THE ENEMY'S ADVICE.

It is a rule not without exceptions in politics, yet still a rule always well worth bearing in mind, that the advice of your enemy is not a good doctrine to accept. The first purpose of the enemy is to win. This being true, it is not logical that Republicans should wish the Democratic party to name its strongest candidate.

Just at this moment there is a very obvious and active effort throughout the whole country on the part of the Republican press to boom the candidacy of Mr. William R. Hearst for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

As we say, all these things have been perfectly understood by the Democrats, who have generally left Mr. Hearst out of the reckoning in discussing presidential possibilities, as they very well can do.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab doesn't like the newspapers. But as long as Mr. Schwab goes on furnishing brilliant matter for copy he is going to be regarded with toleration by the newspaper men.

THE RAGE FOR GAMBLING.

Another good man, a pillar of the community, has gone wrong to the extent of $170,000 in Cleveland. He played the stock market, of course, and, equally of course, he played it with other people's money when his own was gone.

Now that we are interested in having Democrats see that the meaning of all this is very plain. Republicans, as well as Democrats, have come to understand that a Democratic victory this year is not only perfectly possible, but much more than probable. It is regarded by well informed politicians generally, who have measured the depth of discontent, not only political but moral, with President Roosevelt and his policy as almost sure to come, unless prevented by some party accident in favor of Republicanism and against Democracy.

strife; the nomination of a candidate not representative of either of them, but commanding the confidence and support of both; and the ignoring of the old and now dead issues that divided them. This being granted, Democrats will win. The old division being kept alive or restored, Democrats will lose.

Republicans know this, and they see that their danger can be transformed to happy certainty if they could only procure the nomination of such a man as Hearst. His nomination, were such a thing conceivable, would not only alienate every conservative voter who has acted with the Republicans for years past, although his leanings are Democratic, but it would absolutely divide the Democracy by a new rent as wide, as deep and as hopeless as that which opened eight years ago.

We have nothing to say here about Mr. Hearst personally or as a Democrat. We do desire to make Democrats think what any advocacy of his pretensions must mean, and to have them understand that it is at this moment the dearest hope and desire of every Republican as a guarantee and insurance policy for his party's success.

Gov. Taft says he is not a presidential candidate. Well, we should suppose not. If an understanding on that point had not been reached does anybody suppose that he would have been made secretary of war?

A JUST RULE.

While there may be some hardship in the enforcement of the rule that unmarried women only shall be employed as teachers in the public schools, the justice and propriety of it in the large and general application are not open to question. It has been found necessary in most of the cities of the country to resort to this regulation. Obedience to it is becoming more general, instead of less common.

The rule rests less upon the additional competition this introduces into the teaching class and the injustice done to those who must maintain themselves than it does upon the fundamental idea that the integrity of the family is affected where the wife engages in a public and gainful occupation. The instinct which looks with disfavor upon this is wise and true. No doubt there are many cases where the rule will work a hardship. Some of the women of whom the world is not worthy, loving wives and devoted mothers, are able to keep their families together and to bring up and educate their children only by the fruits of their own labors.

We still hold to the good old tradition that the husband should be the head of the family and support it. We have thrown away all prejudice about women working; have opened to them all the avenues of proper employment and look upon their labors with the utmost respect and satisfaction. Nevertheless, human nature will have to be changed radically before it will believe that the place of a wife is elsewhere than in her home, unless her efforts are absolutely required to save herself or some of her family from suffering. There will be no protest against this among healthy minded women or healthy minded men either, and the rule of the boards of education that passed upon a true political economy, but upon a correct and permanent sociological conception.

Mr. Charles M. Schwab doesn't like the newspapers. But as long as Mr. Schwab goes on furnishing brilliant matter for copy he is going to be regarded with toleration by the newspaper men.

The familiar question is asked of The Globe whether a child born in the United States of foreign and unnaturalized parentage is a citizen with all the rights of such, or whether he must take out naturalization papers. Every person born in this country is, by right of birth, a citizen of this country, without any other ceremony or formula whatsoever.

