DUNN MAN STOPS
COLLINS MAN'S KICK

Two Ramsey County Republicans Exemplify the Harmony Rule

J. Carlson, 253 Spruce street, is living in a serious condition at Bethesda hospital and "harmony" is an accomplished fact between at least two Republicans who split on a choice for the Republican nomination for governor.

When Senator Moses E. Clapp, in his speech opening the state convention, predicted that the adherents of both Dunn and Collins would be found after the battle, marching shoulder to shoulder, a cynic in the audience said that the factions had better keep far enough apart to avoid contact, for once they touched shoulders there would be fireworks.

Following on the demonstration in Minneapolis, in which scores of prominent Republicans Saturday called on John Lind to run for governor, a St. Paul incident has created a genuine sensation.

Out at Schade's park, West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon occurred the debate that led to Carlson's undoing. At the park Carlson, who during the pre-convention campaign was a member of a Dunn club, fell into conversation with a man whom he had never met before, but who volunteered the information that he was a Collins man, and had taken such an interest in the "little judges" nomination that he sought membership in a St. Paul Collins club.

Just Before the Battle
There is no political feeling like that generated between members of rival factions in one political party, and when it became evident that the two men were on opposite sides in the late unpleasantness in the Republican party the conversation became animated.

Carlson, a good Republican, resented the charge that Dunn had received support from the common enemy and had in this way compromised with the men who usually fight the Republican organization.

The Dunn combatant recovered sufficiently last night to relate the incidents leading up to the assault, but did not know the name of the Collins man who had given him a kick from the choice assortment carried in stock by all the Collins supporters since the convention of last week.

West Side Residents Protest Attempt to Take Away High School

About 300 Sixth warders last evening gathered in the Clinton Avenue M. E. church, corner Clinton avenue and Isaacs street, and by a unanimous vote declared that the Humboldt high school should be retained, and passed resolutions strongly urging that such be done.

It was also decided to continue the agitation by holding a mass meeting. The committee to call this meeting consists of P. B. Doran, C. S. Schenman, J. M. Hawthorn, J. C. Bryant, Dr. V. J. Hawkins and Anthony Yoerg. The committee will also lay before the school inspectors the sentiments of the West side people, and ask that the question be held in abeyance until the section of the city can make its plea for the retention of the school.

The following resolutions, introduced in behalf of the alumni of the Humboldt by H. W. Southworth, were passed without a dissenting vote:

Resolved, That we do hereby most earnestly protest against the removal of the high school, and hereby pledge our earnest support to the maintenance of its present location, and to appeal to the influence of the Sixth ward to exert all its power to prevent the proposed action of the board of education.

Resolved, That we do hereby most earnestly protest against the removal of the high school, and hereby pledge our earnest support to the maintenance of its present location, and to appeal to the influence of the Sixth ward to exert all its power to prevent the proposed action of the board of education.

SENDS FOR TIDINGS
Man in Remote Minnesota Town Hadn't Heard News

"Kindly wire me at once result of nomination for governor Republican state convention."

This was the text of a telegram received last night by William P. Hayes, landlord of the Windsor hotel, and signed by a Lake City man who is temporarily located at International Falls, Itasca county.

While the convention early Friday evening nominated R. C. Dunn for governor, knowledge of the fact was not received at International Falls until Col. Hayes last night sent a reply to the Lake City man. The telegram of inquiry came via Winnipeg, and the reply was flashed back over the same wires.

International Falls, which its boomers characterize as the future industrial center of the North Star state, is situated a hundred and fifty miles south-east of Winnipeg, and is just under the Canadian boundary line. It is reached by means of the Canadian Northern railway, its railroad station, however, being at Fort Frances, on the Canadian side of the Rainy river.

By rail the distance from St. Paul is at least 500 miles, and the journey is not one to be lightly undertaken, considering the distance and the remoteness of the town from the center of Minnesota civilization, it is not regarded as strange that news of the most important political event of the year in this state should not have reached this outpost of the state's development.

