NEGRO TROOPS MAY FIGHT NEZ PERCES

Joe Morrigeau's Band of Outlaws in Montana Is Reinforced by Indians, Whose Attitude Is Most Defiant—Soldiers Arrive and Will Try to Get the Cattle Before the Indians Are Brought Up.

PLAINS, Mont., Nov. 27.—There is every indication of trouble between the colored troops sent up to the reservation to eject Joe Morrigeau and his band of outlaw Nez Perce Indians which are said to be supporting Morrigeau.

The soldiers arrived at 3:30 this morning and an hour later were loaded into wagons and started on the forty-mile drive to the Little Bitter Root. Three hours later government officials came in by another trail and reported that Morrigeau was still on the reservation and defiant. They state that the Indian police positively refused to attempt to eject the cattleman owing to their fear of the Nez Perces. The Nez Perces are a band of about 100 under Chief Carrier Water and have been in isolated sections of the Flathead reservation for the last year. They refuse to recognize the federal officers or the Indian police and have stayed off the Flatheads for months.

Morrigeau has engaged the band to assist him and unless Maj. Torrey and his soldiers get hold of the cattle before the Nez Perces are brought up trouble is bound to occur. The troops sent from Fort Missoula are all veterans and picked fighters and are expected to clear outclass twice the number of Nez Perces.

A courier arrived at Plains this evening to report that the troops were within two hours' march of the Morrigeau camp and had halted for the night.

THINK ROOSEVELT TOO STRENUOUS

Hoosier Republicans Ask Their Senators to Labor With Him.

UP WITH MARK HANNA, DOWN WITH ROOSEVELT

MARK HANNA.

Systematic Republican Movement to Boom Uncle Mark for the Presidency Develops—Scores of Letters Are Sent Out Extolling the Senator and Saying Things to the President's Discredit.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 27.—That certain Republicans are determined to get for Senator Marcus A. Hanna the presidential nomination next year is positive from the amount of literature floating in this city and sections of North Carolina. Circulars and newspaper clippings have been received by Republicans and Democrats alike, urging them to work for the nomination of Senator Hanna and use their influence in forming Hanna clubs all over the South.

Among the prominent men here to receive the circulars are George E. Bowden, former member of congress; R. R. Thorp, former member of congress; Mr. Banks, collector of port; Thomas Lowrey, chairman of the Republican city committee, and Floyd Hughes, a prominent lawyer. Mr. Bond is one of the signers of the letter, and the others cannot be ascertained.

Accompanying these letters is a personal letter, the contents of which are kept secret by the parties who received them. It is a peculiar fact that although Democrats received circulars exactly like those that were sent to Republicans none of them received a copy of the personal letter.

Strictly Personal. One Republican in this city has in his possession one of the letters marked "Strictly personal." A newspaper man today got some extracts from the letter in question, which are as follows:

"It is almost impossible to elect President Roosevelt should he receive the nomination next year for three reasons. "1. He has violated the policy of

HE HAD TWO MINDS

Wrote Book of Which He Has No Recollection.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 27.—What is pronounced by physicians a case of double consciousness has been brought to public notice through a suit filed by David Charters against the city of Denver for $15,000 for injuries to his head sustained by falling on a defective sidewalk. After the accident, which occurred Dec. 30, 1901, Charters proclaimed himself "Daniel, the Prophet," and wrote a book entitled, "Daniel's Vision and Mission: Is Heaven Real? Is Hell Real?" He preached on the streets and established a prosperous mission. He also traveled about the country as an evangelist. Charters, a few weeks ago, fully recovered from his injury and he declared that the interval since the accident was a blank to him. He had no knowledge of having written a book. After reading the book he pronounced its contents idiotic.

TO CLEAR HIS NAME

Special to The Globe. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 27.—Capt. Carter, who will be freed tomorrow, said tonight: "I shall live for the sole purpose of clearing my name. I was unjustly imprisoned and accused. The record must be cleared." Capt. Carter will have the opportunity desired in the federal court in Chicago, where the government is suing to recover $400,000 bonds given by Carter's father-in-law on the ground that they came from the contractor.

THREATENS TO FORECLOSE ON ZION CITY

J. G. Hammond, a St. Paul Man, Holds a Note for $15,000, Signed by the "Divine Healer," and Secured by a Mortgage on the Original Dowie Farm—"Elijah" Asks for an Extension but Hammond Will Press the Case.

John Alexander Dowie's Zion City, with its beautiful homes and imposing tabernacle and hundreds of other costly buildings, may soon be sold to satisfy a claim held by J. G. Hammond, president of the Manitoba-Dakota Land company, whose home is at 327 Prior avenue.

