FINANCIAL BILLSMinnesota Senator Introduces Two Measures Having to Do With National Banks—They Authorize State, County, City and Railroad Bonds as Securities and Empower Banks to Make Loans on Real Estate.Globe Special Washington Service, 1417 G Street.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—Senator Nelson today introduced a bill to enable national banks to loan a certain part of their funds on the security of farm real estate. In cities of not more than 20,000 inhabitants they are to be permitted to loan not to exceed one-third of the paid up capital and surplus, the security to consist of improved, occupied and cultivated farms not within the boundaries of any city, town or village, and such loan not to exceed one-third of the value of the security.

Senator Nelson also introduced a bill providing for increase of the circulating notes of national banks. It authorizes the secretary of the treasury to accept as the basis of circulation the bonds of any state, city or county which has been in existence as such for twenty-five years, and which for ten years previous to such deposit has not defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest, and which has 50,000 inhabitants, and whose indebtedness does not exceed 10 per cent of the valuation of the taxable property therein, or first mortgage bonds of any railroad, not including street railroads; the comptroller of the currency to issue the par value of currency for such bonds to the banks depositing them.

BUTTER SCORING WILL BE FINISHED TODAYSamples in the Competition Better
Grade Than Last Month.

Butter scoring in the state educational contest for December began yesterday and will be finished today. This month there are more than 100 sample tubs, of twenty pounds each, entered in the competition, and State Dairy Commissioner McConnell says that, as a whole, they constitute a finer lot of butter than was shown in the contest of last month, although that was considered exceptionally good.

The scoring is being done by B. D. White and Sam Haugdahl, of the state dairy and food department, and Prof. Haacker, of the state agricultural college, is referee.

The contests of the past two months have plainly shown, said Mr. McConnell yesterday, "that the Minnesota buttermakers are learning, and steadily improving, and that having got to the head of the procession they are going to stay there. We are not satisfied that we should have in this contest men who can make the best butter to be found in the country."

FINDS PTOMAINES
WERE IN THE SAUSAGEState Food Department Sheds Light on Death of Flatgaard Children.

Having waited for many months and employed various means of investigation, the state dairy and food commission is now definitely informed that ptomaines were present in the stomach of Irene Flatgaard. Irene was the three-year-old daughter of a farmer at Bergen, Minn., two of whose children died last spring after eating sausage, which it is believed contained poison.

The state medical department made some chemical investigation without result and the stomach of the child was then turned over to the chemist of the state dairy and food commission for analysis. H. T. Horveth, state chemist, has now reported to Commissioner McConnell that he found ptomaines in the tissues examined by him, but he is not prepared to say whether the child's death was due to poison until he has experimented further by inoculating guinea pigs, mice and rabbits with the supposed poisonous matter.

PRAYS FOR AN HOUR
AND TAKES POISONWalter Vanderwerker, Despondent, Swallows Laudanum
at Gospel Meeting.

Despondent because he felt unable to apply the teachings of religion to his life, Walter Vanderwerker, a man thirty years of age, attempted to commit suicide last night by drinking an ounce of laudanum in front of the Gospel Mission, 443 Jackson street.

After attending the evening services and praying fervently over an hour after their conclusion, Vanderwerker left the mission about 10 o'clock. Shortly after the front door was suddenly dashed open and Vanderwerker, with haggard face and glaring eyes, staggered in. Supt. E. R. Kenney, seeing the man, rushed to him, and Vanderwerker, placing the empty bottle in Kenney's hand, stammered: "I drank it!"

He fell over immediately and it was thought that he was dead. An examination revealed, however, that he still lived, and Kenney rushed to the telephone to call the police ambulance.

While waiting for the ambulance several devout adherents of the mission, who lingered about the place realizing that the man was still alive, offered up urgent prayers on bended knees for the life of the brother.

I couldn't bear the thought of his dying now," said Mrs. Inga Hough after the ambulance had removed the man. "I have labored hard with him and he showed that he wanted to do better. He had been drinking heavily, but seemed to break away from the habit. When he came here he prayed earnestly and even shed tears. A week ago we had him placed in the hospital, as he was ill, and only yesterday he was released. He was about here all day today and seemed in his usual mood. I noticed that he prayed a long time this evening."