BABE FALLS THROUGH WINDOW TO DEATH
Second Story Screen Gives Way and Child's Skull Is Crushed

Robert Hennig, the two-year-old son of Alfred Hennig, 740 Edmund street, fell from a second story window at his home Saturday evening and died of his injuries yesterday morning.

The child was seated in a chair at the supper table about 7 o'clock Saturday evening, when he leaned against a screen which stood in the window. The chair was near the window, and when the child pressed his weight against the screen it gave way and he fell to the ground.

The father, who was a short distance from the window, made an effort to save his child when he saw the screen yield, but was too late.

The child's skull was fractured, Dr. H. T. Nippert was called, but nothing could be done to save his life. He lingered through the night and died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock.

Coroner A. W. Miller was notified, and after making an investigation decided that death was accidental, and permitted the body to be turned over to an undertaker.

Miller was not at home, being in North Dakota visiting relatives. She has been notified of the death of her son, and the funeral will not be held until she arrives in St. Paul. Mr. Hennig is employed at the Great Northern shops.

START FOR LAKEVIEW
First Battalion of Artillery on March to State Camp

Battery A of St. Paul and Battery B of Minneapolis, comprising the First battalion of artillery, N. G. S. M., left early yesterday morning on the march to Lake City, a distance of about sixty miles, taking along four guns and four caissons. It is planned to arrive in camp on the evening of the 5th, three days being spent on the road.

Maj. George C. Lambert was in charge of the battalion; Capt. W. L. Kelly, Jr., in charge of Battery A, and Capt. C. C. Bennett of Battery B. The line of march will be by way of Hastings and Red Wing. At noon each day there will be long stops, during which time there will be practice in aiming and sighting guns, under the direction of Lieut. A. F. Pray, ordnance officer. Those showing proficiency will be allowed to participate in the practice in camp. Last year's practice was conducted by the officers and non-commissioned officers.

The battalion started from Third and Wabasha streets. The Minneapolis contingent, being a full battery of eighty-eight men, arrived shortly after 8 o'clock, following which the march began. By fifteen miles was made the first day, this being due to the fact that the Minneapolis contingent had gone some ten miles before the St. Paul contingent.

Maj. Lambert issued orders governing the camp previous to the start for Lake City. He commands that every man, including officers, must turn out at reveille, and must have his tent rolled up ten minutes later. Today, in honor of the Fourth, the national salute of forty-five guns will be fired. The encampment will end July 14.

PLAN RECEPTION TO CARDINAL SATOLLI
Knights of Columbus Prepare Greeting for Prelate, Who Will Arrive Next Week

At a special meeting of the Knights of Columbus, held last evening at their hall, 377 Robert street, they decided to tender a public reception to Cardinal Francis Satolli, who will arrive in St. Paul Monday, July 11, on his way to Ireland. The reception will remain here a week as the guest of Archbishop Ireland. The reception will be held some evening during that time at a place not yet selected.

As will be seen from the names of the general committee on arrangements, the reception will be a representative function. It will partake of the brilliancy befitting to a prince of the church.

Cardinal Satolli is prefect of the congregation of studies. He was born at Marsciano in July 21, 1829, and may, therefore, should his stay be prolonged, celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday in St. Paul. He was created a cardinal Nov. 29, 1895. His precise rank is that of cardinal priest.

The Knights of Columbus' general convention will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the hall of the order, to complete arrangements for the reception.

NOISES SCARE MAN
Thinks Burglars Are at Work and Calls Police

Charles W. Wendt, 346 East Magnolia street, and his family had a burglar scare yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock. Hearing mysterious noises on the second floor of the residence, Wendt suspected that burglars were in the house and sent a call for the police.

