HUNT FOR MAYOR OF NEGAUNEE, MICH.

Dr. Hudson Goes Fishing and Is Lost in the Woods on Escanaba River.

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 26. — Since Wednesday morning Dr. J. H. Hudson, mayor of Negaunee, Mich., has been lost in the dense woods near the Escanaba river, where he had gone on a fishing ex-pedition. Serchers were successful only in finding his companion. Several hundred men will resume the hunt tomorrow.

POWERS' CREDITORS ARRANGE WITH BANK

Litigation Is Avoided in the Bankruptcy Case at Austin.

Special to The Globe.

WINONA, Minn., May 26.—Referee in Bankruptcy Burns has returned from Austin, where he presided at a meeting of the creditors in the matter of the bankruptcy petition of J. F. and Louis W. Powers. Recently Referee Burns instructed Trustee Thomas H. Pridham to bring suit against the Austin National bank to recover $6.600 claimed to be held by the bank in preference contrary to the bankruptcy law.

At the Austin hearing an agreement was reached between the bank and other creditors whereby the bank is to pay $3,200 of this amount to the trustee and be allowed to keep the rest, thus avoiding litigation. An expert accountant who has been going over the Powers' books states that a shortage of $6,000 has developed, but as he said there was nothing to show this had been wrongfully taken, but that it might have been lost in the ordinary course of business, no demand to make course of business, no demand to make good the shortage was made by the credi-tors. Another adjourned meeting of the creditors will be held in two weeks.

Ash Dump at Farihault Yields Up $180 in Bills.

Special to The Globe.
FARIBAULT, Minn., May 26.—The finding of a $180 roll of bills in an ash heap at the city dump has agitated the police, as they think it was the money stolen from a drunken farmer last fall. The farmer came to town with $300. It cost him $100 of this to become joyous. While in this condition he visited a barber shop and, after taking a bath, missed his money. The colored porter of the shop was arrested, tried and acquitted. The man who hauls ashes to the dump claims that he took ashes from this barber shop this winter and dumped them at the place where the bills were found. The question now is, who stole this money from the farmer?

MADISON. Wis., May 26.—The entire student body of the University of Wisconsin, at a mass meeting tonight, passed resolutions condemning the hissing of President Van Hise at yesterday's convocation, when announcement was made that examinations would be held during jubilee week. When the mass meeting adjourned the students rushed to the lower campus, where a huge bonfire had been lighted, and then marched to the president's house, where he was called out and made a speech, which was enthusiastically received.

Must Work Longer Hours. APPLETON, Wis., May 26.—Notice has been served on all employes of paper mills now running under union schedule in the Fox river valley that on June 4 there will be a return to the old schedule of long hours and that Saturday nights off are abolished. It is feared that long and serious trouble will ensue, with possibly a repetition of the great strike of two years ago. The mill owners stated

METHODISTS ELECT

Publishing Agents and Secretaries of Societies Named.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 26 .- The Methodist general conference devoted its time today to the election of the general conference officers, including publishing agents, secretaries and assistant secretaries of the various societies. The result of some of the ballots will not be announced until tomorrow. The following result was announced:

Homer Eaton and G. P. Manns, publishing agents, New York; H. C. Jenningson and R. H. Graham, publishing agents, Cincinnati; A. B. Leonard, secretary of the missionary society; J. M. King, secretary of the board of church extension; M. C. B. Mason and W. T. Therkield, secretaries of the Freedmen Aid and Southern Aid societies; Robert Forbes, assistant secretary of the Church Extension society. There were numerous candidates for There were numerous candidates for secretary of the Sanday School union and Tract society and of the board of education and for the Epworth league. The first ballot failed to show an election in any of these cases. S. J. Her-bin was elected editor of the Epworth Herald on the ballot taken late yes-

The conference today reconsidered its action by which it received the report of the book concern yesterday in order to enlarge the committee which is to complete the committee which is to formulate a plan for the unifica-tion of the book concern. This com-mittee as finally constituted by to-

Scott, William R. Old-ham, John E. Robinson and Merriam C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26 .- The day's session of the Methodist Protestant conference was interesting. The committee on publishing interests, in proposing fit names to constitute the Baltimore book directory, made three changes in the board as at present constituted. Rev. J. L. Mills was substituted for Rev. J. G. Clark; Rev. D. C. Sinkinson and Representative W. C. Adamson, of Georgia for Rev. T. H. C. Sinkinson and Representative W. C. Adamson, of Georgia, for Rev. T. H. REPORTED BY KUROPATKIN.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26 .- The general staff has received a telegram, dated May 25, from Gen. Kuropatkin, in which he says:

"According to Chinese reports a battle took place at Kinchow on May 18, in which the Japanese lost 700 men. The Russian losses were not so great.

