SUNDAY, NOV. 22, 1903. SUCCESS OF THE TWIN CITY JOBBERS.

No other interest has done more to build up the prosperity of these cities and to aid in the development of the great Northwest than the Twin City Jobbers.

While seeking business for itself, it has never lost sight of the great principle that it could win and hold territory only by offering to the merchants within its field the largest and best supply of commodities on the most reasonable terms.

It has had many a battle to fight. Its territory, rich as it is beyond that which most cities can hope to command, subject to invasion in different directions, has been the theater of a bitter competition.

The point to be noted is that this has been a struggle not merely of one interest, not merely for success in certain lines of business activity, but for the maintenance of business supremacy by these communities.

This magnificent work, carried on unflinchingly, year after year, is the achievement of our united business strength. Business men have been unsparring of themselves and their resources in prosecuting it.

to these men. So do the people of the Northwest, who through their agency have had kept open to them the largest and most favorable business opportunities.

HATCHET REFORM.

The strenuous Mrs. Nation went in search of the strenuous Mr. Roosevelt and found that strenuously alone will not serve as passport to his presence.

In fact persons of the screaming sort never effect any permanent reform. Mrs. Nation might smash every saloon in a community and the next day they would spring up in different locations.

The real uplifting of men is accomplished when through conviction of its evil effect, they will leave drink alone. It will not be necessary to abolish saloons to do this; all that is necessary is to convert men to better, lives so that they will take their support away from saloons.

In reality there is no more sin in selling liquor than in selling groceries. Selling fire-arms and drugs is probably responsible for many deaths and much sin.

Men do not reform in bulk any more than they become sinners in bulk; individually they sin and individually must they be converted.

THE RULE OF THE MAJORITY.

"The beautiful," once remarked a philosopher, "is the splendor of the true." Were he alive today, cynicism would be apt to supplant his faith.

The reason for this lack is not far to seek. The majority still persists in rejecting the best in favor of the mediocre. That which is not comprehended is not a stimulus that urges on to mastery, but a bore.

the individual of paramount importance characterizes this majority that rules.

If there were no minority in the country, the condition of the majority would be hopeless and comfortable. But, fortunately for the nation, in every community there are an indefatigable few that chafe under the rule of the majority.

CLEANING THE STREETS.

Everybody is glad that the city administration has seen its way clear to remedying the very disagreeable conditions arising out of the unexpected and unavoidable exhaustion of the street cleaning fund.

The remedy for this has been applied. Under the charter the health department is the only one that can assume authority in an emergency without specific funds at its command.

Any further delay in carrying out the other reform mentioned will be scarcely less than criminal. There is no difficulty about it whatever. The street railway company is plainly obligated under the terms of its bargain with the city to clean the spaces covered by and between its tracks.

A NEW WOMAN'S NEWSPAPER.

There is now being published daily in London a newspaper devoted exclusively to the interests of women. Although called the Daily Mirror, it is by no means so frivolous as its title would seem to indicate.

We have no quarrel with them, but we do quarrel with the disingenuous and hypocritical pretense that it was reform that was beaten, and not Tom Platt. It is a slander upon New York city to say that more than 300,000 of its people prefer iniquity to uprightiness.

ing of bonnet bulletins, fashion has been relegated to the eleventh page.

Since the newspaper contains twenty pages, the editor, by making the fashion page a middle page, may be said to have struck a happy medium.

But the English editor has gone further than this, and it is to be hoped that he will fare the better for it. The new women's newspaper contains a joke column, an innovation that Eddie Bok himself has never yet ventured upon.

Having done the gallant thing by the new woman, it is not to be supposed that the editor will have smooth sailing. A single column devoted to women's interests has been known to turn an editor's hair gray.

REAL ENEMIES OF REFORM.

The comments which continue to be made by those who should know better upon the late election in New York city are doing infinite injury to the cause of all municipal reform.

Any sane man, any man who is himself honestly in sympathy with reform ideas, ought to know better than this, either as regards the policy or the fact. He ought to know that when such an issue as this is presented to the people of New York or any other city, and so recognized by them on its merits, they will invariably and by an overwhelming majority choose the better part.

Put away the soldier man. To the rock pile with him! If Washington is to be made clean let us not hesitate because one of the offenders happens to be a mere mule driver.

INCENDIARY ADVICE.