"Elijah" must pay a note of $15,000 which matured last July, or the St. Paul man will commence foreclosure proceedings in one of the Cook county courts. This ultimatum was sent to the "divine healer" a few days ago and unless there is a settlement effected at once Mr. Hammond will attempt to get control of the property which was given to secure the note.

Three years ago, when Dowie was hard pressed for coin, he borrowed $15,000 from S. N. Cole, of Corinne, Utah. The note was secured by the original Dowie farm, on which property, Zion City was built. Last May, J. G. Hammond bought the Dowie paper from Mr. Cole and on July 10 the note fell due. Since then Mr. Hammond has been busy trying to collect. In vain did he ask for his money. Dowie begged for time and time was given, but when the coin was not forthcoming, Mr. Hammond finally placed the claim in the hands of Horton & Deneberg for collection. The attorneys yesterday forwarded the note to Reynolds & Barry, of Chicago, with instructions to get the money or to take the town.

When "Elijah" signed his name to the Cole note three years ago and secured the loan with a mortgage on the Dowie farm, Zion City was in its infancy. Wheat and corn were growing in the fields of the "healer's" domain and the property did not greatly exceed in value the amount of the loan.

Since then Dowie has flourished. The corn fields have been converted into a busy city, with fine, multi-story houses, a tabernacle, public buildings and the famous Zion City hotel. Dowie's new home, too, was erected on the site, which was given as security for the Cole loan.

More than 150 homes have been built on the ground adjoining the Dowie palace for his disciples, and these have been leased to his tenants for a period of 1,000 years. Mr. Hammond may soon be their new landlord unless Dowie settles.

When seen as his home, 327 Prior avenue, last night, Mr. Hammond said that he was going to force the collection. "Mr. Dowie," said he, "must pay the money or I'll get the farm. I have been trying to get my money since the note matured, July 10, and have been far from successful. A few days ago I placed the claim with Horton & Deneberg, with instruction to them press 'Elijah' for the money."

"Several times since July 10 Dowie has tried to have me extend the note. I am willing to do so at my own terms, but not on his terms. Probably he will effect a compromise, but I want my money."

"How did I get the note? I bought it from S. N. Cole, of Corinne, Utah. The interest was deducted from the original sum, but since the date of maturity no interest has been paid, although five months have passed."

MURDER AND ARSON ARE SUSPECTED

Boarding House at Tower Is Burned, One Man Being Killed and Three Missing.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 27.—As a result of the burning of Thomas' saloon and boarding house at Tower at 4:30 a. m. today, Thomas Gheen, pilot on the steamer Odd Fellow, was burned to death and twenty-five guests, asleep in the building, narrowly escaped cremation. Frank Thomas, a teamster, was seriously burned about the face. Three other occupants of the place are missing.

A half brother of Gheen, who was sleeping with him, says he was awakened by the smoke and Gheen arose and said he would escape by the window. Gheen's charred body was identified by rings that were found when the remains were dug out of the ruins. The pine building was enveloped in flames in a few minutes and the gowned sleepers leaped from the windows along the entire length of the second story. All lost their clothing. It is reported that several had rolls of bills, the result of pay day on the 24th.

The theory is entertained by some Tower people that a murder was committed and the murderer fled the premises to escape under cover of the excitement and hide the evidences of his crime. The mercury registered 23 degrees below zero at the time. The suffering of the guests was terrible. None of them had time to properly clothe themselves before getting out of the burning building.

The missing men were strangers in Tower, and their names could not be ascertained tonight. The theory of murder is based on the fact that one man appeared fully clothed early after the discovery of the fire and has since gone to another range town. He is under surveillance.

MESSMER BECOMES ARCHBISHOP

Pope Ratifies Green Bay Prelate's Nomination for Milwaukee Diocese.

ROME, Nov. 27.—The prefect of the propaganda, Cardinal Gotti, today submitted to the pope the name of Bishop Messmer, of Green Bay, Wis., as the choice of the propaganda for archbishop of Milwaukee in succession to the late Archbishop Katzer, and the pontiff ratified the nomination.

Panamans Do Not Want to Be Witness Says Wood Was Party to Publication of Article Attacking Gen. Brooke.

PANAMA, Nov. 27.—The plan outlined in these dispatches yesterday by which the treaty was to be signed and dispatched to Washington on the day of its arrival has been abandoned because it is feared that such rapidity of action might give the impression that the treaty had been hastily and inadequately considered and thus lay the members of the junta open to criticism. It is certain, however, that the treaty will be ratified without the slightest opposition.

