YELLOWSTONE PARK RATES ARE REDUCED

Fare for Trip to National Reservation Is Cut.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—At a joint meeting of all the lines interested and the representatives of the Park Stage company, held here today, rates to the Yellowstone national park from all points were lowered from 33 1-3 to 40 per cent.

It was decided to extend the season during which the rates will apply making it begin on June 1 and last to Sept. 30.

The railroad representatives were actuated largely, it is understood, by President Roosevelt's great interest in the park. When the president last visited the park he expressed to several railway men the hope that they would make it possible for every American to see the Yellowstone.

WAR DEPARTMENT CLASHES WITH ROAD

Northern Pacific Wants to Bulld Line Through Military Reservation.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Wash., Dec. 16.—Much friction has developed between the Northern Pacific and the local military authorities. It seems the railroad is anxious to extend its line through the city in an easterly direction and in order to do so will have to go through the military reservation.

The railroad applied to the war department for the right of way, which was granted, conditional upon its approval by the department commander, Gen. Funston at first approved the scheme, but later withdrew his approval and asked for time to investigate.

Since then nothing has been done, Now the Northern Pacific announces that congress will be asked for the necessary right of way.

It is feared by the Vancouver people, who are anxious for the road, that this will trritate the military authorities and result in blocking the scheme for some time to come.

Hay Case Is Heard.

Hay Case is Heard.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 16.—Before Judge Wing, in the United States circuit court today, the case of the interstate commerce committee against the railroads of the Vanderbilt system was taken up. The suit was brought by United States Attorney John J. Sullivan. Its object is to compel the railroads to obey the orders of the interstate commerce commission relating to the freight classification of hay and straw. The case originated with the National Hay association when the railroads of the Middle West changed hay and straw from sixth to fifth class. Upon the command of the interstate commerce commission the several roads involved, except the Vanderbilt lines, restored the old classification.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The interstate commerce commission yesterday gave a hearing at Washington on the applications made by the Erie, Lehigh Valley, Pennsyvania lines west of Pittsburg, New York, Susquehanna & Western, and the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton for an extension of time within which to equip their cars with safety appliances. The commission took the matter under advisement.

The Union Pacific company has set apart 30,000 cars for moving the orange crop of California, this number being 6,000 more than were required last year. The freight charges that will be paid the road by the shippers for transportation will amount to more than $9,000,000 and the cost of the crop to consumers will be, including the freight, $36,000,000.

American Lines Show Wonderful Growth in Five Years.

Poor's Manual for 1903, which has just ppeared, affords a comprehensive retro-pect of railway development since 1898. spect of railway development since 1898. During this period of five years the amount of main track in the United States increased 14,790 miles, and the amount of second track, which is considered a sure sign of increased traffic, increased 14,808, making a total expansion in the five years of over 29,000 miles. The South, outside of Texas and Arkansas, increased in mileage only 5,358 miles.

There was a corresponding development of railway equipment in the period, as there was an increase of 4,488 in the number of locomotives, and of 219,142 in the number of freight cars, while the increased tractive power of the engines and the increased capacity of the cars is represented as greater than the numerical gain. The approximate cost of these improvements was $1,767,000,000, of which $375,678,615 represent the surplus earnings.

$376,678,615 represent the surplus earnings.

Notwithstanding this enormous increase of trackage and equipment the railways were taxed to the utmost to move the passenger and freight traffic. During the period the number of passengers increased 140,147,384, the most of which occurred in the last two years. The proceeds from the passenger business in spite of the reduced rates increased $123,923,821.

The freight traffic showed a much greater expansion, rising from 912,973,853 tons in 1898 to 1,192,136,510 tons in 1902, an increase of 279,162,657 tons, or 30 per cent. The increase in the proceeds of this vast tonnage were $328,287,926, or 30 per cent. Out of the net proceeds $170,359,803, the share that fell to the bondholders, was reduced $14,518,100, while the amount that went to the stockholders was increased $56,082,011.

CARLISLE IS NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

Accused Hypnotist Is Arraigned on Grand Larceny

Charge.

John J. Carlisle, allas John J. oralls, is an occupant of cell 75 in the Hennepin county jail. He arrived from Chicago yesterday aft-ernoon in the custody of Sheriff Dreger, and exactly two hours later was leaning and exactly two hours later was leading in a statuesque pose against the clerk's desk in Judge Simpson's court, listening to the reading of an indictment charging him with grand larceny in the second degree in which he was pilliored as "a cheat, a fraud, a confidence man and a swindler."

