MUST ASK COUNCIL

City Fathers Will Pass Upon Concert Hall Licenses.

With the amendment, that the council alone is to pass upon the licenses for concert halls and dance halls where liquor is sold, the assembly last evening passed the ordinance regulating such places.

The provisions of the ordinance, as agreed to, are that a license shall be for six months and the fee is to be $35. The licenses shall be non-transferable. The amendments, which make it necessary that the ordinance be sent back to the board of aldermen, are the term of the license and the striking out of the provision requiring that licenses be granted only to persons approved by the chief of police.

CLAIMS ELEVATOR STOPPED SELLING OATS

Turtle River Supply Company Demands $804 for Breach of Contract.

Judge Orr has on trial the case of the Turtle River Supply company against the Loftus-Hubbard Elevator company in which the plaintiff demands $804 for breach of a contract. The complainant says that the defendant agreed to sell to the plaintiff 20,000 bushels of oats at 12 cents, and did deliver 4,955 bushels but no more. The plaintiff, it is alleged, was obliged to buy the remainder of its supply elsewhere on a rising market and to pay $804 more than the charge for the same quantity would have been at the price fixed in the contract with the defendant.

The defendant answers as to breach of contract that the plaintiff failed to keep the agreement to pay spot cash for the oats as delivered; and also that the contract was made on the supposition that P. A. McNaughton was a member of the plaintiff firm, and when member it did not care to trust the firm.

Roche Sues for Booze Bill.

FUGITIVE FOR YEARS, MURDERER CAUGHT

Bartholoma Labiera Must Answer for Death of Man Whose Wife He Betrayed.

For ten years Bartholoma Labiera, alleged murderer, evaded the officers of the law, but a few days ago he was captured in a small town in Roseau county, near the Canadian border, and yesterday passed through St. Paul in charge of Philipa Sayula, sheriff of Kanabaz, Youcatan county, Mexico, the scene of the crime.

The story of the offense for which Labiera must answer possesses its romantic as well as its criminal features. Some ten years ago Labiera went to Youcatan county and pretended that his visit was for the purpose of purchasing an interest in a ranch owned by John T. Benson, who had recently located there, coming from Edwards county, Texas. There was Mrs. Benson and she was handsome and she was winsome. Labiera was also handsome and he was dashing.

For a time Benson was unsuspecting, going to the extent of chiding one of his former friends who suggested that there was a likelihood that Mrs. Benson was too friendly with the handsome stranger. Benson believed that he was able to attend to his own family affairs.

But one day Benson witnessed something that caused him to believe the reports that had been circulated and there was a scene between him and Labiera, the dashing young man who had won himself into the confidence of Mrs. Benson and many other members of the community. What happened at that time is not known.

Benson Found Dead. What is known is that Benson was found dead a few days later and coincident with his death the murder of Labiera disappeared. The usual legal proceedings resulted in the formal indictment and the beginning of the search for him. The efforts of the officers for years seemed to be in vain. Innumerable false clues being followed in the effort to locate the alleged murderer, the case was forgotten in the tall by the people in the neighborhood until news came that Labiera had been arrested in the northern part of Minnesota. The sheriff came on as soon as the proper papers could be prepared.

Labiera, the prisoner, is a fine appearing man even after having spent ten years in the hands of justice, fearful of apprehension from day to day. Typical of the Mexican race, from which he springs, he goes back to face a trial that means the sacrifice of his life without apparent fear, taking the position that ten years is a long time, in which it is possible that any of his material witnesses may have forgotten or will conveniently remember just what occurred so long ago.

RAILROADS TO HELP IMMIGRATION MEETING

Will Make as Low Rates as Possible to Induce Large Attendance.

A meeting of the committees of the Commercial club in charge of the arrangement for the immigration convention, which will be held in St. Paul, June 14 and 15, met with the representatives of the railroad lines terminating in St. Paul yesterday at the Commercial club.

The railroad officials assured the committee that the lines entering St. Paul will make as favorable rates as possible to induce delegates to attend the convention. The railroad representatives also told the club committee that they would in every way co-operate with it to make the convention a success.

Among the railroad officials present were: F. I. Whitney, general passenger agent of the Great Northern; A. M. Cleland, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific; W. R. Dixon, Northwestern agent at the Milwaukee; Frank McCabe, chief clerk in the passenger department of the O. & N.; General Agent Stevenson, of the Wisconsin Central; and J. Saint, city ticket and passenger agent of the Rock Island.