In governmental circles here it is now said that the junta, as soon as the treaty has been ratified, will address a note to Secretary Hay asking that $2,000,000 be paid in cash to the Panama government and that $8,000,000 shall be transferred in such a manner that it can be invested, the interest being payable to the government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—The state department has advised by cable from Minister Beaupre at Bogota, dated Nov. 25, in which he states that considerable excitement still prevails at the Colombian capital; that there is much talk of raising an army, but no troops have yet been enlisted, and that there are rumors in the city of a revolution in the state of Cauca directed against the Marroquin government.

Rumors have reached the state department from another source, that Gen. Reyes' mission to Washington is primarily to try to array opposition senators against the ratification of the Bunau Varilla-Hay canal treaty. There also is talk of the formation of a combination of South American countries directed against the United States.

COLON, Nov. 27.—The captain of the royal mail steamer Trent, which has arrived from Cartagena, reports that while he was lying in the harbor of Cartagena the United States consul at that place, Luther P. Ellsworth, was invited to come aboard as his (the captain's) guest. Mr. Ellsworth responded to the invitation, but when half way up the gangplank was stopped by Colombian soldiers and turned back. Consul Ellsworth told the people on the Trent that he had been repeatedly insulted by the Colombian officials.

TELLS SEVERELY ON GEN. WOOD

Witness Says Wood Was Party to Publication of Article Attacking Gen. Brooke.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—The senate committee on military affairs today heard Maj. James E. Runcie, of Havana, probably the most important witness that will be offered by the opponents of Gen. Leonard Wood in their attempt to prevent his confirmation to be major general. Maj. Runcie told the committee of a dinner at Santiago, Cuba, attended by himself, Gen. Wood and Ray Stannard Baker, a newspaper man, at which it is alleged, was planned the magazine article attacking Maj. Gen. Brooke that has figured conspicuously in the Wood case. Maj. Runcie's story resulted in the issue of subpoenas for three other witnesses, among whom is Gen. Brooke.

Maj. Runcie explained that he had acted as the confidential adviser of Gen. Wood for nearly two years and that they lived together at Santiago. It was while they were living in the same house that Mr. Baker went to Santiago in search of material for a magazine article. A meeting was arranged between the men and a dinner followed, testified Maj. Runcie, at which they discussed the plan to have published an article which would exploit the success of Gen. Wood in dealing with affairs at Santiago and draw a comparison with the situation at Havana unfavorable to the administration of Gen. Brooke.

Maj. Runcie declared that Gen. Wood asked him to write the article and that he had done so. The article was given to Baker and published in February, 1900, over the name of Maj. Runcie. He asserted that Gen. Wood knew what the article contained and that they had corresponded about it as the result of the furor created by its publication.

WIFE'S MISTAKE HAS FATAL CONSEQUENCES

TIFFIN, Ohio, Nov. 27.—The family of Frank Miller, consisting of husband, wife and three children, was exterminated today through the forgetfulness of the wife, who last night mixed strychnine with cornmeal. The cornmeal was mixed with other meals today and used in preparing breakfast. Soon the five persons were beyond medical assistance, dying in a few minutes.

YOUNG BANDITS FIGHT OFFICERS

Three Boys Concerned in the Chicago Car Barn Murders Are Captured in Indiana After a Desperate Battle—All Are Wounded, a Detective Is Mortally Shot and an Heroic Brakeman Killed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Chained wrist to wrist, their hair matted to dried blood, their clothing covered with dust and dirt, two boys, Peter Niedermeier and Harvey Vandine, sat tonight in the presence of Mayor Harrison and Chief of Police O'Neil calmly confessing to their share in a three-month career of crime which has included nine murders, the wounding of five other men and a long series of robberies.

The two young bandits, neither of whom is over twenty-one years of age, together with their companion, Emil Roeskli, who is no older, were captured near Liverpool, Ind., today, after a fight, in which they battled against policemen, railroad detectives, railroad laborers and farmers. One man was killed, another fatally wounded and all three of the young bandits were wounded, but not seriously.

The Victims. The dead: T. J. SOVEA, brakeman on the Pennsylvania railway.

Wounded: Joseph Driscoll, detective on the Chicago police force, shot through abdomen and can live but a short time. Matthew Zimmer, detective on the Chicago police force, shot in head and arm.

Niedermeier was wounded in the hand by bird shot. Vandine was similarly injured and sustained in addition a flesh wound in the left thigh.

Roeskli was shot in the right hip. His wound is the most serious of any inflicted upon the three men.

