

Northwest News CANADIAN MONEY IS BEING WASTED

Dominion Agent Tells of Immigration Frauds Practiced on His Government.

Special to The Globe.
DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 27.—According to a statement made by J. H. M. Parker, Canadian government agent in charge of immigration here, three times as much money as is necessary is spent annually by the Dominion government in sending men, women and children into Canada from the United States, and even then the results obtained ought to be doubled if the work is conducted in a proper way on a more economical basis.

"Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended by the Canadian government in securing settlers for the Dominion from the United States," said Mr. Parker, "and a goodly portion of this money has been wasted. I could take one-third of the amount and double the immigration. This deplorable state of affairs is due to the fact that out of the seventeen Canadian government agents now located in the United States only five are doing active work. The others are simply drawing the salary that is paid them by the government and the work that is being done through their offices is the work of sub-agents who receive so much per capita from the government for immigrants sent into the country.

"The records speak for themselves in these cases. In one particular instance an agent was located at Indianapolis, Ind., for five years, and during that time he sent only three men into Canada. The men who are doing the active work besides myself are M. V. McInness, of Detroit; J. C. Crawford, of Kansas City; B. Davies, of Great Falls, Mont., who, for several years, was located at St. Paul, Minn.; C. O. Swanson, traveling Scandinavian agent.

"It is a well known fact that many of the immigration agents who do not care to exert themselves appoint sub-agents and these sub-agents abuse the confidence that is placed in them. They allow anyone the privilege of the railroad rates extended through the immigration offices, whether they are going into Canada on business or pleasure. The immigration agent paid a salary, but the sub-agent relies entirely on his fees. For each male immigrant sent from the United States he receives $3, for each female $2 and for every child $1, and this money must come out of the pocket of the Canadian government. The certificate issued to an immigrant entitles him to one-third fare on the Canadian Pacific railroad, and this reduction is attractive to many who go to Canada on business or pleasure.

"For instance, if you go to an immigration sub-agent and say that you wish to go to Canada to look at some land, he will issue you a certificate that entitles you to a reduction in railroad fare, and you pay him three dollars. Then, perhaps, you go to Winnipeg and visit friends, never intending to look at lands. The government is out $3 and the railroad is out a considerable sum. The amount looks small, but it figures up to thousands of dollars.

"The majority of the immigration agents don't know anything about the business and are merely political figure heads, appointed by the political party in power because they have a political pull. The resources of the Northwest Territory also have been handed over to the political parties.

"I have just completed my annual trip as immigration agent through the territory, and I find a deplorable state of affairs. Alberta and Western Canada have a coal bearing strata that could supply the world's furnaces for the next 200 years, but farmers living within two miles of the mines are compelled to pay $5 a ton for lignite coal, while here in Duluth, more than 1,200 miles from the nearest coal fields, we pay the same price for the same quality of coal. In Alberta and vicinity consumers pay 50 cents a gallon for kerosene oil, and we pay from 15 to 18 cents here. Regarding lumber, right at the doors of the camps in the Northwest Territory, a charge of from $22 to $40 a thousand is made, while for the same grade of lumber it can be purchased at from $10 to $20. And all this because prices are dictated by the political party in control.

"Although I am a Canadian, I am thoroughly disgusted with the way things are handled. Some day all the blame for exorbitant prices to the railway companies, but the political parties are behind the railways."

MAN BLOWS OUT GAS.

