A HOPELESS CAMPAIGN.

It must now be very apparent even to the most enthusiastic of the supporters of the Hearst movement that they are attached to a lost cause. The result of the Indiana convention makes it certain that Hearst cannot possibly be nominated at St. Louis and that he is no longer a factor to be reckoned with in the national convention—except perhaps through the medium of a few delegates who will, when the time comes, align themselves for the chosen candidate.

SAW THEIR MISTAKE.

The action of the Republican convention in the state of Washington held recently is instructive. Ever since commercial developments began upon Puget sound and agricultural and lumbering interests grew great in different parts of the state, there has been the usual conflict with the agitator and the demagogue. He persuaded the people to place the Populists in power for a time. Then, with the return of prosperity and stable conditions, they swung over to Republicanism once more.

Where He Caught Him. The bank president was talking to an applicant for a loan at the bank. "Our employes must be absolutely honest, of course," he said.

In the district court yesterday the taking of testimony was concluded in the case of Edward Wickelburg by his guardian against the Soo railway, in which Wickelburg asked for damages in the sum of $10,000 for injuries sustained in a collision between the Soo and Omaha trains.

policy of the United States to maintain tariffs discriminating effectually against the republics to the south. Holding the peoples of South America cheaply, we have in effect given them standing notice that we do not care to do business with them.

BACK TO THE ELYSIAN FIELDS OF KANSAS.

Eugene F. Ware, poet laureate and pension commissioner of the United States, has resigned his job and will go back to Kansas, where poetry and pensions help to make life idyllic.

The Cancer of Mormonism.

The political dangers of Mormonism are not confined to Utah. They exist in every state where a considerable number of the members of the church are found.

The President as a Reporter.

The senate will have no trouble in tracing the "leak" in the proceedings of its executive session regarding the Crum case. The president of the United States is not a reporter.

The Whites in Asia.

The interference of the white people in the continent of Asia is based on the supposition that the Asiatic deserts to be held in subjection by foreign powers in order to make a market for their goods.

Keeping Alaska.

Congress did one excellent thing before it went home, and that was to appropriate $25,000 for a survey and the purchase of a wagon road from Valdez to Fort Egbert, and an additional $25,000 for surveying and locating a military trail between the Yukon river and the Gulf of Alaska.

A Good Precedent.

It is a fact that Judge Parker isn't saying much, but it may be recalled that, in the St. Louis convention which gave him his first nomination, Maj. McKinley was noticeably silent on the paramount issue—and McKinley won.—San Antonio Express.

They Need Good Laborers.

RUSSIANS IN THE NORTHWEST.

Among the interesting information carefully hidden in the mass of matter included in the census report there is an item of more than ordinary contemporary interest which shows the number of Russians and Japanese in the United States.

THE HEARST MOVEMENT.

The condition at which Hearst's campaign has arrived should appeal to those Minnesota Democrats who have declared themselves in favor of his candidacy. We assume that they are primarily Democrats. They must understand the fatuity of being tied to a cause that is already lost.

THE HEARST MOVEMENT.

The time is ripe for the Democrats of Minnesota to get together and form an effective body for representation in the national convention. Such a political condition has been created in this state that a political revolution is impending.

THE HEARST MOVEMENT.

The Hearst men of the North Star state are not asked to desert a sinking ship. Common sense and good politics point to the fatuity of committing themselves to an already sunken hulk.

THE ANIMATED LATIN UNION.

The announcement that a union is being formed by the Central and South American states, the purpose of which is to oppose the United States, is not calculated to alarm or surprise. It is rather to be wondered at that the Latin republics did not sooner take steps for reprisals against this country, which by its administrative policy has so long striven to alienate the people of the Central and South American republics.

Contemporary Comment

The Next Cotton Crop. Still, it will astonish us if 12,000,000 bales of cotton are grown in the United States this season. It is one thing to plant cotton and another thing to harvest it.

Young Mr. Hearst has some millions, a few newspapers and a seat in congress left and need not be regarded as an object of political or pecuniary charity just yet.

What the Editors Say

The Duluth Evening Herald in a recent editorial gave its views on the question of Sunday baseball. The Herald is a sane, logical, sensible and the various papers throughout the state have commented thereon.

Will the Times please inform us who are the scrappants on the Democratic side? We have heard of none so far. Just because Dunn and Collins are telling the one on the other of their shortcomings while in office is no reason to accuse the Democrats of fighting. If they should fight, however, it will be a clean and honorable contest.

The system of electing our railroad and warehouse commissioners to have outlived its usefulness. When the present law of electing these officials by popular vote was put on the statute book it was expected that it would result in efficient service for the common good, but experience has clearly demonstrated that it is sometimes easier to manipulate popular nominations than appointments.—St. Peter Free Press.

The residents of Michigan who voted for Fremont for president in 1856 are going to hold a state convention at Jackson on May 18. It is the purpose to formulate a declaration of principles and to elect a new president.

There has been another advance in the price of diamonds. It's too bad it came before our city assessor got around, for the value of the two or three gems in the city will have to be advanced that much. Blessed be the rest of us who will say when it comes to the diamond schedules in our assessment.—Rochester Post and Record.

