GROUNDHOG DUE TO STAY OUT TODAY

Weather Man Predicts Another Snow Storm, Which Means an Early Spring.

According to the groundhog and the United States government, there are eighty-three chances in a hundred that February will bring warm weather. For today is Groundhog day, and the weather prediction is "probably snow."

If snow really comes, the day will presumably be cloudy and the groundhog will leave his hole for a deep-breathing exercise. He won't look forward to being "shut-in" during six long weeks of very cold weather.

Today, of course, may not be cloudy. But the department of weather has recently declared officially that its weather bureau makes no more than 17 per cent of incorrect predictions. That is, the weather man is practically infallible.

Who can wonder that respectable farmers don't believe in the weather bureau? The weather bureau, it's true, doesn't believe in groundhogs. But the bureau is more than a non-believer of who wouldn't take the word of a senator.

But, fallible though it may be, the bureau predicts not only snow today, but possibly a blizzard. The winds will blow from the north and the temperature may fall eight or ten degrees.

Feb. 2, as Groundhog day, is an occasion of ritual doubt in secular life. It is a festival of beautiful significance in the Catholic and Episcopal churches under its ancient names of Candlemas day, Simons' day, Wives' Feast day, Presentation day, Purification day or Christ's Presentation.

It commemorates the circumstance that when, forty days after his birth, the Saviour was carried to the temple, he was there received by Simon, who prophesied that the divine child would be "A light unto the Gentiles."

Hard Blow in Colorado. DENVER, Col., Feb. 1.—High winds prevailed today along the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains in Colorado and Wyoming and much damage to property was wrought. In Denver two men lost their lives as a direct result of the gale.

Charles Ormsby and William Daniels came into contact with a live electric wire and were instantly killed. In some places the force of the wind was so great that small stones were blown about promiscuously, shattering windows and injuring many people.

Blizzard in North Dakota. Special to The Globe. FARGO, N. D., Feb. 1.—After a steady blizzard from the southeast all day, the wind is now coming from the northeast and blowing a gale. The weather has been mild, but the mercury is falling rapidly and the storm seems to prevail over the entire state.

CARS HAVE TROUBLE

Tracks Become Slippery and Service Is Demoralized.

Street car schedules were knocked to pieces yesterday afternoon, owing to the slippery condition of the rails. Almost every car on all the lines was behind time. Some of the cars were half an hour late, while others ran in strings of three and four. There was no such thing as running according to time schedules, despite all effort on the part of motormen and conductors.

The tracks throughout the city were coated with a thin layer of ice, and this with the snow that fell during the day, caused the wheels to slip. No hold could be secured on the rails, and in some cases the cars were unable to start again after stopping, until the ice had been removed from the rails.

Snow plows were busy during the night scraping and spreading sand over the entire system. It is expected that cars will run on time today.

OLD LAWS SURVIVE

Modern Jurisprudence Based on Moses' Decrees.

"We have nearly adopted the penultimate custom of divorce, except that we give the woman the same privileges as the man," said John Day Smith last evening in a lecture at the First Baptist church on the "Relation of Modern Jurisprudence to the Mosaic Law."

"In the Bible," said he, "we find no law of divorce prior to the Mosaic law; nor is there any after it; nor is there any in it."

"What we have erroneously called the Mosaic law of divorce is a law of Moses which provides that a divorced man may not marry the divorced woman after she has married another and has been divorced by him, or after his death. From the wording of this law we learn that custom had permitted a man to divorce his wife because of a wrong against him that had caused him to hate her, and that in doing so he gave her a paper in writing. Custom of the present day is to give a woman a divorce if you substitute incompatibility of temper or desertion for the wording of the Mosaic law, except that there are no provisions for a woman's provision for divorce for a woman."

"The Arab of the present day merely leads his wife to the door of his tent and bids her go, and nothing more is necessary. I sometimes believe that if we continue in our present tendency we will get to that state of affairs."

Basis of Modern Law. Mr. Smith, in the course of his lecture, traced much to be found in modern law to the Mosaic law, and said that the deaconage was in itself a whole moral code.

