ST. LOUIS POLICE DRIVE WORLD'S
CLEVEREST SWINDLER FROM CITY

Harry Silberberg, the Man of Many Aliases, Who Is Wanted in Minneapolis to Answer the Charge of Defrauding a Young Woman, Is Found Living in Style at Leading World's Fair City Hotel and Is Ordered to Leave Town by the Detectives.

Harry Silberberg, reputed to be the cleverest sharper and trickster in the world, has been heard from again, the second time since he put up a cash bond of $1,000 for his release from the Minneapolis jail last fall.

HARRY SILBERBERG, Clever Swindler, Driven From St. Louis by Police.

promising to return in April for his trial. The young man never returned, and his bail money was declared forfeited, since which time the Minneapolis police have made little or no effort to secure his arrest.

A month ago he was heard from at Colorado Springs, where he gained additional notoriety by an attempt to hold up a society woman who was an applicant for a divorce, but he got out of the trouble in a manner peculiarly his own, and was heard of no more until his arrival at St. Louis a few days ago.

A Clever Swindler. Silberberg's history is a story of shrewdness and deception. Appearing at different places under such names as Carlisle, Debrault, Craig, J. Coleman Drayton and many others, he ingratiated himself into the confidence of well-to-do people, and almost invariably left them saddled, but wiser for having made his acquaintance. His life, since the time he became a clerk in his father's store in a little frontier town until he traveled over Europe with an Austrian countess, duping tradesmen and squandering fortunes in a series of luxurious revels, has been a busy one.

Silberberg's recent experiences in Minneapolis are still quite fresh in the minds of people in the Twin Cities. After his marriage to Miss Bonnie Hinkle, the daughter of M. J. Scanlon, a wealthy lumberman, he was arrested upon a charge of swindling, preferred by a young Minneapolis woman who had been induced to loan him money for a fake enterprise.

For several weeks after his arrest, Silberberg was compelled to spend his time in the Hennepin county jail, where he developed a consumptive cough of sufficient proportions to secure for himself a cot in the hospital. He was indicted by the grand jury, but before his case came up for trial a brother arrived from Denver and furnished $1,000 cash bail for his release.

FEES ARE INVOLVED RARE DAYS IN JUNE
Clerks of Court Interested in Past Records Indicate That They May Be Expected.

A case of much importance to the clerks of court of Minnesota will be argued before the supreme court today, for it involves the question of fees to be charged by the clerks in certain cases.

The case at bar is brought before the court on appeal from the district court of Todd county, which had decided adversely to the contentions raised by Van Dyke & Van Dyke, abstractors of Long Prairie, that M. O. Skow, clerk of the court, was compelled by statute to furnish transcripts of judgments for the abstracting firm to be later used in their abstract books.

If June lives up to its past reputation this year the coming month will be one of the most agreeable of the entire year. According to the report of the weather bureau issued yesterday for the past thirty-three years the sixth month has, on the average, been ideal. But there have been notable exceptions, when it has become unbearably hot and occasionally it has been too cool for comfort.

The normal temperature in June for the thirty-three years during which records have been kept is 67 degrees. The hottest month was in 1873, when the average temperature was 73 degrees, while the coolest June was in 1875, with a record of 63. The coldest day was in 1885, on the 18th, when the mercury fell to 36 degrees, while in 1901, on the 25th day of the month, a record of 96 was established.

But during June there are likely to be many heavy showers, for the weather bureau reports show that the average precipitation has been 4.88 inches. The frequency of the rains is demonstrated, for during the month there has been an average of eleven days each year when the rainfall has exceeded .01 of an inch. However, there have been dry June's, for in 1903 only 1.16 inches fell during the thirty days. The greatest record was in June, 1874, when the precipitation was 11.67. In 1873, on the 25th day, 1.83 inches of rain fell in twenty-four hours, establishing a record for precipitation that has since remained unequalled.