He was revived at the city hospital and will recover.

AINSLIE IS DEAD

Was Once General Manager of the Northern Pacific.Special to The Globe.
CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Samuel Rutherford Ainslie, one of the best known railroad men in the West, died this evening at St. Mary's hospital of tuberculosis after a lingering illness. Mr. Ainslie had been at the hospital thirty days.

He was at one time connected with the Northern Pacific as division superintendent, with headquarters at Livingston, Mont. Later he was made general superintendent and then general manager, being associated at that time with Thomas F. Oakes and Henry Villard in the management of the road. Later Mr. Ainslie left the Northern Pacific to become general manager of the Wisconsin Central, and in 1893 left that road to take the presidency of the Chicago Terminal and Transfer company. He retired to private life three years ago.

COAL DEALER LOUX
HAS TRIAL BY JURYDefense Will Present Its Side of the Case Today.

Robert Loux, who was found guilty in police court last week on charge of selling short weight coal, was on trial before Judge Hine and a jury yesterday afternoon on a similar charge. The first trial was before Judge Hine without a jury and sentence was suspended until after the hearing on two other complaints. The state fined him yesterday afternoon and the trial will be resumed this afternoon.

The following jurors were selected: A. J. Fitch, John C. Fitzsimmons, Walter E. Fadden, Joseph M. Fleck, Charles H. Field, John C. Fehr, John Feely Jr., Eugene D. Fales, John L. Fenwick, Theodore J. Fleisch, James Fenstermaker and Paul G. Fagley.

ARE REDRAFTING
THE GAS FRANCHISECorporation Attorney and Gas Company Representative at the Task.

Attorney Carl Taylor and the officials of the St. Paul Gas company were in the city yesterday with Corporation Attorney Michael regarding the redrafting of the gas franchise. "We are not having any trouble," said Mr. Michael, at the conclusion of the conference. "It is more a matter of verbiage than doctrine, and I think everything will be arranged satisfactorily."

The meeting to consider the franchise will be held next Monday evening. If the draft is approved, the ordinance will then go to the two council bodies to be passed upon by them individually.

CLAIMS HE'S LICENSED
TO SMOKE OPIUMDope Fiend Shows Judge a Permit
From Minneapolis Officials.

Wm. Perkins, George Williams, Jas. Murphy and Nellie Williams, the four persons arrested when Detectives Haggerty and Fraser raided an opium den at 9 West Ninth street, were given "floaters" in the police court yesterday.

Perkins displayed in court a paper purporting to be a license to smoke opium in Minneapolis, and Judge Hine told him that he would not be allowed to smoke opium in St. Paul with the license, and reminded him that if he was found in St. Paul after twenty-four hours he would be arrested.

ARREST NEPHEW OF
JOHN G. CARLISLEIs Charged With Swindling a Young Woman in Minneapolis out of $250.

Word was received from Washington, D. C., last night of the arrest in that city of John G. Carlisle, said to be a nephew of John G. Carlisle, on the charge of swindling, preferred by Miss Clarice Heebner, of Minneapolis.

Carlisle is better known in Minneapolis under the name of J. J. Debralla, who recently opened up an "academy" and advertised that he would teach hypnotism in two lessons, and who really did hypnotize Miss Clarice Heebner, of 708 Eighth street south, into giving him $250 for an interest in his business.

The young man's star performance, however, was his marriage to Miss Bonnie Hine, daughter of Mrs. M. J. Scanlon, of Minneapolis. While conducting his occult academy he was living at a downtown hotel, representing himself as a youth of fashion and good family from the East. Shortly after getting Miss Heebner to invest he eloped with Miss Hinkle, and they were married at St. Paul Oct. 22.

Made Hypnotists for $25.
Debralla professed to make a hypnotist of a person in twenty lessons by mail for the sum of $25. His business grew to such an extent that he advertised for a partner to assist him, and he selected Miss Heebner as the best of the applicants.

