Clay Clement Coming.

The popular comedian, Mr. Clay Clement, has been booked by Manager Scott for one night only, Sunday, Nov. 15. Mr. Clement is meeting with great success this year in a revival of his best play, "The New Dominion." It is unfortunate that Mr. Clement could not be booked for a longer engagement, but owing to his late determination to play this season he was unable to secure more than one night at the Metropolitan. He has always been a great favorite and will, no doubt, be greeted by a large house.

An inventory of the estate was filed by the executors, V. M. Watkins, C. L. Spencer and John I. H. Field, and immediately following the appraisers were named by Probate Judge Bazille.

The estate is rich in stock, the larger items named including the following: Merchants' National bank, $2,000; St. Paul Foundry, $15,000; St. Paul Trust company, $24,000; Wood Harvester works, $8,300; International Dock and Warehouse company, $9,400; Island Flour company, $11,700; Superior Water and Light company, $94,500; Red Mountain Consolidated Mining company, $33,340; St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance company, $10,700; Montana National bank, $25,000.

T. LOWRY LUNCHES, GOOD BIRCH TRAVELS

Which Has No Reference to Impending Meeting of Grand Jury on Tuesday.

Vice President Goodrich, of the street railway company, is about to leave the state for an extended period.

Thomas Lowry and Marcus D. Munn, president and general counsel, respectively, of the same company, had lunch privately at Carling's yesterday.

They were closeted in a private room. The grand jury meets Tuesday and it will investigate the charges recently made regarding the street car company and undue influence in connection with the down-town ball park.

All these things are significant. County Attorney Kane and his assistants, however, do not seem to be worried. "I will do my duty," is all that Mr. Kane will say.

According to the gossip George E. Lennox, who worked hard to secure the council's approval of his down-town ball park, and G. W. Walsh, his attorney, were also at the restaurant, but they were not even aware that the distinguished Mr. Lowry was in St. Paul.

Councilmen Are Notified.

Mr. Goodrich's proposed departure from the state is known to all the councilmen; in fact, they have been notified by the street car company. They were notified that they were to go with them on a tour of investigation for the purpose of selecting a location for a new cross-town line, but yesterday they were notified that he could not attend.

Marcus D. Munn, the company's attorney, was at the meeting of the two council bodies Thursday evening and secured from them a postponement of the investigation until the 27th inst. It was explained by Mr. Munn that Vice President Goodrich was about to leave the city and would not be back until that date.

Goodrich's presence before the grand jury in the event that the charges of street car influence and bribery are taken up—and Mr. Kane says they will be—is almost absolutely necessary.

Yesterday it leaked out that Vice President Goodrich was in St. Paul, the day after a story appeared in a daily paper asserting that an effort would be made at the next meeting of the council to repeal the owl car ordinance.

Mr. Goodrich, it is said, positively denied to the publishers of the paper that the company was interested in any such movement and also pleaded for a discontinuance of any further comment on the matter.

A grand jury meets Tuesday, but as far as known no subpoenas have been issued for parties whose names have been implicated in the charges. Mr. Schurmeier has not even been notified that his presence will be wanted.

MR. PATTERSON'S STATEMENT.

In a number of articles which have appeared within the last day or two in the daily papers of this city, it has been charged by implication and insinuation that I have exercised an undue influence upon the actions of various members of the council. These charges and insinuations are absolutely and totally without foundation.

When I appeared before the committee on streets of the board of aldermen to which had been referred the bids for street lamp posts, I stated that I was prepared to prove that, if the posts which were piled up at Whitall and Clark streets, in this city, were the posts that it was intended to furnish to the city under the bid submitted by the American Development company, that these posts would not and could not be made to conform to the specifications. After the matter had been referred to the commissioner of public works for investigation, several aldermen expressed a desire to see the posts to which I had referred.

I did not want any other business man would do in competition for the sale of any property or article; that is, I showed the purchaser exactly what my competitor had to offer and what I had to offer myself, and left the decision of the superiority of the article to their own judgment. No pains were taken to conceal the fact that I did request as many of the members of the common council as I could reach personally or by telephone to investigate and examine the posts located at Clark and Whitall streets. With the exception of one member of the council, every other member who made a personal examination of the posts came away imbued with the belief that the posts inspected were entirely inadequate, were not satisfactory in any respect and were, in the opinion of many, veritable "junk."

