

NEWS OF THE CITY DR. E. V. ROBINSON DISCUSSES THE EVOLUTION OF INDUSTRIAL ST. PAUL

Principal of the Central High School Delivers an Address at the Commercial Club, Under the Auspices of the Civic League - Advocates Use of Small Rivers of State to Generate Power for Manufactories.

There was a good attendance at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlor of the Commercial club, when Dr. E. V. Robinson, principal of the Central High school, talked about the industrial possibilities of St. Paul.

DR. E. V. ROBINSON,

Principal of Central High School, Who Discussed Evolution of Industrial St. Paul.

He began his address by a short description of the causes for cities being located in certain places, natural locations are those at the heads of rivers or the termination of railroads, or where there are beds of raw material. In spite of the assertion of Judge Elliott, of Minneapolis, that St. Paul, as a city, was merely an accident, Prof. Robinson believes that it has the most ideal location from every point of view of any city in the Northwest.

MUST MUZZLE DOGS Canines to Be Kept in Restraint for Three Months.

Plans for bacteriological research in diseases of animals occupied a greater portion of the time of the state live stock sanitary board at its meeting yesterday.

This was the regular quarterly meeting of the board and with the exception of W. W. P. McConnell, all of the members were present.

Dr. S. H. Ward, secretary and executive officer of the board, submitted a report of work during the last quarter which shows that in the course of that period there have been thirty-one deaths from blackleg and nine from haemorrhagic septicaemia, as to rabies, Dr. Ward says: This disease has been reported from five different counties. Twenty-nine dogs have been killed that were bitten or known to be suffering from the disease.

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS VICE TRUST WORKS IN MINNEAPOLIS

It Tries to Secure Flour City Girls for St. Louis Dives. Minneapolis police officials are of the opinion that the agents of the St. Louis "vice trust" are operating a branch office in Minneapolis, and are seeking to fill the girls that will flourish during these weeks as a man, claiming to be the world's fair with young women and girls' hired respectable homes under the promise of remunerative employment.

Several of these women are known to have offered to send girls to the exposition, and it is possible that the cases of several who have been implicated in incidents which only the prominence of the families interested have prevented from being made public, will be brought before the grand jury.

Each large city of the United States was expected to furnish its quota, and Minneapolis was evidently included in the list. Several of these women are known to have offered to send girls to the exposition, and it is possible that the cases of several who have been implicated in incidents which only the prominence of the families interested have prevented from being made public, will be brought before the grand jury.

Several of the twenty-one proprietors of disorderly resorts on Hennepin avenue are known to have made offers to send women to St. Louis, and it is alleged that some have even attempted to persuade innocent girls into leading a life of shame, under the guise of offering them good positions, which would enable them to see the fair.

The manager of a "vaudeville exchange" in this city was being Chief of Police Conroy for several hours yesterday afternoon in connection with the case of a young girl who was approached with an offer to go on the stage.

Her parents would not permit her to see him again, and the police did not hear of the matter until yesterday, when, in company with two detectives, the girl was sent to the place.

This time she was even attempted to persuade innocent girls into leading a life of shame, under the guise of offering them good positions, which would enable them to see the fair.