He maintained elaborate offices in the Bank of Minneapolis building, but it developed later that the furnishings came from an installment house and only one payment was made upon the furniture. It has been revealed by the owners.

Some weeks ago a protested draft for $21, signed by Debralla, was returned to Minneapolis, and it is believed that the hypnotist "influenced" many other persons than Miss Heebner.

To a Globe reporter Debralla said some time before his departure from Minneapolis that he proposed to make all the money he could in Minneapolis and then leave for pastures new.

Lived Like a Swell.

Carlisle, or Debralla, resided at the West hotel and spent money lavishly. At the hotel he posed as a broker, but it is now remembered that at the time he was not about the hotel, Debralla was doing business in his offices in the Bank of Minneapolis building.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle departed for the East, and they have been in Washington for some weeks.

Before his departure it is reported that he secured a loan of something like $2,000 from Mr. Scanlon, the well-known lumberman.

Miss Heebner was before the grand jury again yesterday and it is believed another bill has been found against Debralla. Late last night the authorities were notified that Carlisle had been arrested at the Raleigh hotel in Washington, and would be brought to Minneapolis for trial.

REGISTERS NEGROES
AND IS KICKED OUTMob in a Virginia Towns Gets a Trifle Too Busy.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 8.—Democrats in the town of Berkeley have driven County Treasurer Lyons from his office, where it is charged, he was registering negro voters, and have the negroes penned up in one section of the town. The streets were filled with men armed with shot guns.

The riot was suppressed without the use of force. County Clerk Martin was assaulted in the police station while sitting at a table with a negro with him. He was roughly handled. County Treasurer Lyons was kicked down the stairs of the Martin building, in which he was registering of negroes was taking place. Many shots were fired, but no one was hurt.

The riot was caused by bitter political feeling which has existed between the straight-out Democratic element in Norfolk county and the fusion element, controlled by Martin. It is charged by the Democrats that the county officials presiding in the office of the improvement board had assembled there to collect the poll taxes from negroes surreptitiously, and that on the other hand obstacles are placed in the way of white Democrats qualifying to vote.

In the crowd were G. W. Rockefeller, a first cousin of the Standard Oil magnate, and Rev. Herbert Scholz, a Christian minister.

EX-POSTAL CLERKS
ARE CONVICTEDMcGregor and Upton Found Guilty of Conspiracy to Defraud the Government.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 8.—Former Postal Clerks Thomas W. McGregor and Columbus E. Upton were convicted today in the United States district court of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the purchase of 20,000 leather pouches for use in the free delivery service. Charles E. Smith, who received the order for the pouches through the influence of Upton and McGregor, was the principal witness against the accused.

Counsel for the convicted men made a motion for a new trial, and Judge Morris agreed to hear arguments on the motion Saturday. Bond in $5,000 was furnished by Upton's friends and he was released. McGregor is in charge of United States Marshal Langhammer pending the arrival of friends from Washington to furnish a similar amount of bail for him.

William S. Bryan Jr. of this city, for the defense, in his argument, said:

"First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne is overpaid for merely signing letters he does not read. The whole postoffice department is incompetently and shamelessly run and the government is bounding McGregor and Upton as scapegoats because of gross incompetency in conducting the affairs of the department."

He ridiculed Mr. Wynne as a "high roller" and a man who lived on champagne, green peas and canvas back ducks and did not attend to his business.

RAID OPIUM JOINT

Detectives Gather in Five Chinamen on Jackson Street.

A Chinese opium joint, at 439 Jackson street, was raided by the police shortly before midnight last night, and five celestials were arrested.

The raid was made by Detectives Fraser, Haggerty and Moran.

The Chinamen captured were Ho Jim, the proprietor of the joint; John Wing, Jo Peto, Yip Wing and R. Jim. The detectives also secured four pipes, a jar of opium and the accompanying paraphernalia.

The Chinamen made no resistance, save John Wing, a venerable Celestial sixty-five years old, who refused to let go of his pipe until the detectives took it away by force.

