ASSOCIATION MAY BAR WIND SHIELDS

Lou Dillon's Sulky Record Will Be Investigated by Special Committee.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The establishment of a world's trotting record by Lou Dillon with the assistance of a wind shield, was the interesting feature considered by the representatives of the National Trotting association, the American Trotting association and the American Trotting Register association, which continued their joint conference behind closed doors today. When it became known that in addition to Thomas B. Armitage's request to the board of review of the National Trotting association for a ruling on the so-called wind shield records, Robert E. Bonner and other defenders of Maud S's world record, had filed a protest against the acceptance of Dillon's record performance because the mare's record had been made behind a wind shield with a sulky provided with pneumatic-tired wheels running on ball bearings, the board of censors of Register association displayed the record which lowered that of Maud S. This opened the two great contests to further discussion and to settle the dispute the presidents of the three trotting associations were appointed a special committee to hear arguments by the advocates of Maud S and Lou Dillon and settle the disputes.

This will be done at an open hearing which will be held tomorrow morning. Among those who have been asked to appear before the presidents and present their sides of the controversy are: Robert E. Bonner, son of the owner of Maud S; Dr. Tanner, Harry Devereux, C. K. Billings and the owners of other trotters which have recently made fast time behind wind shields. Before they reach a final decision the members of the special committee expect to call a number of old sportsmen and horsemen who were present when Maud S made the record which stood for so many years.

Whatever changes may be made by the present conference in the racing rules will not be made until they have been approved by the congresses of the three associations.

MISSOURI IS AFTER GIANT FOOTBALL TEAM

Students Will Tour the State in Search of Big Players.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 6.—The athletic association of Missouri university has recently made plans to send a football team next year that looks like a winner.

The entire student body will unite in making a canvass of the state for big men. Each student will represent the university, which has a reputation for turning out a team that was a credit to the state.

It will be known everywhere that big men are wanted—giants if possible—to save the reputation of Missouri university, which has a reputation for turning out a team that was a credit to the state.

In a recent address to the students Dr. Clark Hetherington, director of athletics, explained why the team had failed. He said that it was due largely to lack of systematic equipment. This will soon be remedied. Within the next twelve months two of the finest gymnasium buildings in the West will be erected on the university grounds.

The athletic association has another new project to improve Missouri football, which is to take the high schools of the state directly in charge and promote the game among them. Arrangements have been made for annual games in Columbia by the high schools of St. Louis and Kansas City. The plan includes a game next year between Kansas City high and Columbia high. Missouri university will furnish grounds, advertising and field officials and will turn over the entire receipts to the two schools.

Most of the team of 1903 will return. Those who are not expected are Anamost, Wulf and Landon, who will graduate next commencement. The law department will be expected to return. Landon may return to take a post-graduate course. He is the giant of the team and won such a reputation as right guard that he will be a candidate for captain of next year's team. The only other candidate yet announced is Coons, who played at center last season.

Missouri has not yet determined upon a coach for next year. Efforts are being made to again secure the services of McLean, but it is feared that he will be obliged to decline.

BEN JORDAN COMING TO FIGHT BENNY YANGER

Chicago Club's Offer of $1,500 Starts Englishman to the Dock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Ben Jordan, the English featherweight, has finally decided to pay another visit to this country to try conclusions with the best Yankee boxer in his class for international honors. Several times within the past year the English champion has threatened to cross the ocean and wallop the American boxers, but, unable to make what he considered reasonable terms, he remained at home. When Jordan arrives here his first battle will be with Benny Yanger, and will take place in New York.

According to the latest reports, Jordan will sail from England on Jan. 11. He received an offer from a Chicago club of $1,500 for a six-round bout with Yanger, and, through his manager, Charley Hall, accepted. This is the reason Jordan is coming here.

Jordan is a legitimate featherweight, and for some time behind him has been endeavoring to get on a match with Young Corbett. Once or twice it looked as though the boys would come together, but the weight question always proved a stumbling block when it came to signing articles. Being able to make 125 pounds, the featherweight limit, Jordan did not feel disposed to concede weight to Corbett, and the latter wisely refrained from agreeing to fight at a weight that might result in his defeat.

Jordan is particularly interested in this fight, as it will add considerably to the interest in the little fighters at the present time. It is Jordan's intention to meet all the boys of his weight who are entitled to a match.

If he is successful in defeating Yanger he will make an effort to get on a match with Eddie Hanlon, and, by defeating the Californian, he would easily convince the public that he was entitled to a match with Young Corbett. Jordan has had plenty of experience in this country. He is familiar with American ring methods, and his showing against the American boxers will be watched with interest.

MILWAUKEE SPORTS

BACKING HERRERA

Betting on the Beer City Fight to Be Heavier Than Usual.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 6.—When Charlie Neary and Aurelio Herrera enter the ring Friday night at the Panorama building the odds will be even money and take your choice, according to the general opinion among sporting men about town. Although there are many who would not be surprised if the Mexican was a favorite.

So far there is more Neary money offered, but there is a growing sentiment in favor of the Californian fighter, and it is not unlikely that there will be more money to back him in the market in the next few days. Betting is never particularly heavy in Milwaukee on any fight, but there is more betting talk going on about this contest than any other arranged for some time.

Both men are in good condition and training earnestly, for they have a great deal of respect for each other and are not willing to take any chances. Neary is pursuing his usual course, which is to take a great deal of rough work, while Herrera is devoting more time to developing speed. The men who have seen him work have been impressed by his apparent strength and agility. He does not box a great deal, as he prefers to take as few chances as possible of injuring his hands as is consistent with fitting himself for the battle.