K. Kolstad and A. M. Erickson Found Dead in Superior Hotel.

Special to The Globe.
SUPERIOR, Wis., Dec. 27.—The murder theory was first advanced this morning when Kristen Kolstad and A. M. Erickson were dead from gas asphyxiation in O'Connell's hotel. The fact that a man giving the name of Christ Noen went to the room with the men and then left led to the murder theory. But the door was locked on the inside when the men were found, so there is believed to be nothing to the murder theory. It looks as though one of the men had simply blown out the gas.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 27.—The authorities have taken charge of Carl W. Krueger, who for some years has been engaged in the express and hack business in this city, he having recently exhibited unmistakable symptoms of insanity. Since being taken into custody difficulty is being experienced in making him keep his clothes on. The greater part of a night was spent by him in striving to call up heaven and other places by telephone. When taken in charge he was armed with a revolver, knife and a pair of brass knuckles, and claimed that he had armed himself for the purpose of protecting himself against his enemies, who had entered into an alleged conspiracy to murder him. The unfortunate man will be taken before the board of insanity.

When making his rounds at 2:30 o'clock the officer discovered the door of the saloon open, and upon entering found the bartender stretched out on a chair. The saloon was filled with stifling fumes of coal gas from a low burning stove and Nightingale was nearly overcome. He quickly ran to the man and, finding him unconscious, carried him outside. Shaking failing to revive Morgan, a physician was summoned, and he was finally brought out of danger. He was removed to his room and remained in a serious condition yesterday.

BARBER IS A FIEND

Kills Wife and Locks Little Son in Room With Body.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 27.—Frank Rose, a barber, surrendered himself to the police today. He said that he had killed his wife Christmas afternoon and that the body was still lying in the bedroom, where the woman had died, after lingering for two hours with a pistol bullet in her brain. The police found lying on a bed in a miserably furnished shack the body of Mrs. Rose, clad only in her undergarments, and by her side was the woman's two-year-old son, the baby's clothes being saturated with its mother's blood. It was at first thought that the child was dead, but when an officer attempted to release the little arms from around the dead woman's neck, the body began to cry and plaintively told the policemen that something was the matter with his mamma and that "she won't wake up." For almost two days the child had been locked in the cold room with its murdered mother, without food or attention of any kind. The child is in a serious condition, but probably will recover. Rose was without employment, and the couple are said to have quarreled frequently. Deposits received subject to check and interest paid monthly upon Daily Balance. Security Trust Co., N. Y. MINNEAPOLIS FOUGHT IN NAVY; DIES IN RAILWAY WRECK

Frank E. Knowles, Brave Minneapolis Boy, Killed in a Collision.

Aiding in the capture of Admiral Cervera in the Spanish-American war, later participating in the battles to pacify the Philippines, subsequently going to China to defend the Americans against the Boxers and finally meeting death in a railway collision, was the experience of Frank E. Knowles, the Minneapolis boy who was buried at Hillside cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Young Knowles had been employed as a brakeman on the Northern Pacific road, and last Wednesday had his life crushed out in a wreck at Elk River, Minn.

When the Spanish-American war broke out Frank Knowles, who at the time of his death was twenty-six years old, was among the first to volunteer from Minneapolis.

When a call was made for navy recruits he was among the first to respond, and at St. Paul, where prospective sailors were being received, joined the navy as a fireman. He was assigned to the cruiser New Orleans and was soon off for Cuba. Some time after the New Orleans had reached Santiago, the ship's coal supply became depleted, and orders were given to proceed to Key West for a fresh supply of fuel. A launch was left behind to serve as a packet and among its crew was the Minneapolis boy. The New Orleans had been away but a short time, when the Spanish fleet was sighted. The Oregon picked up the little party in the launch and fireman Knowles participated in the battle.

After the capture of Admiral Cervera he went to New York, later to join his old cruiser, the New Orleans, which then sailed for Porto Rico. Knowles was transferred to the Solace, which carried him to the Philippines. Later he was transferred to the gunboat Yorktown.

With the Philippines practically pacified word was received that an uprising of Boxers in China threatened the lives of Americans and other foreigners and the Yorktown was ordered to make haste for Chefoo.

With others of the Yorktown's crew Knowles took an active part in bringing quiet at Chefoo. While at Shanghai the Minneapolis boy met Consul General Goodnow and was offered a position, but declined, as he desired to return home with the rest of the crew. He served three years and two months.
