CASPER ERNST IS ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE

Strain Upon the Imprisoned Financier Likely to End in Illness.

Casper Ernst is telling upon Close confinement, St. Paul's get-rich-quick man.

His friends and family are greatly concerned regarding his health, and there are grave fears that a bed of sickness is not far off.

Monday he will be formally arraigned before Judge Orr, and at his own request the trial is to be hastened as speedily as possible. He yesterday asked if the hearing could not be had without his presence, but he was told that such was impossible.

Ernst has had a physician once since he became a resident of the county jail, and he is now daily taking a course of medicine prescribed by the doctor.

With a knowledge for weeks, if not for months, of the facts that were slowly but surely overtaking him, the strain was great, and now there is a collapse.

Crowd Eager to See Ernst.

The desire to see Ernst approaches the morbid and Sheriff Justus and the jail attendants are kept busy turning down requests to see him. Yesterday morning quite a number gathered at the court house, believing that the hearing was to be held, and in the afternoon similar curiosity was shown.

Tomorrow morning, when the hearing will be held, it is expected that the court room will not hold the crowd that is expected to see him. Yesterday Sheriff Justus will have an examination of deputies on hand.

The corridors on the fourth floor, where the hearing will be held, will also be well packed.

On this occasion tea and wafers will be served in the rest room, and a plenteous of coffee, sandwiches and cake in the main reading room.

The ladies' board has invited to assist it Mrs. R. M. Newport, who is honorary president; Mrs. Kenneth Clark, wife of the president of the men's board; Mrs. H. A. Campbell, wife of the vice president; Mrs. R. C. Jefferson, Mrs. Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. E. N. Saunders, Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Mrs. M. D. F. Young, Mrs. George E. Young and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery.

A large number of young women will be in attendance throughout the rooms to make it pleasant for the guests.

There will be informal exercises in the chapel, at which brief congratulatory remarks will be made. Miss Eleanor Miller will give readings, Miss Louie Cochran will sing and the Bethel band will discourse music in its own inimitable manner.

ARE BUSY REHEARSING "THE GONDOLIERS"

Central High School Glee Club Making Progress With the Opera.

"The Gondoliers," the operetta to be presented by the Central High School Glee club Dec. 30 and 31 is already moulding itself into shape under the direction of Miss Olive Long, the teacher of music in the high schools. For over a month the chorus has met and practiced its songs on Mondays and Thursdays and those playing the principal parts rehearse on Wednesdays and Fridays. The orchestra, under the direction of Milton Fristone, meets every Tuesday. Last Friday they all met together and held a full rehearsal on the stage.

Trials for the cast of "The Foresters," an operetta to be presented by the Junior and senior classes of the Mechanic Arts high school, have been held, but the cast has not yet been announced. Miss Colter has charge of the dramatic part, while Dr. Little will direct the music. "The Foresters" will be put on about the middle of January, and will be the only play given under the auspices of the school.

The Juniors and seniors at Central have not decided on their class play, which will be given the last of April.

ARE WORKED OVER THE "PORK BARREL"

Republican Congressmen Are Nervous About River and Harbor Bills.

Globe Special Washington Service, 1417 G Street.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The "insurgent" movement among those members of the Republican majority in the house who are worried about the annual "pork barrel" otherwise known as the river and harbor bill, seems likely to win a large number of recruits. Within the last few days there have been signs of an organized movement among some of the Republican members to force Speaker Cannon to allow a river and harbor bill to be reported at the coming regular session. The leaders in this bloodless but determined revolution, however, will lie low until after the committee assignments are made by the speaker. Many of the Republican members are using every art known to secure choice committee appointments from "Uncle Joe."

The same conditions exist in regard to a public building bill. A large number of these measures have already been introduced by members of the house and senate representing every part of the country, and there will be much disappointment if Speaker Cannon and some of the more conservative leaders of the majority party persist in their policy of economy.

Many of the shrewdest of the Republicans are really alarmed at the prospect of deficit in the United States treasury at the end of the current fiscal year. There is now a deficit for the fiscal period amounting to nearly $2,000,000, and there is no present prospect that the treasury situation will improve. If a river and harbor bill and a public building bill should be passed at the coming session of congress, the appropriations would have no effect on the expenditures of the government in the current fiscal year. The fiscal period will not end until June 30. The appropriations, however, become available after July 1, just at the beginning of the presidential campaign. The leaders of the party are in poor policy to authorize any action on the river and harbor bill that would cause an unusual drain on the treasury.

A good many Republican members of the house are in favor of two issues. They do not wish to be called upon in the coming national campaign to answer charges of extravagance in public expenditures, but, on the other hand, they wish to see appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors and for the erection of public buildings in order to please their constituents and to give jobs for themselves in their own districts.