A New York man killed his sister and says he had a divine order to do it. It will help his case with the jury if he has the order reduced to writing.

Not the least of the disadvantages of the cold snap was the opening afforded to the party who could remember how cold it was in 1863.

Those St. Louis horse drivers might wait until the exposition fairs is due and then make the strike a good one. Medicine Hat has just shown its control of the ball is not so bad after all. Empress Brown, of Korea, might tell something to the marines.

Contemporary Comment

Are Hearst About It. There are a number of Collins papers which profess to think that the support given Mr. Dunn by the Democratic journals is to his disadvantage. If these papers, instead of favoring the ex-auditor lauded the judge who while a candidate for governor is still on the bench they would then say that the man most acceptable to people of all parties was just the person to nominate for the office of governor and that he would get the largest vote. This talk of Democratic papers supporting Dunn as being unfortunate for him is all sour grapes. The Democratic papers of a state which favor a candidate are quite honest about it and do so because they believe him to be the best man for the position, and of all the Republican candidates they prefer him. All there is to it.—Fair-bault Journal.

Hearst's Candidacy. No one can be surprised in hearing about an "old-time Democrat" disgraced when he visited Washington last week and discovered that the Hearst candidacy had become formidable enough to worry many of the leaders of the Democratic party. His charge was profound. The mere fact, he said, that such a thing could be possible made him want to leave the party never to return. He said he had heard the rounds of the news to hear no one talking about Richard Olney or George Gray, while every one seemed to be discussing the "yellow peril" headed in William R. Hearst. It is enough to make a sensible Democrat sick—very sick.—Springfield Republican.

Foraker's Little Game. You may be sure that Mr. Hanna's colleague, Senator Foraker, is responsible for more of the mischief that has been raised the past few weeks than any other man in the country. Foraker is very anxious about his own position in Ohio, and he seeks every chance to pose as the special friend and champion of Mr. Roosevelt. He is constantly, in his own mind, exposing Hanna's "conspiracies" against the president.—Springfield Republican.

Hearst's Bunch. Editor Hearst seems to have bought quite a bunch of enthusiastic supporters who are not disinclined to earn a little money by running a political band wagon. But the rub will come when an effort is made to get the rank and file to do free gratis what the original Hearst men are getting paid for doing.—Sioux City (Iowa) Journal.

Lynching Should Be Treason. If the legislature of Mississippi desires to show itself progressive it should not reduce lynching to the status of a misdemeanor. Rather should it move in the opposite direction and declare lynching to be treason—for in its essence lynching is a crime against government itself.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Worthier Than Slaver. To have aided in the preservation of peace in the far East is for the United States a participation in "world politics" more worthy than the slaughter of Moros to "make a reputation" for an amateur general.—New York World.

One Good Turn Deserves Another. Uncle Mark has called the Republican convention "now, if the convention has done anything to the credit of the party, it will return the courtesy by calling Uncle Mark—Atlanta News.

Well, He Ought to Know. Senator Hanna may be pardoned for saying that the selection of senators, Ohio in their selection of senators, show a high order of intelligence.—Washington Post.

Posing as Sunny Tom. If Senator Platt is eating crow he manages to keep up a brave roast turkey countenance and smears his lips with cranberry sauce.—Mexican Herald.

But That's Part of the Campaign. If Capt. Roosevelt is to get all the barnacles off the ship of state he will lack time for a presidential campaign.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Pardonable Suggestion. May we be pardoned for suggesting that the recently discovered volcano in Kentucky be named Mt. Watterson.—Washington Post.

On the Gas in Their Names. It is a scientific wonder how the Russian battleships yelpt ye Blyestvaschchi and ye Bezposetchnadi float.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Case of Rubbing It In. Mr. Hay will be really shocked when he hears that Russia has not only opened the door but has put bars to it.—Detroit Tribune.

Ready With Line and Sinker. "Why is Hanna silent?" a Western editor asks. He's cutting bait. Fishing season hasn't opened yet.—New York Herald.

It Might Be Worse. King Peter of Servia finds something to be thankful for in the emperor of Korea.—Washington Star.