"A Japanese landing at Takushan began five days ago and it is reported that 50,000 troops, principally infantry, were landed, but this has not yet been verified. The troops landed are marching from Takushan northwest towards Siu Yen and southwest towards Port Arthur."

NEITHER CONFIRM NOR DENY.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 26.—The general staff is not in a position tonight to confirm or deny the Tokyo report that the Japanese have occupied Kin-chow. The latest official information regards fighting in that region was conveyed in Gen. Kuropatkin's telegram, which said that the Japanese had lost 700 men on May 18.

It would be a great surprise to the authorities if the report of the capture of Kin-chow should prove to be true. The impression heretofore entertained is that Kin-chow would prove a hard nut for the Japanese to crack and that its reduction would need a siege train and call for careful approaches which would occupy the enemy for a long time. COSSACKS DRIVEN BACK.

FUSAN, May 26.—Cossacks are patrolling continually ten and fifteen miles to the west, northwest and southwest of Feng Wang Cheng and they have several times met the Japanese in conflict. Yesterday they were driven back. On that day, according to the Japanese reports, 1,000 Russian cavalry, who were found near Patoasti, seventeen miles northeast of Feng Wang Cheng and back of the Ai river, were expelled from their position by one squadron of Japanese cavalry and one company of infantry. The Japanese suffered no casualties. According to late reports the Russians lost three killed and eighteen wounded.

TRANSPORTING SIEGE GUNS.

LONDON, May 27.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Chronicle, under date of May 26, sends the following:

"The Japanese have already constructed thirty miles of ight railway for the transportation of siege guns toward Port Arthur. Around Kin-chow the Japanese have been fighting stubbornly for the last eight days, but are making little progress against the Russians, who occupy strong positions on the heights."

it now is on the naval charts as a "doubtful danger,"

The navy department officials think there is an island or reef of some sort there, and it is believed that the American sloop of war Levan, which disappeared in the middle of the Pacific in 1859, struck on it and went down. TWO MEN DIE ON SAME CAR AN HOUR APART

Passengers, Regarding Coach as III-Fated, Leave After Second Tragedy.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 26. — Charles Crowe, an elderly printer, boarded a street car today, said to Conductor Joe Miller he was ill, and told him where he wanted to get off. When Miller called Crowe he found he died of apoplexy.

"Well, I hope I'll never have such a shock again," said Miller after helping to carry the body from the can.

George W. Morrison staggered aboard the car on its return trip and was caught by Miller, to whom he explained he was recovering from a heart attack.

"I hope this isn't another case for me," muttered the conductor.

Morrison rang the bell at the corner nearest his home. As he started to leave the car he reeled and fell. A physician was summoned, but in five minutes Morrison lay dead in the aisle of the car. It was just an hour after Crowe's death.

Several passengers, fearing the car was ill-fated, left it. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 26. - Charles

DOG RISKS LIFE FOR

Cans Fall Into Canal and Nero Dives Until Exhausted-

Has to Be Rescued. NEW YORK, May 26. - Nero is a large Newfoundland dog owned by John Newcomb, of Dover, N. J. Mr. John Newcomb, of Dover, N. J. Mr. Newcomb owns a shop, and when he has much work on hand sends Nero to the house to carry back his lunch. Nero went on the errand yesterday, and Mrs. Newcomb prepared the dinner in sections. One section she put in one lunch pail and the coffee put in one lunch pail and the coffee she put in a glass bottle inside another pail. Nero started for the shop at a trot, but suddenly he seemed to remember that he could shorten the trip by going over the footbridge of the canal.

The bridge is a narrow plank, and in crossing Nero had to be so watchful of his steps that he forgot to keep his jaws tightly shut on the coffee can, and it dropped into the water. Forgetting that he had the lunch hall also in his mouth Nero in the land pail also in his mouth, Nero jumped in after the coffee can and thus lost both of them.

Fun for the Boys. Fun for the Boys.

Then he dived and swam around frantically in the canal. The accident had been witnessed by two boys, and, after they had watched the dog swim around for half an hour, they went to the shoe-shop and told Mr. Newcomb about it.

Mr. Newcomb found the dog still swimming about, diving here and there, endeavoring to get the lost luncheon.

Mr. Newcomb saw that the only way to get the dog out of the water was to fish up that lost luncheon, which he did.

Nero then consented to come out of the water, but so weak he had to be hauled up on dry land. The dog had been swimming about for an hour.