At the central station Ho Jim asked permission to send down to his place for bail money. It was granted, and a messenger soon returned with $300 in cash, which Ho Jim deposited, $100 for himself and $25 each for his companions, and all five left the station chattering simultaneously.

CLAPP DISAGREES
WITH STEVENSSays Senate Has Right to Approve
Treaties Without Consent of House.Globe Special Washington Service, 1417 G Street.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—Senator Clapp made an extended speech today arguing that the senate has the right to approve treaties even when they affect revenues without the consent of the house. This is contrary to the position held by Representatives Taft, Stevens and other members of the Minnesota delegation, and is opposed to the report made by Senator Spooner on which was based the conclusion that the Cuban reciprocity treaty had to be ratified by the house.

If Mr. Clapp's contentions should be upheld in the senate the president could change the entire tariff schedule irrespective of the house.

GOPHERS ARE GOING TO PACIFIC COASTAthletic Board of Control Decides to Accept California's Offer.

Minnesota will play California at San Francisco on New Year's day. This was definitely decided at the meeting of the athletic board yesterday afternoon. The only condition attached was the approval of Dr. Williams and President Northrop, and this is already assured.

The party will leave Minneapolis off Dec. 18, and will consist of only the men who won the "M." with Manager Barnard and either Dr. Williams or Prof. Jones. If Dr. Williams does not go Assistant Coach Doble will make the trip with the team. Practice was started yesterday afternoon and the men went through nearly an hour's hard signal practice in the gymnasium, followed by a run on the dislocated track in the basement. The training table will be resumed today or tomorrow, and the men will make the best of the few days remaining before their departure.

The final reports of the finances were handed in and it was found that, after allowing for all bills and other expenses which are known and the salaries for the rest of the year, there remained in the treasury $1,150 to go over until a new season begins. This is considerably less than was generally thought, but except for the Michigan game the gate receipts were not high.

Permission to flood the northeast corner of Northrop field for a hockey rink was granted, so the hockey team is sure to have a place to play and work will be begun as soon as possible.

PRESIDENT ADVISES
ILLEGAL ACTIONIt Is Discovered From Words in His Message That He Has Abandoned Prosecution of Corporations—He Recommends an Appropriation, to Be Expended Under His Direction for General Purposes, Which Law Forbids.Globe Special Washington Service, 1417 G Street.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—The comparatively few senators and members of congress who have read the president's message carefully were all agog today over one extraordinary recommendation made by Mr. Roosevelt in that document. In the same paragraph in which he condemns bribery and corruption the president recommends that the unexpended part of the $500,000 appropriation made last winter for the specific purpose of carrying out his anti-trust campaign be diverted to another object.

The queer fact that Mr. Roosevelt appears by this recommendation to have abandoned his prosecution of the corporations was almost lost sight of by the senators and others who discussed the matter today, for the recommendation involved a policy queerer still. The president's words were:

"I now recommend as a matter of utmost importance and urgency the extension of the purposes of this appropriation (the anti-trust appropriation) so that it may be available, under the direction of the attorney general and until used, for the enforcement of the laws of the United States in general, and especially of the civil and criminal laws relating to public lands and the laws relating to postal crimes and offenses and subject of naturalization."

Amazement was expressed that the president of the United States should recommend that a great sum of money should be appropriated not for a specific object, but to be used under his own direction by "the attorney general" for the enforcement "of the laws in general." It is a familiar fact that such an action would be grossly illegal. Among other prohibitions are the following:

"Section 3678.—All sums appropriated for the various branches of expenditure in the public service shall be applied solely to the objects for which they are respectively made and for no others."

Another statute expressly requires the distribution of public moneys "by express provisions of law and not upon the authority of the executive."

The woman's clothing and that of the child, except their nightgowns, were found neatly folded on their bed, and Mrs. Oldt's purse. She was despondent.

