FARES BETTER HERE

Rev. Holmgren Says American Laborer Has Advantage.

"The condition of the laboring man in the United States is much better than in Sweden," said Rev. David Holmgren, a member of the Swedish riksdag, last evening in an address at the St. Sigfrid's church, Locust and Eighth streets. "The American laborer gets better pay, has shorter hours, has better homes, better clothes and his general conditions are all very much more satisfactory than those of my country."

Rev. Holmgren has spent the past three months traveling about the United States studying the labor question, of which he has been a student for years. He is now on his way to Stockholm, where the riksdag, or lower house of the Swedish legislative body, meets next month.

He discussed the various phases of the labor question in an interesting manner, speaking in Swedish. He will speak at St. Sigfrid's church again today on "The Primeval Causes of the Great Emigration From Sweden to This Country and the Effects of This Emigration on the Mother Country."

Rev. Holmgren said he believed the final solution of the labor problem must be worked out along those lines laid down by Christ.

"It must be an equal division between employer and employe of the profits," he said. "While the immense profits of manufacturers are going into the pockets of a few, there can never be any final peace between the capitalist and the laboring man."

"The first great fight toward the accomplishment of this state of things will come in America, for the laborer here is much better educated, more thoroughly organized and more capable of coping with the capitalists. It will take centuries to work out the problem along the lines of brotherly love and such a solution is still almost nothing more than theory."

Rev. Holmgren declared that the first great step taken by the laboring men of Sweden to better their conditions resulted in a victory for them. The machinists, foundrymen and other employes of the immense steel plants of the country recently made demands for better wages and shorter hours. The manufacturers tried to take things into their own hands by locking out the men. The men held out and finally secured a settlement of their differences by arbitration. This Rev. Holmgren declared was a distinct and important victory for the working man. It resulted in the establishment of a law in Sweden and Norway which provides that all labor difficulties shall be submitted to a board of arbitration.

Again, silks—cheaper than ever!

Not meager lots—not unreliable qualities. not discarded designs—not fictitious values

This week we offer you the best silks from an importer's stock—his clean-up before starting on next spring's business—also our own clean-up of short pieces of the choicest silks from the sales of the past few weeks.

If you would understand the position this store holds in the silk business of the Twin Cities, you must attend one or two of the Monday Silk Sales—see the heaping tables of silks—marvel at the stupendous values—jostle in the crowds! Indeed, this store's outlet for silks has grown so large that it can buy quantities for special selling that would constitute entire stocks for other stores, and dispose of same in an incredibly short time.

This purchase for Monday is divided into two lots, and please mark this—it is not a sale of brilliant colors or conspicuous designs, that no one wants—you'll find just the silks that Twin City women like best—the silks of the season. Some a quarter off; some a third less; most as little as half-price; still others about one-third their value.

- Up to 1.25 silks at 49c In this lot the principal weaves are: Extra heavy checked Louisines, Black Beau de Soies, Changeable Taffetas, Black and White Gros-Grains, Satin Pekin Stripes, Black Liberty Satins, Moires, etc. There are scores of fashionable weaves, come at 9 a. m. for good selection.
At 69c there is almost every fashionable silk of the day. Printed warp Louisines, checked and plaid Louisines, in all the most desirable shades. All the latest novelties produced for shirtwaist suits. White brocades, extra heavy, 24-inch half-line striped Louisines. Remember this is a sale of newer, more fashionable silks and the price is under half.
Up to 2.00 silks at 69c

Sensational silk clearance 25c a yard

Impossible to let this clearance go any longer. Time was when once a month was often enough, but the accumulations of two weeks now equal that of four in the sales of months ago. We want you to take particular note of the fact that there are 25-yard lengths in this clean-up, and all lengths from that down to one yard. To mention the silks individually is utterly impossible here. The women of the Twin Cities know what to expect in the Field-Schlick 25c clean-up sales. They also know that they must be on hand before the hour of sale in order to secure a place at the tables.

The near approach of the holiday season should make this clean-up sale of more widespread interest than any other of the year. Evening waists and the thousand and one possibilities for fancy work should bring thousands of women to this sale.

Hand-embroidered Linens Direct from Ireland to be sold at 33 1/3 to 50 per cent off

This superb lot of fine linens comes from the factories of John S. Brown & Sons, Belfast, Ireland, and are the sample pieces used by their agents and from which thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of fancy embroidered linens have been bought for the holiday trade. While a trifle soiled, the linens are in the most perfect known, and the embroidery the most beautiful. Half-price should reconcile any woman to the soiled feature.

There are fine hand-embroidered dresser and buffet scarfs; fine hand-embroidered squares and hand-embroidered carvings cloths—three lots, priced as follows:
