

THE WOLVERINES

WOLVERINES WERE FAIRLY DEFEATED Minnesota Team Did Not Play Dirty Ball in Saturday's Game.

BY BILLY MAC.

It is unfortunate that the Michigan players feel called upon to spoil the greatest football game ever played by a Wolverine eleven with the uncalculated complaints they are now filing against the Minnesota team.

Michigan was handed rough in the game with the Gophers, but Michigan men handed Minnesota players in a like manner, and, as far as the roughness was concerned, it was almost an even break. The game was a battle that demanded roughness, or at least permitted the grueling work, and the Michigan men take a rather unportable Michigan men stand when they pour their tales of "spiking and slugging" into the ears of the waiting correspondents for the outside world.

Michigan has no cause for complaint. Before the game the Wolverines were the generally admitted favorites, and even this column, anxious to be honest with the readers who planned risking money on the result, feared to give Minnesota a bare even chance against Yost's men.

With all the best of it, the Wolverines went into the game against Minnesota and were outplayed and should have been defeated in the first half. They were saved only by the impetuosity of the Minnesota players, who, in their desire to hurry up their victory, forgot caution and gave Michigan a chance to claim the penalizing yards that spoiled it all.

This alone saved Yost's men. Michigan has her friends in Minnesota, and these friends were anxious to see Michigan get fair treatment in the game. If the Wolverines had been the victims of any unnecessary brutal playing this column would have refused to give Minnesota credit for the great and wonderful work shown in this great game and would have denounced the players who went out of their way to be unfair.

But Michigan has no whimper coming. There was rough work, but the rough work was on both sides. It was given and taken and let the better team win.

It's hard to admit defeat, but the world has no respect for brave losers. The reports now being sent out from Ann Arbor may be in the main the excited creations of the correspondents. One hates to believe that the Michigan team that put up the brave game on Northrop field lost all nerve when Minnesota went over for that touchdown.

MICHIGAN MAY NEVER MEET MINNESOTA AGAIN

Ann Arbor Correspondents Send Out Tales of Spiking and Slugging.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 2.—Battered and in bandages, Michigan's gridiron warriors returned from their struggle with Minnesota. With the report that Michigan will probably never again meet Minnesota on the football field, every Wolverine charges the Minnesota men with unportantlike play, bitter denunciations of the football men for their unwarranted roughness.

"They not only slugged, but they used their spikes," said Heston.

Heston's face is a mass of contusions, and his eyes are nearly closed by the swollen flesh.

The players discredit all rumors that a post-season game with Minnesota will be played to defend the Western championship, with the statement that Coach Yost is also indignant because of the treatment received by his protégés at the hands of Minnesota. Members of the team say that all the dash and intuitive generalship was taken from Norcross, the Minnesota quarterback, by the punning he was subjected to.

Coach Yost said:

"I was in splendid condition, taking into account the terrific bumping the players received in the game. Heston is the only one who really shows the effects of the contest. It was certainly one of the roughest games I ever saw, but do not say this in a complaining spirit. Our men got the worst of it on general principles for the simple reason that the Minnesota men played that style of game.

"As to the game itself, it was certainly a corker. I do not think that Minnesota outclassed us any on straight football. We were there. Contrary to accounts, we made a strange gain of 100 yards, and that mostly through the line. We walked from one end to the other without a stop. We began on our own 20-yard line and did not stop until mid-dock was pushed over.

"Our men were in better condition apparently than Minnesota's, as we did not take over more than ten minutes' time during the entire game. Minnesota must have taken over at 10 o'clock, the game began at 2:15 o'clock and it was about 5:30 o'clock when the game was over. It was too dark to distinguish the players."

CHARGES ARE DENIED AT THE UNIVERSITY Minnesota Men Declare They Played an Honest, Hard Game.

The charge that Minnesota slugged and played rough ball Saturday is denied at the university. Manager Barnard says he knows nothing of the game and that the play that would call for criticism of the nature coming from Coach Yost's men. The fact that only one of the visitors was forced to leave the game, the manager believes, goes far to show that the main and blue players were not roughly handled.

Regarding the statement that indications point to a break in the relations between athletic departments of the two universities, Manager Barnard had nothing to say. He said nothing official had been received from Michigan, and that if the matter was to be taken up by the athletic board it would not be before two weeks or more. The matter of arranging a game for next year was not discussed between him and Manager Baird.

