BUREN OF PROOF IS ON PRISONER

Judge Says He Must Prove Detention Illegal to Get out by Habeas Corpus.

To gain his liberty through the district court by the habeas corpus route a prisoner must produce evidence to show that he is wrongfully held in the county jail. The state is not compelled to present evidence to prove that his detention is legal.

So Judge Kelly rules in an order filed yesterday in the district court in the case of the state against Fred Smith.

Fred Smith was taken before the police court on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, it being alleged that he was implicated in a robbery at John Sandell's tailor shop. After the customary preliminary examination he was remanded to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury upon his case. Then, through his attorney, he demanded his release on a writ of habeas corpus, and this application was heard Monday by Judge Kelly.

Stan J. Donnelly, attorney for Smith, moved the discharge of the prisoner on the ground that there was no evidence to establish the probability of his guilt. Mr. Donnelly took the position that under the conditions the burden of proof was upon the state, and that the state must produce before the court the record of evidence offered in the police court.

The county attorney argued that the commitment issued from the police court must stand in this court until proved to be irregular or based upon insufficient grounds, and that must rest with the judge.

Judge Kelly, in his order filed yesterday, says that the writ of habeas corpus is not a writ of error and that the superior court is going as far as is permissible when it undertakes to look into the records of examining magistrates to see if they contain proof of probable cause. He says that one who invokes the writ of habeas corpus to investigate the sufficiency of evidence is burdened with the proof to the court that the evidence is sufficient and that the commitment which appears sufficient is in fact void.

JACOB BERJANSKI SORRY HE THREW BRICK

Upper Level Lad Arrested for Hurting It Through Neighbor's Window.

Perhaps Jacob Berjanski was sorry he threw the brick, as he stated when he appeared before Judge Hine in police court yesterday. For some time, shock-headed appearance rather suggested unabated pugacity.

Berjanski was brought in from his home on Levee and was accused of having thrown a full-sized brick through the window of a neighbor, Mrs. Thoenke. Mrs. Thoenke appeared in court yesterday to identify the very same brick that was hurled through the window and which came in contact with a sofa that the furniture was damaged.

"I did not mean to throw through the window," asserted the pugacious-looking boy.

"But look at the size of the brick," insisted Mrs. Thoenke, exhibiting the missile.

The probation officer will look up Berjanski's record before the case is passed on.

Congressmen Take Steps to Have Injured Cofferdam Repaired.

Globe Special Washington Service, 1417 G Street, WASHINGTON, D. A conference has been arranged for Thursday with the secretary of war and Chief Engineer McKenzie to see about getting the necessary department recommendation for an emergency item to be inserted in the emergency river and harbor bill. Senators Nelson and Clapp are also interesting themselves in the subject.—Walter E. Clark.

MACADAMIZING OF WEST SEVENTH ST. BEGINS

Improvement From Tuscarora to Snelling Will Cost Owners $43,000.

Work on the macadamizing of West Seventh street, from Tuscarora to Fort Snelling, was begun yesterday by the city contractor and the city railway company.

The distance is almost three miles, and the cost to the property owners along the route will be about $42,000, the street railway company having elected to do its own work. The bid received by the board of public works for the street railway's portion was $19,000. It will be necessary to use one street railway track on stretches for some time.

When the work is completed it is believed that West Seventh will become a popular driveway.

Woman Held on Slander Charge.

Mrs. Emma Thon is held at the county jail awaiting extradition to Fort Snelling, on a charge of slander, Mrs. Thon, who resides in this city, but formerly lived at Fort Snelling, is under arrest on a bench warrant issued by the police court in that city. Mrs. Thon's case is a sequel of a blind pig visit which she is said to have made last January. She visited the place to get her husband to come home and was abused by a woman in the place. Mrs. Thon's remarks to the woman, it is said, are the basis of the slander suit.

Delivery Man Rides in Runaway. Arthur Sampson, a driver of a delivery wagon for the Golden Rule, was in an exciting runaway yesterday morning. Sampson was on Aurora avenue near Grotto street when the horse got the bit. The team started. The animal tore down Aurora avenue to Minnesota street and then headed for the center of the city. Sampson jumped from the wagon at the corner of Tenth and Robert streets. The horse ran into an alley where it stopped. Sampson, who lives at 83 Agate street, was not hurt.

C. J. HUNT TELLS OF POLITICS

Prominent Republican Leader of Merriam Park Admits Refusing to Join With Raiders as No Attempt Was Made to Capture Republican Offenders—One Instance Proving the Political Trick Is Cited by the Former Alderman.