AUTHOR OF "SYNTHETIC PHILOSOPHY" DIESHerbert Spencer Departs
From Life After Hours of Unconsciousness—Summary of the Achievements of This Great Thinker of the Victorian Age.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Herbert Spencer, the famous author, died today at his home in Brighton. His health had been failing for months. The illness took a critical turn a few days ago and he became unconscious last night. He passed away without pain. By his own desire the least possible information was given out during Mr. Spencer's illness.

Herbert Spencer was one of the best known writers of philosophical, sociological and ethical subjects of the age, his principal publications having been "A System of Synthetic Philosophy," "First Principles," "Principles of Biology," "Principles of Psychology," "Principles of Sociology," "Principles of Ethics," "The Study of Sociological," "Education," "Essays," "Social Statics," "The Man vs. The State," "Reasons for Dissenting From the Philosophy of M. Comte" and "Various Fragments," his writings on the higher educational lines dating back as far as 1851.

He was born in Derby, England, April 27, 1820, and received his education partly at home under the tutelage of his father, William George Spencer, a schoolmaster and private teacher, and partly from an uncle, Rev. Thomas Spencer, M. A. at Hinton Charterhouse, near Bath.

Spencer declined all academic distinctions, and when they were conferred without his assent always ignored them.

He began his career as a civil engineer in 1837, and continued in this avocation until 1846; became subeditor of the Economist in 1848, and continued in that capacity until 1853, and for many years was a contributor to the quarterly reviews. Much of his time from 1860 to 1893 was occupied in elaborating his "Synthetic Philosophy."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—To nullify efforts of cattle companies to obtain public land in violation of the law, the secretary of the interior today overruled former decisions of the department that widows or minor orphans of soldiers or sailors do not have to reside on the land on which they make homestead entry.

The decision, which affects a large number of cases, and which has an important bearing on the public land frauds, is made in the case of Mrs. Anna Bowes, who made an entry on land in the Broken Bow district in Nebraska. The department decides that Mrs. Bowes is required to maintain residence on the land, and that her agreement with the company invalidated the entry and requires its cancellation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—John Goodnow, of Minnesota, United States consul general at Shanghai, arrived here tonight. He comes on a two-fold mission—to answer to the various charges that have been preferred against him and to bring the new commercial treaty lately concluded between this country and China. Mr. Goodnow will go from here to his home in Minneapolis and remain several weeks.

The most important provisions of the new treaty are: Abolition of local transportation taxes on American importations in consideration of an advance in the import duty of from 5 to 12½ per cent; new mining laws on the basis of those in the United States; a national currency for China.

The treaty only needs ratification by the United States Senate to become effective.

Court Discharges the Receivers.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—John Alexander Dowie is again in control of Zion City and all its industries. This turn in affairs followed a financial showing made this afternoon, which satisfied all the creditors, who immediately made a formal motion before Judge Kohlsaat to have the receivership dissolved. As no objection was offered, Judge Kohlsaat granted the request, and Receivers Blount and Currier were discharged. The bankruptcy proceedings are still maintained. It is likely, however, that these will be dismissed as soon as the creditors' committee has an opportunity to report on the advisability of accepting Dowie's offer of settlement. This provides for payment of all merchandise accounts within one year and the giving of notes in the meantime bearing 5 per cent interest. By the terms of agreement, Dowie has agreed to pay all the expenses of the receivers.

The effectment of the receivers from Zion City appeared to please all parties concerned. Dr. Dowie appeared jubilant over the turn in his financial affairs.

AIRSHIP IS WRECKED

Test of Langley's Machine
Again a Failure.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—Under weather conditions which were considered as perfect, the Langley airship today was given a second trial at a short distance from Washington on the Potomac, the result being the complete wreck of the airship. The aeroplane glided smoothly along the launching tramway until the end of the tramway was reached, when, on being left to itself, the aeroplane broke in two and turned completely over, precipitating Prof. Charles M. Manley, who was operating it, into the icy water beneath the tangled mass. Launches steered for the spot, but before they could reach Prof. Manley one of his assistants leaped overboard and brought him aboard the house boat on which the launching tramway was laid.

Prof. Langley appeared crestfallen when he saw the products of months' study and labor, combined with