Dr. Williams being in Fargo with the second team, no statement could be secured from him. W. (Judge) Tiedel, manager, who assisted in coaching for two weeks previous to the Michigan game, was surprised to hear that any of the Michigan men made accusations of rough play on the part of Minnesota. He declared that it was not his belief that Coach Yost himself made any charges of rough play. Said he:

"I saw no rough work on either side. It was a hard-played game, however, and both teams suffered much wear and tear. It is only reasonable that some of the players should have received bruises in such a contest. Even if every man was to have played fair and square and strictly according to the rules, injuries could not have been avoided. I have seen much of the Minnesota team this fall, but never saw Yost himself make any charges of rough play. I saw only one unfair work in their play."

Capt. Rogers was amused at Michigan's charges. "If there was any rough work in the game it came from the Michigan side of the field," said the Gopher captain. "This is all child talk."

"Sunny" Thorpe, who was kicked in the head, had little to say about the charges. "The only rough play I saw was when they hit me in the head and put me out." Thorpe, it is said, did not learn of the outcome of the game until Sunday morning, when one of his roommates informed him that it was a tie.

"It's baby talk," said "Sig" Harris, the clever little Minnesota quarter, when informed of the charges. "If any of the Michigan players were hurt, it was their own fault. I am not surprised nor is any one else for that matter, to hear that Yost was battered and bruised against his team."

"Why that man did nearly all the line bucking, Heston himself was responsible for those bruises any of the Minnesota players. Many of our men were knocked around and bruised up, but we are not complaining. If we had had a game, no one could hope to play through it without a scratch or bruise."

BADGERS ARE BOLD Talking of Beating Minnesota and Michigan.

Special to The Globe.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—To defeat Minnesota Michigan and Northwestern and pray for victory of the Wolverines over the Maroons on Thanksgiving day, is the programme that remains for Wisconsin for the remainder of the football season.

"Eckersall defeated us fairly and we have no excuses to offer," said Coach Curtis. "But we will not quit by any means. We will try to defeat the remaining teams on our schedule, Michigan, Northwestern and finally Minnesota. In this event, and if Michigan defeats Chicago, Wisconsin will still have the best record of any football team of the West. Of course we could not claim championship if this situation developed. I only say this to show that Wisconsin, although defeated by Chicago, has still much to play for during the remainder of the season."

Chicago held its own in the first half and outplayed them completely in the second. Chicago won by having a reliable kicker and by taking advantage by using him whenever within striking distance of the goal. We shall shake ourselves together now and prepare for Michigan and Minnesota. The prospect of winning all the remaining games on the schedule is by no means dark."

MINNESOTA SECOND TEAM WINS AT FARGO North Dakota Agricultural College Loses Hard Fought Game.

Special to The Globe.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 2.—In an intensely interesting game played here this afternoon the North Dakota Agricultural college eleven met defeat at the hands of the second team from the University of Minnesota, the final score being 11 to 0.

The farmers played a good game but the protégés of Dr. Williams were too heavy for them, and their fierce line backs necessitated the retirement from the game of several of the agriculturists, some of whom had to be carried from the field.

The heavy Minnesota team made all of its gains through the guards and tackles, being unable to go around the ends of the farmers. A touchdown was scored in each half, but in the second half Minnesota failed in her attempt to kick goal.

A large crowd witnessed the game, which was one of the best ever played in Fargo. Dr. Williams, of Minnesota, officiated as umpire, and his work was eminently satisfactory. Dr. Wheeler, of Fargo, was referee.

HARRISON AFTER HANDBOOK EVIL

Chicago's Mayor Asks Council to Pass Strong Ordinance to Stamp Out the Evil.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—In an effort to stamp out the handbook evil, a system of betting on horse races which has existed in Chicago for several years, Mayor Carter Harrison tonight sent an ordinance to the city council providing for the licensing of all telegraphic "tickers" in use in the city. The purpose sought to be obtained by the ordinance is the prevention of the use of "tickers" for the transmission of racing news, betting odds or other information on horse races, or any other intelligence of the purpose of gambling.

The license fee for a ticker required by the ordinance is $1 a year, in addition to a bond of $10,000, conditioned that the applicant shall faithfully observe and keep all city ordinances.

In explanation of the necessity for such a stringent ordinance, Mayor Harrison, in a communication to the council, said:

"Many years ago the evils resulting from the gambling engaged in through the instrumentality of various lottery companies became so far-reaching and demoralizing that general prohibitive legislation by the federal congress was called for and secured. The evils attendant upon the prevalent craze for gambling on horse races certainly demand as vigorous measures as were resorted to when the untoward sentiment of the nation exacted from congress the stamping out of lottery gambling."