Wendt said his attention was attracted by a noise on the stair shortly after 2 o'clock, but that he waited half an hour before he gave an alarm. The family residing on the second floor was away from home, and Wendt said he thought that some one was unfastening their apartments. Wendt said he heard the noise several times, and finally concluded that a burglar was upstairs and called for the police. An officer arrived from the Margaret street station shortly after, and a search was made of the premises, but no burglar was discovered.

There were no marks on the doors or windows indicating that force had been used on them, and the furniture and contents of the rooms on the second floor did not appear to have been disturbed.

Oscar Tankenoff & Co.'s liquor store, Third and Robert streets, was damaged by a fire which broke out in the workshop in the basement shortly before 12 o'clock last night. The fire was discovered by a passer-by who saw the smoke issuing from a window. He went to the fire insurance patrol headquarters, half a block away, and reported it. A still alarm was sounded, and a company of firemen had been dispatched. The salvage corps men extinguished the fire with a chemical before the department arrived. The blaze was confined to the basement, where Mr. Tankenoff said $200 damage had been caused. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The funeral of Lela Lee Upton, wife of George L. Upton, who died Friday as a result of injuries sustained through the blowing up of her father's gasoline launch on Tuesday night on Lake Minnetonka, will take place from the residence of her father, Llewellyn Christian, 428 Eighth street south, on Wednesday, at 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Upton, who was a white house in Excelsior and the latest reports from his physician has it that the injured man is only holding his own. Dr. Miles still hopes for his recovery.

Three men were arrested yesterday for prematurely celebrating the Fourth of July. Harry Graham, aged twenty-five, and Martin McNulty, aged thirty, were arrested by Patrolman Paulson on Wabasha street, and Miller was arrested by Patrolman Pugliese on East Seventh street.

McNulty and Graham were creating noise with firecrackers, and Miller threw firecrackers into a crowd on Seventh street.

Ernest Jones, colored, residing at 401 Farrington avenue, was arrested yesterday morning at 4 o'clock for breaking into the residence of N. Fashingbauer, 359 Sherman avenue. Fashingbauer was aroused by the sound of some one tearing the front screen door, and when he investigated found Jones in the hall.

Fashingbauer seized a chair and ran after Jones, who turned and fled. The pursuit continued for a block, when Patrolman Reffer appeared and caught Jones, but after a search of the residence, where he was held on a charge of unlawful entry.

Jones said he was intoxicated and that he tore open the screen door without knowing what he was doing.

POLICE ARE BAFFLED
Minneapolis Detectives Work in Vain on Murder Case

The action of the Minneapolis man whose name has been connected with the mysterious death of the Teachout girl, who was murdered in a Glen near Minneapolis this Saturday, June 25, are now being investigated by the police. The officers detailed on the case are endeavoring to ascertain where the man spent the time between 11 o'clock that Saturday morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was again seen.

That he left his office at the time mentioned above has been ascertained through interviews with different men working in the same office, but not a single one of the men seen knows where he went.

As far as the body of the dead girl had been identified in the St. Paul morgue by her sister, the man, it is said, consistently expressed the opinion that the girl committed suicide.

At the office of the chief of police last night there was a noted uneasiness among the men working on the murder case, and while nothing definite was given out, the impression left was that the organization were in the developments would follow shortly.

The tramp theory is scouted by the police, and while it was at first thought that the girl might have left her estate in the falls park and journeyed alone to the spot where she was murdered, they now believe that the man who left the city with her after the murder is the man who was the perpetrator of the crime.

IRON MOLDERS SEAT OFFICERS OF UNION
Committee Reports That Wage Scale Is Still to Be Readjusted

At an open session of the Iron Molders' union Saturday evening the new officers of the organization were installed, following which there was a vaudeville entertainment of several numbers. The officers:

M. Conley, president; Michael Leonard, vice president; Charles Reiffnath, financial secretary; Tony Welter, recording secretary; Carl Anderson, doorkeeper; Joseph Irvine, instructor; and Daniel O'Connor, Christ Hofer and Frank Weinholzer, trustees.