Young Man's Actions Frighten Mother. Richard Sinnott, twenty-two years old, living with his mother at 138 East Robie street, was taken into custody by the police and sent to the county jail last night on a charge of insanity. Though not violent, the young man is said to have acted in a queer manner, and his family asked the police to take charge of him.

WILL FORCE FIGHT FOR 3-CENT FARE

Labor Unions Will Take Initiative by Demanding Passage of an Ordinance.

The financial statement of the Twin City Rapid Transit company, showing that it has earned almost $101,000 more during the present year than it did during the same period last year, and that therefore it will be a quarter of a million dollars better off in 1904 than in 1903, has aroused the labor union people to the extent that the Trades and Labor assembly will endeavor to secure a reduction of street car fare.

It has apparently been decided that J. L. Gieske will lead the fight against the street railway company for the labor unions and will probably be at the head of the committee that will demand that the city council pass an ordinance reducing the fare from 5 cents to 3 cents. There is no disposition upon the part of those behind the movement favoring a reduction in the fare to wait until the case against the Corporation Attorney Michael, has been settled in the courts, but there is an evident purpose to find some manner in which the issue can be forced, and, if necessary, the question made an issue in the next city campaign.

Labor Unions Determined. "While I am but one member of the Trades and Labor assembly there is a disposition to force the street railway company to recognize, at the earliest possible moment, that the labor unions of the city are earnestly in favor of a reduction in the fare from 5 cents to 3 cents, and that once the issue has been taken up there is no prospect of its being neglected until it is determined. It makes no difference who is selected to lead the fight, it will be made an issue in the campaign until the company agrees to grant the demands of the people. Upon several occasions heretofore the unions have acted in this way in the fare, and this is apparently the first time they have had a real opportunity to be successful. Knowing the temper of the people, I do not believe that they will stop the agitation until they have been successful."

Mr. Gieske has been asked by those who are interested themselves in the fare to take the lead in the matter, and he has requested that some other person do so. If there is no one willing to take the responsibility he is willing to assume the leadership on the issue.

TAKE LONG WALK FOR THEIR HEALTH

Members of Minnesota Health League Trudge to Snelling and Back.

Twenty-five members of the exercise division of the Minnesota Health League yesterday indulged in a cross-country walk, the route being to Fort Snelling, across the Minnesota river to Mendota and a leisurely stroll about the fine farms in the neighborhood. The start was made from the main entrance to the city at 10 o'clock. The third, third to Pleasant, Pleasant to Seventh, Seventh to the fort. The trip back was made on the opposite side of the river, along the old Mendota road, and back to the city over the high bridge. Those not able to undergo the full part of the strenuous walk left the party at Mendota, and returned to the Minnesota river ferry and came back to the city on the street cars.

It is planned to make such walks a regular feature of the exercise division, different routes being chosen on each occasion, and so arranged that those who do not care to remain with the party throughout can secure transportation back to the city. In Central hall, Sixth and Seventh streets, the diet division of the league will meet this evening. Mrs. Laura C. Little will read a paper on "Beans and Victor Walk on 'How I Became and Why I Am a Vegetarian.'"

Man Charged With Stealing Halter. N. F. Moore, forty-seven years old, employed as a hostler, was arrested last night charged with stealing a halter from W. G. Carling.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President Milwaukee, Wis., Business Woman's Association, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed the testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one-half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, Mrs. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." Vice President, Milwaukee Business Woman's Association.—$5000 worth of original of above letter proving genuine—had been copied.

FRENCH ARMY WALKING MATCH IS FATAL

Several Men Die or Are Disabled and Several Are Missing.

PARIS, May 30.—Fatal results followed the army walking match yesterday from the Place de la Concorde to St. Germain and back, twenty-eight miles, in which 2,000 soldiers from many regiments took part. Forty-seven are missing and some are believed to have succumbed to hardships. Besides these, thirty-four men were taken to hospitals along the route, in various stages of prostration. Seven were in a serious condition and one man is dead. The chamber of deputies today War Minister Andre was severely criticized for permitting the contest, which is denounced as brutal. Gen. Andre said in a paper that had been made, and a vote of confidence was passed only by a narrow majority. The winner of the march, a private in the 101st Infantry, was the winner of the line, did the distance in 6 hours 14 minutes and 2 seconds.

FLOODS HANG UP TRAINS IN KANSAS

Many Minor Damages Are Wrought by Overflowing Rivers.

OTTAWA, Kas., May 30.—The Marais des Cygnes river is higher than ever known and the overflow has caused a serious flood. Two hundred families are homeless in the lower portion of Ottawa and vicinity. In North Ottawa several business houses are flooded. The Santa Fe yards are being washed away in places. The water is moving out of here. One Missouri Pacific and three Santa Fe passenger trains are stalled at Quenemo, surrounded by high water. It is estimated that a thousand passengers are refugees there. The water bound passengers of the three trains are being cared for in the city of Quenemo. Many small buildings have been washed down stream.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 30.—The high water in the Kansas river is receding slowly tonight and all danger is past. Two bad washouts on the Santa Fe between Topeka and Emporia have not yet been repaired, but trains will be running as usual by tomorrow. The heaviest rains of yesterday fell in parts of the river front near the Kaw valley where there had been much higher water here. Much damage has been done to growing crops.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE SOME MORE

Resumes Its Investigation Today, and Will Give Ministers Chance to Testify.

When the grand jury meets this afternoon to resume its investigation of crime and wrong-doing the work will be taken up along new lines, the announcement having been made that the searchlight is to be turned upon alleged protected immorality and graft in St. Paul. An interesting session of the jury can at least be expected when it is known that subpoenas have been issued for Rev. John M. Fulton, of the Central Presbyterian church; Rev. W. H. Boyle, of the House of Hope; and Police John J. O'Connor, former City Attorney George Wells, and others. All of these witnesses have been summoned by the grand jury, and are expected to appear this afternoon and answer any questions that may be put to them regarding the morals of the city. The investigation is said to be the indirect result of pre-election statements made by pastors from their pulpits, in which charges were made that a system of graft existed in St. Paul, and one of the pastors, at least, is said to have named the statement that he could name the men identified with the graft.

Fulton's Evidence Indefinite. Some days ago the grand jury summoned Dr. Fulton and asked him to tell what he knew regarding his statements of graft, but his evidence is said to have been of such an uncertain character that it would have been impossible to return indictments upon its strength alone. The failure of the grand jury to find indictments is said to have prompted certain statements by Dr. Fulton since his former appearance before the grand jury, the minister having declared from his pulpit that the grand jury was not sincere in its investigation, and that members of the body were "friends of the administration." These statements the members of the grand jury were forbidden by law to reply to, but at a short session held last week it was unanimously agreed to give Rev. Mr. Fulton just as full a hearing as he desires, and a new subpoena was ordered issued for him.

Later the jury is said to have decided to make the investigation a most thorough one, and every person known to possess any information that will be required will be required to appear before the body and divulge. Dr. Fulton and Dr. Boyle are each to be granted an opportunity to tell everything they know regarding graft, and so is former Detective George Wells, who is named as the person who furnished the ministers much of their information during the city election. Wells was at that time in the employ of the Republican campaign committee, and the information is said to have been furnished for political effect. The grand jury met at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the investigation along the new lines, it is understood, will be made a special order of business.

MINNEAPOLIS PICKPOCKETS GET THE DAY'S RECEIPTS. They Abstract Purse of Business Manager of Senior Class Play. Pickpockets, who evidently knew their business, made a rich haul when they secured J. Arthur Danforth's pocketbook Sunday evening. Danforth was business manager of the senior class play, and he had the greater part of the receipts for both matinee and evening performances with him. The exact amount was $83.75, and it all went. Fortunately, however, only about $100 was in cash, and, as payment has been stopped on the checks, the thieves were served only that sum. Danforth attended the baccalaureate services at the "U" and later boarded a Minneapolis car. He thinks that the money was taken from him in the crowd at the car, but declares that he will make good the sum lost.