The plan of the Badger club to have judges at this fight in addition to a referee appears to meet with general approval, and it is more than likely to influence the betting, because it is believed that the natural prejudice in favor of the home man will not be so likely to influence the opinions of three men as of one.

College Issue Chess Challenge.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton have forwarded a challenge to Oxford and Cambridge for a cable chess match to be played on six boards in March or April for possession of the Rice trophy.

SIG HARRIS WILL QUIT 'VARSITY TEAM

Friends Say Suspended Quarterback Is to Attend Another College.

As a result of the action of the engineering faculty of the university in suspending "Sig" Harris and George Tuck, alleged to have been caught "cribbing" by Prof. Eddy Harris, the star quarterback who has been placed on the All-American football team, may not be seen on Northport field next fall.

Harris and Tuck were called before the faculty committee, but nothing further was done, until at a recent faculty meeting it was decided to suspend the offenders for the remainder of the semester.

"Sig" was reticent in regard to the matter, but a very intimate friend is responsible for the statement that while Harris would return the next semester he would do so merely for the purpose of getting an honorable discharge, after which he would leave for some other college.

Hugo Kelly Willing to Meet Gilmore's Man at Catch Weights.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Shivie Ferretti, manager of Hugo Kelly, the local Italian middleweight, charged that Harry Gilmore, Jr.'s statement that Harry Kelly had quit, Martin Duffy, that he will forfeit.

"If Duffy is so anxious for a meeting let him post a forfeit and he will see how it will turn out. Kelly is a middleweight, and if Duffy will match at catch weights we will bet $500 on the side Kelly will knock him out in ten or twenty rounds. Duffy claims he can make 142 pounds. We will match Otto Siefert against him at catch weights, winner to take all in each case.

"Kelly will match 150 pounds at 3 o'clock for Duffy in three weeks' time, as the weight is pretty low for Kelly."

SOUTHERN LEAGUE HAS ANOTHER FIGHT

Nashville Fanatics Declare War Against Newt Fisher's Ball Club.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 6.—Prominent baseball fans in Nashville have declared war on the local Southern club, and, according to present plans, a company with capital stock of $100,000, the Southern League and a member of the "Kitty" league placed in the field to compete with the local club.

The fans are dissatisfied with the playing of the Southern club during the past season, and the outlook for a good squad in 1904, hence the new club.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

But for a slump in the opening game the Commercial League would have been closed all the other teams bowing to the difference in the Commercial League team's ability in bowling against the State Bank team on the Court House. State Banks started with the low total of 88 for their first game, but then moved up into the 800 class, taking the big end of the series. At the Acme alleys the Commercial League team would have been three with the Koehler & Hinrichs and at the Pfister the Great Westerns allowed the Commercial team to win. The Great Northern No. 2 team and the Lindke, Warner & Schurmeyers, were evenly matched in the deciding game by one pin. The scores follow:

GOTHAM FANS HAPPY

American League to Play Sunday Ball in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The New York American league club has completed arrangements by which Griffith's team will play Sunday games within the limits of Greater New York next summer. Treasurer Frank J. Farrell signed a contract with Ambrose H. Hussey for the use of Ridgewood park, located in East New York, and the local Americans will play fourteen Sunday games there during the coming ball season.

Sunday ball has been growing more popular here from year to year, and last season many games were played in this city by semi-professional and amateur teams, which attracted large crowds. The best order was always maintained, and thousands of ball cranks who were unable to see the big baseball stars playing during the week-end season were disappointed. The officials of the club believe that the public wants Sunday ball, and that Griffith's men will meet the Boston (world's champions), the Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia and other major league teams, will afford high-class sport at Ridgewood park, where the local American league club has been playing since the exciting conflicts between the Brooklyn and the American association, and the old St. Louis Browns, under the management of Charles Combs, together with other teams in that circuit, and these games will draw large crowds.

The last Sunday game of a championship nature played at Ridgewood took place in 1891, since then semi-professional and amateur games have been played there, and they have been liberally patronized.

Treasurer Farrell, of the local American league, said that he has traced Pitches Quick and Deering and Catcher Zalusky to Toledo for Catcher Kitzow, a corking good youngster, whose services were generally in demand.

LAWLER IS WILLING

Offers to Give Tremble Match at Catch Weights.

Walter Campbell, acting for George Lawler, who is in the city preparing for his fight with a St. Paul man, which will be pulled off in Minneapolis in the near future, has sent to the sporting editor of The Globe an answer to the challenge issued by Ben Tremble, and printed in an evening paper.

Tremble, who came to St. Paul from the Pacific coast last fall, has declared his willingness to meet Lawler at any time at 165 pounds. The St. Paul man also declares himself willing to meet any fighter in the world at 168 pounds.

Campbell, however, refuses to believe that Tremble is sincere in his offer to Lawler, and the 168-pound fighters of the world, and, after reviewing Tremble's coast career, offers him a match with Lawler. Campbell scoffs at Tremble's challenge, for he declares that the man who came to St. Paul from the coast knows that Lawler's weight is 185 pounds. He insists that this knowledge alone prompted Tremble to offer to meet Lawler at an impossible weight. Campbell, concluding his answer, says:

"Tremble throws challenges at such men as Lawler to fight at 168 pounds when he knows Lawler's weight to be 185 pounds. Lawler is willing and ready to fight him at any time or at any place at catch weights, and he will be willing to let the winner to take all in addition to allowing him a side bet."