All pertaining to observance of the Sabbath, and the law, and that law in some form or other is observed in Christian lands and among the Mohammedans and nearly all pagan nations. He quoted laws of Massachusetts against blasphemy in which that offense was defined in the words of the Bible.

The distinction now accepted in law between manslaughter and murder, he said, had been preserved through all ages from the Mosaic law, and that the distinction was in the Mosaic law. He traced a close relationship between the bankruptcy laws of latter days and the old year of jubilee, which occurred once in fifty years, and enabled men to get clear of their obligations.

FRIENDS GIVE HIM A FAREWELL BANQUET

J. J. McCurdy is Congratulated on His New Position.

J. J. McCurdy, who was recently appointed auditor of the postoffice department, was the guest of honor last night at a banquet given at the Commodore club.

Places were set for twenty, and a score of McCurdy's intimate friends participated. Judge E. A. Jaggard was toastmaster, and each of the guests made a short talk congratulating Mr. McCurdy on his appointment. Regret was also expressed that the new auditor must move from St. Paul to Washington. Mr. McCurdy will leave in a few days for the national capital to assume his new duties.

Those present were: J. J. McCurdy, H. C. McNair, Jesse A. Gregg, J. W. Cooper, George Thompson, C. W. Lusk, J. W. Lusk, A. H. Lindeke, C. J. McConville, M. D. Flower, Theodore F. Smith, E. A. Jaggard, R. A. Lanpher, John A. Steen, E. E. Hushon, Leonard S. Cushing, Conde Hamlin, E. S. Dument, H. T. Quinlan, H. W. Fagley, F. H. Kravenbuhl.

THOUSANDS HAVE KNOWN THIS TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of "The Globe" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first. If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

14 East 120th St., New York City, Oct. 15th, 1903. Dear Sir: "I had been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; I could hardly get up and along. Even my mental capacity was going out, and often I wished to die. It was then I saw an advertisement of yours in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it had it not promised a sworn guarantee with every bottle of your medicine, asserting that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable, and does not contain any harmful drugs. I am seventy years and four months old, and with a good conscience I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney troubles. Four members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases, with the same good results. With many thanks to you, I remain, Very truly yours, ROBERT BERNER."

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such diseases. SPECIAL NOTICE—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and a book containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonials, letters received from men and women cured. In writing, be sure to say that you read this generous offer in the St. Paul Daily Globe.

traction and threshing machine mechanic, whose home is in Kenyon, Minn. Last night Parsons strolled into a saloon on Eighth street, near the corner of Sibley, and discovered Blake, who is comparatively "a small man, but very fat," sitting at a table in the saloon. Parsons called Blake a name which reflected on the character of his ancestry, which Blake resented. Parsons became enraged at this and drew off his revolver, and fired at Blake. Blake, seeing that he was outclassed, picked up a glass and hurled it at Parsons' head. The police ambulance was called and Parsons was removed to the city hospital, where the gash on the top of his head was dressed. Blake was later arrested by Detective Fraser and charged with assault and battery. He will be arraigned this morning.

Special to The Globe. BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 1.—After four years of successful work as assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, the Rev. Henry O. Hannum will on March 1 leave for Superior, Wis., to accept a call to the First Congregational church of that place, the largest congregational church in Northern Wisconsin. Mr. Hannum is a native of Massachusetts and has spent the greater part of his life there. He is a graduate of the university and the Harvard divinity school.

Special to The Globe. ST. CLOUD, Minn., Feb. 1.—The sensational divorce case of Dahlem vs. Caughren, of Sauk Center, is to receive another hearing in district court through the suit of the son-in-law, E. A. Dahlem, against his wife's father, J. A. Caughren, for $10,000 damages for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Caughren claims to have a written agreement of divorce, and the case was continued to allow him to produce it.

Special to The Globe. OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 1.—The Omaha grain exchange began business today. President Wattles appealed to the grain merchants and brokers to deal fairly with the public, expressing his faith in the success of the exchange. He sounded the gong and himself opened the first lot of grain for sale. He sold 5,000 bushels of clearing wheat at the same moment declaring the exchange open for business.