The expected happened. St. Paul re-elects Bob Smith mayor by an overwhelming majority over Col. Wright. The city also goes Democratic by the vote of nearly all the assemblymen and aldermen. This must be an endorsement of the national administration.—Sleepy Eye Herald.

When the people elect to public office an agent of the corporations, they not only sacrifice the interests of the people, but they mortgag the rights of their sons and daughters.—Wadena Pioneer Journal.

This fall it would be a pretty good thing if our primary law applied to state officers, then the people, and not the politicians, would select the government.—Spring Grove Herald.

Illinois Central Promotions. CHICAGO, May 13.—Owing to the resignation of General Manager J. F. Wallace, who is to be the chief engineer of the Panama canal commission, several changes have been made in the staff of the Illinois Central.

The promotions follow: W. J. Hanrahan, formerly chief general manager, to general manager; G. G. Rahn, formerly general superintendent of transportation, to be assistant general manager; L. W. Ross, formerly purchasing agent, to be superintendent of transportation.

C. F. Parker, formerly coal traffic manager, to be purchasing agent, to be superintendent of transportation.

An Additional Reason. "So you are opposed to Sunday baseball?" "Emphatically. Leaving religious considerations out of the question, there ought to be at least one day in the week when the home club is sure of not losing a game."—Washington Star.

HERESY PROVES HARD TO HANDLE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 13.—The Methodist general conference today resumed consideration of the revision of the rules of order. The work of framing the official rules has been fraught with many clashes between the opposition parliamentary leaders who sought to secure the adoption of rules that would tend to give their particular faction an advantage in the work of legislation.

The report of Missionary Bishop Warner, of India, was the order of the day immediately after the morning session.

The charges of heresy made by Dr. Munhall and the others against the Garrett Biblical Institute at the Boston School of Theology continue to occupy the attention of the committee on education and to be the absorbing topic among the delegates.

Report Is Sent Back. The subcommittee of five having in charge the investigation of this matter has made a report to the full committee, but the attacks of Dr. Munhall and his supporters of heresy charges were so spirited that the committee resolved not to accept it, but to re-submit it to the subcommittee to give more careful consideration.

The paragraph that provoked discussions reads: "A superannuated general superintendent is relieved from the obligation to travel through his district at large, and may choose the place of his residence temporarily in a general or annual conference, but if requested by a bishop presiding he may take the chair temporarily in a general or annual conference, and at the request of the bishop presiding in the annual conference he may ordain candidates previously elected or ordained."

Retiring Bishops. The first taste of stirring debate participated in by the conspicuous figures of the conference was given the delegates when the report of the episcopacy committee upon the matter of retiring bishops and fixing their subsequent relations to the church was taken up.

Substitute Not Accepted. Dr. A. B. Leonard offered an amendment to strike out all after the word "residence" and substitute: "He may perform temporarily, upon invitation of a general superintendent, any function which belongs to a general superintendent except to make appointments."

Two speeches only were made in favor of the adoption of the report as presented by Dr. Buckley, president of the episcopacy committee. They were by Dr. J. M. Buckley and Dr. T. B. Neely. While at first there seemed to be a strong sentiment in favor of Leonard's amendment, when Dr. Buckley finished a speech in favor of the adoption of the committee's report the vote was practically unanimous in favor of it.

A rule was offered by the board of church extension and adopted by the conference depriving certain congregations owning churches costing more than $10,000 of the right to apply to that board for financial assistance.

Pastoral Time Limit. The conference heard a report of a subcommittee on the matter of time limit tenure of pastors. The report favored leaving the matter where it is at present, that is, an unlimited tenure. The sentiment of the entire conference seemed to approve this recommendation. It seemed to be the opinion of the committee that the present system had not been given a fair trial.

COLD FACTS ARGUE FOR RECIPROcity

Administration Is Embarrassed by Consular Report Coming From Canada.

Globe Special Washington Service. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—One of the United States consuls in Canada (H. S. Culver, stationed at London, Ont.) has had the temerity to send to the state department a commercial report which plays havoc with the Republican administration's attitude toward Canadian reciprocity.

The bureau of statistics is presided over by O. P. Austin, who was formerly connected with the Republican national committee, and who since 1897 has employed the statistical information in his bureau to the very limit in an attempt to show that the prosperity of the country is due entirely to the Republican brand of statesmanship.

The Dominion statistician shows conclusively that the Canadian preferential tariff has been of great value in building up trade between Canada and Great Britain, and that the very limit of the literature in favor of reciprocal trade relations between this country and the Dominion.

Austin, who was formerly connected with the Republican national committee, and who since 1897 has employed the statistical information in his bureau to the very limit in an attempt to show that the prosperity of the country is due entirely to the Republican brand of statesmanship.

An acrid debate took place, in which the report was characterized by Dr. Munhall and his followers as an attempt to whitewash the accused institutions.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 13.—The first of the series of athletic events to be scheduled to be held at the world's fair will take place tomorrow. The archaological championship meet of the Missouri school boys will be the opening of the Olympic games and the stadium is in readiness.
