

JAPANESE FIGHT THREE DAYS

ly and would have been annihilated had not infantry reserves come up and forced the Russians to retire into Vfangoy. FIGHT NEAR PORT ARTHUR.

CHIFU, June 1, 11 a. m.—An unconfirmed rumor is current among the Chinese that a battle occurred six miles from Fort Arthur yesterday (Tuesday).

DISTRESS AT PORT ARTHUR.

Special Cable to The Globe.

NEW-CHWANG, May 31.—Six Chinese who arrived here from Port Arthur today state they escaped last Tuesday night. They describe as desperate the situation of the people who remain in the beleaguered city. Famine prices exist. Many public buildings have been wrecked by Japanese shells. There is fighting every day. The hospitals are filled with sick and wounded. The dead are taken long distances into the country, where they are buried. Only 10,000 troops at the highest estimate are stationed north of Tatusheng in forts and intrenchments between Kin-chow and Port Arthur.

ENGAGE SUBMARINE BOATS.

Special Cable to The Globe.

BERLIN, May 31.—The Vossischezeitung states that Russia has ordered submarine boats from the Holland company, of Boston. A premium of 75,000 roubles is offered on each of the boats that is ready by Nov. 1. The paper also states that Japan has ordered some submarines from the Lake Torpedo company.

GRIM WORDS FROM KUROPATKIN.

PARIS, June 1.—The correspondent in St. Petersburg of the Echo de Paris says:

"A friend of Gen. Kuropatkin tells me that before his departure the general said: 'The first month it will be said that I am inactive; the second that I am incapable, and the third that I am a traitor, because we will be repulsed and beaten, although that will not seriously affect the result of the operations. I shall tell people talk, firmly adhering to my resolution not to march before July, when I shall have the overwhelming masses I need.'"

CLASHES WITH COSSACKS.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 31.—The following official dispatch has been received by the general staff:

From May 29 to May 30 all has been quiet in the neighborhood of Feng Wang Cheng. At 10:30 p. m., May 27, a force of Japanese infantry from Kuan-Dian-Sian commenced a frontal flank attack upon the position occupied by our Cossacks near Shaogo. Fifteen Japanese, under Kuan-Dian-Sian, the Japanese, under the cover of the darkness, opened a running, desultory fire from the front. The Cossacks retired on foot to Chanlin pass, two versts west of Shaogo, and subsequently on to Yang Men, six versts west of Chanlin pass. The firing ceased at 2 a. m., May 28, when the Japanese ceased the pursuit at the entrance of Chanlin pass.

The same day the first section of a Japanese detachment approached Ai-Yang-Pien-Men, but afterwards retired to the summit of the hills west of the town. At 10 a. m. they formed up in order of battle, the force consisting of two battalions, with one other in reserve. At 11 a. m. a battery of artillery took up a position and opened fire with shrapnel. While crossing the valley the Japanese infantry, advancing in close formation, suffered heavily. At 11:30 the Cossacks, observing that the Japanese were turning their right flank, retired in good order on Salmatza. The fire of the rear guard ceased at 2 p. m. We lost two officers and seven Cossacks.

On May 30 the Japanese advanced toward Salmatza. Their movements were watched by Cossacks. When this telegram was dispatched the Japanese had not yet arrived at Salmatza. Shortly before noon our cavalry opened fire near the railroad station of Vagenfuch against an advancing Japanese force consisting of eight companies of infantry, eight squadrons of cavalry and four machine guns. During the engagement the mounted sotnia brilliantly attacked a Japanese squadron on the enemy's left flank and almost retired in good order. The sotnia then attacked the infantry, but retired under the fire of machine guns. The Japanese retreated in order to turn our left flank was stopped by the fire of our battery, which inflicted considerable loss on the enemy.

Japanese Boats Sunk.

TOKYO, May 31.—Four gunboats, two destroyers and two torpedo boats sent to Port Arthur early on Monday

FOLK WON'T PRESIDE

Declines to Be Temporary Chairman at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 31.—At a conference tonight between Norman E. Mack, of New York, Democratic national committee chairman, and Joseph Folk, relative to the latter's name being considered in connection with the temporary chairmanship of the national Democratic convention, Mr. Folk declined to sanction the use of his name. Mr. Mack said that he had long been an admirer of Mr. Folk.

"His sincerity is demonstrated by the position which he has taken in regard to the temporary chairmanship," continued Mr. Mack. The subcommittee of the national committee, which met here a few days ago, considered three names for this honor—Mr. Folk, John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, and Mayor David A. Ross, of Milwaukee.

"In our conversation today the matter was mentioned, and Mr. Folk said that he did not wish to be considered in connection with the chairmanship because his first obligation was to the people of Missouri, and he felt that acceptance of the chairmanship might be misinterpreted. He deprecated all talk connecting his name with the presidential nomination."

NOBLE SWINDLERS BLEED MANY VICTIMS

French Marquis, Baron and "Comtesse" Work Games Like Mme. Humbert's.

PARIS, May 31.—Marquis de Massa Malaspina, Baron de Ruelle and Countess de Chailion have been arrested here on the same charges that brought Mme. Humbert into such notoriety several months ago.

The marquis, an invalid of thirty-three, seems to have been in intimate terms with an Austrian noblewoman. He spent money lavishly. He had a yacht called Sibille, on which he used to invite the baron, the Chailion comtesse, and innumerable guests, and gave nautical midnight fetes.

On one very big occasion he had borrowed a handsome sum from a titled person who was coming with many others, to listen to sublime music on the waters of the Mediterranean off Nice. The distinguished company searched in vain for the Sibille, or for the boats that were to convey them on board. Next morning the discovery was made that the marquis had raised anchor and had gone for a little cruise by himself.

Countess Is Clever. The countess, a woman of forty-eight, seems to be clever. The police say she has had no difficulty in persuading any number of courtiers to supply her with dresses, with many others, to listen to sublime music on the waters of the Mediterranean off Nice.

The distinguished company searched in vain for the Sibille, or for the boats that were to convey them on board. Next morning the discovery was made that the marquis had raised anchor and had gone for a little cruise by himself.