"Yes, I was invited to share in the raid on the Midway blind pigs, but I declined to participate in the drug store was included in the list of places to be raided. The drug store has long been the chief offender. But it is Republican headquarters at the Park and escaped the general raid planned and executed last Friday night."

The above statement was made last night by C. J. Hunt, associate general agent of the New England Mutual Life, with offices in the Ryan building, who lives at 1201 Dayton avenue, well out toward the Midway district.

Hunt is an ardent Republican, former alderman from the Eleventh ward, and has long been prominent in the agitation at Merriam Park and Midway against the existence of blind pigs in the district. He is a well known church worker, a member of the Congressional faith, and stands high in the business and social life of the city.

His declaration that there is politics in the raid of the Midway blind pigs is simply confirmation of what has been known to a great many people conversant with the arrest of the alleged piggish last week just on the eve of a city election. That the raid was planned and executed with the hope of injuring the police administration is generally acknowledged, but the conviction of the crusaders of the charge of being inspired by political motives is made possible by the testimony of Mr. Hunt.

"I was asked to share in the work of securing the arrest of the offenders against the liquor law at the park, but I told the men who approached me that I would not act unless they would agree to secure the arrest of the proprietor of the drug store."

"The drug store has, in my opinion, for years sold more liquor than all the piggish combined at Merriam Park. And its proprietor has just as consistently escaped arrest or punishment."

"I do not know the reason for this unless it is that his place is headquarters for the Republicans of the ward."

URGE FINAL ACTION IN DR. CRUM'S CASE

Colored Citizens Vote to Ask Minnesota Senators to Call Up His Nomination.

Vigorous criticism of Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, was expressed last night at a mass meeting of colored men held at the Pilgrim Baptist church, Summit avenue and Cedar street, under the auspices of the Men's Sunday club, to further the confirmation of Dr. Crum, the negro who has been several times appointed collector of the port of Charleston, S. C., and who has not yet been voted by the senate.

Rev. W. D. Carter, pastor of the Pilgrim church and chairman of the meeting, addressed upwards of twenty colored men, including most of those locally prominent. He understood, he said, that Dr. Crum had been performing the duties of collector, but would receive no salary until confirmed.

Senatorial courtesy, said John Dillingham, was the cause of the senate's delay. Although the appointment had been favorably reported long ago, other senators would not take the matter up because Senator Tillman was sick.

"God moves in a mysterious way," observed Mr. Dillingham. "His wonders do perform." If he had answered some of our prayers, Mr. Tillman might have been gone by this time.

The speaker doubted if it was good policy to worry the Minnesota senators again about the Crum matter. Besides, it was a South Carolina appointment, and South Carolina would hardly interfere with a Minnesota appointment. He suggested that the meeting address its appeal to the South Carolina senators.

Attorney F. L. McGhee read letters from Washington friends. They declared that the senate would probably adjourn before May 1 without confirming Dr. Crum, and urged Mr. McGhee to act quickly in securing urgent messages to the senate from prominent negroes of the Northwest.

"I can't understand," said Mr. McGhee, "why these men in Washington didn't find out about the point of senatorial courtesy. If Senator Tillman did not know more about courtesy than to bloody a man's name, he should be under other senators should scarcely expect any courtesy to him. Who supposes that Tillman won't stay sick till Gabriel blows his horn?"

Mr. McGhee wasn't sure that the senate should be urged again. Mr. Dillingham thought "there could be nothing but good to come of it to serve you in a place where you have put him. Send our resolution along and tell Senator Clapp it is our desire that he act accordingly."

On Mr. Dillingham's motion a committee was named by the chairman which will telegraph today to the Minnesota senators urging them to call up Dr. Crum's nomination. This committee—Mr. Dillingham, Mr. McGhee, Dr. Valdo Turner, Walter Williams and J. Q. Adams—will report to the Men's club next Sunday.

C. J. HUNT, Former Republican Alderman Who Claims Blind Pig Raiders of Merriam Park Played Favorites.

ters for the Republican leaders of that part of the city. It is probably remembered that the disgraceful encounter between the Eleventh ward alderman and another citizen of the ward took place in this drug store only a few weeks ago, and when I was asked to join with others in planning and executing the raid I refused pointblank unless this old-time offender was included in the number to be taken and punished.

