

JAPS HIT PORT ARTHUR AGAIN

at Irkutsk last night. He made a brief stop, during which he was presented a fund of 12,000 roubles. He then continued his journey. By this time he has crossed Lake Baikal.

The government today made a private official statement to senators that since the beginning of the war exactly 100,000 men had been forwarded to the far East by the Siberian railway.

FIND FODDER SCARCE.

Special Cable to the Globe. TOKYO, March 22.—Russians who were on the Ching Chien river, north of Korea, have retired to the right bank of the Pak Chen river. Two hundred Russians are posted at Kasan, which is constantly expecting attack. Russians are plundering the Pak Chen river and Wi-ju, where a cavalry post has been established, but they obtain little. They are experiencing immense difficulty in getting the necessary fodder.

WILL CLING FAST TO KOREA.

LONDON, March 23.—The Seoul correspondent of the Times says that while deprecating precipitancy in administrative reconstruction, Japan recommends that Korea shall gradually eliminate foreign advisers of the government and appoint no more for the present. Many of the foreigners, who are mostly French, occupy advisory posts with emoluments aggregating $100,000, and half of these posts are absolute sinecures.

The Japanese are displaying great vigor in the construction of a light railway to Ping-yang and other strategic projects, according to the correspondent, who says that as an evidence of the thoroughness of her plans Japan is preparing for the possibility of military reverses in Manchuria, but that whatever happens she intends to hold fast to Korea. Should she fail to expel the Russians from Chinese territory and be compelled to defend the Korean frontier, the existence of a railway in the rear running to a port within ferrying distance of Japan will be of inestimable value to Japan. The road will be made permanent and extended to Wi-ju.

The Telegraph's Seoul correspondent reports the rising of a mob of Koreans against Japanese soldiers at Samung, north of Gensan. The Japanese dispersed the mob, killing five men and wounding twenty.

LATEST BOMBARDMENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—The emperor has received a telegram from Viceroy Alexieff giving the following report of Vice Admiral Makaroff of the latest bombardment of Port Arthur.

"At midnight of March 21 two of the enemy's torpedo boats approached the outer roadstead, but were discovered by the searchlights of the batteries and fired upon by the forts and by the gunboats Bohr and Otavay. They were obliged to retire.

"A second attack was made at 4 o'clock in the morning by three torpedo boats, which also were repulsed. At daybreak three detachments of the enemy's fleet, consisting of six battleships, six armored cruisers, six second and third class cruisers and eight torpedo boats, approached from all sides. At 7 o'clock our squadron commenced to leave the inner harbor, the cruisers leading, with the Askold, flying my flag, at their head, and the battleships following.

"The enemy's battleships approached Liotsin and fired 100 shells from their 12-inch guns at Port Arthur and 108 shells at the environs of the town. Our shells, fired at a range of eighty cables, were well placed. About 10 o'clock a Japanese battleship was struck by a shell and retired.

"We lost no men during the bombardment, which ceased at 11 o'clock, when the enemy's ships reassembled and after passing along the outer roadstead drew off without attacking our fleet.

Lieut. Gen. Stossel's report says that during the bombardment five soldiers were killed and nine were wounded. One soldier on the shore was bruised.

JAPS ACTIVE IN KOREA.

Vice Admiral Togo's activity at Port Arthur is being emulated by the commander of the Japanese forces in Korea. The report of Gen. Mischenkow shows that the Japanese have taken the precaution to erect earthworks near An-ju, which are being held by a Japanese division until the remainder of the First army corps comes up from Ping Yang, about forty miles away.

MAJORITY DIPS AGAIN

Balfour Government Narrowly Escapes Vote of Censure.

LONDON, March 22.—The majority again fell very low in the house of commons, a motion from the Irish benches censuring the government's action with regard to Irish waterways being defeated by a majority of only 16. The figures were greeted with prolonged Irish cheers, and a voice: "You shall drink it to the dogs," while John Gordon Swift McNeil, the member from South Donegal, shouted amid laughter: "We've twisted your pigtails now."

PERHAPS IT IS ALL UP WITH SULLY & CO.

Belief Exists That the "Cotton King" Cannot Resume Operations.

