Enables You to Eat, Drink, and Be Merry.

DYSPEPTICS Can Do Neither. Their Stomachs Forbid It.

When you tell men or women who have Dyspepsia to "eat, drink and be merry," they have every reason to question your sincerity. They know that to be merry is impossible when distress and suffering follow both eating or drinking. They know that nervousness and sleeplessness follow close in the wake of Dyspepsia and Indigestion and where these exist happiness, brightness or comfort is out of the question. My new peppy tonic Paw-Paw, changes all these conditions. It will cure Nervousness and Sleeplessness. Then you can eat, drink and be merry.

LET'S "GRANDMA" GO

Court Discharges Woman on Plea of Granddaughter.

"Oh, can't I take grandma home?" Beside an old and infirm woman arraigned before Judge Hine in the police court yesterday morning, charged with pilfering from her employers, stood a pleading young woman, asking for mercy from the court.

The accused, Mrs. Martha Raymond, aged sixty-three years, thin and bent from long toil as a scrub woman, gazed beseechingly at the judge, tears flowing down her wan, wrinkled cheeks. Had the aged woman not been supported on the strong arm of her granddaughter she would have fallen to the floor, so deeply moved was she. The judge's heart was touched, and the complainant being willing to drop the prosecution, the woman was allowed to go with her granddaughter.

COURT HOLDS QUARTETTE TO THE GRAND JURY

Men Accused of Burglary Waived Examination.

Hugh Brennan, John Pewters, John White and George Grandmeyer, the quartette arrested last week charged with committing burglaries, were arraigned in police court yesterday. Brennan and Pewters waived examination on a charge of burglarizing Campbell Bros. store and were bound over to the grand jury. John White waived examination on a charge of burglarizing Campbell Bros. store and the Webster laundry, and was also bound over to the grand jury. Grandmeyer, charged with burglarizing Young & Son's store, and with being implicated with the others in the burglaries with which they are charged, demanded a preliminary hearing, which was granted.

ST. PAUL ADDS BIG PICKLING PLANT TO ITS LONG LIST OF INDUSTRIES

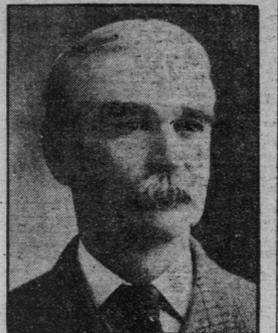

Minnesota Pickling and Preserving Company Will Move From Lake City and Occupy a Four-story Building at South St. Paul—St. Paul Men Are Principal Stockholders in the Enterprise, Which Will Be in Operation by the Middle of February.

The Minnesota Pickling and Preserving company, one of the largest concerns of its kind in the state, has decided to move its plant from Lake City to South St. Paul. The large four-story brick building formerly occupied by Tarbox, Schlek & Co., shoe manufacturers, has been acquired, and is being fitted up for the company. It will be ready to begin operations in February.

The company is capitalized at $100,000, and is controlled largely by St. Paul capitalists. The board of directors consists of Gen. M. D. Flower, president, Gen. M. D. Flower, vice president, Henry Schulkamp, secretary, Fred Mason, treasurer, John M. Schwartz, C. A. Constans, St. Paul; Henry Schulkamp, Madison, Wis.; W. Martin and M. Hubbard, of Lake City.

Gen. Flower Offered Presidency. The officers recently elected are: President, Gen. M. D. Flower; vice president, Henry Schulkamp; secretary, Fred Mason; treasurer, John M. Schwartz. Gen. Flower has not yet accepted the office of president, because of the press of other business, and may be forced to decline the office. He will, however, be stated last night, remain on the board of directors.

The building, which is four stories high and 50 by 100 feet in dimensions, is well adapted and located for the business. It will be equipped with the latest machinery, and the output of the plant will be increased considerably. The company will also maintain pickling plants at Lake City, Wabasha, Brahm and Pepin.

GEN. M. D. FLOWER, Who Has Been Offered Presidency of the Minnesota Pickling and Preserving Company.

About twenty skilled employees will accompany the company to St. Paul, and arrangements for housing their families are being made on the West side and at South St. Paul. Farmers in the vicinity of the new factory have been asked to put between 200 and 300 acres in cucumbers. The company promises to take the whole output.

"We will make pickles of all kinds, sauces such as Worcestershire, and catsup and similar products," said Gen. Flower last night. "If everything goes all right we shall do a business of from $150,000 to $200,000 a year. We shall get into operation some time in February."

with their burden, were in great danger. Resolving to take a chance, they took the woman between them and rushed down the stairs, which cracked beneath their tread.