Montana Supreme Tribunal Reverses Judge Clancy's Ruling.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 1.—The Montana supreme court today reversed the decision of District Judge Clancy in Butte in the injunction suit of John Maginnis against the Boston & Montana company. This is the suit which caused the shut-down of all the Amalgamated properties in Montana last summer. The case involved the injunction issued by Judge Clancy against the Amalgamated Copper company's holding and voting stock in Montana companies. The decision is very favorable to the Amalgamated.

The substance is that Maginnis is a private individual and has no right to maintain an action against the Amalgamated company doing business in Montana or on the point as to whether it is a monopoly. Such action is only maintainable by the state; that under the evidence the Amalgamated Copper company is neither a trust nor a monopoly; that under the laws of Montana one corporation may hold stock in another corporation and that the same is not against public policy. House bill 132 is not unconstitutional. Remittitur of the supreme court will not be granted for fifteen days. It is expected, will ask for a rehearing. If the motion is denied the dividends of the Boston & Montana become available.

Weakness in Men

A Michigan Specialist Finds an Easy Way to Cure Any Case of Sexual Weakness Even in the Oldest Men. This Wonderful Cure Has a Most Marvelous Record of Successes.

SENT FREE TO ALL WHO APPLY IN WRITING. There are thousands of cheerless homes in this country, filled with discontent and unhappiness, lacking in love and companionship through the sexual weakness and physical impairment of a man whose years do not justify such a condition. In such cases, the man is often reckless and often causes a temporary cessation of vital power that instantly yields to the wonderful treatment discovered by the great specialist, Dr. H. C. Raynor, of Detroit, Michigan. It has remained for this great physician to discover that sexual weakness and similar troubles can be cured and in remarkable short spaces of time. This treatment does not ruin the man, but it is a new treatment that easily and quickly restores youthful vigor to men as old as 85.

The discovery is beyond doubt the most scientific and comprehensive that our attention has ever been called to. From all sides we have private reports of cures in stubborn cases of sexual weakness, enlargement of the prostate, gonorrhea, spermatorrhea, lost manhood, impotency, emissions, premature, shrunken organs, lack of vitality, nervousness, and timidity and like unnatural conditions. It does this without appliances, vacuum pumps, electric belts or anything of that kind.

Satisfactory results are produced in a short day's use and a perfect cure in a short time, regardless of age or the cause of your condition. The lucky discoverer simply desires to get in touch with all men who can make use of such a treatment. They should address him in confidence, Dr. H. C. Raynor, 405 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and immediately on receipt of your name and address it is his agreement with you to send you a receipt or form of this modern treatment by which you can cure yourself at home.

Chief of Police O'Connor received a telephone call last night stating that Charles McDonald, alias Bradford, wanted by the St. Paul police, had been arrested in Chicago.

McDonald is wanted in this city to answer to the charge of robbing J. J. Kahlman's residence, 493 Ashland avenue, on Christmas eve. He is alleged to be in possession of a $250 worth of silverware and jewelry at that place. He is also wanted on the charge of stealing $200 worth of jewelry and silverware from the residence of Dr. J. J. Kahlman.

WILLIAM DIEDERICH VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

Pioneer Resident of St. Paul is in a Critical Condition. Theodore Sedgwick, 563 Ashland avenue, on Jan. 18, 1904, while the family and servants were out, was seized with paralysis. He was previously arrested by Detective Sweeney on the charge of robbing Mrs. O. Polson's residence, 1012 East street, on November 29 last, but was acquitted by the jury.

Edward Lund, a pal of McDonald's, was arrested last Wednesday by Detective Sweeney and Haegerty, in this city, for the robbery of the same residence.

William Diederich, aged seventy-five years, and a pioneer resident and business man of St. Paul, suffered a paralytic stroke at his home, 194 McCol street, Sunday, and is now in a serious condition. Mr. Diederich was for many years at the head of the wholesale liquor house which bears his name, but for more than a year has been confined to his home.