Mayor Harrison will pardon the suggestion, but has it occurred to him to try the expedient of calling the strikers and the street car company together and reading to them Gov. Yates' Thanksgiving proclamation?

MAKES IT EASIER AROUND.

It is announced that the knaiser is again able to talk. Let's hope he will take unlimited "leave to print" and not try to make up for lost time.

OPEN UP VERBAL PYROTECHNICS BOX.

The London Mail refers to the Goelet wedding as a "barbaric debauch of color, perfume and expensiveness."

OPPORTUNITY FOR ONE J. HAY.

Dowie has declared in favor of President Roosevelt, but by the national committee may induce him to retreat.

THAT MUST HAVE BEEN BULLY.

Nimrod Roosevelt must have sighed when he read that Lord Elphinstone's party in Alaska had shot a bull moose weighing 1,575 pounds.

PROVIDED FOR ALL EMERGENCIES.

If Mr. Bryan were to get polypos of the larynx, however, he could still hurl the harpoon from the hurricane deck of the Commoner.

PLEASURABLE.

Another cut has been made in the price of whisky. The dog days are not without their pleasant side for the Kentucky colonels.

HOPES FOR COLOMBIA.

Colombia need not wholly despair. J. P. Morgan & Co. have been appointed fiscal agents of the "Republic of Panama."

TOOK HIM LITERALLY AT HIS WORD.

Mr. Roosevelt's motto has become the shibboleth of the Chicago strikers, who "speak easy and carry a big club."

HIS FINISH.

"Straight the flush of morning comes," sang the gamster, and U came. With two corking hands against him. That pot finished on the game.

say this think more of the fashion of a rabidly partisan phrase than they do of reform or good government anywhere. They are exactly like the other Republicans in New York city who did Platt's bidding at the expense of Low's defeat.

THE BIG, BIG D.

A regular army man is in durance in Washington because he emulated the example of Capt. Corcoran and said, "dammit." He said it in the uncouth manner of a foreman hand and he was inspired to this breach of good manners because a policeman ordered him to drive his team out of the way of the approaching carriage of the first lady of the land.

But the policeman was shocked beyond expression. His amazement and surprise were not shown by the expression of his eyes, as in the case of Sir Joseph Porter. He did not proceed to a gentlemanly deprecation of the sinister exclamation.

SHAKOPEE ARGUS.

The St. Paul Daily Globe, ever in the front rank in its advancement on the great high road of prosperity, ever alert to the wants and needs of the public, has very much improved its widely read publication in that from now on its Sunday edition will contain eight pages in colors.

REDWOOD GAZETTE.

The St. Paul Globe has certainly developed into a great morning newspaper, and has earned its right to a place alongside the best. Commencing last Sunday it issued eight pages of color with its Sunday edition, a feature which it promises to continue.

LITTLE FALLS DEMOCRAT.

The St. Paul Daily Globe is forging to the front as a metropolitan newspaper, and besides its strong editorial features, and its ample news service, it has added a number of colored supplement that is equal to the best in that line.

GREENWOOD GOPHER.

The St. Paul Globe blossomed out last Sunday with an up-to-date colored paper, and has earned its right to a place alongside the best. Commencing last Sunday it issued eight pages of color with its Sunday edition, a feature which it promises to continue.

ANOKA FREE PRESS.

The St. Paul Globe is now issuing a Sunday edition which in point of attractiveness and general merits is the equal if not the superior of the best Sunday publication in the country.

BLUE EARTH POST.

The editorial and news features of the Daily Globe are second to none in the Northwest, and the last Sunday Globe was a beauty.

WHAT MINNESOTA EDITORS THINK OF THE GLOBE

Editor of The Globe. Sir: Permit me to congratulate you upon the great improvements wrought in the tone and appearance of The Daily Globe. The Globe is now one of the most readable papers that reaches this office.

Editor of The Globe. Sir: Permit me to offer sincere congratulations on your edition of last Sunday. The Globe, always in the foreground as a newspaper, has completed its triumph over other Northwestern newspapers by the addition of the illustrated and magazine supplement.

Editor of The Globe. Sir: The improvement in the Daily Globe during the past three months has been quite noticeable, particularly in the new colored supplement that is equal to the best in that line.

Editor of The Globe. Sir: I deem the Daily Globe the very best of its class. Yours very truly, A. E. Haven.