Having reached the bottom, they hurried Mrs. Robinson across the street to the home of a neighbor. Mrs. Robinson was revived, though she was nearly suffocated. The house was gutted and the interior was a total wreck. The loss to the house is estimated at $1,000 and to the furniture $200. The firemen worked hard when they arrived, but the blaze had a big start and it was with difficulty that they got it under control.

ANDREW J. RIES, Who Succeeds to Presidency of the Retail Grocers' Association.

Andrew J. Ries, who first vice president of the Retail Grocers' association, has advanced to the position of president, succeeding the late S. G. Andrist, and J. J. Thomssen has become vice president. This leaves a vacancy in the second vice presidency. The annual election will be held in February.

GRAND FORKS MAYOR APPEALS TO HIGH COURT

Wants Council Restrained From Ousting Him From Office.

Argument was heard yesterday in the supreme court in the application of J. S. Brandt, mayor of East Grand Forks, for a writ of prohibition to restrain the city council from taking action to remove him from office. The movement to oust Brandt from the office of mayor of East Grand Forks originated some six weeks ago, when the Municipal Reform league filed sweeping charges of malfeasance in office against him with the city council. The accusations made by the league are that the mayor has allowed the saloons to remain open at hours when it is required by the law and ordinances that they shall be closed; that he has permitted gambling houses to remain open contrary to law; that he has bribed voters and made improper use of city funds.

BRAKEMAN HAS FEET CAUGHT AND CRUSHED

Was Riding on a Box Car With His Legs Hanging Over the Side.

Edward Morlarty, a brakeman, employed by the Chicago Great Western, had his feet crushed yesterday afternoon while riding on a box car in the State street yards on the West side. He was seated on a car preparing to climb down, with his legs hanging over the side, when the train ran onto a track near a shed. His feet were caught between the car and shed, and before he was able to disengage them they were crushed.

He was taken to his home, 403 South Wabasha street, in the Ducais street patrol wagon and was attended by Dr. H. C. Johnson.

DOUBT THE WORD OF PUBLIC WORKS BOARD

Assemblymen Van Slyke and Arnold Question Its Inspection of Lamp Posts.

Assemblyman Van Slyke last night made the direct charge that the board of public works had never inspected the 2,370 iron lamp posts purchased from the Cleveland Vapor Light company some weeks ago.

The board of public works, over the signature of President Grode, reported to the assembly last night that 2,250 of the posts fully conformed to the specifications. As to the remaining 120 the board reported that there was some doubt.

Inasmuch as the posts could not be painted with the present weather prevailing, and the remaining 120 posts could not be examined until spring, the board advised the retention of $800 of the contract price until that time. A resolution accepting the board's report and ordering retention of the $800 was submitted. The soundness of the 2,250 iron posts, the board reported, was learned by examination of the subsequent to the execution of the contract with the Cleveland Vapor Light company.

Assemblyman Arnold started the trouble by wanting to know how the board of public works arrived at its conclusions. "I do not believe the board of public works ever inspected those iron posts. I do not believe they know anything about them," declared Assemblyman Van Slyke with spirit. "I am not going to vote for that resolution," said Assemblyman Arnold. "I do not expect that you would," retorted President Schiffmann.

Corporation Attorney Michael tried to dispel the doubts of the two members by informing them that the board's conclusion had been largely arrived at by reports from the foundrymen who had cast the posts and by the fact that they were originally put in the ground under their supervision.

Assemblyman Van Slyke started to interrogate Charles Patterson of the Cleveland Vapor Light company, as to where the posts came from, and the information was being furnished when Patterson saw Assemblyman Arnold making notations whereupon he refused to proceed further unless the council insisted.

"If your posts conform with the specifications what do you care?" asked Assemblyman Van Slyke. "Well, we have satisfied the board of public works," answered Mr. Patterson. "I do not care to furnish any information for possible litigation. We have had enough of that. If the members insist on the information, however, I will give it."

Mr. Patterson said that D. W. Lawler had been active in trying to find out where the posts came from. This was one of the reasons that he was reluctant to answer questions, although he would only be made capital of by rival companies to worry him further.

Assemblyman Arnold insisted that the board of public works should be asked to show how it had arrived at the conclusions made in its report.

LISTENS TO HER MA; TRIES TO SUICIDE

Max Ross Swallows Carbolic Acid Upon Being Reprimanded by Mother-in-Law.