"How general is the tendency of the day to risk money on the outcome of horse races may be learned from the recent reports in the local press of notices being posted by the managements of large business houses prohibiting their employees from making wagers on horse races or frequenting places where wagers may be made."

"Handbooks today are made in a large number of saloons, in billiard rooms, barber shops and cigar stores. Indeed, it is asserted that the suburban trains of various railroads are systematically worked by handbook makers, who also employ emissaries to make daily rounds of office buildings for the soliciting of bets and the increase of patronage."

"The revocation of licenses of all licensed institutions proven guilty of harboring handbook makers has resulted in driving the makers of books into places which cannot be reached by this means. For that reason I have had the ordinance prepared and if it is passed by the city council I feel confident it will put a stop to this sort of gambling. This ordinance will cut off all information as to odds, riders, starters, etc., now given general currency through the medium of the 'tickers.'"

Results at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 2.—The steep-chase at Latonia, which was won by Ed Corrigan's Serge, furnished the most exciting accident ever seen at the Latonia track. While making the last turn in the homestretch Trisco turned a complete somersault and fell into the ditch alongside the fence. NARROW ESCAPE FOR THE COLORED CHAMPION Joe Gans Is Almost Put Out in Fight With Joe Blackburn.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 2.—Joe Blackburn, a local man, outpointed Joe Gans in a ten-round fight at the Washington-Sporting club tonight.

In the first round Gans knocked Blackburn down with a punch on the jaw. He was up in ten seconds, but Blackburn had all the best of the last five rounds. He had Gans bleeding in the third and sixth rounds. Blackburn landed a six-round nose. Gans was bleeding pretty lively and was clinching as the final bell rang in the sixth.

OTTO SEILOFF WINS Gets Decision in Fast Fight at Minneapolis.

After fifteen rounds of the fastest fighting seen in Minneapolis in many months, Otto Seiloff, of Chicago, was given the decision over Frank Carroll, the colored fighter, of Minneapolis, last night.

The bout was pulled off at Union temple, Minneapolis, before a crowd of several hundred enthusiasts of the Twin Cities.

Seiloff was the aggressor during the greater part of the fight, and had a shade the best of the contest from start to finish. Carroll put up a game fight, but the Chicago boy was too much for him, and the decision awarding the fight to Seiloff was satisfactory to all.

Both fighters took advantage of every opening from the first sound of the gong until the final round had been fought, the fight being fast all the way through.

In preliminaries Kid Rose, of Minneapolis, and Pat Ebbs, of St. Paul, went ten rounds for a draw. Toward the close of the bout Ebbs had his man going, and many thought the St. Paul fighter would have been given the decision.

In a wrestling match between Borgstrom and Mott, the latter won after losing the first fall, which Borgstrom accomplished in ten minutes. Mott won the second fall in eight minutes flat and the third in a trifle more than thirteen minutes.

Hatley Wins First Game.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 2.—The first game for the billiard championship of the Northwest was played here tonight at Broadway parlour between Spears, of Minneapolis, and Hatley, of Duluth. The latter won the game, which was featureless. The score:

NO CHANGE IN KENTUCKY Campaign Managers of Each Party Claim Victory.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 2.—The campaign managers have not changed their estimates, made public this morning, on the result of tomorrow's balloting in Kentucky. The Democrats claim the state for Beckham by a majority of 20,000, and to this they add 5,000 which they expect the city of Louisville and Jefferson county to give their ticket.

Chairman J. H. Newman, of the Republican state campaign committee, says: "We are confident of the election of Col. Beckham and the entire Republican ticket. We have received careful estimates from all the counties, and without entering into details, from the estimates received, we place the majority for our ticket, in round numbers, at 12,000."

The Socialist and Socialist-Labor parties have full tickets in the field, but they cut absolutely no figure. Mayor Grainger, of Louisville, in a communication to the board of safety today, urges the strict enforcement by the police department of the law prohibiting the carrying of concealed deadly weapons. Those who go to the polls with concealed weapons tomorrow are liable to arrest.

DEMOCRATIC WEATHER IN OHIO Republicans Claim Overwhelming Defeat of Johnson.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 2.—On the eve of the election the estimates of the two parties continue to represent the two extremes. The Democrats give no figures on the state ticket and claim only a bare majority in the legislature, while the Republicans claim a larger plurality, with a single exception, than ever before on the state ticket, and almost twice as large a majority in the legislature as they have ever had.