FIVE COAL COMPANIES SUBMIT SAME BID

Government May Reject Proposals for Fuel for Federal Building.

Five bids for supplying the federal building with 1,200 tons of coal during the next season were found to be identical when opened yesterday afternoon by government officials. The price asked for ten tons for screening, Youghleny, the kind wanted for heating the building, was $5.60. The bidders were the Philadelphia & Reading, Youghleny & Lehigh, Ohio, Pioneer and St. Paul & Western companies.

The price quoted in the bids is 10 cents higher than that at which the government secured its supply of coal last year, when coal was scarce, owing to the strike. The contract was not awarded yesterday, and it is possible that a reconsideration will be made by the treasury department advising that the bids be rejected and others advertised for.

Husband Charges Desertion.

Augustus G. Moore applied to the district court yesterday for a divorce from Mary E. Moore, to whom he was married thirty years ago. Mr. Moore alleged desertion on the part of his wife dating from January, 1903. Mr. Moore is now 57 years of age, and his wife 50 years, and they have lived in Roseau county for the past twenty years.

They have a son now 25 years old. Mrs. Moore filed suit for divorce against her husband in 1903, but the proceedings under that petition were dropped.

Takes Brother's Remains East.

George R. Kibbe, manager of the Merchants hotel, arrived in St. Paul yesterday with the remains of his brother, Dr. Alfred Kibbe, who died last Saturday at Seattle, Wash., as the result of an operation. The remains were a younger brother of George R. Kibbe, and a prominent eye and ear specialist of Seattle. The remains were forwarded last night to Buffalo, N. Y., where the interment will be made. Mr. Kibbe accompanied the remains East.

ALLEGED FOOTPADS PLACED ON TRIAL

Their Wives and Infant Children Form Pathetic Spectacle In Court.

Sorrow-stricken and oppressed with foreboding of impending misfortune, two women sat yesterday afternoon among the spectators in the criminal branch of the district court. Each held in her arms a babe whose age could be reckoned in months, and each was accompanied by another infant just about old enough to toddle with uncertain steps about the room and interrupt the proceedings from time to time with its prattle.

But the toddlers went unrestrained, for the attention of the women was centered on the trial in progress and they were oblivious to the scene. They were the wives of Anton Zarembrinski and Joseph Prill, on trial for robbery in the first degree.

In the indictment under which Zarembrinski and Prill are now on trial it is charged that they, with a third man, all three armed with loaded revolvers, held up Michael Sammon on the night of March 13, near the corner of Dale and Hennepin streets, and robbed of $30. The other indictment alleges the larceny of $15 out of the saloon of William Jans.

County Attorney Kane is conducting the case on behalf of the state, William Louis Kelly Jr. appears for Prill, and E. S. Carey for Zarembrinski.

Story of the Crime. Mr. Kane, in outlining his case, said he would show by evidence that on the night of March 13 Michael Sammon and Thomas Downs were held up just as they had left Louis Peringer's saloon at the corner of Dale and Thomas streets by two masked men with revolvers that whom Peringer pulled out of the saloon to look out, because he had heard a noise, one of the masked men fired through the glass door of the saloon, and the other shot which shattered the light on the end of the bar.

He said the state would show that while Sammon and Downs stood backed up in the doorway of Peringer's place the two masked men robbed them and then ran in the direction of Herman Kroenig's saloon at Thomas and Grotz streets. The case was then shown to Zarembrinski and Prill were seen by persons who knew them well in Kroenig's saloon within an hour after the hold-up, and Zarembrinski was seen to take the money and hide two revolvers under the sidewalk. These revolvers, he said, would be produced, and it would be shown that the money was taken from the bullets fired into Peringer's saloon.

The witnesses called in the afternoon were Sammon, Downs, Louis Peringer, Herman Kroenig, Henry Kath and John Pointinger. The revolvers, found by Kroenig under the sidewalk, and the bullets found in Peringer's saloon, were put in evidence. The state has not yet completed its evidence.

NO PARK AT MIDWAY

Amusement Company's Project Finally Killed by Assembly.

The Midway amusement park ordinance was definitely killed by the assembly last evening, upholding the report of the committee on streets. This is the measure to which the people of the Midway district have in decided objection, the proposition being to locate the park, University and Hampden avenues and vacating a number of streets in order to secure sufficient land for the purpose. The street railway is said to have been interested in the project, but the general objection from the people in the vicinity brought the matter to a halt to refuse the vacations asked, and the ordinance was defeated in lieu of a formal withdrawal.

