M'CONNELL ADVISES THE BUTTERMAKERS

Dairy Commissioner Tells How Minnesota May Win National Contest

W. W. P. McConnell, state dairy and food commissioner, has issued a circular letter to the buttermakers of the state in which he compliments the craft in this state on its victory in the first monthly national butter scoring contest at St. Louis, but cautions the Minnesota buttermakers to submit only the best possible entries in the future contests of the series. In his address to the buttermakers, the dairy commissioner says in part:

"You undoubtedly are aware that Minnesota won a sweeping victory at the first scoring. Every friend of our great dairy industry may well feel proud of this, yet it must be borne in mind that the battle is not won—although our showing at the first contest is most gratifying. The three contests yet to come must decide whether Minnesota is again to win the highest award of merit.

Large Entry List Reduces Chances

"It must be remembered also that the fact of our having nearly twice as many entries as any other state reduces our chances on account of the ruling that this prize shall go to the state having the largest percentage of entries scoring 95 or over. Therefore, if you have reason to believe that the conditions surrounding your creamery and the quality of your milk supply are such as to make it doubtful that you can send to St. Louis a sample scoring 95 or better, we believe that you should set aside all thought of self and rather not send any butter than be instrumental in reducing the chances of your state to come out victorious in this most important contest.

Machinery Must Be Clean

"It is understood that no one will presume to make butter for this occasion whose milk pipes, pumps, vats, gages and churns have not been thoroughly cleaned, sterilized and all surroundings scrupulously clean. Be very careful to thoroughly sterilize these articles every day for several days previous to the making of the contest butter. Begin now in getting things in first-class condition, if they are not now in that condition. Use pure wash water direct from the well and be sure that your milk has not been exposed to bad odors of any kind. Select a nice tub, wash in hot water, thoroughly steam and soak in brine. Butter should be packed solid. The lining should extend one-half inch above the top of the tub and be neatly folded, then put on two cloth circles, which moisten and sprinkle with salt, then cover with a paper circle. Use a thirty-pound tub and put same in a sixty-pound tub. We would suggest that you skim about 45 per cent of cream and dilute to about 30 per cent with selected, pasteurized morning's milk. This pasteurizing can be done in your starter can. Be very careful that you do not scorch this milk.

The above suggestions are from prize winning buttermakers and expert criticisms at St. Louis butter scoring. We hope that you will carefully study them and adopt them, inasmuch as in your careful judgment they are suited to your conditions.

"Bear in mind that all butter must reach St. Paul not later than July 5, and must leave here for St. Louis on July 6."

BUTTERMAKERS FORM DISTRICT ASSOCIATION

Creamery Men and Dairymen of South-eastern Minnesota Organize

The Southeastern Minnesota Butter-makers' association has been organized to include the creamery men and dairymen of the counties in the southeastern part of the state. The first meeting of the newly formed association will be held at Lewiston June 30, and a butter scoring contest will be conducted in connection with the gathering of the buttermakers. An attractive programme has been arranged, and which will include addresses by W. W. P. McConnell, state dairy and food commissioner; A. W. Trow, dairy expert, and by H. G. Vroman, a creamery man, who has recently completed an inspection of the creameries in that section of the state. The Southeastern Minnesota association is the first of its kind organized in Minnesota. Its first officers are: W. W. Newland, Eyota, president; M. G. Koepsell, St. Charles, vice president; J. W. Koepsell, Lewiston, secretary, and A. L. Simpson, Dover, treasurer.

MILL CITY ALDERMEN WANT A BALL GAME

City Dads of Minneapolis Are Preparing to Take on the St. Paul Council

The aldermen of Minneapolis, after their ball game of Tuesday last, have fallen a prey to an ambition that will not down and they are about to saunter out in quest of fresh scalps, an elaborate challenge being at the present time under construction at the city hall which will be forwarded to the city fathers of St. Paul.

The Democrats and Republicans who played at Nicollet park Tuesday afternoon kept the scorer working with such alarming regularity that the final score is still a matter of dispute with the contesting parties, but they have joined hands long enough to get together on a challenge to the politicians of the Saintry city. The game will probably be played during the month of July while the professional teams are away from home, and a return game played in St. Paul a short time later. The receipts from the game will go towards deserving charity.

Attention is called to notice of The State Savings Bank under "Announcements."

A foulard silk sensation 3,650 yards of the newest

A purchase of unusual magnitude, when you stop to consider that though there are a hundred styles it is all one kind, one weave of silk. Our policy of always having something new to offer has developed the largest silk business in the Twin Cities. Many absurd things are said and much shouting is done by reputable stores to attract attention to their silk sales—but there is this great difference: We invite you to choose from new silks fifty-two Mondays in the year, and all our special silk sales are worth attending, whether the quantity be big or little.

3,650 yards foulard silks, 24 inches wide and every yard the best 1.00 and 1.25 silk fabric produced in the country. Sale price 69c

This purchase comes from the foremost maker of foulards in America, whose name may not be mentioned at this time. The silk is the most beautiful seen this season, in every wanted color and design, including dots of many sizes from the pin size up. There are silks suitable for any purpose, including the popular summer shirtwaist suit.

Some of the shades and effects are Jasper, national, navy, gobein, tan, champagne, brown, gray, reseed, hello, black and white, white and blue, etc., etc.