"I don't like to talk like this against my old neighbors of the park, but it is absolutely true that the raid would have been far more effective were the drug store included."

"It doesn't appear at all probable to me that the sons of well-to-do residents of Merriam Park will patronize cheap run shops, but the danger to them is from the existence of a place under the guise of eminent respectability where liquor can be obtained. For this reason I refused to act with others who are opposed to the liquor traffic unless the honey bee should be taken with the swarm."

D. W. Doty, who, it is said, was at the head of the delegation who caused the arrest of the proprietor of the alleged speak-easies, is a prominent Republican and it is said that every one of his associates is either a Republican or a member of the party. The proprietor of the drug store of which Mr. Hunt complains is also said to be a valuable asset of the local Republican party. The number of the drug store being a meeting place for the Republicans of the ward.

LARPEUR AVENUE BOTHERS ALDERMEN

Board Picks Minneapolis Avenue to Bear Pioneer Citizen's Name.

Minneapolis avenue and not Front street may lose its place on the city records to make place for Larpeur avenue. The plan of changing the name of Front street to Larpeur avenue in honor of A. L. Larpeur, a pioneer citizen, was killed by the board of aldermen last evening, but Minneapolis avenue was substituted.

Add. Hinkley, of the Ninth ward, argued that the name of Front street, in favor of changing the name of Front street, and many of the property owners were opposed to it. He could not see the reason for such a change, and moved that Minneapolis avenue be renamed Larpeur avenue.

Mr. Larpeur, in accordance with this motion, asserted that he thought it might be appropriate to change Minneapolis avenue, but he could not see where an argument could be made for the change as to Front street.

Mr. Larpeur some time ago sent a letter to the city council in which he said that many of the pioneer citizens of the city had been honored by having streets named after them, but that he had neglected to take advantage of the opportunity heretofore, and hoped that the city council would rectify his oversight.

A public hearing was conducted before the committee on streets of the assembly, before which Mr. Larpeur argued that he had neglected to take advantage of the opportunity heretofore, and hoped that the city council would rectify his oversight.

DISPUTES BOILER INSPECTOR'S POWER

Fireman of Heating Plant Consents He Doesn't Need Engineer's License.

Frank Urbach, who is in charge of the heating plant at the O'Brien block, corner of Third street and Smith avenue, has gone to the district court to test the powers of a state boiler inspector under the boiler inspection law.

Mr. Urbach was arrested not long since on complaint of State Boiler Inspector R. H. Johnston and taken before the municipal court charged with operating a steam boiler without a license from a state engineer. His case is still pending in that court, and constructively he is a prisoner of the court, although he has been at liberty on his own recognizance.

Yesterday Mr. Urbach began habeas corpus proceedings in the district court demanding his full release from the charges standing against him on the ground that the boiler inspector had no authority of law for his arrest. In his petition to the court Mr. Urbach says that he is merely janitor of the O'Brien building and fireman of the heating plant, and the boilers which he operates are only used for heating purposes and not for running any machinery. The maximum steam pressure allowed by the safety valves on the boilers, he says, is but ten pounds, and the boilers are insured in a casualty company, whose experts make regular inspections. On these grounds he contends that he is exempt under the law from any necessity of taking out a license.

Urbach appeared before Judge Lewis yesterday in chambers, and the hearing under the writ was continued to May 14.

Boiler Inspector Johnston has, throughout his administration, insisted that the engineers of steam heating plants in large buildings must be licensed engineers of the same class as those operating plants that include machinery, and he contends that the law so provides. There has been considerable controversy over this point between Mr. Johnston and some of the owners and agents of flat buildings and apartment houses, and in the Urbach case the question will be brought directly to an issue.

CHURCHES AND THEIR MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

Evangelical Lutheran Synod Holds Second Annual Conference.

Large increases in the number of churches and in the church attendance were reported yesterday by Rev. D. W. Michael, of Duluth, president of the central conference of the English Evangelical Lutheran synod of the Northwest, at the second annual convention meeting at Trinity church, Ada and Robie streets, West side. Only two pulpits were vacant at Ellsworth, Wis., and Duluth. So general has become the use of the English language throughout the district that services were no longer conducted at any church in the German or Norwegian languages.

Yesterday afternoon the representatives of seventeen churches and 2,000 communicants heard a sermon by Rev. J. J. Clemens. Papers were read by Rev. G. H. Traber, Rev. F. S. Beistel and Rev. A. J. Hays, but had no text. The programme for last night included a sermon by Rev. J. A. Zundel and addresses by Rev. A. J. Reichert and Rev. F. E. Jensen.