Not all of the strikers will receive compensation for two full weeks. At least twenty members of the union began working at different times recently in Minneapolis binderies or in St. Paul stores and offices.

M'CARDY WRITES A LETTER TO THE MAYOR

Asks City to Pay $200 Toward Cost of Sidewalk Around Monument.

A letter from J. J. McCarty to Mayor Smith asking that the city pay $200 toward the cost of a sidewalk around the soldiers' monument in Summit park was submitted to the assembly last evening.

McCarty writes that the Monument association has $38 on hand and will donate it if the city will pay the balance, which amounts to the sum stated. The request was referred to the committee on streets.

WILL GO TO COURTS

Trading Stamp Measure Passed but Dispute Is Not Ended.

It was evident at the meeting of the assembly last evening that both sides of the trading stamp controversy realize that the dispute will be transferred to the courts.

The trading stamp people failed to make an appearance before the city legislative body, and the retailers desiring the passage of the ordinance had but two representatives in attendance to watch the course of events. Assemblyman Arnold furnished the sole argument on the question, asking if the ordinance would apply to merchants who are giving out checks on their own account. On being assured that it did not he withdrew his objection, and the ordinance was adopted by a unanimous vote.

The provision of the ordinance, which now goes to the mayor, are that the trading stamp companies pay a license of $300 a year, and that dealers be assessed $100 a year. A failure to conform to the provisions of the ordinance subjects the delinquent to a fine of as much as $100.

COUNCIL WILL SAY

Assembly Passes Ordinance Regulating Hotel Runners.

At the meeting of the upper branch of the city council last evening Assemblyman Whitcomb secured the passage of an ordinance regulating hotel runners. A license of $25 is to be exacted and provision made for the revocation of the license by the council.

The hotel runners at present are working under a police regulation that merely requires that they shall stand and do business. This measure having superseded an ordinance licensing them. The difference between the present licensing ordinance and the like measure in force previously to the present regulation is that it is necessary to apply to the council and receive permission to do business, instead of dealing only with the city clerk.

Assemblyman Haas objected to the license idea upon the ground that when the former ordinance was in force it resulted in permission being granted to pickpockets, and Assemblyman Wheeler said that he did not doubt that the same would be true if the license idea had been taken for a farmer by a runner.

Assemblyman Whitcomb insisted upon the passage of the ordinance and went through under suspension of the rules.

MAY DECIDE TO SUE THE STREET RAILWAY

First Warders Insist That Company Build Line to Phalen Park.

The First Ward Improvement association will meet tomorrow evening in the room of Henry J. Payne avenue, when it is expected that the decision will be reached on the proposition that suit be brought against the construction of a line to Phalen park. The association has virtually declared that it will bring action, but is holding back upon the theory that the city's change of enforcing the 5 percent gross earnings tax will be endangered.

CAN MOOR LAUNCHES AT JACKSON ST. DOCKS

Assembly Concurs With Board of Aldermen in Granting the Privilege.

The assembly last evening approved of the action of the board of aldermen in granting the privilege of launching street docks to launch owners, Assemblyman Rosen stating that a number of persons have banded together to erect a line to Phalen park, the docks, which cost about $75 a month for maintenance.

Fred Van Slyke did not object to the passage of the ordinance, but thought that owners of launches independent of the St. Paul Launch club should be given a landing place. His suggestion was not embodied in the resolution.

S. POPE SPATES SUES ON CEMENT CONTRACT

Says William Porten Company Owes Him $398.25 on Account.

Judge Jagard yesterday took up the trial of the case of S. Pope Spates against the William Porten company, action to recover $398.25 on an account. The suit arises out of sales of cement to the defendant by the plaintiff for the purpose of erecting a building. The defendant has put forward a claim of $127.25, alleging deviations from the original contract in regard to the quality of the cement furnished and the prices charged.

CHURCHES MAY OBJECT TO NEW BUILDING CODE

Assembly Refers Proposed Amendments and Public Hearing Will Be Granted.

The amendments to the building code, fully reported in Thursday's issue of The Globe, were last night sent to the committee on streets by the assembly without discussion. It was evident that there is to be a general public hearing on the issue, several of the assemblymen saying privately that they had been asked to vote for the reference. Several churches, it is understood, will object to the regulations.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The following articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the secretary of state: National Crematory Manufacturing company, Minneapolis. Capital stock, $50,000; purpose, the manufacture of the crematory and first directors are Joseph McDermott, Frank E. Haycock, Edwin C. Potter, Carl L. Wallace and William M. Mitchell, of Minneapolis.