Think of buying a new, rich 1.00 to 1.25 foulard silk at 69c—a 14-yard gown for 9.66 instead of 17.50! The sale will begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Our great sale of one dollar a yard messaline-louisine silk at fifty-nine cents has been the talk of the Twin Cities. We will continue this sale Monday with a great many new pieces. For luster, strength and durability this silk has no equal. It can be washed like a piece of linen and still retain its luster. A splendid assortment of colors for Monday. Remember, this silk is 28 inches wide and actual one dollar value. Sale price the yard..... 59c

Our attention to the silks for shirtwaist suits has won more favorable comment from women than anything we ever did. There has, at all times, been large and sufficient choice, while every day almost has seen new styles. Fifty new pieces for Monday on the 49c and 59c tables.

Last four days of the great June sale wash dress goods many a third, none over half actual value!

Preparations—price preparations—have been made for the busiest four days of the June month. Spurred on by the wonderful selling of the past three weeks, the head of the wash goods department demands still greater results, and if price will effect it the business is as good as done. The following lots are larger, the fabrics in each more varied and the qualities higher than at any previous time this month.

- ### Count on finding the best bargains of the June sale.
- AT 9c In our experience we have never put out such values as these; most of them are fresh, new goods and the styles are choice and desirable—sheer Swiss muslin with woven dots; fine sheer batiste, flaked zephyrs, dimities, etc.
 - AT 14c Proportionately as great values as the other. Fine embroidered Swiss and tissues, madras and oxford waistings, examine and volle suitings, satin stripe dimities, etc.; will also be added to this lot 20 pieces pure white madras, 35c quality.

The silkworm exhibit

Yesterday one or two of the silkworms began to spin. By tomorrow (Monday) many of them will in all likelihood be hard at work. This is the most interesting stage in the life of the silkworm, and the chance of seeing the actual process of creating silk should draw thousands of people the coming week.

A woman who wears one of our new "Summer Girl" belts has that feeling of being securely and perfectly dressed, so necessary to comfort. Made to your order of any material. Order at the notion counter.

The "Lyra" corset for summer

A complete new line of summer weight "Lyra" corsets just in. They are made of silk batiste and fancy silks. Designed to meet the requirements of medium and full figures, having exceptional length below waist line. The "Lyra" is 6.50 and 7.50. About one-third to pay for white goods

Monday morning we shall place on sale the entire stock of fancy white goods bought from Finch, Young & McConville of this city at—largely—such a price as we cared to give. The price paid was about 33 1/3 cents on the dollar

Here is one of the most fortunate occurrences, for not half—probably not a quarter—of Twin City women have completed their summer wardrobes, and it is pleasant to be able to buy the very goods most wanted now at nearly a third their present value. With all due regard for recent great sales, we should say that this was by far the most important white goods sale of the year—for all the stuffs are decidedly new and pretty, and of the most favored styles, the styles comprising some of the newest effects to be found in the finest of imported white goods.

7842 yards divided into four bargain lots:

- LOT ONE: About 1800 yards fancy mercerized white goods, in check, plaid, stripes and fancy lace stripes. Originally worth 25c a yard. Sale price..... 10c
- LOT TWO: About 2500 yards fancy white goods, mercerized checks and stripes, also lace stripes. Originally worth 12 1/2c a yard. Sale price..... 12 1/2c
- LOT THREE: Nearly 1750 yards beautiful white goods, mercerized stripes, embroidered dots and lace stripes. Originally worth 35c a yard. Sale price..... 15c
- LOT FOUR: Some 1850 yards finest embroidered white goods, dot and stripe patterns, also fancy lace stripes. Originally worth 50c a yard. Sale price..... 19c

This sale will take place in our linen room, but so large is the quantity that we have decided to have special tables of the above bargains in the main thoroughfare aisle. A provision which should considerably facilitate buying, during the progress of a sale of such a sensational nature. Come to both places, dress goods and linen departments.

Make an early start Monday—this sale begins at 9 o'clock

The wind-up of our annual June sale of embroideries at about half-price

All the great sale lots have been rearranged and prices readjusted, until few of them are over half the original value of the goods. Of course, as is natural, some of the white stuff is considerably handled, but the price now placed on it makes up for that. But every yard is this season's. Every piece is very beautiful—note how cheap.

- Bands, galoons, 50c values for 25c
 - edgings, flouncings, 75c values for 35c

Sensational lowering of price Monday on some women's tailor-made wool suits

To be brief, there are chevot, broadcloth, fancy tweed and etamine suits, all exceptionally good styles in either dress length or walking length skirts. Originally worth 35.00, 32.50, 29.50 and some 27.50 and 25.00 suits..... 15.00 now

The last four days of June will be devoted to a sensational clearance sale of all soiled muslin underwear

In a sale of the kind that has been running during the present month, with its great display of garments on special sale tables, it is only natural that the merchandise gets tumbled up and mused and rumpled. In order to buy knowingly, a woman must handle the garments. As a consequence there is much that we must clear out quickly, and if a loss is taken we count it a gain for the department, because of the improved condition of the stock. A great many broken lots of perfectly new garments are included.

No need to say how well made or how well shaped this underwear is. Every woman knows the quality of Field-Schlick Underwear.