Smitten with remorse after listening to a stinging lecture from his mother-in-law, Max Ross, 624 Wabasha street, attempted to kill himself yesterday afternoon by swallowing an ounce of carbolic acid.

Misfortunes have overtaken Ross during the past year, and in desperation, he was first driven to drink liquors. Matters getting worse, he yesterday resorted to poison. After his marriage a year ago he lost a good position and, having no trade or business, he was compelled to accept work as a bartender and lunch man in a saloon. About a month ago he became acquainted with F. W. Brandus, a smooth individual, now behind the bars at the county jail under a charge of forgery, and, according to Mrs. Ross, he was made a victim to the extent of indulging some worthless paper, causing him much anxiety after the arrest of Brandus. A week ago Ross slipped on an icy sidewalk and suffered a severe sprain of the wrist.

Yesterday afternoon Ross' mother-in-law, Mrs. A. Walter, 513 Jackson street, visited him and reprimanded him soundly for not properly supporting his daughter and for becoming mixed up with Brandus.

Troubles Not Yet Over. Overwhelmed, Ross sought to end his woes, but his troubles are not yet over, for physicians at the city hospital, where he was taken in the police ambulance, say that though he is in a serious condition, he will probably recover.

"Oh, if they can only save his life and make an 'honorable' man of him," sobbed Mrs. Ross as her husband was being taken away from her home in the ambulance yesterday afternoon. "If I only would not drink he would be all right. I hope I can cure him of the habit at the hospital."

"My husband was very much alarmed when he discovered that Brandus was a forger," continued Mrs. Ross. "He was so nervous that I feared he would collapse. He went to Sergeant Tegler and told him that he had incurred a check written by Brandus, and that he was willing to surrender himself if the police would take him. He then went to the police station, and was told there that he was not wanted. He worried very much and he also suffered from his sprained wrist. This afternoon my mother came and scolded him and he must have taken it to heart."

SENDS THEM CANDY

State Gives Inmates of Institutions a Treat.

Although by fate deprived of many of the pleasures and the pretty features of the holiday season, the inmates of the state custodial institutions will not be entirely without their glimpse of Christmas observance. There will be Christmas trees at each of the hospitals and asylums for the insane, at the schools for the deaf, the blind and the feeble-minded at Fairbault, and at the state school at Owatonna, and even the training school at Red Wing. Accompanying the trees there will be a general distribution of candy and nuts, and for this purpose the state board of control has sent out one and a half tons of candy and a similar quantity of nuts.

Every one of the state institutions, including the prison and reformatory, will have an extra dinner, and the prisoners at the two institutions last named will be allowed the freedom of the yard and other unusual privileges.

COUNCIL RATIFIES LIGHTING CONTRACTS

Gas Light to Cost $14 a Post If New Franchise Is Approved.

The assembly and the board of aldermen yesterday ratified all of next year's lighting contracts for which bids were opened last week. The St. Paul Gas company will furnish gas for lighting purposes at $16 per post, but this is to be reduced to $14 in the event that the new gas franchise is approved.

STILLWATER

Minnesota farmers have evidently made up their minds to secure prison made bide during the coming season. Several club owners for twine having already been booked. Many inquiries for blanks are being received, and in a short time the twine season will be on, notwithstanding that twine prices for 1904 have not yet been fixed by Warden Wolfert and the board of control. The total output of the factory for 1904 will exceed 9,000,000 pounds.

W. J. DYER & BRO.

Talking Machine Parlors, Fourth Floor, Take Elevator. 17 Dyer Building, ST. PAUL, MINN.

Brotherton, died Sunday of dropsy and other ailments. Deceased was popular with her schoolmates and friends and had been ill about two months. The funeral of William Douglass was held yesterday, the remains being taken to the Catholic cemetery at South Stillwater for interment. Deceased was one of the early settlers of Washington county, having come here about forty-eight years ago. The prison population has increased to 407, but in a few days the new addition to the cell room will be completed and there will be plenty of cells to accommodate the inmates. In the meantime a number of convicts are sleeping on cots in the cell room corridors. Fred Jenks, who spent two weeks looking over grazing lands in Eastern Colorado in the interest of Stillwater parties, has returned home, and says he is greatly pleased with conditions for cattle raising in that state. T. H. Yarnall, the Stillwater agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, left last evening for New York to spend Christmas with his daughter. He was accompanied by Mrs. Yarnall. Judge Williston, of Red Wing, is expected here today to hold a special term of the district court. Special to The Globe. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 21.—The members of a colony from Jerauld county who have located on government land in Lyman county, west of the Missouri river, have decided to start a town, which will be named Jamaica.