When in doubt as to how your money should be invested, read "The Globe's Paying Wants."

JUDGE DRIVES BOYS FROM COURT ROOM

Judge Kelly Declares Criminal Branch Bad School for Youths.

"Boys who would more properly be in school will not be permitted to loiter in this court room; and before we proceed further I shall ask the sheriff to clear the room of all who are not of proper age to remain."

These words, delivered by Judge Kelly from the bench in the criminal branch of the district court, yesterday afternoon, filled an interval in the trial of Anton Zarembrinski and Joseph Prill, accused of highway robbery.

Both the speech and the manner in which it was delivered were strikingly characteristic of Judge Kelly. County Attorney Kane had just completed his opening argument to the jury, when the court, in a mild tone, that at first barely attracted the attention of those who sat before him, said:

"While it is the unpleasant duty of the court and the jury to try cases of this kind, experience has shown us that it is an exceedingly bad school for boys. In looking about this room I have noticed a great many who I am sure cannot be more than fifteen years of age. They should not be here. They would more properly be in school and permitted to loiter in this court room; and before we proceed further I shall ask the sheriff to clear the room of all who are not of proper age to remain."

After the sheriff had quietly circulated among the spectators the crowd in the rear of the court room was perceptibly thinned out.

TRANSFER OF REALTY MUST BE IN WRITING

Decision of United States Circuit Court Is Affirmed.

Judge Vandeventer, of the United States circuit court of appeals, yesterday handed down two opinions, one affirming a decision of the circuit court for the district of Minnesota, and one reversing a decision of the circuit court for the Southern district of Iowa.

The Minnesota case was that of Levi D. York against Ted L. Washburn, Duluth. Suit was brought by York to recover certain earnest money paid to Washburn to secure a lease for mining property in the northern part of the state. The case was heard, which was held valid, was that the agreement was merely oral, and therefore not binding under the Minnesota law requiring all contracts for the transfer of realty to be in writing. The case was dismissed.

The Iowa case was brought to the circuit court of appeals by the Chicago & North-Western railroad, against the damages awarded by the circuit court in favor of John L. Andrews, of Scranton, Iowa, who was injured while crossing the tracks of the railroad in the town of Jax, 24, 1901. Judge Vandeventer held that Andrews could not recover because he did not exercise sufficient caution in crossing the track. A new trial is granted.

G. A. R. MEN ATTEND MISS BECKER'S FUNERAL

Daughter of Past Department Commander R. A. Becker Laid to Rest.

R. A. Becker, former department commander of the G. A. R., yesterday buried his daughter, Miss Gussie May Becker, who died Tuesday at Bethesda hospital, of appendicitis. The death of Miss Becker, coming within eleven months after that of her mother, was a sad blow to her father.

A large number of G. A. R. men, including Harrison White, of Luverne, department commander, and Perry Starkweather, past department commander, attended the funeral, which was held from Mr. Becker's residence, 549 Whittall street.

The death of Miss Becker was extremely sudden. She was in good health till last Saturday, when she was stricken ill and was removed to Bethesda hospital, where she was operated on for appendicitis.

LECKIE LOSES SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD.

Under instructions from Judge Orr, the jury in the case of John Leckie against the Great Northern road, yesterday returned a verdict for the defendant. Leckie in his complaint demanded damages of $4,000 for personal injuries. He was a member of a section gang working for the railroad company near the Mississippi street bridge, and the men were told to get aboard a train. Leckie alleged that as he was on his way to the train he tripped over a semaphore wire that was not properly protected and fell on the rail, injuring his left arm. The jury found that Leckie had been negligent.

WARNERS ARE NOW SEPARATED.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO END DEBATING CONTEST

St. Paul Central and Fergus Falls Will Settle Championship Next Friday.

The high school debating championship of Minnesota will be settled on the evening of April 15, in the chapel of the University of Minnesota, when the team of the St. Paul Central high school will meet the team of the Fergus Falls high school. This is the last of a series of sixteen debates held under the auspices of the Minnesota Debating league, the first of which was held on the evening of Dec. 23.

Every high school in the state with a debating team, with the exception of these two, has been met and defeated either by one of these teams or by a team which one of these has defeated. St. Paul is the champion of the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth congressional districts, while the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth will be represented by the Fergus Falls boys. The Third did not enter a team.

St. Paul has won all three debates, in the final debate, as they met in the university chapel last year, when the boys from Fergus Falls won a two to one decision over the local team.