FARMER ACCUSED OF JUGGLING FIGURES

Ed Westphal Charged With Manipulating Weight Ticket of a Load of Hay.

Ed Westphal, a young farmer living on the Stillwater road, did not present the appearance of being cunning when he appeared in police court yesterday, but the charge against him was a complicated case of petty larceny.

Westphal was arrested at the instance of Paper, Calmenson & Co., this concern alleging that he manipulated the weight ticket of a load of hay that he sold so that he got $6.25 the best of the bargain. He is accused of having worked his scheme by raising the figures on the weight slip after it came into his possession.

Westphal was arraigned before Judge Finehout, entered a plea of not guilty and was held in $200 bail for trial Saturday. County Commissioner Gray guaranteed the prisoner's appearance for trial.

LITTLE TOT WANDERS ABOUT COUNTRY ALONE

Policeman Finds Child Stranded Far From Father and Aunt.

A little girl with tears streaming down her face was brought into St. Paul yesterday afternoon on an Omaha train. She was found a few moments later by an officer who discovered that she had come from Dundas, Minn., where her aunt lived, and was on her way to Polk, Wis., but had no ticket or money. Secretary Hutchins, of the Relief society, was notified and questioned the child. She said she was the five-year-old daughter of Ida Glaz; her father, she said, runs a sawmill at Minong, and he had sent her to live with an aunt at Dundas. The child was taken care of and efforts will be made to locate her relatives this morning.

Lumberman Accused of Trespassing on School Lands. Make Products Look Nice.

John C. Patterson, of Aitkin county, is the first alleged timber trespasser to be arrested under the orders recently issued by State Auditor S. G. Iverson, who has undertaken a crusade against lumbermen who have been trespassing on school lands. Auditor Iverson was notified yesterday by E. H. Krelwitz, county attorney of Aitkin county, that Patterson had been bound over to the grand jury on a charge of cutting 100,000 feet of logs from school lands. The logs were seized April 2, together with 100,000 feet of timber cut on other lands.

The seizure was made near Grand Rapids by Thomas Fitzgerald, a state cruiser. The entire lot will be sold by the state on April 28. Under the law trespassers are liable to have all logs cut on school lands found, together with which stolen timber is found, seized by the state, and on conviction are liable to a fine of $1,000 or two years imprisonment or both. Patterson will be tried the first week in May.

Since April 2, when Mr. Bruce, of St. Louis county, paid $1,722.16 to State Auditor Iverson, twelve cases have been settled for an aggregate sum of $7,671.80. The largest settlements were for 375,000 feet cut in the winter of 1901-1902, settled for $9 per thousand; 114,250 feet illegally cut in the winter of 1902-1903, and settled at $7 per thousand; 159,000 feet cut in the winter of 1901-1902, settled at $10 per thousand; and 84,200 feet of timber cut in 1902-1903, settled at $7.50 per thousand. All of these trespasses occurred in Aitkin and St. Louis counties.

The state has received since Feb. 1, 1903, to date, $58,151.24 from timber trespassers. The aggregate represents 103 cases.

BATCH OF ESTIMATES IS LIGHT THIS SEASON

Improvements Called for Will Cost Only $56,386—Many May Be Deferred.

The batch of estimates sent to the board of public works yesterday by the city engineer is unusually light for the season, the total being but $56,386. This is due to the fact that most of the needed important improvements have been made during the past few years. It is likely that several of the proposed improvements will be opposed by the property owners, and in the case they are not likely to be made.

The list of estimates is: Paving Sibley with asphalt, Eighth to Spruce, $5.55 per foot, total $12,550; paving Eighth with asphalt, Broadway to LeClerc, $6.86 per foot, total $10,975; sewer on Aurora, Victoria to Grotto, $1.12 per foot, total $2,819; sewer on Atwater, Rice to Gaitler, $5.53 per foot, total $21,000, of which $11,000 comes from the general fund; sewer on East Fifth, Maple to Hope, $6.84; sewer on Ackley, Delos to Jackson, $1,972; sewer on State, Winifred to Congress, $492; sewer on Mt. Airy, Warren to Broadway, $2,345; sewer on Greenwood, labeled Delos, $242; sewer on Victoria, Ridgewood to Osceola, $2,730; sewer on Banfill, Douglas to Smith, $1,550; grading Dunlap, Selby to Summit, $1,187.