Speaker Cannon is obdurate. He insists on an economical session and he will probably be supported by the little coterie of Republican members who make rules for the conduct of business in the house and who crack the party lash over the heads of all opponents, whether of their own party or of the minority.

There is some anxiety on account of the prospect that a treaty will soon be concluded with the new republic of Panama for the right of way for an isthmian canal. As soon as this convention is concluded the government of the United States will be called upon to pay over to the new republic a sum of $40,000,000 and in all probability something like $10,000,000 to Panama. This will make a tremendous drain on the cash balance in the treasury, how large it is not known, but at about $22,000,000, and nearly $175,000,000 of this is in national bank depositories in various parts of the country. The money cannot be drawn in any considerable amount from the banks without danger of creating serious disturbances of business, and the working balance in the treasury proper is less than $20,000,000.

Secretaries of the treasury have held that there should always be in the treasury a "working balance" of not less than $50,000,000. Secretary Shaw, who has the reputation of being a conservative, is enough, but even at that the prospective drain on the treasury for the purpose of meeting the canal payments is enough to make many conservative leaders in congress wary as to the size of the appropriation bills.

BOTH FEEL

What Proper Food Does for Both Mind and Body.

Physical health, mental health, indeed almost everything good on this earth depend in great measure upon proper food.

Without health nothing is worth while and health can be won almost every time by proper feeding on the scientific food Grape-Nuts.

A California trained nurse proved this: "Three years ago I was taken very sick, my work as a trained nurse having worn me out both in body and mind, and medicine failed to relieve me at all. After seeing a number of physicians and specialists and getting no relief I was very much discouraged and felt that I would die of general nervous and physical collapse.

"My condition was so bad I never imagined food would help me but on the advice of a friend I tried Grape-Nuts. The first package brought me so much relief that I quit the medicines and used Grape-Nuts steadily three times a day. The result was that within six months I had so completely regained my strength and health that I was back nursing again and I feel the improvement in my brain power just as plainly as I do in physical strength.

"After my own wonderful experience with Grape-Nuts I have recommended it to my patients with splendid success and it has worked wonders in cases of many invalids whom I have attended professionally." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Lieut. Gen. Young, Chief of Staff, Makes His First Report.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Lieut. Gen. Young, chief of staff, made his first report as secretary of war. He urges the re-establishment of the canteen. Regarding the general staff system he says:

"The experience gained during this short period does not afford sufficient basis for an exhaustive discussion of the merits of the system. In the results thus far attained the wisdom of the authorities in promoting this measure seems fully justified."

McCardy's Hostility to Guard.

J. J. McCardy, whose hostility to the national guard has been apparent on various occasions, again came in contact with that body during the past week. It was all over an invitation to parade in connection with the ceremonies attending the dedication of the soldiers' monument. Friday is a bad day to secure a large turnout of the guardsmen, as every time the boys are called out they jeopardize their positions, and the occasions for parade have been numerous during the past few months. The general order of respect for the veterans of the Civil war they mustered what men they could and made a showing in the parade on Friday.

It is very probable that the selection of a lieutenant colonel of the First regiment will occur at a meeting to be held for that purpose next Saturday. Each side and line officer will have a vote. One of the majors will be chosen, but just which one is very uncertain. The greatest harmony prevails in the regiment, and the past few months. The general order of respect for the veterans of the Civil war they mustered what men they could and made a showing in the parade on Friday.

Again the armory board appeared to have been victorious in the armory question, and will secure the $47,000 needed for the completion of the new armory. The auditorium feature did not receive the approval of the armory board. It was not reasonable to believe that after the long fight that has been put up on the proposition they would now allow outsiders to come and spoil the show and reap the benefits of their battle. The work on the armory is still going on, and an attempt will be made to finish the brick work for the second story in order to allow the iron structural work to go on.

The taking away by death of an enlisted man in the Minnesota national guard has received little recognition at headquarters further than being dropped from rolls owing to death. Adj. Gen. S. H. Kelsey, of Kansas, finds room in his monthly general order to announce the death of a private and enclose it in a black border.

May Re-establish the Canteen.

The prospects are very strong now of a change in the laws which will enable the re-establishment of the army canteen. The anti-canteen workers little realize how much they are reducing the morale of the enlisted men in the regular army. Their arbitrary law has caused him to leave his post and go out among the civilians whenever he desires a stimulant, and as a result he is thrown into surroundings which bode him no good.

Sergeant P. Miller, artillery battalion quartermaster sergeant and Corporal L. V. Hurd, who have been assisting Capt. Hart at Lake City during the past summer and fall, have returned to the city.

Teachers' College Starts.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The cornerstone of the new Chicago Teachers college, a $500,000 structure, at Sixty-eighth street and Stewart avenue, was laid this afternoon by the Masonic fraternity.