The three men were wanted by the police for complicity in the murders at the car barns of the Chicago City Railway company on Aug. 3, when two men were killed, a third badly wounded and $2,250 stolen from the company. Gustave Marx, who last Saturday night murdered Officer John Quinn when the policeman endeavored to place him under arrest, confessed after his capture, that he, with the three men, had committed the crimes at the car barns. The hunt for Vandine, Niedermeier and Roeskli has been hot ever since. Although they knew that the entire police force was looking for them, the three men remained in the city until Wednesday morning.

"We were laying for a fellow that was a witness against Marx," said Vandine.

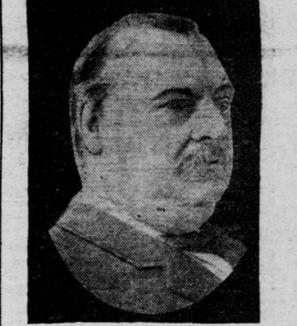

In a Dugout. On Wednesday they left Chicago, going to a dugout made by railway laborers near the tracks of the Michigan Central railway, near Miller's, Ind. Last night they spent in another dugout near Miller's Station, and there they were surprised by the police this morning.

Word was brought to the police last night by T. S. Reichers, a school teacher, near Clark Station, Ind., that three men answering the description

MR. CLEVELAND SAYS NO WITH A LARGE N

He Writes the Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle That He Will Never Again Be a Nominee for the Presidency—His Determination, He Says, "Is Unalterable and Conclusive."

GROVER CLEVELAND.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Grover Cleveland has sent the following letter to St. Clair McKelway, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle:

"I have wanted for a long time to say something which I think should be said to you before others. You can never know how grateful I am for the manifestation of kindly feeling towards me on the part of my countrymen which your paper has brought out. Your advocacy in the Eagle of my nomination for the presidency came to me as a great surprise and it has been seconded in such a manner by thoughtful sentiment that conflicting thoughts of gratitude and duty caused me to hesitate as to the time and manner of a declaration on my part concerning the subject—if such a declaration should seem necessary or proper.

"In the midst of it all, and in full view of every consideration presented,

I have not for a minute been able nor am I now able to make up my mind to the thought that in any circumstances or upon any consideration I should ever again become the nominee of my party for the presidency. My determination not to do so is unalterable and conclusive. This you, at least, ought to know from me and I should be glad if the Eagle were made the medium of its conveyance to the public."

The Eagle announced today that the support it had given Mr. Cleveland would now be given to Alton B. Parker, chief judge of the court of appeals of this state.

TAKEN EARLY BY REDS

White Woman Is Found Among South Dakota Indians.

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 27.—While on a recent hunting trip into the western part of the state Gov. Herreid at Cherry Creek subagency learned of the existence of a white woman among a band of Indians on that creek. On request of the governor Agent Warner sent out one of the police captains and had the woman brought in for a conference. She came reluctantly, as she evidently feared that an attempt was to be made to take her from her Indian home. The woman, who is about sixty years old, is the wife of Red Prairie Dog, one of the reservation Indians, and could neither speak nor understand the English language.

When first brought in she stated through the interpreter that she was not white, but Indian, but on being assured that no move was to be made to take her from her family she said that her father was white, but her mother Indian; that she had no desire to live among the whites, as the Indians were her people and that all her children were Indian. The woman has all the appearance of being full white, her eyes being blue, and her hair light where it has not turned grey, while her complexion is light.

The Indian tradition about this woman is that sixty years ago, when she was a mere babe, she was all which was left alive out of an emigrant train which was attacked far south of here, and that she was adopted by an Indian woman. She grew up among the Indians, adopting all their ways, and, aside from the color of her skin, is as much of an Indian in her traits and characteristics as any of them.

WRITER IS WEALTHY

James Lane Allen Makes Nearly Two Millions.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 27.—James Lane Allen, the novelist, has suddenly become a millionaire through a chance investment of a few hundred dollars in the Texas oil field. Some time ago he acquired a tract of 350 acres of land situated in Southeast Texas. The land was worth less than $5 per acre, and was practically of no use except for pasturage.

A few weeks ago a gusher oil well was brought in at Batson Prairie, within a mile of Allen's land. The new oil field has been the scene of the wildest excitement since then, and a town of 1,000 people has sprung up at Batson Prairie, where there was only one store building prior to the discovery of oil, and Mr. Allen could sell his entire tract at $3,000 per acre, but it is said he is holding it for $5,000 per acre, which would bring him a fortune of $1,750,000.
