former Mayor A. A. Ames, was discharged. Sodini is the proprietor of the Columbia variety theater, and the alleged bribe was given to Ames for the purpose of securing to him the right to give the Columbia a monopoly in its city.

ADAMSON'S DEMURRER HELD GOOD.

Judge Pond has sustained the demurrer to the indictment of J. H. Adamson, the money lender, charged with extortion. He held that threatening to foreclose a mortgage did not constitute extortion.

CITY NEWS

William Monahan Ends Life With Dose of Laudanum. William Monahan, an old settler of St. Paul, and formerly a river man, was found unconscious in his room at his home, 110 West Third street, yesterday afternoon, as a result of a dose of laudanum. He was taken to the city hospital, where he died last night at 11:20. The physicians at the hospital worked continuously over him, and pumped a large quantity of laudanum from his stomach, but were unable to revive him. Monahan yesterday morning bid several of his old friends good-by and told them that he thought he was about to die, but they paid no attention to his statements, thinking that he was joking. He retired to his room yesterday morning and was not found till shortly before 2 o'clock p. m., when the police were notified, and Monahan was removed to the hospital in the ambulance. Monahan was born in Ireland, seventy-two years ago, and came to America when a lad. He came West and saw life on the Mississippi during its palmy days. When navigation declined he settled in St. Paul and became a laborer. During the past five years he has been practically retired. He is survived by his wife and family. He had been in ill health for some time. He was known to have a bottle of laudanum in the house but the bottle was not found yesterday. Coroner Miller was notified last night and will make an investigation.

Canada is to Try for North Pole

Ship Will Be Provided With Automobiles to Traverse the Ice Fields. OTTAWA, Can., Oct. 20.—It is probable that the Canadian parliament, before the close of its present session, will vote a money appropriation sufficient to insure the speedy organization and dispatch of a Canadian expedition in search of the north pole. Since Canadian claims all territory north, it is considered by public men here that it would be most appropriate for the honor of discovering the pole to fall to a Canadian. It is thought, also, that rich mineral tracts may be found in the polar regions, such as have been discovered in Alaska and Siberia. The Canadian minister of marine states that the original scheme of this expedition contemplated a grant of $125,000 to Capt. Bernier, the French Canadian navigator, who will have command to help equip him for the voyage. Recently, however, a strong delegation in which were many senators and members of parliament urged that the government build or purchase a suitable vessel for the enterprise. "We have immense territory in the direction of the pole," said the minister, "and if by risking $30,000 in furnishing a vessel we could do something to exploit it, I believe the country would approve." Capt. Bernier, who is now in his fifty-first year, is a skillful navigator, having commanded a ship at the age of seventeen. He has since commanded forty-six ships. His plans for the polar search have been approved by several notable arctic explorers, including Nansen. Capt. Bernier proposes to enter the arctic by way of Bering straits and then, pushing as far northward as possible, drift eastward to the polar region. He has for years made arctic navigation a special and all-absorbing study. Besides the cost of the ship about $120,000 will be required for equipment, half of which sum already has been realized by public subscription through Capt. Bernier's efforts, and as soon as the government gives its sanction to the scheme the balance will be quickly raised in the same way. The ship will be provided for six years. She will be heated and lighted throughout by electricity and will have a wireless telegraph in connection with the shore. Automobileable carriages will be provided for the purpose of running on the ice. Capt. Bernier is of the opinion that the Fram, Nansen's ship, could be purchased for the government at a low figure. If, however, it is deemed advisable to furnish a new ship, as will probably be the case, the vessel will be built on the Pacific coast. It will be constructed upon some unique original lines, designed by Capt. Bernier himself, which the experience of arctic navigators, as well as his own experiences in those seas, have taught him will be desirable to meet the difficulties and perils of the polar ice fields.