NEW YORK, March 22.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in the United States district court against Daniel J. Sully & Co. by three creditors. The latter, S. M. Wells & Co., having a claim amounting, it is alleged, to over $250,000. J. Temple Gwathmey & Co., whose claim is in excess of $170,000, and Shearson, Hamill & Co., with a claim in excess of $100,000, alleged that the firm of Sully & Co. also purchased cotton from them, the price to be due and determined on March 19, under the rules of the Cotton exchange. On that date, the petition states, the firm of Sully & Co. notified the Cotton exchange and the creditors in question of its inability to meet outstanding contracts. The act on the part of the firm constituting bankruptcy is given as the making of a general assignment on March 19. Judge Holt appointed as receivers David H. Miller and Henry W. Taft, fixing their receiver's bonds at $200,000.

The feeling of the street over the day's happenings was that Sully's hopes of settling with his creditors and resuming his practice had been destroyed, and the possibilities in the bankruptcy proceedings were such as to make it probable that sensations would develop later. It is believed that the bankruptcy proceedings were instituted with the idea of recovering something for the creditors from men who were said to have been in a pool with Sully.

STILLWATER

A decree has been signed by Judge Williston partitioning the real estate belonging to the heirs of the late Hon. Isaac Staples. The amount apportioned among the heirs is valued at about $230,000, and the property consists of valuable farms, Stillwater business blocks, lands in this county and elsewhere and other property. The report made by commissioners Jenks, Eichten and Parker was accepted and the order signed also provides for their fees and for the fees of the attorneys. The estate has been in the courts of this county for several years, and by the action taken at this time the heirs will come into immediate possession of their property.

Warden Wolfert says that there is now no need for cots in the corridors of the cell rooms, which have been used by convicts who were unable to get cell accommodations because of the crowded condition of the prison. The two wings to the cell room have been completed and are in use. The cell room now has cell accommodations for 675 prisoners and the population yesterday was 639. The insane ward is not yet in use, the five cranks occupying cells on the north side of the solitary building. They will soon be transferred to the insane ward.

Several of these engines are to be manufactured this season.

In his proclamation the governor says that there exists in Las Animas county a certain class of individuals who are fully armed and acting together, resisting the laws of the state and offering violence to citizens and property. WOMAN WAS DAZED

Police Find Her Wandering on the West Side.

A well-dressed woman calling herself Mrs. Flora von Sulmsmich was found by Patrolman Helmer, of the West side police district, walking about in a bewildered condition at 10 o'clock last night, near Concord and State streets. She entered several stores, the patrolman was informed, and had repeated aimless inquiries. She was taken to the police station Mrs. von Sulmsmich, who is an attractive brunette, about thirty-five years old, talked with more coherence. She said that she had recently left St. Luke's hospital. Her husband, she said, was a prominent dentist in Duluth and the son of a noble German family. Her own relatives, she intimated, were driven over to the central city. She offered no explanations.

Inquiries at St. Luke's hospital last night failed to corroborate Mrs. von Sulmsmich's statement. "The real lady we've had here for several years," as Mrs. von Sulmsmich was described by a West side patrolman, was driven over to the central police station, where she was cared for by the matron.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 22.—While attending a banquet at the St. Louis club tonight Judge Eugene Carey, of Chicago, suddenly dropped dead. During the Civil war Mr. Cary was a captain in the First Wisconsin volunteers, and at the close of the war made his home in Nashville, Tenn. He was for a time judge of the circuit court of Tennessee. He went to Chicago in 1871.

GRAND WIFE.

The Kind Worth Having. A well-known lady of Carthage, Mo., says: "Although I do not drink tea or coffee myself, I have had a most interesting experience in my family, for about a year ago my husband began to fail in health. He would get so very nervous at times he would have to give up his work and come home. His eyes were falling, him and the doctor became alarmed—was afraid he was going to lose his sight. He also got very yellow in complexion, at times his blood ran cold, from nervous chills the doctor said.

"In a few days he would return to work still in that dull, chilly condition. He would drink coffee, coffee, coffee, for a stimulant," he would say (as he drank no liquor). "His condition gradually got worse. Instead of better, until finally I made up my mind coffee had something to do with it, so I bought a package of Postum without telling him, and made it according to directions. He drank it and seemed to like it, so I continued to make it, and before the first package was gone he began to get a clear complexion and feel so well, gaining fast in flesh, he was so delighted he would get weighed every day.