21 he induced Miss Clarise Heebner to pay him $250 for a fifth interest in an academy of occult science which did not exist.

Carlisle straightened up and answered "not guilty," when Clerk Royce finished reading the indictment. Then addressing Judge Simpson, he said, "I do not understand the modus operandi-what am to do? I have not had time to consult with counsel."

"You will be permitted to consult with counsel," answered the court, and given a reasonable time to prepare your defense. You can withdraw or change your plea after you have consulted with an attorney."

Assistant County Attorney Jelley asked that Carlisle's bonds be fixed at $3,500. "We may have other charges to prefer against this man," he said.

Ball Is Fixed at $3,500. "Your honor," protested Carlisle. "This is the first time I was ever arrested. I am a stranger here, and it may be difficult for me to secure any bail at all. I hope you will nominate a reasonable amount."

hope you will nominate a reasonable amount."

Judge Simpson though that $3,500 was reasonable and set the trial for Friday.
Carlisle is a young man of prepossessing appearance, and on the whole would pass for an intelligent young man of twenty-five who has been well brought up.
When seen at the county jail last night the accused hypnotist said:
"My real name is Carlisle. I am not Debralls. He is a fellow I met who wanted to open an academy of ocult science. He had no money, so I financed the proposition. He opened the academy and we conducted it together for a couple of weeks. Then he went to St. Faul with the idea of opening an academy there. The charge against me by Miss Heebner is simply absurd. I simply sold her an interest in the business. One hundred dollars of the money she paid me was put into circulars to increase the business.

"Her prosecution of me amounts to "Her prosecution of me amounts to blackmail. I have no other idea than that she thought that if she threatened my arrest that my father-in-law would settle."

"Can you prove that there was a Debralles, other than yourself?"
"By dozens of witnesses," answered Carlisle, glibly.

Carlisle, gilbly.

Is Identified as Debralls.

Fifteen minutes later Robert H. Whyte, who has charge of the Bank of Minneapolis building, walked into the room, took a look at Carlisle and said: "That's Debralls, and the only Debralls there was. I rented him the rooms, collected rent from him and saw him every day until he disappeared."

Debralls had three callers yesterday afternoon, one of whom was his wife. "I do not care to say a single thing to the papers," she answered when asked if she would not express her sentiments concerning her husband.

A veiled lady, stylishly dressed, was another caller. Debralls refused to say who she was and she was careful to screen her face with her veil.

When passing through Chicago Wednesday night Carlisle telegraphed Miss Heebner, asking her to call upon him immediately upon his arrival at Minneapolis with a view to making a settlement. Miss Heebner said last night: "I did not go to see him because I was net allowed to." It is suspected, however, that the veiled lady may have been a representative of Miss Heebner.

Carlisle's third caller was Frank M. Nye, an attorney, whom Carlisle asked to defend him. When asked later if he had taken the case, Mr. Nye replied, "I have not been retained."

MAY BECOME A HOTEL.

Council Favors Lease of Old City Hall for This Purpose. It looks as though the old city hall, oc-cupying a commanding location facing pridge square, is fated to become a cheap lodging house. An offer of $3,000 a year rent for that purpose by Emil Johnson is being favorably considered by the council committee on grounds and buildings. Johnson wants a lease for five years, but the city attorney has advised that the council cannot execute a contract beyond its tenure of office. Johnson, however, is willing to take his chances on succeeding councils extending the lease from year to year, and will probably get the building much to the disgust of those who have advocated that the building be used for free reading rooms and public comfort, and others who advocate the plan to raze the building and use its site for a monument to the father of waters.

NOW ROB CHILDREN.

Highwaymen Take a Chance on Very Small Plunder.

Highwaymen in Minneapolis have got down to robbing children. Tuesday afternoon Ella Broako, ten years old, who had been sent by her mother to make a purchase at a grocery, was met by a tough looking man who took 25 cents from her. MAY BE AFTER SUTHERLAND. That May Explain Sheriff's Visito to Washington. Although he is non-committal on the subject, it is thought the reason Sheriff Dreger personally went to Washington to escort J. J. Carlisle back to Minneapolis was that he could take steps looking to the extradition of Dr. O. P. Sutherland, who is supposed to be under indictment for participation in municipal corruption. Sutherland is supposed to be at the Isje of Pines, off the coast of Cuba, where he made an investment in a tobacco plantation. It is said that the authorities have received definite information as to that.