That this is true is evidenced by the vote of the members of the council, an examination of which will disclose that out of eighteen members at the joint session, fifteen voted not to accept the "junk pile" at the corner of Clark and Whitall streets. It is also of common knowledge that several members of the council went to Mr. Seeger and his attorney during the meeting held last Thursday and said: "Will you take this contract, provided that there is incorporated in it a provision excluding the posts located at the corner of Clark and Whitall streets?" and the answer given by the representative of the American Development company was, "I do not know."

I make this statement in answer to criticisms of my conduct which have lately been made, and not because I believe that any justification for the action of the council is needed. No unprejudiced man who will investigate the posts which it was attempted to foist upon the city can believe that the council was not justified in refusing to accept them.

MINNIE WILL HELP

Flour City to Aid St. Paul in World's Fair Exhibit.

Minneapolis will give St. Paul every possible aid in the proposed Twin City municipal exhibit at the St. Louis world's fair.

A message to this effect was conveyed to the committee selected to prepare the exhibit at a meeting held yesterday at the city hall and a subcommittee consisting of Dr. S. G. Smith, Ald. Corning, Comptroller Betz, Oscar Claussen, and Messrs. William Middleton and W. H. Manning, was at once named to confer with the Minneapolis committee.

The conference will probably be held in St. Paul next week, and it will not only be a discussion of the coming exhibit, but also the proposed Twin City park system. The committee, also the Civic League, which has interested itself in a discussion of the Minneapolis park, will be all in its power to aid in the systematic parking of the two cities.

Robert Keelcey, who is at the head of the St. Louis fair municipal exhibit, will be in St. Paul next week and will confer with the committee regarding its exhibit, which is now being prepared.

The committee has arranged for a lecture to be given at the Commercial club, W. H. Manning, a well known landscape artist of Boston, will be the speaker. His remarks will have special reference to the proposed approach to the capitol and the Twin City park system.

CHICAGO ALDERMEN VISIT SAINTLY CITY

They Come to Inspect Sandstone Pavement, so Plentiful in St. Paul.

St. Paul had as its guests yesterday a dozen or more of Chicago aldermen and officials, and their visit here was to inspect sandstone paving, which Chicago is thinking of adopting.

The party included Ald. Snow, Prestedt, Bennett, Eldmann, Minweggen, Dever, Finn, Sitts, O'Connell, Ruxton, Buttner, Board Members Maly, Ericson, Schilling, Klobassa, and John Hittle, chief engineer.

The officials were really the guests of the Kettle River Sandstone company, and they left last night for the quarries at Sandstone to inspect the material. While in St. Paul the officials also visited Minneapolis.

St. Paul has more sandstone paving than any city in the Northwest, and the officials inspected the material here closely. The only stone paving that Chicago has is granite, and it is unsatisfactory. It wears smooth and yet maintains enough grit on its surface to prevent slipping.

WANTS BOYS KEPT FROM SLOT MACHINES

Rev. S. G. Smith Expresses His Opinion to Mayor Smith.

Dr. S. G. Smith, of the People's church, thinks minors should not be allowed to play the slot machines to be found in many of the cigar stores in St. Paul.

He told Mayor Smith so yesterday and added that the owners of the machines should be warned.

"I have nothing to say against the presence of the machines," Dr. Smith said to the Mayor, "but it is positively harmful to the youth of the city to play them. It encourages gambling. As far as those who have reached the age of discretion, they are to be pitied, not censured, if they insist on putting their money into such devices. There is no way of stopping them, but the youngster can be controlled. The only way to keep temptation away from him is to deny him the use of the machines."

Mayor Smith agreed with the divine.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF CITY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Rebecca Leonard, Who Has Lived Here 40 Years, Dies at Hospital.

Mrs. Rebecca Leonard, widow of the late William W. Leonard, an old settler of St. Paul, died yesterday at St. Joseph's hospital of pneumonia, after an illness of six weeks. Mrs. Leonard came to St. Paul from St. Louis with her husband forty years ago, and had resided in St. Paul continuously since. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Catherine Murphy, 761 Cedar street, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Adolph Glesen, 825 Mound street.

Since the death of her husband, over a year ago, Mrs. Leonard had been residing with her granddaughter, Mrs. Glesen. The funeral will be held Monday morning from the residence of Mrs. Catherine Murphy at 8:30, with services at the Cathedral at 9 o'clock.