"Finally he talked so much about it I could not keep it a secret any longer, and told him to give Postum the credit. The consequences are there has been no more coffee in the house since (and no doctor either). "Postum is a delightful drink made according to directions. I have found no better way, as it is a rich golden brown when cream is added, and as strong as they ever were; he is well and hearty, does not sit around the stove chilled all the time as he did before." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Coffee poison causes eye trouble in many cases as well as other ailments, and is never suspected. A 10 days' trial proves things you will never forget. Look in each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

MINNEAPOLIS REV. G. L. MORRILL DEFENDS FREE LUNCH

Says Every Move Toward Lunch Counter is a Step Toward Temperance.

Now comes Rev. G. L. Morrill, of the People's church, to champion the cause of the free lunch advocates. Unlike his brethren of the clergy, the reverend gentleman speaks of the lunch proposition "not as the scribes and Pharisees, but as one having authority." In other words he knows whereof he speaks. "I go in a saloon every day. I don't drink. I have been in this city fifteen years. I have never taken a glass of liquor or beer over a bar. I can always get a good glass of sweet milk or buttermilk in a saloon. I have studied the saloon problem and its free lunch adjunct," said Mr. Morrill to a Globe reporter yesterday.

"I meet the man who wants or thinks he needs a straight drink of whisky—takes it and goes about his business. Another man takes a glass of beer and a few bits of lunch or a bowl of soup. If he drank enough to satisfy the craving in his stomach without eating something he would be made sick or drunk.

"Then there are the poor fellows without a cent or with only 5 cents, who can get both food and drink. I don't know what many of them would do if the free lunch was abolished. It is all very well to say 'Let them work,' but it is not always possible to get work within the limit of time a man would live without food. I tell you there is a very large human side to this free lunch business. I know all about the loafers and poor fellows whose spirits are broken, who are criminally disposed, and who maintain themselves by working a free lunch route. But how small a class they are when the hundreds of business and professional men are considered who delight in the free lunch. It should be borne in mind that the free lunch is the only 'quick lunch' in the world. And it is good and wholesome in the better class of saloons.

"I am not advocating drinking or lunching in saloons, but in this practical world we must reckon with evils as we find them and not indulge in wholesale denunciations of a really great American institution. "The saloon has its uses as a place of public comfort, public convenience and public necessity, in a measure. They have lavatories and wash rooms, they are warm and inviting to thousands of unfortunate men who cannot go anywhere else. They do not incite men to crime by filling their stomachs with warm, healthful food. It strikes me that a starving man, of a low moral type, will steal or do some desperate thing much quicker than a man with a full stomach. As long as we must have saloons, let us compel them to furnish good lunches, for I regard every movement toward a lunch counter as a temperance movement."

NO MORE TRADING STAMPS.

The Retail Grocers' association has turned down the trading stamp proposition 90 per cent of its members agreeing to throw out the stamps until the year 1910 anyway. A fine of $50 for violation of the agreement was agreed upon as a penalty.

The grocers regard trading stamps as trade demoralizers, and a committee has been appointed to wage war against their use. William Furst, attorney for the association, estimates that the stamps have cost the grocers $100,000 in the past year.

What Do You Want Rubber Heels For?

There are many reasons, among which are: The springy, elastic step of youth. Refinement, Economy. There are different kinds of heels—those made of live, new rubber as it comes from the trees, that are resilient, healthful and economical to the wearer. The rubber in them costs big money, especially now, when rubber is high. There are many others—imitations made of Reclaimed Rubber, that is, Rubber that has been used before in old boots and shoes, has been chemically treated and used over again; it is lifeless, fragile, dead. It costs 15 cents a pound. They won't wear, nor have they the spring. When you order Rubber heels specify O'Sullivan's and get heels made of Dollar-a-pound Rubber. That describes O'Sullivan's. All dealers, 50 cents, attached. If your dealer can't supply you send 35 cents for sample to O'Sullivan Rubber Co., Lowell, Mass.