It will be difficult to ascertain in Ohio tomorrow night from incomplete or early returns. Heretofore the returns, as fast as received, were compared with the vote of the same precincts the previous year. The rate of gain or losses was thus calculated as fast as precincts were heard from, so that if the same rate either way was maintained for the rest of the precincts the pluralities one way or the other could be closely approximated before midnight. One of the leading issues in this campaign has been over the new municipal code that was voted by the Republicans in the last legislature. Under this code the wards and precincts in all places of 5,000 population and over were changed this year, so that the vote tomorrow night cannot be compared with that of any previous state election, except on such returns as come from the rural districts and towns of less than 5,000 population.

In the event of a close contest, no definite result will be known tomorrow night, but such conditions are not now expected. The vote will be compared with that of last year, when the Republicans carried the state by over 90,000 plurality. At that time, Rev. H. S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, recognized as the representative of the Johnson element in his party, was defeated for secretary of state by Louis C. Laylin.

The Republicans claim that Mayor Johnson will be defeated for governor by a larger plurality than was his representative last year, and they have reasons so far as to say that any vote less than a plurality of 100,000 under existing conditions would not be considered a Republican victory. On all of these calculations Republicans have expected the state ticket to be no less than 500,000. It has been raining all day today in most of the state, and rain is predicted for Ohio again tomorrow.

QUIET IN PENNSYLVANIA. Republicans Look for Usual Off-year Majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 2.—The general opinion as expressed by the Republican leaders is that Pennsylvania will tomorrow give its usual off-year majority for the Republican candidates. The Democratic state chair-ers decline to give figures, merely contenting themselves with the prediction that a full Democratic vote will be cast.

The campaign has been a quiet one throughout, there having been fewer mass meetings and less political oratory than in many years.

United States Senator Penrose, the chairman of the Republican state committee, said today:

"The Republican state ticket should be elected by a majority of not less than 150,000, and the figures may reach 175,000."

Insurance Commissioner Durham, who is in control of the Republican organization in this city, said: "The Republican candidates on the city ticket should be elected by a majority of at least 100,000."

There is a split in the Democracy, a faction dividing from the regulars with a full city and state ticket under the heading of the Independent party.

City Chairman Donnelly, of the regular Democrats, when asked for his opinion on the outlook, merely said: "The regular Democratic ticket should poll at least 40,000 votes in Philadelphia tomorrow."

Massachusetts Vote Will Be Heavy.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—With good weather tomorrow, and the indications tonight favor such conditions, the party managers here agree that there will be a heavy vote cast in Massachusetts, not only for governor, but for the entire state ticket as well as for minor offices and members of the legislature.

The Republicans are confident, while the Democrats are more reserved. The latter have worked hard during the short but lively campaign and are looking forward to substantial results of their labors.

Not for many years have the Democrats carried so hard and their efforts have so thoroughly stirred up their opponents that the state has been better canvassed than for ten years.

Col. Edward F. McWheeny, the campaign manager of William A. Gaston, leader of the Democratic ticket, said: "We are perfectly satisfied. The voters will tell our story."

Col. Thomas Talbot, chairman of the Republican state committee, said of the prospects of Republican success: "Issues have passed away, but the people of this state can be depended on tomorrow to recognize honesty and fidelity such as Gov. Bates has shown."

Colorado Fights for a Judgeship.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 2.—The chairman of the political parties have been doing all in their power today to bring out the full strength in tomorrow's election of a judge of the state supreme court. Republican Charles East Col. Col. East Campbell will be re-elected by 8,000 to 10,000 plurality, if there is no repeating, which is the case. The voters will be from 5,000 to 10,000. We expect to carry the rest of the state by a small plurality. We will do our best to prevent any fraudulent votes being cast.

Populist Chairman Gray ventured the opinion that there is a strong probability of the election of Owens.

Maryland Uses Campaign Expenses.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2.—Though the odds of the state campaign were announced on Saturday night the two candidates for governor did not relax their active labors until a few hours tonight. Edwin Warfield, the Democratic nominee, spent the entire day in Howard county, his home county, traveling to the election to win by about 2,000 plurality, which is a loss of 5,000 from last year's victory while Republicans express their belief that East Col. Col. East Campbell will be re-elected by 8,000 to 10,000 plurality, if there is no repeating, which is the case. The voters will be from 5,000 to 10,000. We expect to carry the rest of the state by a small plurality. We will do our best to prevent any fraudulent votes being cast.

President Will Vote.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt left here tonight for Gettysburg, where he will cast his vote tomorrow. The president was accompanied by Secretary Cortou and Mr. Lusk, who occupied a private car attached to the regular 12:10 train for New York on the Pennsylvania road.