A bald head, or Ayer's Hair Vigor? You can't have both.

There is a revulsion of feeling in the council over Thursday night's action in throwing out all the bids received by the city for supplying the city with its own posts.

"It was a grave error," says Assessor Libbey.

NO TROOPS NEEDED

Gen. W. A. Kobbé Returns From Leech Lake.

There is no need of a military force in the Leech lake country.

This, it is understood, will be the substance of Gen. W. A. Kobbé's report to the war department, which will be forwarded to Washington tomorrow.

Gen. Kobbé returned from Leech lake yesterday. He was ordered to the Indian reservation last week, when rumors became rife of a big outbreak in that section. Reports said that the Chippewas were planning to make war on the whites in the vicinity of the lake reservation because they disliked the operations on the Morris timber act.

The attention of the interior department was called to the action of the Indians and Secretary Wilson asked the war department to conduct a thorough investigation of the affair.

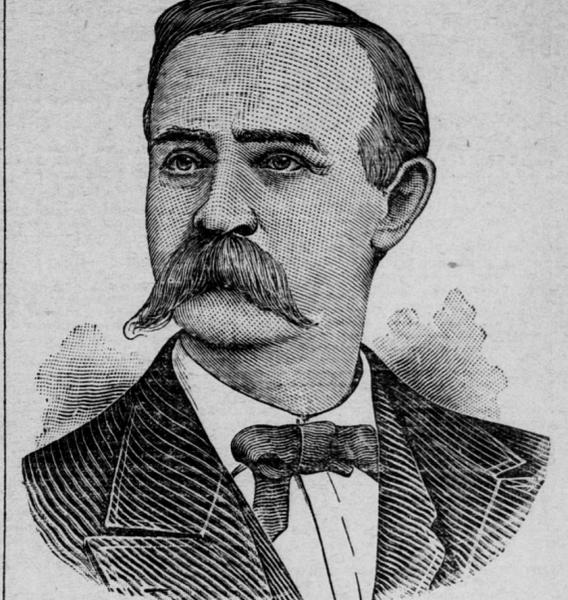

Gen. Kobbé was commissioned to go to the reservation and Friday completed his investigation. At the army building nothing definite was given out regarding the nature of the general's report, but from another source it was learned that Gen. Kobbé will recommend that no troops be sent to Leech lake.

The report will further say that while the Indians were in an ugly mood for a few days, there never was any danger of a general outbreak.

CURED BY SWAMP-ROOT

Suffered With Inflammation—Catarrh of the Bladder and Weak Kidneys.

Hon. D. A. Montgomery's Interview with the Editor of the Nashville American.

HON. D. A. MONTGOMERY.

Mr. Montgomery, ex-Member of State Legislature, was recently interviewed by the Nashville, Tenn. American, regarding his cure by Swamp-Root.

"My indorsement of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root cannot be written strong enough. I had been greatly troubled with my kidneys and with what the doctors termed inflammation at the neck of the bladder. Was obliged to pass water very frequently day and night, often with smarting and burning. Sometimes my back would get so lame and sore that I was almost helpless. I tried several doctors and medicines to no good effect, when finally I heard that Dr. Kilmer would send a sample bottle of his kidney medicine, Swamp-Root, free by mail. I sent at once and received a sample bottle without delay. After trying the sample I concluded it was just the medicine I needed. I purchased a liberal supply from my merchant and friend, Mr. E. J. Eslinger. Today I am a well man, and can ride horseback and drive with any of my friends. I cannot recommend Swamp-Root too highly for what it has done for me. You are at liberty to use this letter or refer anyone to me, and I will gladly tell them about my past troubles and what a wonderful remedy this Swamp-Root is. I am very glad to recommend it to others at every opportunity. Mr. James Ivens, of Saundersville, Tenn., and many others are taking it with good results.

Yours very truly, D. A. Montgomery

Worsham, Sumner Co., Tenn., Nov. 11th.

HAPPY DAYS

When Friends Say "How Well You Look."

What happy days are those when all our friends say "How well you look." We can't improve steadily by a little care in the selection of food just as this young man did.

"I had suffered from dyspepsia for three years and last summer was so bad I was unable to attend school," he says; "I improved steadily by a little care in the selection of food just as this young man did."