The committee in charge of the negotiations with the employers reported that an agreement has not been reached, although satisfactory progress has been made. A readjustment of the scale of wages is requested by the union. The apprentice system is also unsatisfactory to the union, it is claimed by the members of the union that there is little probability of trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—The new armored cruiser Colorado returned to its dock at Cramp's shipyard today, after the successful builder's trial yesterday in the deep water just outside of Delaware Breakwater. The Colorado is the first of the new class of vessels which will have complete protection by armor, both for the battery and the machinery.

ROBBERY IS CHARGED
Police Claim Man Raided Rock Island Cars

Frank Darnell, special policeman of the Rock Island, and Owen William Robertson, of South St. Paul, arrested Lewis Larson at Inver Grove Saturday night, and are holding him in jail at Lake City, on a charge of robbing a Rock Island freight car.

The policemen say that a number of robberies have been committed among the Rock Island freight cars, and they believe that a gang of thieves has been at work. They went to Inver Grove Saturday night and caught Larson, whom they suspect is a member of the gang.

They say they found in his possession a large quantity of clothes and a keg of beer stolen from a Rock Island car. Larson will be arraigned in court in South St. Paul Tuesday.

FOURTH'S INJURED LIST IS STARTED

While he was examining it without regard to where the muzzle was pointed, he pulled the trigger a second time and the shot was fired. Dr. C. A. Haas extracted the bullet from Bloomberg's leg.

Boy Was Careless
Arthur Downing, seven-year-old son of J. S. Downing, 938 York street, had his left hand burned and his thumb lacerated Saturday by the explosion of a large torpedo which had been placed on the end of a cane used to strike the ground. A friend owned the cane, and when the torpedo failed to explode on the sidewalk young Downing attempted to examine the torpedo. He believed the cane, and taking a stone struck the torpedo. The torpedo exploded and pieces of paper and sparks lacerated his thumb and hand. Dr. A. L. Whitcomb was called to attend the boy. The injury will not prove serious unless infection develops.

George Anderson, of South St. Paul, twenty years old, and an employe of Swift & Co., had two fingers of his right hand lacerated Saturday night by the explosion of a giant firecracker.

Charles Sandquist, of South St. Paul, nineteen years old, employe by Swift & Co., was shot in the back of the neck with a blank cartridge fired by a friend. The wound struck above his collar and lodged in the flesh.

John Irving, of South Park, manager of Clark & Co.'s grocery store, of St. Paul, was seriously injured as a result of some careless person. He was at South St. Paul yesterday and was kicked by his horse. The animal was frightened by a firecracker which exploded under him.

TO ESCAPE LOCKJAW
Don't bind or close up any Fourth of July wounds

Lockjaw is caused by a germ which exists in street dirt, and especially around stables, and remains inactive as long as exposed to the air. When carried beneath the skin and buried in the flesh, as in the wounds caused by bits of percussion caps, it becomes the most virulent poison known.

Have any Fourth of July wounds, no matter how insignificant, treated by a skilled physician, who understands the necessity of thoroughly cleansing the wound.

EX-MAYOR VAN WYCK VISITS BOSS CROKER

Wants Former Tammany Chief to Help Nominate Grover Cleveland
WANTAGE, England, July 3.—Robert A. Van Wyck, former mayor of New York, visited Richard Croker at his home here today. Mr. Van Wyck urged the ex-chief of Tammany to use his influence with the New York delegation to the Democratic national convention at St. Louis to induce it to swing its vote from Alton B. Parker to Grover Cleveland, after a complimentary ballot had been given for Parker.

Mr. Croker, after the interview with Mr. Van Wyck, was asked if he had anything to say regarding the coming Democratic national convention. "Convention?" said Mr. Croker. "When is it to be held? I do not know anything about it. Moreover, my views on politics can have no interest for the people of the United States. I am not in politics, and have not been since I left America. I have no intention to say or do anything with regard to the campaign. Other than this I have no expression of opinion to make to any one."
